Nixon Admits He Placed Limit On Watergate Probe

'National Security Operations' Given As Reason For Covering Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon disclosed for the first time Tuesday he had ordered his two top aides, H. R. Haldeman and John D. Erlichman, to limit the Watergate investigation.

He said he did it to protect highly sensitive "national security operations" being conducted by the CIA and the White House and not to impede bringing wrong-doers to justice.

But he conceded that some of his aides probably went beyond his directives and attempted to hide illegal activities which they and others had undertaken in his behalf.

Nixon also revealed that he was so concerned about leaks of sensitive government secrets and domestic violence in 1970 that he approved a plan allowing federal agents to break and enter premises but withdrew the plan because of objections from then FBI director J. Edgar Hoover.

The disclosures came in an 8-page statement in which Nixon admitted — also for the first time — that other "unethical as well as illegal activities" were committed by his supporters during the 1972 campaign.

He firmly denied any personal wrong-doing beyond a failure to be more vigilant in preventing them.

"None of these took place with my specific approval or knowledge," he said. "To the extent that I may in any way have contributed to the climate in which they took place, I did not intend to."

He said he had no prior knowledge of the Watergate break-in, did not participate in and was not aware of the cover-up attempt and did not authorize executive clemency or payments to any of the Watergate burglars to hush them up.

"I considered it my responsibility to see that the Watergate case did not impinge adversely upon the national security area," he said.

"With hindsight, it is apparent that I should have given more heed to the warning signals I received along the way about a Watergate cover-up and less to the reassurances."

He confirmed in perhaps one of his most damaging admissions that one early warning had come from L. Patrick Gray III, then acting director of the FBI. Gray, he said, had told him as early as last July 6 — three weeks after the break-in and four months before the election — that some ranking Nixon aides may have been involved in the cover-up.

"I told him to press ahead with his investigation," Nixon said, but did not explain why he apparently ignored this warning when he told newsmen six weeks later—on Aug. 27—that nobody then on his White House staff was involved.

The statement was the most comprehensive presentation yet of how the President personally became aware of the scope of Watergate. It came as more details were unfolding daily in the televised Senate investigations into the matter.

He made these points:

—The truth about the Watergate affair should be brought out in an orderly fashion and he was lifting executive privilege to allow his aides to testify freely in the case.

—He was so concerned about the leaks of national security information in the Pentagon Papers that he set up a special White House unit headed by Egil Krogh and directed it to find out all it could about Dan-

Caulfield Believed Nixon Knew Of Clemency Offers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former White House aide John L. Caulfield testified today that he reluctantly carried offers of executive clemency to Watergate conspirator James W. McCord Jr. and he believed that President Nixon probabey knew about it.

"I believed I was doing something for the President of the United States," Caulfield said in 79 minutes of nationally televised testimony on his second day before the Senate Watergate investigating committee.

"In my mind, I felt the President probably did know about it," he added, saying he knew he was acting illegally in conveying the offers.

Caulfield, 44, a former award-winning New York policeman, testified in serious, somber tones of deep inner conflict over discussing executive clemency with McCord, allegedly on orders of White House Counsel John W. Dean III.

Caulfield said he felt it was a "great honor" to have served on the President's staff and that he was "loyal, very loyal" to Nixon.

Nixon Tuesday reiterated his claim that he never made any offers of executive clemency to the Watergate defendants or authorized anyone else to make them.

Caulfield said that he tried to avoid the Dean assignment "but I was not successful."

"There was a definite conflict, you're absolutely right," Caulfield told Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., R-Conn. "I knew the offer of executive clemency was wrong, I know. But the loyalty to the President overrode those considerations."

JOHN J. CAULFIELD
Knew it was wrong

ANTHONY ULASEWICZ
Offer of Clemency

Caulfield testified thaton the afternoon of the Watergate break-in, he got a call from a Secret Service agent who told him that McCord had been arrested and was using a false name. He said the agent asked whether he should call John D. Ehrlichman, one of Nixon's top two aides.

"After I recovered from the shock, I said you go ahead and try to reach him and I will too," Caulfield testified.

When he reached Ehrlichman at home, Caulfield said he told him, "John, it sounds like a disaster."

Caulfield said Ehrlichman asked, "What's this all about?"

"I haven't the foggiest," Caulfield replied.

"I think there was a long silence," Caulfield said, adding that he said to Ehrlichman, "My God, I can't believe it."

Caulfield testified that Ehrlichman said to him "I think I had better place a call to John Mitchell." Caulfield said he replied, "I think that would be appropriate."

Mitchell, the former attorney general was Nixon's campaign manager at the time. He resigned two weeks later.

Caulfield said he had come from "a very humble background" —he grew up in the Bronx and was a New York City cop —and that he felt "great honor" in serving on the President's staff.

He said his loyalty to Nixon overrode his knowledge that in offering McCord executive clemency, he could be charged with obstructing justice.

In the lightest moment so far in the four days of hearings, another former White House aide, Anthony T. Ulasewicz, testified that if he had tried to bug the Democratic national headquarters, "I wouldn't have walked in with an army."

McCord was the electronics expert on a team of five men who were arrested inside the Democratic offices at the Watergate complex early June 17, 1972. The scandal that grew from that incident has shaken the Nixon administration.

"If it is a question of obtaining information from a Democratic party or Republican or anybody else, the easiest way is to write a postal card and ask them to mail you all their leaflets," Ulasewicz said.

"They'll put you on (the mailing list) and, brother, you'll have everything," he added.

Ulasewicz was called to testify as the man who established communication between McCord and Caulfield.

Ulasewicz had worked for Caulfield on the White House staff before going on the payroll of Herbert W. Kalmbach, Nixon's personal lawyer.

Probe By Grand Jury Requested In Novato

Investigation Asked Into Police Chief's Quitting

By FRANK FARRARA

The Novato City Council, although convinced of no wrongdoing, last night requested the Marin County Grand Jury to investigate the circumstances surrounding the resignation of Police Chief Allen V. Klemme, (Other Novato City Council stories, page 13.)

Mayor Fred F. Ruegg said the council was asking for the investigation because allegations and insinuations in the press concerning Chief Klemme, the police department, City Mgr. Charles A. Brown and city council members have been "upsetting" to Novato residents and have the effect of undermining confidence in city government.

The councilmen said they were sending the matter to the grand jury to demonstrate their conviction that there was no wrongdoing.

They asked that the grand jury make public its findings and pledged cooperation, saying they will instruct all city employees to cooperate with the grand jury and "submit to it whatever material it considers pertinent."

After a 70-minute closed session in Brown's office, the council opened its regular session with two statements, each calling for a grand jury investigation, statements Ruegg said were "hammered out" in the closed session.

The majority statement, signed by Ruegg, George C. Quesada and Dorothy P. Young, differed only in manner of presentation from the minority report signed by David Price Jones and F. Wayne Sartain.

The majority report, more colorfully worded, said "there is no Watergate in the city of Novato. The treatment of the Klemme episode in the Novato Advance, particularly at this time when governmental credibility is in doubt nationwide, has caused a number of citizens grave concern about the local situation. The Novato City Council would like to set the record straight."

"There is no scandal. No wrongdoing is being covered up. No scoundrels are being protected. No one's silence has been bought."

The majority report said police officers made accusations concerning Chief Klemme's activities and performance to Brown last November, but he (Brown) didn't resolve the question until February.

"This delay was questionable judgment on the city manager's part, which he admits," the report said.

Brown, according to the majority statement, concluded:

That Chief Klemme no longer commanded the confidence of his men or his superior;

That the accusations didn't constitute any violation of law which would warrant criminal prosecution and neither required or justified summary, immediate dismissal;

That the chief should be al-

AGAINST NOVATO CHIEF

Police Group Asks That Charges Be Made Public

The Novato Police Association has asked that the police charges against retiring Chief Allen V. Klemme be made public, charges it believes have been mislabeled by City Mgr. Charles A. Brown.

The association's attorney, J. D. (Pat) Burdick, asking in a letter that the Novato City Council make public "written statements of fact" provided by police officers, wrote: "If the city council does not wish to make the written statements public, I then request at a minimum, that the officers be authorized to make the statements public, without fear of reprisal upon any trumped-up charge of having violated departmental or city regulations regarding grievance procedure or violating the chain of command."

When Chief Klemme announced his resignation April 26, he and Brown issued statements declaring differences between them and saying it was "mutually decided" that the chief resign. Neither mentioned charges against the chief.

Brown, at last night's council meeting said "at no time have I intended, as Mr. Burdick suggests, to 'reflect unfairly upon the integrity, the judgment and fitness for office of the members of the Novato police department.' "

"If anything I have said has given this impression, I am sincerely sorry," Brown said. "I will publicly repeat my statement that we should continually strive to achieve closer communication so as to avoid such misunderstandings."

Brown said he didn't receive the association's letter, addressed to the council until 3 p.m., yesterday. It wasn't on the council's agenda last night.

Brown said, "A great deal of friction has been created since the start of this matter which can be traced to misstatements or misquotes by the press."

Burdick wrote that last November some members of the police department gave Brown information about the operation of the department and activities of Chief Klemme which they believed deserved an immediate investigation.

(To date, acting on Burdick's advise, the police officers haven't disclosed the nature of the charges.)

When the report was made to Brown in November, according to Burdick, Brown "represented to members of the police department who made the reports," that if the matters were corroborated, the "chief should be immediately discharged."

As months passed, Brown failed to act or indicate his intended action, Burdick wrote, and on March 21 "Brown finally advised counsel and the association Chief Klemme would be terminated as of June 1, 1973."

Despite these reassurances, Burdick said, Brown was quoted in newspapers as saying that rumors of major personnel changes in the department were unfounded.

(On April 5 Brown told the Independent-Journal that rumors of the imminent resignation of Chief Klemme were false and speculated they may have arisen from Brown's having been asked to intervene in an internal dispute.)

Burdick said because the newspaper stories failed to disclose the true situation, officers felt they "unfairly reflected on the department and its personnel."

At a meeting with police department personnel April 10, Brown said he had evidence that "some of the facts that the members had brought to his attention concerning Chief Klemme were fabrications, that others were gross exaggerations and that the charges made were for the most part, trivial and inconsequential," Burdick said.

At a closed meeting with the Novato City Council April 26, Burdick said he offered to produce all the officers, who supplied "facts" to Brown, to testify under oath and be cross-examined, but the offer was declined by the council and by Brown.

It was agreed that if Brown

British Sex Scandal Probe Is Called For

LONDON (UPI) — Lord Lambton, a government minister who resigned Tuesday night in a new British government sex and security scandal, said today he had a "casual acquaintance" with a call girl and a couple of her friends but denied there had been a security risk or blackmail.

Lord Lambton, 50, quit abruptly Tuesday night "for personal and health reasons" as Parliament undersecretary for the Royal Air Force.

Government sources said Prime Minister Edward Heath ordered an exhaustive probe and no Watergate-style cover up or whitewash.

A spokesman for Scotland Yard said the matter is being reported to Director of Public Prosecutions Sir Norman Skel' horne for possible action.

Heath will make a statement to Parliament tomorrow on the affair, government officials said. They said there would be no official comment until then.

Labor opposition members ot Parliament bombarded the government with demands for an explanation of the allegations first published by the West German magazine Stern.

"This is the sordid story," Lambton said today in a formal statement issued by an aide in his Berwick-on-Tweed constituency. "All that happened is that some sneak pimp has seen an opportunity of making money by the sale of the story and secret photographs to papers at home and abroad."

"I behaved with credulous stupidity," Lord Lambton added. "I must repeat that there has been no high life vice ring, no security leak, no blackmail and, as far as I know, no politician of any party is remotely connected with these events."

Dollar Up On Market In Europe

LONDON (UPI) — The dollar gained ground in early trading in Europe today in response to President Nixon's reaffirmation that he will remain in office. But dealers said the demand for gold increased, reflecting distrust in Nixon's ability to govern effectively.

The dollar registered gains on foreign currency markets in London, Frankfurt and Zurich.

In London, the dollar opened at $2.56 to the pound, up from yesterdays closing rate of $2.5615.

On the Frankfurt exchange, the dollar opened at 2.7430 marks but by mid-morning had moved up to 2.7500 marks.

In Zurich the dollar opened between 3.1025 and 3.1075 Swiss francs against Tuesday's closing range of 3.0990 and 3.1040 francs.

The price of gold was pegged at $111 an ounce in the first of twice-daily price settings on the London gold market, up 25 cents from yesterdays closing of $110.75.

Vesco Case Said A Real Shocker

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (UPI) — A business associate of financier Robert Vesco said today that disclosure of all details in a case that led to the resignation of G. Bradford Cook as chairman of the Security and Exchange Commission (SEC) "will startle the world" and destroy investor confidence in U.S. securities around the world.

Cook resigned last Wednesday in the wake of allegations that he deleted all references to a secret $200,000 contribution to President Nixon's reelection campaign from an SEC complaint against Vesco.

Norman P. LeBlanc, a Canadian citizen once identified by the SEC as an officer in several subsidiaries of the huge Investors Overseas Services, Ltd., (IOS) mutual fund complex founded by Bernard Cornfeld, also referred in his statement today to an SEC suit filed last Nov. 27 against himself, Vesco and 39 other persons and companies.

"The full disclosure of the circumstances that forced the resignation of G. Bradford Cook will startle the world in what will be known as the biggest scandal that ever rocked a U.S. government agency and will destroy investor confidence in U.S. securities throughout the world," LeBlanc said.

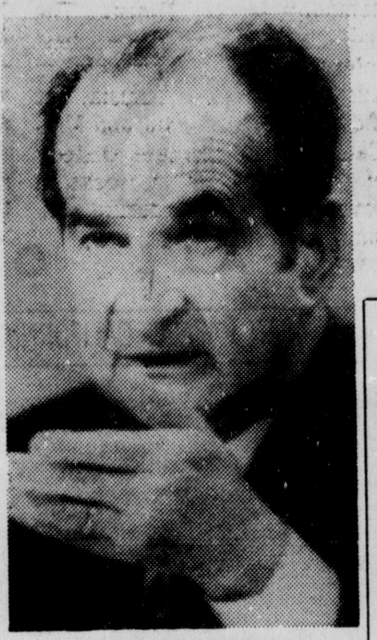
LeBlanc's statement named recently dismissed presidential counsel John Dean III, William Casey, and several members of the EC including G. Bradford Cook, Irving Pollack, Stanley Sporkin and "perhaps other officials of the SEC unknown to me."

Casey preceded Cook as chairman of the SEC. Pollack has been a member of the SEC since 1946 but Sporkin was not immediately identified.

The SEC suit filed last November accused Vesco and 40 other individuals and companies associated with him of draining more than $224 million in assets from four mutual funds holding American securities.

In another development, a spokesman for Vesco, Raul Espinosa, said the onetime New Jersey executive would return to New York to stand trial on another related case only if assured of a fair trial.

That case involves two former Nixon cabinet officers.



JOSE FIGUERES
Denies wrongdoing

Former Attorney General John N. Mitchell, former Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans, Vesco and another man were indicted in New York last week on charges stemming from the secret $200,000 contribution Vesco made towards the Nixon campaign.

President Jose Figueres told nationwide radio and television audiences late Tuesday that he was innocent of any wrongdoing in his relationship with Vesco.

Figueres made the speech after allegations Vesco-owned companies placed more than $300,000 in Figueres' bank account in New York.

During an hour-long speech, Figueres accounted for funds totaling $436,000 that moved through a New York bank account in his name, but he said the money was meant for causes as varied as a national symphony orchestra and a factory to build pre-fabricated houses.

Of the $436,000, he said "some of this money" came from the same bank Vesco uses in the Bahamas, but he indicated this was a coincidence.

His speech followed a report by the Wall Street Journal that $325,000 was transferred into Figueres' account in New York.

The speech also came after demands by Costa Rican politicians that Figueres strip Vesco of his new Costa Rican citizenship and bar him from the country.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

House Reluctance

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House members appeared reluctant today to join the Senate in overriding President Nixon's veto of a measure that would subject the administration's two top budget makers to Senate confirmation.

The House leadership was undecided whether to bring the veto to the floor for a vote today, delay it until tomorrow or possibly even wait until after the brief Memorial Day recess.

The Senate voted 62-22 yesterday to override the veto of a bill which would require the current director and deputy director of the Office of Management and Budget to receive Senate confirmation.

Trucks Destroyed

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — U.S. jet fighters today bombed and destroyed two Communist trucks while flying in support of beleaguered Cambodian ground troops on Route 5, field reports said.

The reports said at least two Cambodian troops were killed and seven wounded in an attack by rebel forces in the area 35 miles north of Phnom Penh, where the government soldiers are inching forward in an attempt to clear the highway.

Possible SEC Post

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Brian R. Van Camp, California corporations commissioner, says he is being considered by the White House as a contender for chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Van Camp, 32, said yesterday he had discussed the position with a spokesman of the White House Office of Management and Budget and would be interviewed in California next week.

"I'll be in Washington in the middle of June and they expressed desire to see me at that time too," said Van Camp, a Republican who was appointed to his present post by Gov. Ronald Reagan in August, 1972.

Foreign Aid Battle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The annual foreign aid battle in Congress is under way with a 43 per cent slash of military assistance by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The committee junked a $1.3 billion administration bill for arms to foreign countries yesterday and substituted its own product, a $740 million remnant that relieves the Pentagon of jurisdiction over aid to Indochina.

The bill continues an attitude of Congressional defiance towards administration foreign policy proposals, particularly those associated with Indochina.

Belfast Violence

BELFAST (UPI) — Mobs angered by the death of a Roman Catholic man who was injured in Londonderry rioting last week, battled British troops in Catholic areas of the city early today. No casualties were reported.

Thomas Friel, 21, injured in clashes with troops who fired rubber bullets at rioters last Thursday night, was the 802nd person to die in almost four years of violence among Northern Ireland's minority Catholics, majority Protestants and British forces.

Violations Low

SAIGON (UPI) — The Saigon command reported a new low in Communist cease-fire violations today, 58 over the past 24 hours, but said it was too early to call the drop significant.

It was the lowest number of Communist attacks alleged by Saigon in any 24-hour period since the Jan. 28 cease-fire.

Despite the record low, however, a command spokesman said fierce fighting at dawn today near Kien Thien, 125 miles southwest of Saigon, left 27 Communists and three government militiamen dead. He said another 12 Communists and one militiaman died late yesterday in fighting as close as eight miles from downtown Saigon.

Rogers' Efforts

BRASILIA, Brazil (UPI) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers made an effort yesterday to ease what aides called Latin American concern that the United States may downgrade foreign commitments in favor of a new isolationism.

"There is no such thing as isolationism anymore," Rogers told officials during his 28-hour visit to Brazil, the sixth stop on an eight-nation tour that ends next Monday.

"What happens in one part of the world has its effects on others," he added. "That's why we feel that there is no such thing as isolationism anymore."

Finnish Strike

HELSINKI (UPI) — The hotline linking Washington and Moscow and nearly all international communications between Finland and the outside world were cut today by a strike of Finnish telephone workers.

A telephone company spokesman said the only international lines available were two lines to Moscow.

At the beginning of the strike, now entering its third week, telephone workers said they would maintain the security conference international lines.

The service of all international news agencies to and from Finland was also cut, the spokesman said.

Smell Is Tipoff To Stolen Truck

ISABELLA, Pa. (UPI) — State police found a stolen garbage truck Tuesday parked along a rural road near this southwestern Pennsylvania village after passing motorists complained about a foul odor.

The $6,000 truck, owned by Robert Donan, of nearby Rice Landing, was stolen early Monday with a full load of garbage.

Will Retire

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Jules C. Stein, 77, an opthalmologist who founded Music Corporation of America in 1924 to handle bookings for musicians, announced yesterday he will retire next month as chairman of the board of the firm. MCA, which has grown to one of the giants of the movie and television industry, is the parent firm of Universal Pictures.

Innocent Plea Is Made To Theft

An 18-year-old musician, charged with stealing musical instruments from Terra Linda High School, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court.

Following the plea Monday by Kenneth Richard Garcia of Walnut Creek, Judge Gary W. Thomas set a preliminary hearing for May 31.

Garcia turned himself in to San Rafael police March 10 after officers had notified a family he was visiting that they wanted to question him.

On March 8, cymbals valued at $250, a drum stand, drum sticks and a French horn case were taken from the school's music room, police said.

However, a grand theft charge was not filed against Garcia until three weeks later when he was sent a letter to appear in court.

Marinwood Area To Be Patrolled

The Marinwood area will be patrolled until July 4 for illegal fireworks, Fire Chief Gaylord E. Bonfield said today.

"Either possession or shooting of fireworks is illegal in Marin County," the chief said.

All seven community firemen are special deputy sheriffs with authority to cite anyone with fireworks, he said. Juveniles cited must appear before juvenile authorities with their parents, the chief said.

Library Display

Fairfax artists Barbara and Joel House will display eight wash drawings and five abstracts at the Marin Civic Center Library until June 2.

Summer Program Set For Children

Summer "creativity programs" will be held at San Domenico School in Sleepy Hollow for boys and girls four and a half to eight and a half years old.

Three programs will be held starting June 25, with classes from 9:30 a.m. to noon weekdays.

Trip To Tunisia Out For Daughter

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Superior Court Judge Jack Swink ruled Monday that actress Dyan Cannon may not take her daughter by Cary Grant to Tunisia.

Miss Cannon was awarded custody of the child, Jennifer, 7, after her divorce from Grant five years ago, but needs the court's permission to take her out of the state.

She wanted Jennifer to accompany her to Tunisia. The judge said it was in the "best interests" of the girl not to allow her to go to Tunisia, but did not explain. Grant and Miss Cannon will alternate custody of the girl every 2-4 weeks in several countries during the summer.

Monthly Disease Totals Reported

With 80 cases reported, streptococcus infection was the most prevalent communicable disease last week in Marin County, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

There also were 33 cases of gonorrhea, four of syphilis and three of infectious hepatitis reported, she said.

Tourists Provide Music For Cave

LEASBURG, Mo. (AP) — The stereo system at Onondaga Cave on U.S. 66 here, has the latest songs on it from the new film musical, "Tom Sawyer." The reason is that the musical shot several scenes at the cave.

Tourists are given the words from the song so they can sing as they tour the cave.

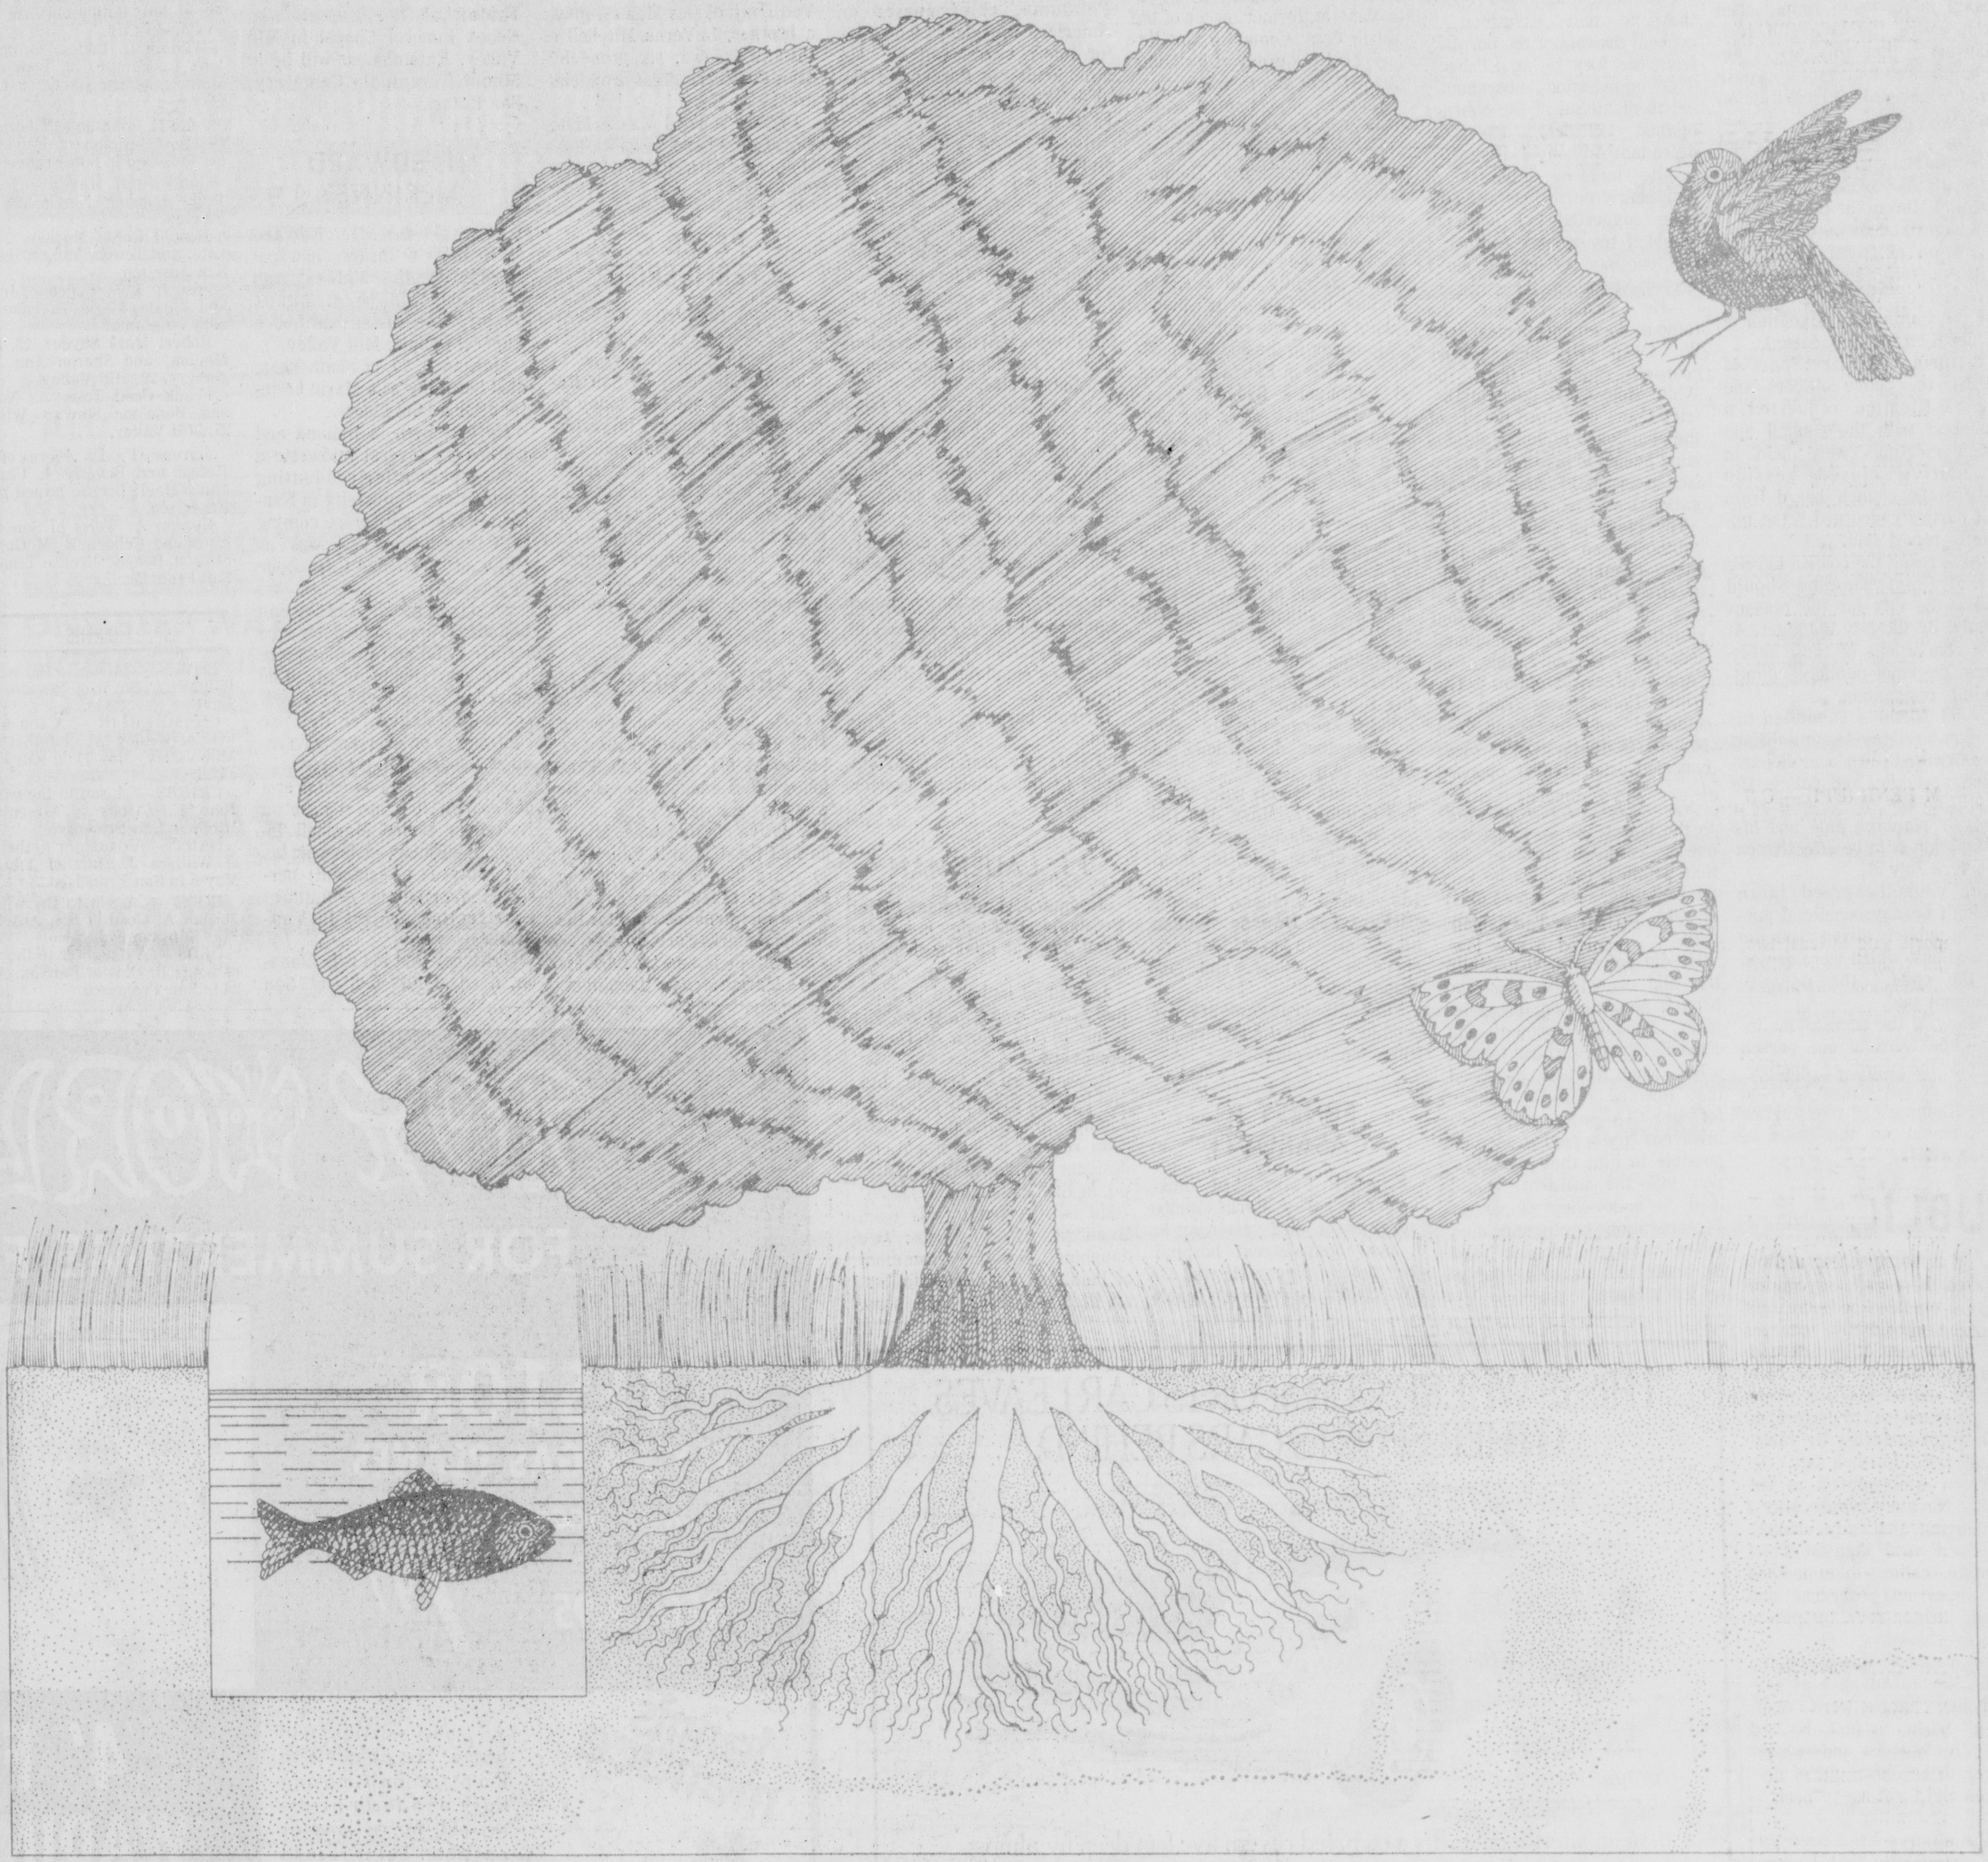
Base Exchange Has Gas Cutback

The base exchange service station at Hamilton Air Force Base has announced a cutback in the quantity of gasoline it receives from its supplier.

The station has been limited to as much gasoline as it used last year on a monthly consumption basis but usage this year has been about 60 per cent higher than last year.

When a monthly supply runs out the pumps will be closed until the next month's supply is delivered, exchange officials reported.

Ecology Education Day May 26



A day to learn about your environment. Presented by the Northgate Mall in association with Survival Inc. Saturday May 26 from 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM at the Northgate Mall in Terra Linda.

What is ecology? It's the study of organisms and their environment. What is education? A process of learning. Ecology Education Day is an opportunity to learn how best to live within our environment. There are over 200 ecology organizations in the Bay Area deeply involved in preserving and protecting our environment. Come to Ecology Education Day and meet many of these experts. Talk with them. See their accomplishments, methods and dilemmas. Find out what they know and what you should know. From recycling to legislative action, from saving trees to battling smog, there is much to be learned.

Come. Bring your family and friends. Learn what is being done to save your environment and what you can do to help. Learning is a good feeling.

lowed to resign and be given a reasonable opportunity before termination to relocate, and

That unless Chief Klemme requested otherwise (which he hasn't), the public and private interest involved would be served best "by not publicly airing the charges."

The report said, "the Brown Act itself, so stoutly advocated by the press when alleged 'secret meetings' are held, expressly recognizes a public employee's right to a private hearing on charges against him."

Councilmen said they concurred with Brown's conclusions and the majority report said "it is most unfortunate that the matter has been blown up enormously out of proportion.

"Perhaps the situation is partly the fault of poor press relations by the city administration and the easiest political solution for the council at this point might be to simply open the entire file. We still feel, however, that this would accomplish no legitimate purpose and might make a bad situation worse."

The minority statement said the matter was first brought to the attention of the city council in mid-March "at this time the manager had requested the resignation of Chief Klemme." (Brown told the Independent-Journal, on April 5 that rumors of the imminent resignation of Chief Klemme were false.)

"During the first part of April, the police officers and Chief Klemme requested a meeting with the council and such meetings were held in executive (closed) session where the council heard from all parties concerned," the minority report said.

As a result the council agreed "that Chief Klemme should leave the city for the reasons stated by the city manager. At the conclusions of these meetings, the chief publicly submitted his resignation."

Chief Klemme submitted his resignation May 1 citing differences with Brown over department operation and policy. He is still on the city payroll as a disaster planning aide and his resignation is to be effective on or before July 31.

The council agreed there wouldn't be any beneficial purpose in publicly airing "specific accusations, which were denied by the chief," the minority statement said.

"Many of the accusations involve the word of one person against the word of another, and we do not choose to cloud Chief Klemme's 20 years in law enforcement on the basis of such matters."

believed there were any improprieties or falsehoods by officers, he should file charges within two weeks, Burdick said.

Brown didn't make any charges within the two weeks and "it is obvious, therefore, no such improprieties or falsehoods exist," Burdick said.

Brown was quoted in the weekly Novato Advance May 2 as denying that any charges had been made against Chief Klemme, calling them instead grievances and concerns and saying allegations by police were overblown.

Brown said he was misquoted in the Novato Advance as saying police charges were "overblown" when, in fact, he had said "the charges and rumors appear to be blown out of proportion and I will not respond to them."

"The officers have been advised specifically that I consider their views to have been honestly stated and that they were seriously evaulated."

Brown said "a great deal of the anger created within the police ranks" has stemmed from misquotes and said he has made "efforts to rectify this sad turn of events with the officers."

Burdick said that "if neither the newspapers nor Brown will retract, the council should call a meeting at which officers can "repeat the charges" regarding Chief Klemme.

Rites Set For Dead Brothers

Funeral for Nathan Whitney Kenny, 15, and Matthew Brett Kenny, 8, Cotati brothers killed Sunday in a train-truck crash near Petaluma, will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Sorensen Funeral Home in Petaluma.

The boys were passengers in a truck driven by their father, Gerald F. Kenny, 39, which hit a 90-car train. The elder Kenny was reported in critical condition today at Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital with head injuries.

A third passenger, Daryl A. North, 16, of Petaluma, who also suffered a head injury, was reported in slightly improved condition at the same hospital, where he was described as in poor condition.

Nathan Kenny was born in Lancaster and lived there and in Santa Maria until the family moved to Cotati four years ago. He was a sophomore at Rancho Cotate High School and was a member of the Cotate Rifle Club.

Matthew Kenny was born in Santa Maria. He was a third grader at Cotati Elementary School.

The boys are survived by their parents; three sisters, Melody, Faith and Ralonda Kenny, all of the family home at 8537 Old Redwood Highway; their paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Kenny, and their maternal grandmother, Mrs. Gerald Langworthy, all of Clio, Mich.

iel Ellsberg's motives and associates.

—He denied published reports that he had attempted to conceal the fact of the burglary from the jury trying Ellsberg. This information subsequently led to dismissal of the charges against Ellsberg and co-defendant Anthony J. Russo.

—He had no intention of resigning from office as some have suggested. "I will not abandon my responsibilities. I will continue to do the job I was elected to do."

—He revealed that the famous documents which John W. Dean III, his former counsel, removed from the White House and gave to District Court contained details of the abandoned 1970 plan authorizing agents to break into premises in national security investigations.

The plan, he said, included "authorization for surreptious entry—breaking and entering, in effect—on specified categories of targets in specified situations related to national security." He said this was "approved as an option." The White House later said the approval was by Nixon. But Nixon said the plan was canceled after Hoover opposed it.

Nixon said his first reaction to the Watergate burglary was one of "complete surprise" but that within a few days he was advised "there was a possibility of CIA involvement in some way."

He did not say who told him this and two of his aides who briefed newsmen on the statement, Leonard Garment and Fred Buzhardt, declined to say.

But when it was disclosed that Howard Hunt and other former CIA employes were involved, Nixon said it seemed possible to him that investigation into the incident "could lead to uncovering of covert CIA operations totally unrelated to the Watergate break-in" and he instructed his aides not to let this happen.

LAWRENCE A. MOULTON

Lawrence A. Moulton of Santa Venetia, former owner of the Marin Copy Center in San Rafael, died yesterday at his home at 157 North San Pedro Road.

Moulton, 53, collapsed on the floor of a sewing room and was pronounced dead by deputy county coroner Bill J. Thomas. Cause of death is pending an autopsy.

Moulton, a native of Kerwin, Kan., and a 14-year resident of Marin, recently had been attending the College of Marin, taking real estate courses.

He began in the copying business in 1966 in Fairfax as head of Community Business Services Associates after his grocery and wine firm, the Moulton Mercantile Co., was destroyed by fire in Forest Knolls.

From Fairfax, Moulton opened the Instant Copy Center on San Rafael's B Street, later to become the Marin Copy Center, now situated on Fourth Street.

Moulton was an Air Force veteran of World War II and the Korean War, retiring as a master sergeant. He won, among other decorations, the Bronze Star.

Survivors are his wife, Mary; two daughters, Mary Ann Holley of Woodacre and Margo Morgan of San Jose; his mother, Hattie Jordan of Boise, Ida.; three brothers, Chester, Richard and Dwayne Moulton, all of Boise; a sister, Margaret Sherman of Boise, and nine grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

ERNEST P. CASAROTTI

Ernest P. Casarotti of Novato, a resident of Marin County for 30 years, died yesterday in a local convalescent hospital after a brief illness. He was 68.

Casarotti, a retired truck driver, once worked for Northwestern Pacific Railroad and Lucky Lager Brewing Co. in San Rafael.

A native of Petaluma, he was a graduate of Petaluma High School.

He was a member of Sea Point Parlor No. 158 of Native Sons of the Golden West in Sausalito, United Order of Druids No. 113 in Novato, Tamalpais Post of Veterans of Foreign Wars No. 72 in San Rafael and a retired member of the Teamsters Union.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by two sisters, Evelyn Goddard of Bolinas and Irene Nacebo of Santa Rosa, and a brother, Walter Casarotti of Petaluma.

Funeral will be at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Chapel of Marin in Novato. The family requests memorial contributions be made to the American Cancer Society.

JOY L. ROGERS

Funeral for Joy L. Rogers, of Petaluma, chief purser on American President Lines ships for many years, will be at 1 p.m. Friday at Carew and English Funeral Home in San Francisco.

Rogers, who was 53, died Monday in a San Francisco hospital after a short illness.

He had retired from the sea in January after serving as chief purser on the final voyage of the President Cleveland.

He sailed as a purser for APL 27 years, also serving aboard the President Wilson, President Hoover, President Monroe and President Polk.

He was a native of Salt Lake City and was a graduate of the University of Utah.

He is survived by his wife, Helen, of the family home at 313 Eastwood Drive; a son, Brent Rogers and a daughter, Sharon Hoenes, both of Salt Lake City.

His funeral will be conducted jointly by a catholic priest and a Presbyterian minister who served as chaplains on Rogers' last voyage.

Private burial will be in Petaluma.

The family prefers contributions to the American Cancer Society.

J.J. LAUERMAN

Jerome J. Lauerman, 84, of Petaluma, died today in a Petaluma hospital after a short illness.

Lauerman had lived in Petaluma one year, making his home at 717 North McDowell Boulevard.

He was born in Armour, Ind. and lived in the Midwest before coming to California in 1954 after retiring as a tool and crib designer for the Edwards Valve Co. in East Chicago.

He is survived by his wife, Barbara, of Petaluma; two daughters, Dorothy Warnimont of Petaluma and Gertrude Last of Highland, La.; four sons, Eugene Lauerman of Phoenix, Ariz., Lawernce Lauerman of Petaluma, Walter Lauerman of Lansing, Ill. and Charles Lauerman of Hammond, Ill., 26 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

He was a member of the Knights of Columbus.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. Friday at St. James Church in Petaluma. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Parent Funeral Chapel. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

GAIL OPINHAM

Gail Opinham, 68, of Petaluma, died yesterday in a Petaluma hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Opinham was born in Oklahoma and reared there and in Iowa. Before moving to Petaluma two years ago she lived in Eureka many years.

Her home was 717 North McDowell Boulevard.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Delores Hamilton of Petaluma, Mrs. Leon McCartney and Vickie Opinham, both of Colorado, and Mrs. Velma Van Dyck of Des Moines, Iowa; a brother, LaVerne Mitchell of Ottumwa, Iowa, six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Private funeral was held today at the Chapel of Santa Rosa Memorial Park, followed by entombment.

PETER C. STERNBERGER

Funeral for Peter C. Sternberger of Marinwood will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael and was not held today as erroneously reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Sternberger, 38, was found dead in his bathtub at home at 2066 Huckleberry Road about noon Saturday, according to the Marin County coroner's office. Cause of death has not been determined, pending an autopsy.

CARL STEVENSON

Carl V. Stevenson, former Mill Valley resident, died yesterday at his El Cerrito home following a sudden illness. He was 67.

A native of Gladstone, Mich., he had lived in Mill Valley for 20 years before moving to the East Bay seven years ago. He was a maintenance man for the National Parks Service.

Stevenson is survived by his wife, Margaret; two daughters, Patricia Crain of El Cerrito and Patricia Stanton of Boston; a brother, Stanley Stevenson of Minnesota, and four grandchildren.

Funeral will be held at 11:30 a.m. Friday at the Ellis-Olson Mortuary, Albany. Inurnment will be private.

VIRGIL JONES

Virgil R. Jones, long-time Marin resident, died yesterday at his Mill Valley home after a long illness. He was 73.

A native of Ohio, he had lived in California and Marin County since 1940, residing at 250 LaVerne Avenue. He was a self-employed carpenter for 35 years.

He was a member of several Mill Valley Masonic organizations, including Lodge 356, Free and Accepted Masons, Chapter 108, Royal Arch Masons and Chapter 219, Order of the Eastern Star and a member of the Carpenters Union, Local 1149 of Oakland.

Jones is survived by his wife, Belle.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. Friday at the Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapel in Mill Valley. Entombment will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

H. EDWARD McKINNEY

Funeral for H. Edward McKinney, a former newspaperman in the Midwest and California, will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapel, Mill Valley.

McKinney, 70, of Santa Rosa, died Saturday at a Marin hospital after a long illness.

He was born in Indiana and worked on several midwestern newspapers after graduating from Ottowa University in Kansas. His last job before coming to California in 1934 was as editor of the Dodge City Globe in Kansas.

He served as editor of the San Leandro News and later the former Petaluma Herald before World War II, during which he travelled extensively as a personnel manager for defense contractors on overseas government construction projects.

After five years as editor of a newspaper at a naval base on Kwajelein in the Marshall Islands, McKinney undertook his last overseas assignment: personnel manager for a military construction project in Vietnam.

McKinney and his wife, Joanna, lived at 1023 E Street, San Rafael, from 1942 to 1971, when they moved to Santa Rosa. During that time he often helped his wife in the operation of an employment agency she ran at Fifth and E Streets.

McKinney was a founder and first president of the Marin Chapter of The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, and made many appearances in the bay area as a member of the Marin Chorus and as bass singer with several quartets. He also belonged to the San Francisco Press Club and sang with the Chord Reporters, the club's quartet.

He is survived by his wife, Joanna, two daughters, Betty Jo Marker of El Sobrante and Patricia Ann Law of Novato, and six grandchildren.

The family asks that any memorial gifts go to the Marin Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

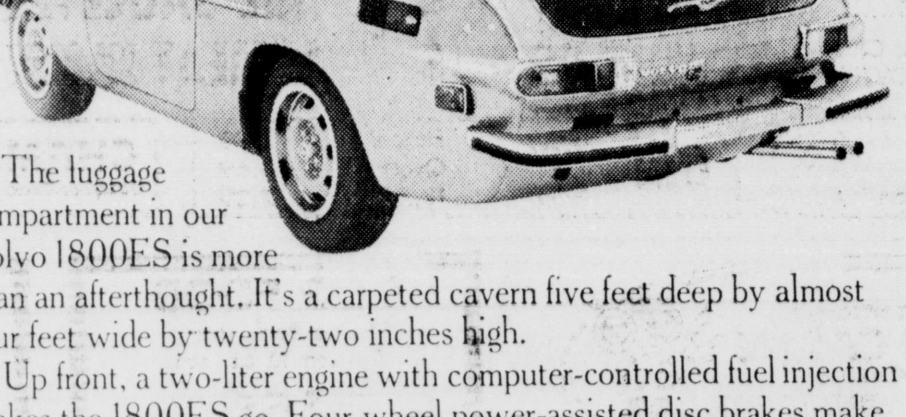
THIS IS WHERE OUR SPORTS CAR LEAVES OTHER SPORTS CARS BEHIND.



The luggage compartment in our Volvo 1800ES is more than an afterthought. It's a carpeted cavern five feet deep by almost four feet wide by twenty-two inches high.

Up front, a two-liter engine with computer-controlled fuel injection makes the 1800ES go. Four-wheel power-assisted disc brakes make it stop. And bucket seats that Car and Driver has called "the most hospitable in the business" make it most comfortable.

You may wonder how Volvo got all this into a sports car. Come in and see it.

Early Meet Notices Are Asked

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation requiring state agencies to give two weeks notice for all meetings has been introduced by Sen. Anthony Beilenson, D-Los Angeles.

Present law requires both state and local agencies to give only 24 hours notice of meetings, and then only for other than regular meetings.

A spokesman for the senator said there was no intention to extend the measure to local government.

He said the proposal originated with Ellen Stern Harris of Los Angeles, a columnist with the Los Angeles Times and vice chariman of the California Coastal Zone Conservation Commission.

The bill, SB 1173, would allow meetings on shorter notice to discuss unforseen emergency conditions such as a natural disaster.

Tidelands Protection Proposed

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Bills to protect property rights in tidelands and recreational or retirement developments have been introduced by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael.

The first, SB 1257, would prohibit the state or any of its political subdivisions from taking possession of privately owned tidelands without compensating the owners for improvements they had made on the tidelands. The bill would not require reimbursement for public use of tidelands for fishing and navigation, but would for such projects as road widening.

The need for the bill was unclear since the state Department of Public Works already has acknowledged existing law requires compensation in such cases.

The second bill, SB 1381, was designed to protect persons who buy property in recreational or retirement developments — on the promise by the developer that he will build public facilities. The measure would give the owner, agent or subdivider of the development four years to complete the number of units, utilities, roads and recreational facilities specified in the final subdivision map.

Failure to meet the deadline would result in forfeiture of the developer's equity in the remaining unsold property to the property owners. The equity would be used to finance completion of the project or any portion deemed necessary by the property owners.

TNT Is Found In County Car

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — San Mateo County employes for the past six weeks have been using a county car with one pound of TNT under the front seat.

Sheriff's deputies said the explosive was found Monday by a motor pool mechanic. They said there was no detonator attached to the TNT and it could not have exploded.

The TNT apparently had been left in the car by a crime laboratory technician and Army official who had transported explosives in the car six weeks ago.

Bill Would Allow Boost In Transit District Tax

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Marin County Transit District's maximum property tax rate of five cents per $100 assessed valuation could be increased with voter approval under a bill introduced by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

The measure was asked by district directors because it is spending more than the $370,000 the nickel tax brought in this fiscal year. Local bus service will have to be cut if voters do not authorize an increase in the rate, according to the district board.

The amount of the increase has not been set. The Bagley bill, AB 111, could not become law before next January, thus the tax election probably would not be held until next year's June primary.

Population Is Up

BEIRA, Mozambique (AP) — Official statistics indicate that Mozambique's population should reach 10 million by 1980 compared with 8.2 million in 1970.

Hints To Avoid Kidnaping Given

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — Police launched a national anti-kidnaping campaign today by sending a list of "handy hints against kidnapings" to such possible targets as diplomats, politicians, millionaires and other prominent persons.

The campaign, apparently triggered by a wave of kidnapings blamed on leftist guerrillas, was initiated by Col. Carlos Guzman Benitez, chief of the special investigations police.

Some of his listed hints:

—Always let your family know where your are, even if this is inconvenient for you.

—Instruct your family and servants to tell no one about your daily routine. —Don't follow routines. Change the route home from the office every once in a while. Try not to go alone. Try to be accompanied by one or more persons.

WISE OLD OWLS

These owls certainly are wise as they have taken up residence at the home of Joseph Hoort in Grand Rapids, Mich., following the introduction of a bill in the state legislature which allows falconers to take hawks and owls. These owls live in the family's yard, window sills and trees despite opposition from the family dog. The state Audubon Society announced opposition to the bill yesterday.

Planning Commission Postpones Smith Brothers Ranch Plan

Use permit action for a $40 million development on Smith Brothers Ranch was postponed to June 26 by the San Rafael Planning Commission, on a 4-1 vote last night.

Only Commissioner Albert J. Boro sided with City Planner Director Herbert H. Hotchner who recommended the use permit be denied outright until after the city's new general plan is ready.

Albert Bianchi, attorney for the developers, Smith Gonzales and Associates, asked the delay so his clients can present their plans to the city's general plan consultants, planning committees and neighboring homeowners. The property falls under the city's development moratorium rules.

Hotchner objected that "it is completely inappropriate at this time for our consultants or staff to give any opinion back" about the plans for residential and commercial development of the 189-acre parcel east of Highway 101 overlooking the Las Gallinas Valley. The planning director charged that any time spent on the ranch development would "water down" time and effort that should be spent completing the general plan.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

CHURCH — Approved a use permit under moratorium rules for the Marin Covenant Church to build a church and office building on a corner of the Smith Brothers Ranch adjoining Highway 101 on the hillside near the drive-in movie entrance. Hotchner opposed the permit for the same reasons as the larger project.

HOLIDAY MAGIC — Approved six lots for the firm's Bay Park industrial tract at 529 Jacoby Street.

YACHT CLUB — Approved splitting a 1.31-acre parcel on San Pedro Road into two parcels for the Marin Yacht Club and approved plans for a swimming pool.

POSTPONED — To June 1, a three-lot subdivision of the Charles Grande property on Windsor Avenue, due to the applicant's illness.

LUTHERANS — Approved a two-lot subdivision of the Faith Lutheran Church property at 515 Northgate Drive, with the existing church on one and an administrative-professional office building planned for the second.

CABINET SHOP — In answer to neighborhood requests, postponed to June 12, action on Al Lamperti's permit request to build a cabinet shop at 625 Lindaro Street, site of the former ferrocrete boat yard.

RECYCLING — Granted Ernest Ongaro permission to operate a paper recycling depot and environmental design and engineering firm at 502 Irwin Street.

GRADING — Approved request of Paul and Eleanor Sade's request to remove an additional 25,000 cubic yards of fill from the hilltop at 101 Cresta Drive, the site of a prior grading operation.

APARTMENTS — Under moratorium procedure, approved the Tamalpais Land and Development Co. request for a project on three parcels in the 100 block of Ross Street but did not decide the number of units. The applicant plans 24 units.

ADJOURNED — To 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday for a session on the general plan's progress and philosophical direction. Commissioners indicated objections to proposals for a development review board and other features. Commissioner Alan M. Kay, who was absent last night, sent other commissioners a letter strongly criticizing Hotchner's report to the city council Monday.

Board To Name Advisory Group

The Dixie School District board will appoint a citizens advisory committee on school finances when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the district office.

The board canceled its regular meeting scheduled today after several board members said they had other commitments.

The board also will consider a wage proposal by the Dixie Elementary School Administrators Association.

Battle Rages In Capitol On Medical Information

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to halt allegedly widespread trafficking in confidential medical records was pinned down yesterday by crossfire between lobbyists for the insurance industry and medical profession.

Insurers opposed the measure, SB 447 by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, claiming it would protect fraudulent insurance claims from detection and thus hike premiums.

Supporting it were spokesmen for the California Medical Association, who argued it is needed to protect the confidential relationship between doctor and patient.

Each side has been lobbying the Senate Judiciary Committee, which postponed a vote to next Tuesday because several members expected to support the bill were at the funeral of Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Oakland.

Both sides are among the most potent lobbies in the capitol.

The disputed bill is aimed at the allegedly common practice by insurance companies of sharing medical records with an endless commercial chain of outside organizations, including credit groups and employers.

The release of confidential medical information is triggered when applicants for life or health insurance, or persons filing claims for personal injury, sign waivers authorizing their doctors to release their records. The waivers are so broadly worded that they amount to a lifelong release of such information to virtually anyone with access to the data bank.

Behr's bill would restrict the release of such information for a specific use, and apply only to information available before the release is signed. The organization given a waiver would be barred from sharing the information with anyone else.

Lewis Keller, lobbyist for the Association of California Life Insurance Companies, said the medical data is needed to check applicants who may suffer "a bad memory" about prior injuries or illnesses for which they may seek payment after they are insured. Without such data, he said, insurers will have to "substantially increase" medical examinations of applicants.

Pointing to the Nixon administration's theft of records from the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, Keller said the bill would do nothing to improve the security of doctors' offices. A Behr aide noted that a doctor's office is not a repository for records on 12 million people.

Committee members pressed Behr unsuccessfully for evidence of misuse of the medical data. He promised to supply the evidence before next week's vote.

LOSER IS WINNER — Sherry Nix, 21, was defeated last August in the Miss California beauty contest but that didn't end her pageant career. She later competed in the Miss Arizona contest, won the event and went on to place third in the Miss USA event last weekend, finishing ahead of Carol Herrema of Artesia who defeated her in the California contest. Bolinas School Board Offers Salary Raise

Trustees of the Bolinas-Stinson School District last night offered the district's 10 teachers a 4 per cent across-the-board salary increase for the 1973-74 school year, less than half the hike the certificated employees had requested.

The teachers, who are seeking 10 per cent raises, did not respond to the offer at last night's session but are expected to make their views known at a special meeting at a time to be announced, according to Supt. Lester M. Horning.

The 4 per cent increase will cost the district about $3,700, he said, while the original request would have cost approximately $9,000.

Teacher's aides in the district are now paid $3 an hour and the board also agreed to set up a salary scale for them. Under the plan, first year aides would receive $3, second year aides $3.50 and aides with two or more years experience would be paid $4.

The aides will respond to the proposal at the special session.

The Bolinas-Stinson School District Board also:

SUMMER SCHOOL — Authorized the superintendent to explore the possibility of establishing a summer school in the district.

COMMITTEE — Agreed to name two parents to a screening committee to choose a successor to Horning who will not be returning next year. Other members will be the present board, newly-elected trustees, two teachers and two teacher aides.

GROWTH — Passed a resolution supporting the Bolinas planning group's proposal that growth in the Bolinas area should be limited to 1 per cent a year.

Increase Noted

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The United Steelworkers announced today that about 34,000 aluminum workers will receive a nine-cent-per-hour cost of living pay increase effective June 1 from five major aluminum producers.

Accident Injures Man Critically

A Golden Gate Bridge employee was critically injured yesterday when struck by a car on Highway 101 while setting out traffic cones, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Officers also reported an accident in which a Colorado man was hospitalized.

Earl H. Scheurman, 25, of Sonoma, was reported in serious condition today in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital with a broken left wrist and possible head injuries.

The highway patrol said he was attempting to retrieve a lane marker cone which had fallen off a bridge district truck on southbound Highway 101 near Marin City at 2:45 p.m. when he was hit by a car.

The driver of the car, Dr. Donald L. Wilson, 35, of San Francisco, said he saw Scheurman dart in front of his auto and couldn't avoid hitting him.

In the other mishap, Brian G. Carroll, 21, of Colorado Springs, was reported in fair condition today at the hospital with possible internal injuries and bruises.

Officers said his car was northbound on Shoreline Highway south of Stinson Beach at 7:40 p.m. yesterday when it left the road on a curve, ejecting him.

Review Of Report Is Postponed

The Fairfax Design Review board last night postponed action on an environmental impact report on the controversial Canon Village and Tennis Club after asking for more information on the matter.

At issue are 127 two-story units proposed for 88 acres off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Glen Drive by developers Robert D. Marshall and Denkmann and Co.

The report by Applied Science and Resource Planning Inc. of Sacramento finds the development will have a number of adverse effects on the environment but claims the proposal is "potentially far less harmful to existing flora and fauna than a conventional single family residential subdivision."

The board last night, after taking its second look at the impact report, requested that the Sacramento firm provide additional information on the impact of traffic generated by the development, the effect construction might have on a nearby creek and the impact on the local sewage system, according to board secretary Ernestine Healy.

Board members also want a detailed description of trees to be cut in connection with development plans, she said.

The report states the proposal will require development of 15 acres of the vast site, including seven acres covered with "impervious surfaces," and may add to a flood problem along nearby Olema Drive due to runoff.

The development will "significantly alter" existing soil and geologic conditions, adversely affect some animal life, require removal of 40 trees, pump about 300 new residents into the area and generate about 860 traffic trips per day, according to the report.

The board will again consider the report at 8 p.m. June 14 in the Fairfax Womens Club.

Open Class Program Expanded

The Lagunitas School District board has decided to extend the district's open classroom program to seventh graders.

Supt. Harry F. Roche said the multigrade program, which employs team teaching techniques, will be available to seventh graders next year, as well as kindergarten through sixth grade classes currently enrolled in the program.

The board Monday made the move after parents said the open classroom program provides a more flexible learning environment for some children, he said.

In other business, the board adopted a school calendar stretching from Sept. 11 to June 14 and accepted the resignation of teacher Richard Plant.

A salary proposal by the district's nonteaching employees for a 7.5 per cent pay raise will be considered when the board next meets at 7:30 p.m. June 4 in San Geronimo Valley School, he said.

Change In Sausalito Board Makeup Eyed

The Sausalito City Council debated last night whether to set new criteria for planning commission candidates and whether to change the makeup of the city's Community Appearances Advisory Board.

The council directed staff to study a suggestion that a planning commissioner must be a Sausalito resident for three years or more and must be a property owner.

Council members also said they were interested in replacing the planning commission representative on the appearances board with a landscape architect. One member of the board, which reviews plans for single-family homes and other minor building projects, is already required to be an architect.

Councilman Stephen A. Fraser said he favors removing the planning commissioner to encourage more citizen involvement on city commissions. "The logic always was, before we had the number of staff that we have now, that we had to have someone to convey to CAAB what happened on the planning commission," he said.

He suggested that, if a planning commissioner is retained on CAAB, the position be rotated among all planning commissioners.

Mayor Robin Sweeny and Councilman Sally Stanford agreed with changing the board's makeup. "People get too much power in their hands, and they get drunk with it," said Miss Stanford.

At first councilman Evert H. Heynneman insisted that the planning commission be represented on the appearances board but later said he would accept the change in the board if the planning commissioner were replaced with a landscape architect.

Mayor Sweeny suggested that since the council was considering a change in the appearances board it should hold off appointing anyone new to the expired planning commission seat on the board.

She said the present planning commission representative to the board, Violeta Autumn, is willing to stay pending the change.

But a motion from Councilman Heynneman to reappoint her failed 3-2, with only Mayor Sweeny joining in support of Mrs. Autumn, who has vigorously opposed massive developments while serving as a planning commissioner.

Instead, on a motion by Fraser, the council voted 3-1, with Mayor Sweeny abstaining, to appoint Planning Commissioner Frank M. Bowen. Mayor Sweeny and Heynneman, who voted "no," said they were not opposed to Bowen but opposed appointing someone new to the board while the council is considering changing its composition.

The council also reappointed unanimously Robert L. Nissen to his seat on the planning commission. Commissioner Dorothy Gibson was also reappointed by a 3-2 vote, with Fraser and Stanford voting against her.

The council reappointed unanimously to two other vacant advisory board seats Marshall Roath and Charles Merrill.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

TREES — Reintroduced for first reading an ordinance which would require residents to get special permits from a tree committee when they wish to cut down or alter trees over 15 feet tall. The ordinances would also allow residents to get the city to order removal of trees which block views.

FENCE — Granted an appeal of C. David Robinson of a decision of the appearances board. The council decided to allow Robinson to build a fence encroaching on city property surrounding his yard at 54 Spencer Avenue.

CLOSED SESSION — Held a closed meeting to discuss hiring a new building inspector and a replacement for a clerical employee who is retiring.

MEETINGS — Set June 5 as the date of its next regular meeting and set May 29, June 7, 11 and 14 as dates for budget hearings.

TOWN MEETING — Noted that the Sausalito Citizens Council will hold a town meeting to answer questions on the city's June bond election on May 30 at Central School.

SCHOONMAKER — Decided to hold a special meeting to hear an appeal of a planning commission rejection of rezoning that would permit a massive waterfront development on the Schoonmaker Marinship property. The meeting was tentatively set for June 13 at 7:30 p.m. at Central School, pending approval of the applicants.

Reader's Digest Prices To Drop

CHAPPAQUA, N.Y. (UPI) — The publishers of Reader's Digest announced yesterday that beginning with the magazine's July issue newstand prices will be lowered from 60 cents to 50 cents.

The announcement made no mention of subscription rates.

In a statement, the magazine said the price drop "follows the steady growth in newsstand sales and reaffirms the Digest's traditional policy of providing its readers with the best in reading value."

Larkspur Councilmen Begin Eyeing Budget

By DAVID DIETZ

Amid a clouded revenue picture, the Larkspur City Council began the annual job last night of trying to make its budget match its pocketbook.

Before that started, however, the audience watched some minor fireworks triggered by Councilman Neil R. Brixon, who sharply criticized city staff for failing to provide several residents with copies of the proposed 1973-74 budget — the subject at hand.

Although a Greenbrae resident, Eugene Perrigo, told the council he and others had been promised advance copies of the spending program, nothing was sent. He said he learned of the opening budget round only on reading last night's issue of the Independent-Journal.

Brixon, whose criticism of city staff has increased in frequency and intensity in recent months, accused the administration of being "derelict in their duties again." He suggested postponing the meeting, but none of his colleagues supported him.

And Councilman Joan Sestak noted that "no one held my hand" when she was a citizen interested in city government, adding that each year she went to city hall to obtain budget material in advance.

That matter aside, the council took its first official look at City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst's proposed $1.5 million spending program, up $57,158 from the current budget. Another such session is set for 7:30 p.m. today.

At the suggestion of Mayor Alfred J. Malvino, the council neither increased nor reduced budget amounts it reviewed last night, preferring to wait until the full spending program has been reviewed. Too, Malvino wished no commitments made on any capital outlay items, in part because of tax rate limitations and other revenue uncertainties.

(Under the state's new tax law, cities are limited to their 1972-73 tax rates — in Larkspur's case, $1.98 per $100 of assessed valuation. Amendments liberalizing the law are pending in Sacramento, however.)

The council opened its review with consideration of a $148,304 budget for parks, up from $111,166; a $116,109 library budget, up from $54,204, and a recreation spending program of $8,300, down from $13,500 this year because of an interdepartmental salary shift.

The parks budget includes $118,500 in capital outlay, largest items of which are $45,000 for buying a lot on the Greenbrae side of Corte Madera Creek for a bridge to Piper Park under construction and $30,000 for Piper Park irrigation work.

The council, appearing eager to acquire the Greenbrae lot, designated a committee of Brixon and Mrs. Sestak to approach Schultz interests, lot owners, about obtaining title. The $45,000 would be a carryover from this year's budget.

As for the irrigation work, Brixon said he wanted assurances the job could be done in the coming fiscal year before he would endorse the expense.

Most controversial of the planned library expenses was an increase from $12,000 to $20,000 for book and magazine purchases, Brixon again expressing reservations. He noted book circulation has steadily risen without such sharp increases for book-buying.

Library officials also asked for $50,000 in capital outlay to continue setting aside money for purchase of land for a new library. That would bring the fund to $64,000, about half of what is thought will be needed.

The council voiced no opposition to the appropriation.

Dead Woman Was Wife Of Dentist

A middle-aged woman found floating dead May 14 in Richardson Bay was identified today as the 46-year-old wife of a San Mateo dentist.

Coroner's investigator Keith C. Craig said he learned the identity of Harryette Green Rucker by fingerprints matched against records in Sacramento. The woman, a counselor at Serramonte High School in Pacifica had submitted fingerprints with a teacher's application in 1968.

Craig discounted any link between Mrs. Rucker and a drifting dinghy which washed ashore in Belvedere the day before her body was found under a deck at 67 West Shore Road.

He said Mrs. Rucker apparently jumped from the Golden Gate Bridge and was carried to Belvedere by tides. Her car was found at the vista point at the Marin end of the Golden Gate Bridge by the highway patrol Friday, Craig said.

Raymond Rucker, her husband, filed a missing persons report at 8:20 a.m. May 15. Although she left home on May 13, he waited to report her disappearance because he thought she had gone to their Carmel home, Craig said.

Mrs. Rucker was depressed when she left home, Craig said.

Use Of Flags Said Obsolete

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The National Weather Service at Cleveland says the small craft warning flag won't be flying this summer at local marinas and yacht clubs.

Forecaster Bill Kennedy said the use of flags at marinas has become obsolete. Instead, the Weather Service is encouraging boaters to buy VHF radio receivers which give continuous weather forecasts or listen to radio stations which provide such services.

Under the old system, the marinas were under contract to the weather service.

"Many times we would call up and it might be a bartender or somebody sitting at the bar, and he would forget to put the flag up," said Kennedy. "Or we'd call a few hours later and say, 'pull it down,' and the flag might be up three or four days before anyone took it down.

"The service was very undependable," Kennedy added. He said Coast Guard stations will be the only places where boaters can see the small craft warning flying.

Change In Studies Is Course's Theme

A one-week evening study course to prepare high school students for the change to college will be given June 18 through 21 at Olney Hall, College of Marin, sponsored by the Young Men's Christian Association of Marin.

The course, developed by Prof. Robert F. Schwarz of Purdue University, is aimed at preparing students for the difference in living and studying at college compared to high school.

LAST TESTS ON LAKE

The Navy's SES-100B Surface Effect Ship, the prototype of a 2000-ton ship which has exceeded 80 miles per hour in tests, is leaving Lake Ponchatrain near New Orleans. The craft is going to Panama City, Fla., where it will undergo several months of deep water and high sea testing.

Tam Board Won't Pay For Workshop Costs

The Tamalpais High School District Board last night decided to play it safe and not pay $50 for newly elected trustee Lotte Schiller to attend a University of California workshop taught by fellow trustee Frank L. Miller.

A minor snag — the fact that Mrs. Schiller had already attended the workshop, held May 11 at Berkeley — appeared not to worry the three-member board present last night.

Supt. Robert D. Torrey explained that Miller was convinced there was no conflict of interest in his teaching the course on school board effectiveness and the district spending funds for Mrs. Schiller's attendance.

However Trustee Jerrold M. Ladar, an attorney, said he thought the payment wasn't authorized by law and the board shouldn't approve her attendance.

Mrs. Schiller hasn't yet taken her board seat, and board president Robert W. Corlett was absent. Ladar Miller and Bette Wallace voted to defer approval of Mrs. Schiller's attendance at the conference, and deleted a payment of $50 to cover it from the district's warrants.

The workshop, sponsored by the university's education extension division was led by Miller, and Marion S. Vittiow, training director for Kramer, Miller and Associates. Miller is a partner in the firm with former San Rafael School board member Lawrence Karmer.

Tamalpais High School District Board Also:

DRAKE ENGLISH — Gave first hearing to a revised English program at Drake for next school year presented by department head Kate Blickhahn and Albert Lavin; Ladar said the description read like an alternative program, but decided after hearing it explained that it does propose to teach fundamental skills; Miss Blickhahn described language skills as "reading, writing, speaking, listening and thinking,"; Miller said the Drake English department seems "light years ahead" of parents who graduated from high school in the 1940s, and making them understand the difference might be difficult.

CLASSIFIED — Was told that district classified employees have requested a 7.5 per cent cost of living increase, a 10 per cent differential for shifts starting after noon, and more custodians at Tam High.

NEW COURSES — Gave first hearing to nine new courses proposed for Tam High in the fall: advanced math seminar; Canada, past and present; The Native American, interrelated studies, fine arts in French, The Greater Bay Area, gospel singing, culture and civilization of the French speaking people, culture and civilization of Hispanic man.

TAHITI — Gave first hearing to a proposal by Robert Mautner, foreign language instructional coordinator that students he takes on a private trip to Tahiti this summer be granted credit for foreign language study; Miller warned it should be considered an experiment, since 20 teachers might come up with similar proposals next year.

STAFFING — Heard a report from Torrey that a freeze on hiring new teachers has cut the district's overstaffing problem, Drake is under the limit by 3.8 teachers, Redwood by 4.2 and Tam High is over by two-tenths of a teacher; he has authorized hiring a Swahili teacher and a choral music teacher, both for Tam, said Torrey, to replace teachers on leaves of absence.

SEX EDUCATION — Learned from Edward J. Neumeier, administrative assistant, that the district's sex education committee proposes a two week workshop for teachers who will teach the subject, and pilot courses in each school will start in the second semester next school year, monitored by a citizens' advisory committee.

REDWOOD COURSES — Delayed adopting 11 new courses of study for Redwood, given a first hearing May 7, because trustee Ladar was absent then, and the remaining trustees, Mrs. Wallace and Miller, didn't make a quorum.

CLAIM — Routinely rejected a claim by Kenneth Frank for injuries suffered when he fell from the hood of a car in the Redwood parking lot Jan. 30.

PERSONNEL — Accepted the resignation of C. Arthur Wigell, music teacher at Redwood, who has been 28 years with the district; granted leaves of absence for the 1973-74 school year to John Christen, Drake math teacher, and Roger Griffith, Tam High on location teacher; and approved paying $3,893 for staff development workshops to math and social studies teachers.

MEETING — Adjourned at midnight to its next regular meeting, June 4, at 8 p.m. at the Redwood faculty lounge.

Agnew's Son, Bride Are Honeymooning

ATHENS (UPI) — James "Randy" Agnew, son of the vice president, arrived Monday for a honeymoon with his bride of two weeks, Connie. She quickly surprised workers at the Athens Hilton hotel by talking to them in Greek.

"She could not say many things, but all she said was well accented and sweetly pronounced," said a receptionist.

Cards Mailed On Assessments

Sonoma County Assessor Ernest L. Comalli said his office will start mailing assessment notification cards today to all property owners in the county.

Previously, cards went only to those owners whose values had changed, but this year they will go to all real property owners, he said.

The assessment notice cards will not show exemptions for which property owners have applied, Comalli said, because it was not possible to process these this early in the year.

Valuation problems may be discussed with the assessor's staff at the Sonoma County Administration Center in Santa Rosa.

Tam High Mothers Raise Complaint

By PATRICIA PERRY

Worried Tamalpais High School mothers complained last night that the Mill Valley high school is being run by an "instructional policy board" that hasn't been elected and is not accountable to taxpayers.

Led by Patricia Thomson of Mill Valley, the mothers asked the Tamalpais High School District Board if it was their policy to let the group set policy for the school. They got no immediate answer from the three trustees present, who explained they'd never attended a meeting of the group.

The mothers painted a picture of committees, subcommittees and "spinoff" committees continually meeting and accomplishing nothing.

Ruby S. Eatherton said the instructional policy board intends to include two parent members but there would be no way these volunteer members could be held accountable to the public.

Mrs. Thomson said on the first day of this semester at Tamalpais High there was only one counsellor present. "With 150 kids looking for help. . . where's the administration?" she asked.

Similarly, said Mrs. Thomson, at a special career guidance conference only seven students showed up to meet six public officials from all over Marin. All the Tam High students had been given a half day's holiday.

Elaine Jessup claimed cutting at Tam High is the worst it's ever been and many parents are considering transferring their children.

"The whole problem stems from lack of leadership," said Mrs. Jessup, "yet we're spending more for administration than either Redwood or Drake. Much of the administration is being done by this instructional policy board and it's taking the best teachers out of the classroom. They're frustrated by too many responsibilities and students are suffering."

Other mothers claimed that the controversial board's meetings are "unbelievable" and "frightening" with "nothing ever happening."

Trustees Jerrold M. Ladar, Bette Wallace and Frank L. Miller appeared stunned by the vehemence of the mothers' attacks on Tam High's administration. The school's educational leader, Lawrence Sheppard, was in the audience but wasn't asked to comment.

Mrs. Wallace said she was concerned but that it was impossible to respond fairly until staff had investigated the parents' complaints. Ladar said it would be helpful for trustees to attend a meeting of the instructional policy board but pointed out that all the trustees work full time.

No action was taken on the complaints but trustees indicated they'd bring the subject up again, not saying when.

Candidate Night

A candidates night for Petaluma Board of Education hopefuls will be sponsored by the Casa Grande Booster Club at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday in the multiuse room of Casa Grande School.

Sex Education Is Cure To Disease

NEWARK, Ohio (UPI) — The president of the American Medical Association said last night sex education is one way to combat venereal disease which has reached "epidemic' proportions.

"Sex education should be taught in schools as early as the sixth grade," Dr. Charles Hoffman said at a news conference prior to a speaking engagement.

Hoffman said the increased use of oral contraceptives is one reason for the "VD epidemic."

Innocent Plea Is Given To Counts

A 20-year-old Novato man, arrested after he threw a beer can from his car, pleaded innocent yesterday to a felony charge of having a billy club and a misdemeanor charge of having a pipe for smoking marijuana.

Preliminary hearing for Douglas James Schuler was set for June 5 in Marin Municipal Court.

Schuler was arrested Saturday at Skyview Terrace and Lucas Park Street in San Rafael after police said they saw a beer can thrown from his car.

A search revealed the club and the pipe, police said.

Novato Will Seek Grant For Hamilton Base Study

The Novato City Council last night authorized applying for a $20,000 federal grant for a land use planning study of Hamilton Air Force Base and created a seven-member Hamilton land use study committee.

The city's application will be sent to the economic development administration, a member of the president's Interagency Economic Adjustment Committee, City Mgr. Charles A. Brown reported.

The city will have to contribute $5,000 worth of "in kind" services, Brown said.

Councilman George C. Quesada said the city also should notify Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, that the community would like to see Hamilton continue as a military base, without the noise of jets.

Appointed to the Hamilton study committee were Joyce Applen, representing the North Marin Federation of Homeowners; Ralph M. Wanderer, Novato Chamber of Commerce; Joseph A. Forest, North Marin unit of the Marin Conservation League; Ralph R. Patterson, Marin Country Club and Domingo Canyon Homeowners associations; and Susan Stompe, John G. Stuber and Guthrie R. Greene, members at large.

The council also received a recommendation from the city's human needs advisory committee that there be an unspecified percentage of low, moderate and elderly housing when units are declared surplus."

BART Faces Engineers' Suit

OAKLAND (UPI) — Three engineers yesterday filed suits totaling $1.35 million against the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, alleging they were fired for contending the system's automatic train controls would prove unreliable.

Max Blankenzee, Robert Bruder and Holger Hjortsvang also protested BART's absence of a proper appeals procedure for employees facing dismissal. All claimed their work had been satisfactory and had been substantiated by outside engineers.

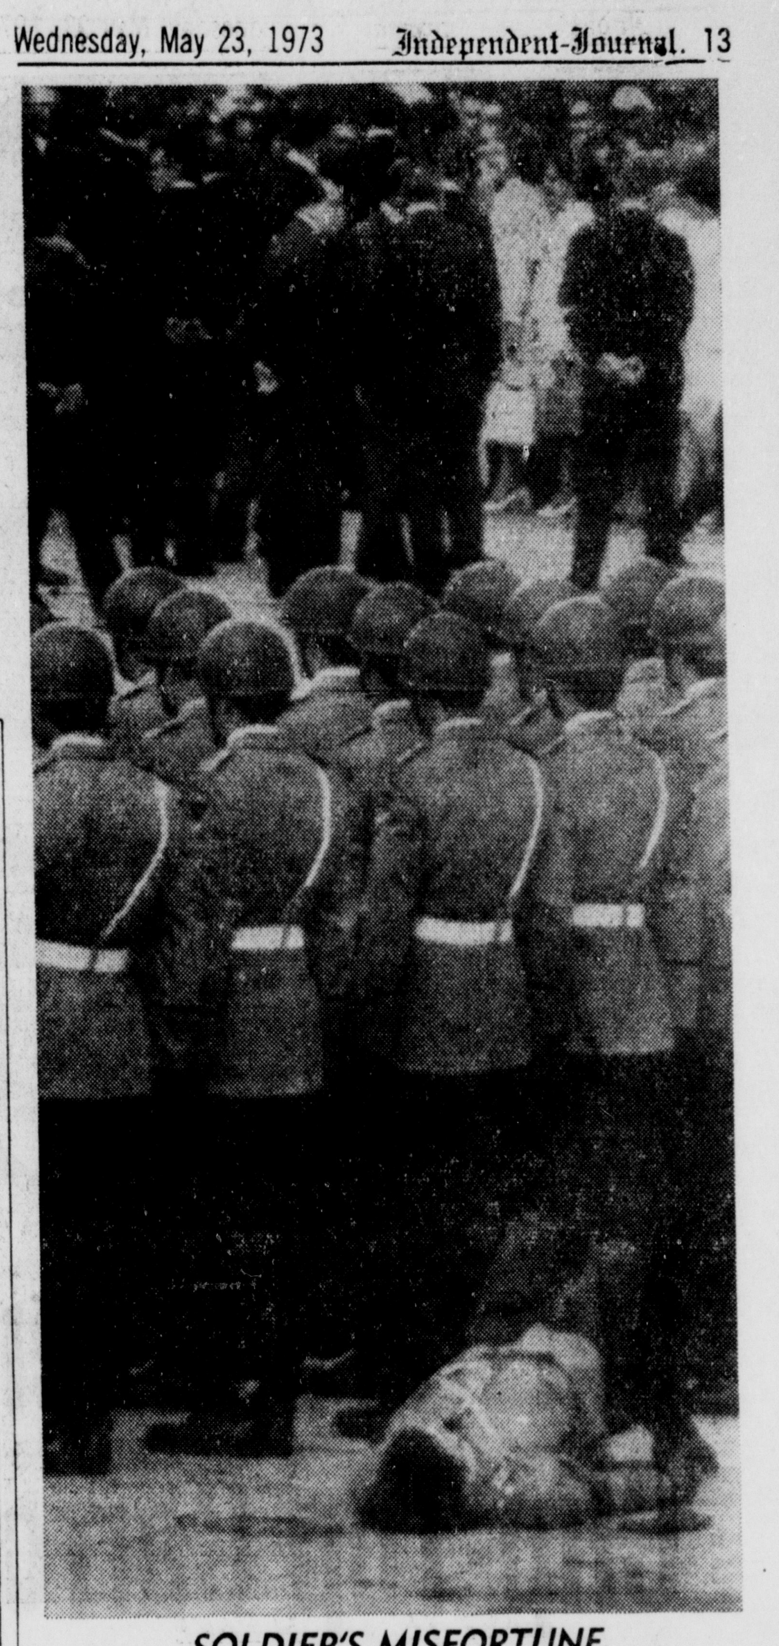
The engineers were fired in March 1972, about six months before operating difficulties were noticed in the $42 million automatic control system of the subway in the East Bay.

O'Brien said studies made by the three engineers formed the basis of a document relating to BART's inadequacies prepared by the California Society of Professional Engineers.

Talk Scheduled On Motivation

Hugh M. Turner of Novato, a communications consultant, will talk about success motivation in business at the Novato Library at 8 p.m. today.

Turner is former manager of radio station KTIM in San Rafael.



SOLDIER'S MISFORTUNE

A West German honor guard soldier fainted yesterday while on duty at the Bonn airport, where West German leaders bid farewell to Soviet Communist Party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and party (background) following the Russian leader's five-day peace and trade mission to Bonn.

Stop Sign Voted For Site Of Child's Death

The Novato City Council last night authorized a stop sign on San Marin Drive at San Andreas Drive, where an 11-year-old girl was killed by a car May 8. (Other Novato City Council stories, page 1.)

The driver, Joseph Charles Lucken Jr., 41, of 1721 Weaverly Drive, Petaluma, told police he didn't see the girl, Michelle Kuhn, because the sun was blinding his vision, which also was hindered by shrubbery in a turning bay to the right.

Public Works Director Clifford E. Temps reported that the landscaping "which may or may not have been a factor" in the fatal accident has been removed.

The council also approved stop signs on Santa Maria Drive at Conchita Drive and at Plata Court, Blanca Drive, El Dorado Court, Amber Court and Conchita Drive approaches to San Marin Drive at the request of the Highland-Oaks Improvement Association.

The Novato City Council Also:

ARTS COMMISSION — Introduced an ordinance to establish a seven-member arts commission, designated the first postmaster's house as the city art gallery and accepted an offer from the Novato Civic Foundation to restore the house.

ROAD WORK — Awarded Ghilotti Bros. Inc. of San Rafael, low bidder, a contract to improve Center Road between Lu Sutton School and Wilson Road at a cost of $143,025, and Andre Landscaping Contractors, low bidder, a contract for landscaping along Novato Boulevard, west of San Miguel Way, at a cost of $8,350, with the city's share of expenses at $745 and the county paying the remainder.

NEW BRIDGE — Approved an agreement with the Marin County Flood Control District to share costs of a new bridge on Tamalpais Avenue at Warner Creek on a 50-50 basis.

FUNDS REQUESTS — Agreed to consider during budget discussion allocating up to $2,000 to the Novato Prehistory Museum and $1,000 for Survival Inc., which handles recycling operations.

FLOOD PLAIN — Approved extending the building moratorium in the Nave Gardens flood area 90 days beyond the June 6 expiration date.

TACO BELL — Denied by a 3-2 vote, with Fred F. Ruegg and Dorothy P. Young dissenting, an appeal by Ben Ostlined of a planning commission ruling prohibiting mission-style architecture for a proposed Taco Bell restaurant on Machin Avenue, opposite the Novato Community House. Councilmen said such architecture would be permitted only if compatible with the design of Novato Square, a modification of the commission rule.

SENIOR PLANNER — Approved recruiting for a senior planner, with the ability to serve as a zoning administrator.

SOLID WASTE — Accepted a report from the solid waste committee and authorized a questionnaire survey of Novato merchants handling returnable and nonreturnable bottles by the committee.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Mundhir Eljumaily from the plan review committee, who said he has been ill for the past five weeks.

WESTERN WEEKEND — Approved closing of city streets, use of the Scottsdale area for the celebration and waiving of fees for the Western Weekend Country Fair June 14-17 and approved parade June 16.

REZONING — Introduced ordinances rezoning eight acres on the east side of Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, north of Los Robles Mobile Homepark, from planned residential to planned industrial as requested by Ronald Antonioli Inc. and two acres between the Northwestern Railroad Co. tracks and the Highway 101 bypass near Orange Avenue from residential to commercial as requested by Alfred Bellucci and Frank DeMello.

CLOSED SESSION — Went into a closed session to consider appointments to the plan review committee and environmental quality control committee and adjourned until 8 p.m. today at the Novato Community House to review the Novato general plan.

County May Pay For Part Of Rapozo Ranch

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors has indicated it may be willing to pick up one-fourth of the cost of purchasing the Rapozo ranch east of Rohnert Park for a park.

The supervisors Monday passed a resolution saying they would be willing to pay part of the cost of acquisition, estimated at $165,000, if a federal grant for 50 per cent of the cost can be obtained.

The county would then pay 25 per cent and the City of Rohnert Park the remaining 25 per cent, according to the proposal.

The 110-acre ranch in the foothills has been described as an ideal site for an open space preserve and would be the only such major park in the southern part of Sonoma County.

Leary Practices Flower Power

FOLSOM, Calif. (UPI) — Timothy Leary tended a different grass and practiced a new flower power today.

Leary, 52, once the guru of the marijuana and LSD set, was assigned to care for the lawn inside the main gates of Folsom Prison yesterday. He will also be responsible for petunias, sweetpeas and marigolds, a prison spokesman said.

Leary is serving time at Folsom on marijuana and escape convictions.

County Will Refrain From Hamilton Study

Despite a warning that Hamilton Air Force Base may become "another blighted area like Marinship" Marin County Supervisors voted 4-1 yesterday to let Novato undertake studies of the base's future, without county intervention for the moment.

Supervisor Robert A. Roumiguiere was the lone vote agreeing with warnings by citizens Jeffory S. Morshead of Ross and Betty Machado of Novato that the base's future affects all Marin citizens even of the land is within Novato city limits.

The Novato City Council last night (see story, page 13), decided to apply for federal funds to study alternative uses of the existing buildings on the base, when the Air Force closes it next year.

Morshead and Mrs. Machado argued that the county should make the study, or face all loss of control over the base's future.

The Marin County Planning Commission on Monday recommended that any federal study funds be combined with county allocations for the county economics and implementation study now being made as part of the countywide general plan — but the supervisors were cool to this, also.

"I think this is a storm in a teapot," Supervisor Michael Wornum said. Other board members agreed that any Novato plans eventually would have to dovetail with the countywide plan.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

INTERNS — Approved a proposal to hire up to 20 teen-agers for the summer as "interns" in social services, district attorney, planning, public works and other offices, and allocated $6,930 for the program. It will be in addition to the continuing county summer work program for teen-agers from moderate-income and low-income families.

CORTE MADERA — Instructed the county counsel to meet with Corte Madera Town Counsel Albert Bianchi this week on negotiations for the county to regain part of the tax revenue that could be frozen by the town's redevelopment project.

MID-MANAGEMENT — Approved a memorandum of agreement with the Marin County Employees Association, promising the mid-management unit that it will continue as a separate bargaining unit, and agreeing to an average 5 per cent raise for its members, subject to budget approval, for 1973-74.

HUMAN RIGHTS — Accepted and tabled until budget hearings, the Marin Grand Jury report on the Human Rights Department. Ernest J. Gray, chairman of the human rights commission, has called a commission meeting for 8 p.m. today to draft a reply to the jury report.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of John S. Leipsic from the Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission and called for candidates to volunteer for the seat.

HOUSING AUTHORITY — Decided not to act on requests that the Marin County Housing Authority board be expanded from five to seven members.

CLOSED SESSION — Met with county counsel and staff for 45 minutes to instruct him on salary negotiations, and on matters of litigation.

CONTRACT — Awarded a $51,133 contract for widening the road and installing a bicycle path on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Lagunitas at "Dead Man's Curve," to Bresnan-Dalecio, Inc. of San Rafael, low among three bidders. The bid was about 18 per cent over estimates, but takes into account a predicted 25 per cent increase in asphalt prices this summer, Public Works Director Ray W. Foreaker Jr. explained.

AUDITORIUM — Rejected the lone bid for building catwalks above the stage in the Veterans Memorial Building, as 30 per cent over estimate, ordered plans redrawn and set a new bid opening for June 11. The $29,310 bid was 30 per cent over estimates.

PLANTS — Rejected a $6,300 claim filed by Ronald R. Dressler of 604 Douglas Drive, Mill Valley, for the county's removal of 63 tam junipers suspected of being infected with juniper rust. Many residents have complained of the removal policy.

CLAIM — Rejected a $100,000 claim filed by the parents of 5-year-old Serena Coffey, who was attacked in February by a pack of dogs in Larkspur. Also named were Madrone Canyon residents Henry T. Taylor, Allen Crane, Allen Lissauer, J.O. Malone and Muriel Smith, all dog owners. The claim alleges the county, City of Larkspur, humane society and dog owners failed to control the animals that attacked young Serena.

ZONING — Approved, with no opposition, flood plain zoning for vacant lands around Bel Marin Keys to the mouth of Novato Creek. The zoning permits development but controls its location.

APPEAL — Rejected the appeal of Tiburon architect Tak Enamoto that plans for a 12-unit single family residential development on Strawberry Cove in Strawberry not require an environmental impact report.

LAND DIVISION — Upheld the appeal of Ann Spake of Tamalpais Valley that a land division of a five-acre parcel on Dawn Lane owned by Robert Clark require an environmental impact report.

HORSES — Rejected the appeal of Edward Goliti Jr., owner of Redwood Stables on Vineyard Road, near Novato, that he not be required to prepare an environmental impact report in order to enlarge his stables by 12 stalls and a covered training arena.

AGREEMENT — Approved a new one-year joint powers agreement with the City of San Rafael for membership in the City-County Planning Council of Marin. San Rafael said it will work to restructure the agency.

Keel Is Laid For 89,700 Ton Ship

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The National Steel and Shipbuilding Co. yesterday laid the keel of an 89,700 ton tanker, which will be the biggest ship ever built on the Pacific Coast.

The ship, to be 894 feet long and 106 feet wide, is being built for the Aeron Shipping Co. of New York, the company said.

County Eyes Grant For Drug Plan

Marin County Supervisors unanimously voted yesterday to seek a $151,475 federal grant for a major new program to rehabilitate arrested narcotics offenders.

The action followed an invitation May 3 by a federal drug abuse official, Richard W. Jacobsen Jr., to apply for "all you can justify . . . no strings attached."

The county seeks $151,475 for the first year of a program aimed at helping about 250 drug offenders out of the "street crime—arrest—street crime" vicious circle, according to the bulky application form.

The data presented said 55 per cent of Marin County Jail inmates when interviewed reported heroin addiction problems; 27 per cent cited alcohol problems.

The application said that 4,000 to 5,000 of the average 8,900 persons booked into the jail each year may be eligible for the project, which is labelled the "Marin County Treatment Alternate to Street Crime."

Nonaddicted persons, suspects in crimes of violence and persons selling opiates would be ineligible for the program.

A new screening program would be set up to select between 195 and 250 arrested persons during the first year, working with the courts either to divert them from prosecution to rehabilitation, or to try rehabilitation in lieu of punishment.

The application proposes that 50 addicts be placed in therapeutic, dope-free communities such as Center Point; 85 could receive outpatient service at the Marin Community Mental Health Center, Marin Open House or other facilities, and about 80 may receive methadone through Marin Open House and similar institutions. About 40 addicts may drop out of the program during the first year, county workers predicted.

The application said it is impossible to predict how much the program can cut the recidivism rate — the percentage of those who get into trouble with the law again for the same crime or related offenses.

Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, head of the county's health services superagency, would be in overall charge of the experiment. More than half the requested grant, $74,885, is sought for salaries ranging up to $18,000 for a director.

The application notes that Marin Open House already is receiving a total of $388,000 for its dope war programs from other sources — including county tax funds.

Arnold M. Baptiste, chairman of the supervisors, said the plans have approval from the county's judges, district attorney and law enforcement officials.

Crackdown Ordered On Peddlers

Marin County supervisors ordered a crackdown yesterday on street peddlers and roadside produce vendors who are operating without license or health inspection.

The board's unanimous action came at the request of Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr, who said local merchants in his Second District have complained of paying health inspection and business license fees only to see business cut by street peddlers.

An existing county ordinance makes it illegal to hawk or peddle merchandise on county roads, parks, sidewalks or other public places without a license.

Besides directing county health officials to crackdown on inspections and licenses, the board ordered the public works department to enforce encroachment restrictions along county roads.

WITH RAISIN WHEAT BREAD

Pork Meal Easy On Budget

PORK WITH Waldorf Rice is a pocketbook conscious main dish for the family supper table.

An easy pork meal that is budget-concerned is suggested in this Pork with Waldorf Rice, by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. home economist Peggy Hopkins of San Rafael.

With it is a recipe for Raisin Whole Wheat Bread for the bakers to try.

For family meals, shoulder cuts of pork sometimes are a better bargain than more expensive center cut chops. The meat is tender, juicy and flavorful and it combines well with such extenders as vegetables, rice and pasta to make tasty budget-stretching meals.

Sometimes buying a whole fresh pork shoulder butt (5 to 7 pounds) is more economical. Some markets will slice it into steaks; or perhaps cut it into a one-meal roast and a few steaks, leaving the boneless pieces for chop suey or other meat-stretching dishes.

We used shoulder steaks (one steak made two servings) for this recipe, Pork with Waldorf Rice.

PORK WITH WALDORF RICE

4 ¾-inch thick slices fresh pork (chops, steaks or boneless cuts, 4 ounces each)
Salt and pepper
2 teaspoons instant chicken bouillon or 2 chicken bouillon cubes
2 cups hot water
½ teaspoon ground ginger
⅛ teaspoon tabasco sauce
¾ cup rice
1½ cups chopped cooking apple
1 cup diced celery
¼ cup minced onion

In non-stick skillet, slowly brown pork on either side; season with salt and pepper. Remove to plate. Meanwhile dissolve bouillon in hot water; add ginger, ½ teaspoon salt and tabasco, mixing well. Sprinkle rice in bottom of skillet; combine apple, celery and onion; sprinkle over rice. Place browned pork on top. Stir bouillon and pour over all. Cover and cook about 30 minutes, or until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. If desired, this dish can be made in a casserole, browning the chops first, and baked, covered, in a 350 degree oven for 45 minutes. Garnish with orange sections, just before serving. Makes four servings, approximately 38c per serving (cost will be more if center cut chops are used); 411 calories per serving and 19 grams protein per serving.

BREAD BAKING enthusiasts will enjoy making the raisin whole wheat loaf for the family meals.

RAISIN WHOLE WHEAT BREAD

1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup golden raisins
3 packages active dry yeast
4 cups warm water
3 eggs
½ cup shortening, melted
¾ cup honey
1½ cups cracked wheat
7 cups unsifted whole wheat flour
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ cup wheat germ
1 cup non-fat dry milk
5 teaspoons salt
¾ cup sunflower seeds, untoasted
1 tablespoon cold water

Cover raisins with hot water and let stand until cool; drain. Spread out on paper toweling and blot to remove excess moisture; set aside. Dissolve yeast in warm water in 4-quart bowl. Beat two whole eggs and one yolk (reserve one egg white for glazing top of bread); stir into yeast along with melted shortening and honey, mixing well. Stir in cracked wheat; let stand while measuring ingredients.

Combine whole wheat and all-purpose flours with wheat germ, dry milk and salt, mixing well. Stir dry ingredients into yeast mixture and blend thoroughly until dough is stiff and leaves sides of bowl. Stir in raisins and sunflower seeds. Spoon half of dough onto well-floured board and knead until smooth, using extra flour if necessary. Place in well-greased glass or crockery bowl, turning once to bring greased side up. Repeat with remaining dough and place in second 4-quart bowl. Cover and let rise in warm, draft-free spot for about 2½ hours, or until double in bulk. (Press two fingers in center of dough.

(It will leave indentation when dough is doubled.) Punch down; shape into loaves and place in well-greased bread pans. Combine reserved egg white and water; brush over top of loaves. Cover with damp cloth and let rise until double in bulk, about 1 hour.

Bake in preheated 375 degree oven for 30 to 50 minutes, depending upon size of pan. Makes 4 large 9x5x3-inch loaves — bake 45 to 50 minutes; 8 7½x3½x2-inch loaves — bake 35 to 40 minutes; 12 individual 5½x3x2-inch loaves — bake 30 to 35 minutes. When done, run spatula around edges and turn out on rack to cool.

Top Banana

Higher in potassium than any other popular, readily available fresh fruit, bananas contain iron, Vitamins A, C, B1, B2, B6 and niacin. They're low in sodium, 99.8 per cent fat-free and have no cholesterol.

Beef Knowledge Best Budget Helper

If you're concerned about extending your beef dollar, one of the best ways to do it is by learning more about beef. Knowing your way around the meat counter is the key to buying beef on a budget. Knowledge of the wide variety of beef cuts available and the appropriate cooking methods for each is essential to any money-saving plan, according to Reba Staggs, National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Familiarity with a large number of cuts and how to cook them allows for flexibility in market shopping. Then when you recognize a good buy, a quick shift can be made in menu plans for a saving.

PREPARATION KNOW-HOW makes for increased eating satisfaction and cuts waste that can accompany poor choice of cooking method, cooking at too high a temperature or overcooking. Roasting, broiling, panbroiling, panfrying, braising, and cooking in liquid are all acceptable cooking methods for beef, but not all are good choices for every cut.

In general, tender cuts from the rib or loin sections are cooked by the dry heat methods. When low to moderate temperatures are used and overcooking is avoided, success is sure. The ease of these methods contributes to the popularity of rib roasts and sirloin steaks. However, since the loin and rib sections provide less than 28 per cent of the beef cuts marketed, it should be no surprise that they do cost more.

THE REMAINING 72 plus per cent of the beef in the display case is less tender to varying degrees. These cuts also, however, can provide enticing entrees, and usually more economical ones. These sections provide the ground beef that is the backbone of many a budget meal.

It is with the round, chuck, shank, brisket, short plate and flank that cooking know-how counts even more. Every one of the cuts from these less tender sections can be made tender and delicious when matched with the proper cooking method. This usually means braising or cooking in liquid. Some also can be satisfactorily roasted, broiled, panbroiled or panfried under certain circumstances.

ROASTS SUCH as sirloin tip and rump, that are less tender than rib roasts, are at their best when roasted only to rare or medium and carved in thin slices.

Marinades can be used to help tenderize steaks such as round and blade for broiling. For example, a top round steak, cut 1½ to 2 inches thick, provides a delicious meal when scored on both sides, marinated 6 hours or overnight, broiled to rare or medium and carved diagonally in thin slices.

When selecting blade steaks to broil, choose steaks cut only ½ to ¾ inch thick and marinate before broiling. Marinades provide for interesting flavor variation as well as tenderizing.

'Try It, You'll Like It' Cookbook Will Be On Sale At Israeli Fair

The cookbook "Try It, You'll Like It" will be for sale at the Marin Israeli Fair, May 27 and 28. The book was compiled by members of the Sisterhood of Congregation Rodef Sholom in San Rafael.

Members of the committee who collected the more than 400 recipes are Mmes. Leon Fish, Nelson Harris Jr., Mervyn Shenson, Marshall Geiger, Maurice Koch, Philip Carr, Myron Hersko and Myron Kaplan.

CHOPPED LIVER

1 lb. chicken livers
4-6 hard-boiled eggs
2 onions, minced
Chicken fat or margarine
Salt and pepper

Saute onions in small amount of chicken fat or margarine until golden brown. Add livers and saute until tender. Chop together with hard-boiled eggs until finely minced. Add salt and pepper to taste along with enough extra melted chicken fat or margarine to hold together. — Janet Kaplan

SCHMALTZ
(Rendered chicken fat)

Wash and drain chicken fat. Cut into medium chunks and put in cold frying pan. Cook over medium heat until fat cooks out. Keeps well in refrigerator for weeks or may be frozen. Use for frying in place of butter or margarine. Strain to remove crackings. — Joan Hersko

GEFILTE FISH

1 lb. butter fish
1 lb. flounder
1 lb. red snapper
1 medium onion
1 carrot
½ cup cooking oil
½ cup matzo meal
3 eggs

Chop fish; grate in onion and carrot. Add matzo meal, oil, and salt and pepper to taste. With wet hands, form into patties (or balls, whichever). In half of a four quart pot of salted boiling water, drop fish carefully. Cover and simmer for about 1½ hours. Wait until fish cools before removing from pot. Chill and serve with horseradish. Great appetizer.

CHEESE BLINTZES

Batter:
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 tsp. salt
4 eggs, well beaten
1 cup milk or 1 cup water

Filling:
1½ lb. dry cottage cheese
1 or 2 egg yolks, beaten
1 Tbsp. melted butter or margarine
Salt, sugar, and cinnamon to taste

Sift flour and salt. Mix eggs with liquid. Stir in flour. Mix until smooth (wire whisk is very effective) to form thin batter. Pour onto a hot, lightly greased six inch skillet enough batter to form very thin pancake, tilting the pan from side to side so that batter spreads easily. Cook over low heat on one side only until the top of pancake is dry and blistered. Turn out on clean cloth, cooked side up. Allow to cool. Repeat until all batter is used.

Filling: Mix cheese with egg yolks and butter and with salt, sugar, and cinnamon to taste. Place a tablespoon of mixture in center of each pancake. Fold edges over to form envelope. Blintzes may be prepared and filled in advance, wrapped well and frozen until ready to use.

To cook: Do not thaw. Deep fry in preheated oil in skillet; turn until browned on both sides. Blintzes may be kept hot in preheated 300 degree oven.

MINI MATZO BALL SOUP

7 cups water
2 stalks celery (with tops)
1 large carrot, grated
3 sprigs parsley
1 parsnip
1 large onion
1 cup water
1 cup milk
salt and pepper

In one cup of water, place diced celery, cut-up onion, diced parsnip, and three sprigs parsley. Mix coarsely in blender. Add to the seven cups of water and bring to gentle boil. Cover and cook for ½ hour. Drop mini matzo balls into soup and cook for another ½ hour. Add milk, salt, and pepper. Cook uncovered for 15 minutes. (Add grated carrot when cooking coarse blend mixture.)

Mini Matzo Balls

2 Tbsp. softened butter or oil
2 slightly beaten eggs
½ cup matzo meal
1 tsp. salt
2 Tbsp. water

Mix butter or oil together with eggs. Add matzo meal and salt. Blend well by hand. Add water. Cover bowl and put in refrigerator for at least ½ hour. If too sticky to handle, add another tablespoon of matzo meal. — Eve Jacobs.

A Hearty Dish Is Vegetarian

Here is a hearty main dish that is vegetarian.

CHEESE, BROCCOLI AND RICE CASSEROLE

1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped broccoli
1 cup minced onion
1 tablespoon butter
1 jar (8 ounces) pasteurized process cheese spread, at room temperature
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup, undiluted
½ teaspoon dry mustard
3 cups cooked rice
4 hard-cooked eggs, quartered
1 can (3 ounces) French fried onion rings

Cook broccoli according to package directions; drain. Cook onions in butter until softened but not brown; stir in cheese spread, then gradually the soup; stir in mustard and rice; fold in eggs. Turn into a buttered shallow 2-quart baking dish. Sprinkle with onion rings. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until hot through — about 20 minutes.

Pork Carries Thiamin Plus

Serve a pork roast, chops or any other pork cuts and you're supplying your family the best natural source of thiamin. This important member of the B-complex family of vitamins has several vital functions in the body.

Thiamin helps prevent nervousness and irritability, as well as abnormal fatigue.

With a sufficient supply of thiamin, there are seldom problems with appetite. This fact is especially important for growing children and teen-agers.

Tuna Salad Stretches Food Funds

Food prices being what they are, it's smart to s-t-r-e-t-c-h. Example: Stretch one can of tuna into a main dish for four to six people with "Tuna, Apple and Iceberg Salad."

The tuna is tossed with western iceberg lettuce chunks, diced apple and chopped celery in a sour cream dressing made interesting with capers and onions, then sprinkled with grated Cheddar cheese for this stretch-worthy salad.

With just a bit of imagination you have turned the classic "Waldorf Salad" into a thrifty full-meal salad.

TUNA, APPLE AND ICEBERG SALAD

1 small head western iceberg lettuce
1 large apple
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup dairy sour cream
4 teaspoons vinegar
1 teaspoon seasoned salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup chopped green onion
1 tablespoon capers
1 (6½ ounce)can chunk-style tuna, drained
½ cup coarsely grated Cheddar cheese

Core, rinse and thoroughly drain lettuce; refrigerate in disposable plastic bag or plastic "crisp-it." At serving time, cut lettuce crosswise into inch-thick slices, then into bite-size chunks to measure 1 quart. Pare, core and dice apple; chop celery. Blend sour cream with vinegar, salt, pepper, onion and capers. Combine all ingredients except cheese and toss lightly, but well. Spoon into individual serving bowls and sprinkle with cheese.

Makes four to six servings.

Chicken Is Good Veal Replacement

The trend to use chicken thighs instead of veal in the famous Italian dish called Veal Parmesan is a great idea Chicken is so much less expensive than veal. It's delicious served with noodles — because it has lots of sauce — and a green salad.

CHICKEN PARMESAN

6 broiler-fryer chicken thighs, boned and skinned
1 egg
¼ cup water
1 cup (about) fine dry bread crumbs
¼ cup olive or other salad oil
3 cans (each 8 ounces) tomato sauce
½ teaspoon dried crushed basil
½ teaspoon dried crushed oregano
¼ teaspoon dried crushed thyme
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
4 ounces mozzarella cheese, cut into 6 slices

Flatten chicken thighs by pounding between two pieces of wax paper.

Beat egg with water in a shallow dish. Dip thighs in egg mixture and then coat with bread crumbs

In a large skillet heat oil; add thighs and brown on both sides.

Mix tomato sauce, basil, oregano and thyme. Spread a thin layer of sauce on bottom of a 1½-quart glass oblong baking dish (10 by 6 by 1¾ inches) or similar utensil. Place thighs over sauce, overlapping slightly. Cover with remainder of sauce. Sprinkle with Parmesan.

Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven for 30 minutes. Place a slice of Mozzarella on each thigh and return to oven until Mozzarella melts —about 5 minutes. Serve at once

Makes six servings.

Note: To bone thighs, make lengthwise cut along thinner side. Scrape flesh away from bone and remove bone.

Recipe For Oatmeal Bread Given On Kitchen Time In Marin Show

Breads were the subject of Diane MacMillan's Kitchen Time in Marin radio show on KTIM yesterday, and her special guest was Gertrude Harris.

Today they share a recipe for Oatmeal Bread.

MARJORY ANDERSON'S OATMEAL BREAD (From Manna Foods of the Frontier)

2 cups uncooked oatmeal
2 tablespoons shortening
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup honey
¼ cup less 1 teaspoon molasses
1 quart boiling water
1 yeast cake
¼ cup lukewarm water
7 cups unbleached flour (approximately)

Put oatmeal, shortening, salt, honey and molasses in a large mixing bowl and pour on the boiling water; set aside to cool to lukewarm. Break up the yeast in lukewarm water and let stand until bubbly. When oatmeal mixture is ready, add the yeast and stir in well. Gradually add enough flour, beating in thoroughly, to make a workable dough.

Move to a floured board and proceed as for all other bread; knead, let rise, punch down and form into loaves. Put into greased pans, let rise once more and bake in a 425 degree oven for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 375 degrees and bake for about 40 minutes more, or until done.

Lemon juice helps prevent pared apples and pears from browning; it does the same job for peeled bananas. Either dip the cut-up fruit in the juice or pour the juice over the fruit.

Old Family Recipe Is Cheap, Tasty

Marion H. Smith of San Rafael has contributed a recipe from her mother's cookbook to help large families provide nourishment to the children in this time of high prices, borrowing on her own experience as a youngster during the depression

"I remembered when we were kids during the depression how my mother managed to serve nourishing and delicious meals, so I looked through her cook book and found one to share I still recall that it looked appetizing, smelled and tasted good, and was most satisfying. . . we kids loved it."

PEANUT BUTTER LOAF

½ cup peanut butter
2 cups coarse bread crumbs
1 pint boiling water
Butter or margarine, size of an egg
1 tsp. sage
1 medium onion
Salt and pepper

Mix all together, binding with one egg, well beaten. Add the peanut butter last. Bake ½ hour and serve with white sauce flavored with peanut butter.

Orange Quality Not Affected

Regreening or russeting alters the appearance of oranges but does not affect quality.

A greenish cast or spots or a tan, brown or blackish mottling or specking sometimes occurs. Russeting often happens on thin-skinned oranges with superior eating quality.

Cookies Done

Bar cookies are done if the top springs back when touched lightly with a finger. They also separate from the sides of the pan when done.

Preheat Oven

Preheat the oven to the correct temperature for at least 10 minutes before you begin baking cookies

Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. in Mission San Rafael Arcangel in San Rafael. Luncheon will follow at the Holiday Inn in Northgate, San Rafael.

Grand president Claire Skidmore of Larkspur will present the check to the Archbishop.

THE GOLDEN anniversary of Fairfax Parlor 225, Native Daughters of the Golden West, will be celebrated by members at a dinner tomorrow at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax.

Special guest will be grand president Rae L. Rimnger of Sacramento making her official visit to the parlor.

Fairfax Parlor was chartered May 26, 1923, with 21 members, two of whom are still active, Alice Powers and Leona Smith. Mrs. Powers has continued as financial secretary all those years for the parlor. First president was Mrs. Powers' sister, the late Agnes Stewart Lauten.

The dinner at 7 p.m. will be preceded by a social gathering at 6:30 p.m. Mrs. Bernice Treleven is chairman for the evening assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Dal Porto. Claudine Philipps and Ruth Shine are reservations chairmen.

MRS. RICHARD Rider of Mill Valley will be installed president of the Franklin Hospital Women's Auxiliary tomorrow at a luncheon at Trader Vic's restaurant in San Francisco. The luncheon will begin with cocktails at 11:30 a.m.

Chairman is Mrs. Leland Dake of Belvedere.

The auxiliary will present a check for $15,000 toward the hospital's building fund to George Monardo of Mill Valley, president of the Ralph K. Davies Medical Center-Franklin Hospital.

Umbrella Stand

"Three empty, three-pound coffee cans make a fine umbrella stand," reports Redbook magazine's Kay Sullivan in the magazine's June issue. "Remove the bottom from two of the cans and stack them on the third can, securing them with masking tape. Then spray-paint and cover the tape with adhesive backed, decorative braid. Put a few stones in the bottom for stability."

'ECOLOGY IS A COP-OUT'

Lawyer Talks In Mill Valley

By BETTY FROST

"The overemphasis on ecology is a cop-out, obscuring our failure to solve human rights problems. Garbage is uniformly hated," Mrs. Norman A. Strauss said vehemently.

Human rights have been a major concern of Hermina Strauss, an attorney whose career has included activities at the state, national and international levels.

As an official consultant-observer of the International Federation of Women Lawyers to the United Nations, she assisted the U.N. Social commission in 1961, the committee on peaceful uses of outer space in 1964 and did research on the aerospace law in 1966. She was a delegate to the third Conference of World Peace Through Law at Geneva, Switzerland, in 1967.

She shared her observations on "The Successes of the United Nations" in a lecture sponsored by the Mill Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women last night at the Mill Valley Middle School.

A native and long-time resident of Fresno, Mrs. Strauss is married to Norman A. Strauss, a manufacturer's representative. Two years ago the couple moved to the Bay Area. They lived in Tiburon for a year and now reside in Alameda. While living in Tiburon, Mrs. Strauss affiliated with the Mill Valley Branch of the AAUW and continues to act as legislative chairman for the local branch.

LATER THIS year Mrs. Strauss will travel to Penang in Malaysia where she will participate in an international conference on families and family law. Under discussion will be such topics as the plight of families who move from rural areas to an urban center, the needs of unwed mothers and population control. Emphasis will be on women's rights and the rights of children, she indicated.

"WOMEN'S RIGHTS are included in the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights," the pleasant, matronly woman said, "but the United States has never ratified that declaration, even though it is based on our Bill of Rights."

Mrs. Strauss thinks that this country has held off ratification because of our own civil rights problems and that the progress made in the last few years may improve the chance of acceptance.

The administration of juvenile law in this country is another thing that puts the attorney on her soap box.

"Juvenile law has failed the child," she stated. She proposes abandoning the present juvenile courts and replacing them with a "family court", which would be charged with assisting parents, children and the aged.

She regrets the lack of opportunity for qualified women to take a more active role in government at all levels, and observes that other countries are outstripping the U.S. in this regard. She cites Angie Brooks of Liberia, a former president of the general assembly of the United Nations.

The Liberian woman received her law degree from the University of Virginia, Mrs. Strauss recalled, but no American woman of similar qualifications has had such an opportunity.

Mrs. Strauss and Miss Brooks became friends when both attended a session of the International Federation of Women Lawyers, when Miss Brooks was president of that organization.

"OUR APPOINTMENTS are too frequently politically-inspired," Mrs. Strauss remarked. She recalled one American woman representing the United States on a U.N. commission who was "a charming puppet, entirely dependent upon memos handed to her by state department men for her input to the deliberations. Meanwhile, highly qualified wmen from other countries were making independent decisions."

Another cause espoused by the international attorney is the establishment of a Peace College for this nation, to provide training in diplomacy on the same basis that the military and naval academies train military leaders. "Those countries where such academies exist have the smoothest diplomacy," she said.

Mrs. Strauss became interested in international law when she was a law clerk for a Los Angeles firm, which had an international practice.

She was graduated from the University of Southern California and studied law at USC, Pacific Coast University School of Law in Los Angeles and Hastings College of the Law in San Francisco.

She has two children, Louise, 23, and Charles 22. Her son will enter law school this fall. When the children were young she found that she could concentrate on international law, preparing papers, lecturing and going to scheduled conferences without neglecting the family. The cooperation of her family means a gerat deal to her.

SHE PLAYS the violin, is a "rock hound" and is a fan of amateur swimming competition. "What I'm not," she grinned, "is much of a cook."

Highlights of her activities include running for the assembly from District 32, Fresno, in 1970, being a delegate to the White House Regional Conference on Domestic Affairs in 1961 and serving as a member of Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger's non-partisan volunteer advisory committee. In recognition for her community services Mrs. Strauss was named one of the 10 top volunteers of 1970 in Fresno.

In looking ahead she believes that this country still has a mighty role to play in international affairs." I hope that it will not be in use of force in the future, but to bring leadership to the world in education and, law."

For herself she says, "As a person whose children are grown, I hope my life span will include more years of learning."

AN ATTORNEY who has spent much of her career in the international field, Hermina Strass is a former Tiburon resident now residing in Alameda. She visited a friend in Larkspur while in Marin for her talk last night on the United Nations, sponsored by the Mill Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women. She is an active member of the branch.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

She Has Almost Everything But Wants Her Ex-Husband

DEAR HELEN:

I was married at 17 to a sweet boy of 19. He soon was trapped by an older woman (24). Her independence, income, sophistication, etc. made a little teen-age bride look like a dope. I went home to mother, and after the divorce he married this husband stealer.

I stayed single for three years and then met a nice man I thoughtI loved. We have two wonderful children now, a nice home, everything anyone would want or dream of, except there's one problem:

I still love my first husband, though I haven't seen him since the divorce, ten years ago. I hear he is free, and I dream of him all the time. You see, I'm the "mature older woman" now, and I could hold him.

Should I stay with my present marriage and be miserable, or out of fairness to my husband and myself, try to get back what I once had? — STILL IN LOVE

P.S. My ex has moved back to town — I'll surely run into him soon.

DEAR S.I.L!:

Your initials might be short for "silly."

It is silly, you know, blotting out a good present with the dream of a romance that died 10 years ago.

Your 29-year-old ex-husband isn't the "sweet boy" you married (if, in fact, that boy was ever really sweet). You might not recognize him physically, and I doubt you'd know him mentally. But you may have to prove this for yourself.

Once you see your ex, perhaps you'll realize how lucky you are that the "older woman" got him — and you could discover something about yourself: cast-offs cling to the past more out of hurt pride than "Undying Love." — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Could a formerly very virile man lose the urge at age 40?

My husband is suddently disinterested. I've begged him to see a doctor but he says he just doesn't care for sex anymore. He seems very tired most of the time.

He says there's no other woman, but his work requires him to stay out many nights, and how do I know exactly where he is? I've had no reason to mistrust him in the past, and I still love him very much. I'm only 35, and not ready for this.

Should I wait and hope, be extra-seductive (and get pushed away), or — cherchez la femme? — C.K.K.

DEAR C.:

Try the first two, laced with great amounts of understanding, and a firm but gentle push toward the medical check-up your husband no doubt needs.

Even if the third is indicated, liberal applications of the others may vanquish the femme. — H.

Got a problem? An adult subject for discussion? A fun idea? You can talk it over in her column if you write to Helen Bottel, care of the Independent-Journal.

Service League Names President

Dale Hansen, the newly elected president of the Family Service League of Marin, has been a member for four years, serving as vice president, a volunteer at the Family Service Agency and coordinator of the league's annual fashion show.

"When I looked into volunteer groups I decided to put my efforts into Family Service because it is a service organization, not a social organization, although the social events are fun," she said.

Plans for the club year are a program on June 16 at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley of live entertainment for children during the day and adults in the evening, a stitchery class in the fall, a fashion show and luncheon. The league operates a thrift shop in Mill Valley, offering financial support to the agency.

The new president is a native of San Francisco. She and her husband, Walter, have lived in Mill Valley for 10 years and are parents of Eric, 4 years old. She is a graduate of Miami University in Ohio with a degree in psychology.

Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Hansen worked in office management and on research studies in psychological drugs. She assisted in the testing of librium and tofranil at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Los Angeles.

Her husband is an architect with offices in Tiburon and the family home, which he designed, was featured in Sunset magazine in September of 1972 and February of 1973. Mrs. Hansen assisted in the creation of an unusual concrete and wood design frame for the fireplace.

Flying is Mrs. Hansen's hobby. She completed ground school at the College of Marin, then studied in Santa Rosa, where she obtained a pilot's license three weeks before the birth of her son.

She now has 100 hours of flying time, and said she hopes to make longer trips than her previous ventures to the Nut Tree restaurant in Vacaville, Sea Ranch and Watsonville. Her other interests are sewing, gourment cooking and knitting.

Director of the Family Service Agency's counseling service is Chester F. Villalba. Other officers of the league are Mmes. H. G. Nimick of Tiburon, first vice president; David Blatchford of Mill Valley, second vice president; Reynold Buzzard of San Rafael, corresponding secretary; John Gardiner of Mill Valley, recording secretary, and Greig Gowdy of Mill Valley, treasurer.

Women Collect Coat Hangers So Others Live

TUCSON, Ariz. — If you've ever gotten tangled up with a bunch of wire coat hangers, you'll appreciate the goodness of heart and the supreme patience of two ladies who collect them — that others may live.

The Dorothy Forbes Oxygen Foundation was founded on just those plain clothes hangers. She began collecting them 15 years ago and all her friends help out. Mrs. Forbes sells them to local dry cleaners for $6 per 1,000.

It takes 63,000 to buy one oxygen tank with valves and face mask, but she and helper Mrs. Aubrey Bentley now have 62 of the life-giving breathing devices in circulation among those who could not otherwise afford them.

The foundation provides refills and no charge is made. No salaries are paid.

"It's the breath of life, that's what they give us," declared one recipient. "Our very lives depend on getting that oxygen when we need it."

How One Woman Put Family Together Again

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio — Charlotte Stickley grew up believing that she was the only child of Lawrence and Edith Stickley. Then, after Mrs. Stickley died in 1970, the sky fell in. Mrs. Stickley's sister told Catherine, now married to George Vorhees, that she was an adopted child. The Stickleys had adopted her in 1934 when she was a little over a year old.

Eager to find out about her real family Catherine began a search, starting with her birth record in Jackson, Ohio. There she located a brother and sister in Wellston, Ohio, and another brother in McArthur, Ohio.

Word spread that the long lost sister had been found.

Soon the once Catherine Gilliland will meet all her brothers and sisters in a family reunion. How many? The only child now has 12 brothers and sisters who will gather for the Gilliland get together.

She's Back In School At 83

BIG STONE GAP, Tenn. — A one-time teacher, who says she always "kept within hollering distance of my children and grandchildren in educational matters," now gets the word from them.

At 83, she's back in school to learn some more. At Mountain Empire Community College, Mrs. Minnie Mitchell is taking a full load, including history, folklore and ceramics.

"I don't need the credits — I've got enough to last me for life," she says. "I do it to keep busy."

And as for "hollering," her kids and their kids tell her, "Granny, keep it up."

MUSIC REVIEW

Jazz Ensemble Does It Right

By SHIRLEY LIPTON

When the drummer yelled "all right" as the Sonoma State College Jazz Ensemble began playing "Don't Get Sassy," everyone packing the college's Warren Auditorium last night sensed that the concert was really going to be all right.

It was not only going to be sassy, but brassy as well; blue and torchy and as various as the music we call jazz.

The first part of the program featured arrangements by students. One of the best was "Oye Come Va" arranged by Frank Digoski. Originally written as a cha cha, Digoski quickened the tempo to a mambo beat, a wild Latin rock.

Also interesting was Dan Chambers' arrangement of Paul Simon's song "So Long, Frank Lloyd Wright." Chambers changed Simon's ballad into a bossa nova, giving it a whole new dimension.

The next number "Jeremiah" was also arranged by Chambers. It began with a froggy "Rivet, Rivet" from one of the musicians, led into "Joy to the World" blown out on five trumpets and climaxed with a drummers' duel between Jackson Padley and Pete Hanford. The audience stamped with the beat and would have danced in the aisles had there been room.

The second and longer part of the program was a tribute to George Gershwin. Sandy Sadler read a script which included material about each selection and information about Gershwin as well.

I found the information about the music instructive and the tidbits about Gershwin tinged with idolatry. I am ready to admit that Gershwin was a great composer, but I do think his brother Ira deserved more than a one-line mention for his contribution to the popularity of Gershwin's songs.

The selections chosen were better than the script. The first group was played by the Original Dixieland Jazz Band, which is part of the ensemble. They played "Liza," "Lady be Good," and "I Got Rhythm," each featuring guest artist Frank Haggerty on banjo.

The "Prelude No. 2 in C Sharp Minor," which was the next piece, presented quite a contrast in mood. Even the modern jazz interpretation did not completely detract from the beauty of the work.

Several popular songs by Gershwin were sung by vocalists Barbara Downey and Bertha Wimms. Miss Downey has a pleasant voice, but not the fire to belt out songs originally written for Ethel Merman.

Miss Wimms is a much better singer. She sounds a little like the great Ella Fitzgerald, with the same easy flow from high notes to very low and back again.

There were three selections from "Porgy and Bess." This was the first time I have heard "Summertime" as a solo for electric guitar and I'm not sure that it is an improvement over a really good soprano.

The best of the "Porgy and Bess" selections was "Bess, You is My Woman Now" sung by Miss Wimms and David Tigner. Tigner is a Sonoma State student with a fine baritone voice and real stage presence. He and Miss Wimms not only produced a beautifully blended sound, they even looked like two people in love.

The finale, naturally enough, was "Rhapsody in Blue." Rob Ramos was the piano soloist and he did a fine job. Unfortunately, we are accustomed to a full orchestra arrangement of this work and I, for one, missed the strings. They balance the strident voices of the brass and help produce a full sound that the jazz ensemble just could not achieve. But it was a grand attempt with some fine moments.

Felony Charge Is Reduced In Case

A felony charge of threatening a Waldo Point man was reduced yesterday against John Larry Lestar, 24, a resident of the houseboat community north of Sausalito.

Deputy Dist. Atty. John D. Posey Jr. said he dropped the charge to assault, a misdemeanor, after learning the victim, Robert W. Kalloch, 45, was carrying a loaded shotgun when the incident happened May 12.

Lestar was arrested the next day. Authorities said the incident stemmed from an order by Kalloch to keep Lestar off the gate 3 property where Lestar's houseboat is moored.

Posey recommended nine days in jail, which Lestar served between his arrest and yesterday but Judge Peter Allen Smith continued sentencing to June 12 to obtain a probation report. Lestar was released until then.

Ban Looms On Sewer Connections

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco today faced the threat of a possible ban on new sewer hookups over more than half the city because the major sewage treatment facilities have failed to meet the standards of the Regional Water Quality Control Board.

Fred H. Dierker, executive director of the board, announced Tuesday he will send out notices of cease-and-desist hearings on the Richmond-Sunset plant and the North Point Plant.

Lending institutions previously have cut off financing at the mere mention of such a ban. Dierker's announcement thus could halt pending construction throughout most of San Francisco.

The San Francisco Public Works Department will have a chance at the next board meeting June 26 to answer charges that the two plants have not treated sewage properly.

Dierker also urged the board to consider a ban on all new sewage hookups into the new facilities until the city brings the plants up to the board's standards. This would, in effect, ban all new construction in the areas involved.

Dad Of The Year Nominees Named

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Father's Day Committe has named eight men, including a former prisoner of war, a U.S. senator and a sportscaster, as 1973 Fathers of the Year.

They were Capt. Howard E. Rutledge, a prisoner of war in North Vietnam for seven years; Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill.; sportscaster Howard Cosell; Monte Irvin, a member of the baseball Hall of Fame; Miami Dolphins quarterback Bob Rriese; actor Jack Albertson; singer Julius La Rosa, and television personality Redd Foxx, star of "Sanford and Son."

MUSIC REVIEW

Choir Performance Quite Impressive

By R. LEE CARLSON

The Oratorio Choir of the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary presented J. S. Bach's "Cantata 78" and Vivaldi's "Gloria" to a near capacity audience last night in Mill Valley.

The choir directed by John P. Johnson is a newly organized group consisting of seminary students and members of the community. The group was supported by Orine Suffern, organist, and members of Terra Linda High School orchestra. The continuo was very ably played by student cellist David Starkweather.

Cantata 78, one of nearly 300, was written about 1740. The opening passacaglia is an excellent example of Bach's contrapuntal art. It is difficult to sing, but in spite of inaccuracies and poetic deficiencies in the English translation, there was last night an intensity of ardor and humility which did, indeed, express the Lord's suffering. The sincerity and seriousness of the performers was impressive.

The high point of the Cantata was the tenor recitative and aria sung by Daniel Parkerson, whose voice marvelously sustained the vocal line. Parkerson's diction was excellent and his phrasing sensitive and absolutely elegant.

Joshua Law's bass voice with a particularly supple liquid quality was even and well placed in the well performed aria and his recitative had an outstanding dramatic air, but the English sometimes seemed to trouble him.

The choir seemed much more at ease with the "Vivaldi Gloria." Of course, the form is much clearer and, as director Johnson explained to the audience, the work is a celebration. The choir reflected that spirit. The second chorus, "And on Earth Be Peace," was fine. The bass and tenor lines were clearly heard, and the overall balance was good. One felt that 40 singers were most earnestly pleading for peace on earth; it was a moving experience.

Soprano Robin Miles and contralto Florence Bierman sang the duet, "We Praise Thee, Lord," with conviction. Their voices were well matched. Miss Miles sang her aria with a well sustained, smooth, pure sound which had a lovely quality of floating, especially in the aria and chorus, "O Thou Our Lord God."

There was a constant rapport between Miss Bierman and the chorus, and she provided a richly textured sound, at the same time achieving an exceedingly tender and gentle "Lamb of God." There was an ease and understanding between her and the choir which was very natural and very beautiful.

The evening was an inspiration. Johnson must be congratulated for bringing together a new group of singers. This choir surely will continue to grow and develop under his guidance.

Condition Is Said Good After Crash

A British Columbia woman was reported in good condition today at Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma with injuries suffered in an accident at 10:45 a.m. yesterday on Highway 101 near the Washington Street overpass.

California Highway Patrol officers said that Myrtle Beagle, 65, of Minister, was a passenger in a camper truck driven by her husband, Mervin, 69.

Beagle pulled out to pass another northbound car, according to officers, not seeing a car alongside his vehicle. When the other driver blew his horn, Beagle pulled back, lost control of the camper and swerved into the median barrier.

Beagle was not injured. His wife suffered broken ribs and multiple scrapes.

Labor Charge Made Against Food Firm

GARDENA, Calif. (UPI) — Ramona's Mexican Food Products Co., founded by U.S. Treasurer Romana Banuelos, was found guilty by the National Labor Relations Board yesterday of unfair labor practices.

The firm is now owned by Mrs. Banuelos' son, Carlos Torres. The NLRB ordered the company to pay back wages to Teamsters Union members who went on strike last year and to halt anti-union practices.

Belvedere Council Rescinds Drain Plan

The Belvedere City Council last night rescinded its earlier approval of a plan to improve drainage in the community park and referred the matter to the parks and recreation commission for study.

Mayor Allan Steinau said the council May 7 accepted a proposal of City Mgr. William L. Cavalli that a landscape contractor, Cagwin and Dorward of San Rafael, install a catch basin and drains to eliminate ponding in the park.

Cagwin and Dorward last spring installed turf in the park but Steinau said part of the job was done improperly, causing water to collect in a portion of the park.

The council, granted the request of George L. McCoy, chairman of the parks and recreation commission, for study of a natural drainage system to be accomplished by regrading and resodding the pond area instead of installing pipes, said Steinau.

He said the council also held a closed session to interview five consultants in a search for a firm to conduct an efficiency study of city offices, but took no action.

Petaluma Man To Face Charges

A 35-year-old Petaluma man was arrested Monday in San Rafael on a Santa Barbara warrant on suspicion of defrauding an innkeeper, vandalism and local traffic warrants.

Frank G. Coccimiglio, of 341 Liberty Street, was released on $5,000 bail to appear June 4 in Marin Municipal Court and later in Santa Barbara.

San Rafael police arrested Coccimiglio at the United Market at 515 Third Street.

Petaluma School Board Accepts Bleacher Offer

The Petaluma Board of Education last night accepted an offer from the city of Rohnert Park to pay for bleachers at Rancho Cotate High School playing field.

Rancho Cotate football games have been played at Petaluma High School in the past because of lack of facilities at the newer school. In the meantime, the city of Rohnert Park has been collecting fees on new houses to pay for a stadium.

City officials now have agreed to spend up to $30,000 for the new bleachers, to be used both for high school and community activities, according to school Supt. Lesly H. Meyer.

At another meeting of the school board yesterday, raises for teachers and counselors ranging from 3.1 per cent to 6.4 per cent were approved, Meyer said.

He did not have an estimate on the cost of the increases, which averaged about 5.5 per cent, he said.

The Petaluma Board of Education also:

Decided that developers should not be charged fees on new residences in Rohnert Park in order to pay for high school facilities. The suggestion had been made by Rohnert Park officials.

Accepted a bid of $7,590 by Hand and Hawkins of Cotati for a sprinkler system at Penngrove School.

Accepted resignations from teachers Antonnette Schroeder of the elementary district and Emma Webber of the high school district.

Granted high school teachers M. Elaine Gillespie and Gloria Morrow leaves of absence for the 1973-74 school year.

Seniors Of Year Are Announced

A former Marin County supervisor and a Fairfax woman with a variety of pursuits were named Marin's Senior Citizens of the Year today at a luncheon at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Winners are William A. Gnoss, 74, of Novato, former chairman of the board of supervisors, and Elenor Jones, also 74, who was the nominee of the American Association of Retired Persons.

Gnoss, nominated for the award by the Novato Senior Citizens Club, also is founder and a former president of the Novato Volunteer Fire Department, a 50-year member and past president of the Marin County Farm Bureau and a 38-year member of the Sonoma-Marin District Fair Board.

Mrs. Jones, with friends and neighbors. helped set up a "telephone pal" system to help seniors in need and has served two terms as president of the Senior Forum. She also has been an instructor in defensive driving and has held several offices during her 10-year membership in the American Association of Retired Persons.

Twenty-two persons were nominated by city councils, civic groups and other organizations for the award, sponsored annually by the Marin Senior Coordinating Council. The winners were selected by a panel of nine judges, largely from the recreational field in the Bay Area.

Officials Wife Seeks Divorce

The wife of county schools official Robert E. Spain has filed in Marin Superior Court to dissolve their 27-year-marriage.

Katherine M. Spain cited irreconcilable differences and asked $850-a-month alimony and $150 a month for the couple's son, Robert II, 17. The petition estimated Spain's salary as assistant superintendent of county schools at $2,000 a month.

The Spains married April 8, 1946, in Kansas, but separated March 23, 1973, according to the petition.

The 44-year-old administrator and his family have been living at 745 Tamarack Drive, San Rafael.

Mill Valley Thief Nets Art, Cash

Art objects and an undetermined amount of cash were stolen Monday night from the Greenwood Tree, a gift shop at 401 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

Police said there was no sign of forced entry and theorized that the thief may have hidden in the store until closing time. The burglary occurred between 5:30 p.m. Monday and 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Officers said a 12 by 6 inch hole was hacked in the shop's bathroom wall, an apparently unsuccessful attempt to enter the Marin Electric and Hardware store next door.

Decision Is Due Soon In Cotati

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — A Sonoma County Superior Court judge has said he will rule soon on a suit aimed at halting the firing of the Cotati City manager by three youthful city council members.

City Mgr. Paul W. Salfen's attorney, Joseph Henderson, argued Monday that an ordinance change proposed by the three which would require only three votes on the council to fire the manager would illegally change his implied contract.

Henderson said that Salfen was hired under an ordinance that required a 4-1 vote for dismissal and that he has a right to expect this condition to continue.

The three young councilmen, facing a recall movement in part over their proposed firing of Salfen, outmaneuvered the two older members by voting to change the ordinance.

City Atty. Jay Cantor, part of the youthful regime, said in court that the three have a legal right to change the ordinances.

Judge Lincoln F. Mahan did not set a date for his decision on the suit which was brought by Alfred Falleti, former city councilman ousted last year when the three younger members were elected.

Housing Group Receives Grant

The Ecumenical Association for Housing in Marin has received a fifth and final annual grant of $15,000 from the San Francisco Foundation, association President Elizabeth Moody announced.

The grant will provide about one-third of the association's 1973-74 budget, Mrs. Moody said. Other funds will be sought from individuals, businesses and the county of Marin.

A drive for sustaining sponsors who will give $1,000 or $500 is under way, according to Joseph Martino, funding chairman.

The association works toward providing housing for persons of low income in Marin.

Three Events Set At College

Three evenings of informal dance theater have been scheduled for tomorrow, Friday and Saturday at Sonoma State College.

Performances entitled "Dances For You" will be directed by Lynda Knapp featuring her students in the expressive arts department.

One of the dances will feature a collage of radio commercials and sound effects from the 1930s, she said.

All performances will be at 8:30 p.m. in room 1 of the physical education building.

Board Awards Line Contract

The Ross Valley Sanitary District board Monday night awarded a $621,814 contract to Healy Tibbits Construction Company of San Francisco to construct the new sewer trunkline from Ross to San Anselmo Avenue in San Anselmo.

The San Francisco firm was the low bidder out of seven opened at the board's meeting last week.

Board president Eugene Ostaggi said construction is expected to begin in late June.

Petaluma Is Moving Against Sex Films

The city council of Petaluma, where the widely banned and highly X-rated "Deep Throat" has been running in a downtown movie theater for some 24 weeks, has decided to move against such sexy films.

First, the council introduced an ordinance Monday night that would ban movies which contain "explicit sexual material" at outdoor and drive-in theaters because "a lot of people see them that don't want to," according to City Clerk Lillian Nommsen.

People living nearby or driving past such theaters often view films they have no intention of seeing, the council decided.

As for "Deep Throat," showing at an indoor theater, the council instructed Police Chief Larry D. Higgins to move against the film as soon as he receives legal instructions on what action to take.

Petaluma officials have asked advice from the Sonoma County District Attorney's Office as to what course they can take to drive "Deep Throat" from the town, usually more noted for its bucolic quality than sexy entertainment.

Mrs. Nommsen said a couple of people Monday night spoke against dirty movies but no one in the audience supported them.

The Petaluma City Council also:

APPROVAL — Granted Donald Waite site design approval for an office building at 421 Petaluma Boulevard North, overturning a planning commission denial.

REZONING — Introduced an ordinance to permit Lieb and Quaresema's request to rezone to highway commercial use from limited industrial a block bounded by East D, Lakeville, Erwin and Jefferson streets.

INTERSECTION — Accepted a bid from Ghilotti Brothers for $161,000 for intersection improvements including traffic signals at Baywood Drive extension.

BIDS — Put over to June 28 the advertising of bids for water polution control facilities.

Lot Split Is Denied In Tiburon

The Tiburon Board of Adjustments has agreed with complaining neighbors and denied a lot split which would have created two substandard lots in the Hillhaven subdivision at 14 Saint Bernard Lane.

Development Administrator Phil V. Scott said six neighbors spoke against the plan Monday night and two letters opposing it were received.

Philip Watson had applied to split a lot containing 36,663 square feet on a 40 to 50-degree slope into two parcels, although the zoning ordinance requires lots with greater than a 35 per cent slope to be no smaller than one acre or 43,560 square feet.

Scott said the board did grant Watson a variance to allow a parking ramp to encroach on the required 15-foot frontyard setback.

Planners Vote Open Space Plan

The Novato Planning Commission approved in principle last night an open space plan for Mount Burdell prepared by the Mount Burdell Open Space Committee.

Planning Director Brian W. Mattson said a final policy statement on Mount Burdell will be drafted and presented at a later commission meeting and eventually to the city council.

The plan calls for about 2,200 acres of open space on the upper slopes of the mountain, with intent to have the land acquired under the countywide open space plan.

'Swim-A-Thon' Set For Date In June

A "swim-a-thon" to raise money for disaster relief will be held June 2 from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. at four Marin County swimming pools, according to Nancy Hayden of the Marin Chapter of the American Red Cross.

A story in the Independent-Journal Monday mistakenly said the event would be held this Saturday.

Wood Sculptures

Wood sculptures by P. Nelson Crutchfield of Mill Valley will be on display at the Mill Valley Public Library from June 1 to 30.

June Trial Set On Felony Count

Edgar Jack Storey, 56, of San Francisco, will be tried in Marin Superior Court the week of June 18 on a felony charge of shooting at an inhabited dwelling in a dispute over ownership of a dog.

He pleaded innocent to the charge in an appearance before Judge David Menary Jr.

Storey was arrested by Corte Madera police April 7 for allegedly firing shots into the front door of the Alex Sill home at 11 Birch Court. An original charge of assault with a deadly weapon was amended at the time of his preliminary hearing two weeks ago.

Storey is in the Marin County Jail in lieu of posting $10,000 bail.

Exchange Program Supported

The Mill Valley School District board has reaffirmed its support of an exchange program to bring 40 students from the Sausalito School to Mill Valley this fall if financial arrangements can be made.

The big question, reported secretary Patsy White, is which district will get the state funds for the children. A committee representing both districts is considering that question. question.

Mrs. White said Mill Valley may hire two teachers from the Sausalito School District if they meet Mill Valley's qualifications, but that matter, too, must be worked out by the committee.

Also Monday night, the board voted to switch insurance policies and will save $7,000 next year in premium charges as a result of the action, Mrs. White said.

In other business, trustees approved a one-year leave of absence for science teacher Carol Arntz and accepted the resignation of Alice Westbrook, Alto-Edna Maguire school teacher.

Mrs. White said the board went into closed session to discuss negotiations with employee groups.

Campus Housing To Be Available

Housing on the Sonoma State College campus will be available for the first time this year to summer students, according to Carroll Mjelde, dean of instructional services and continuing education.

Campus residence halls, which opened last year, will be open to individuals, families and groups, Mjelde said. The college will also assist those interested in finding off-campus housing through use of bulletin boards.

In addition, a recreation vehicle-trailer park on East Cotati Avenue in Rohnert Park is available for students who want to camp out while going to school.

College Board Sets Meeting

The Marin Community College District board will meet at 7:15 p.m. today in room 160 of the College of Marin office center to award a contract for fencing the Indian Valley Colleges construction site.

District publicist Earlene Jones said the board also will adopt a resolution in support of Senate Bill 6 and Assembly Bill 46, which increase state support to community colleges.

The actions will be followed by a workshop session on administrative salary proposals, said Mrs. Jones, and on a preliminary budget for fiscal 1973-74.

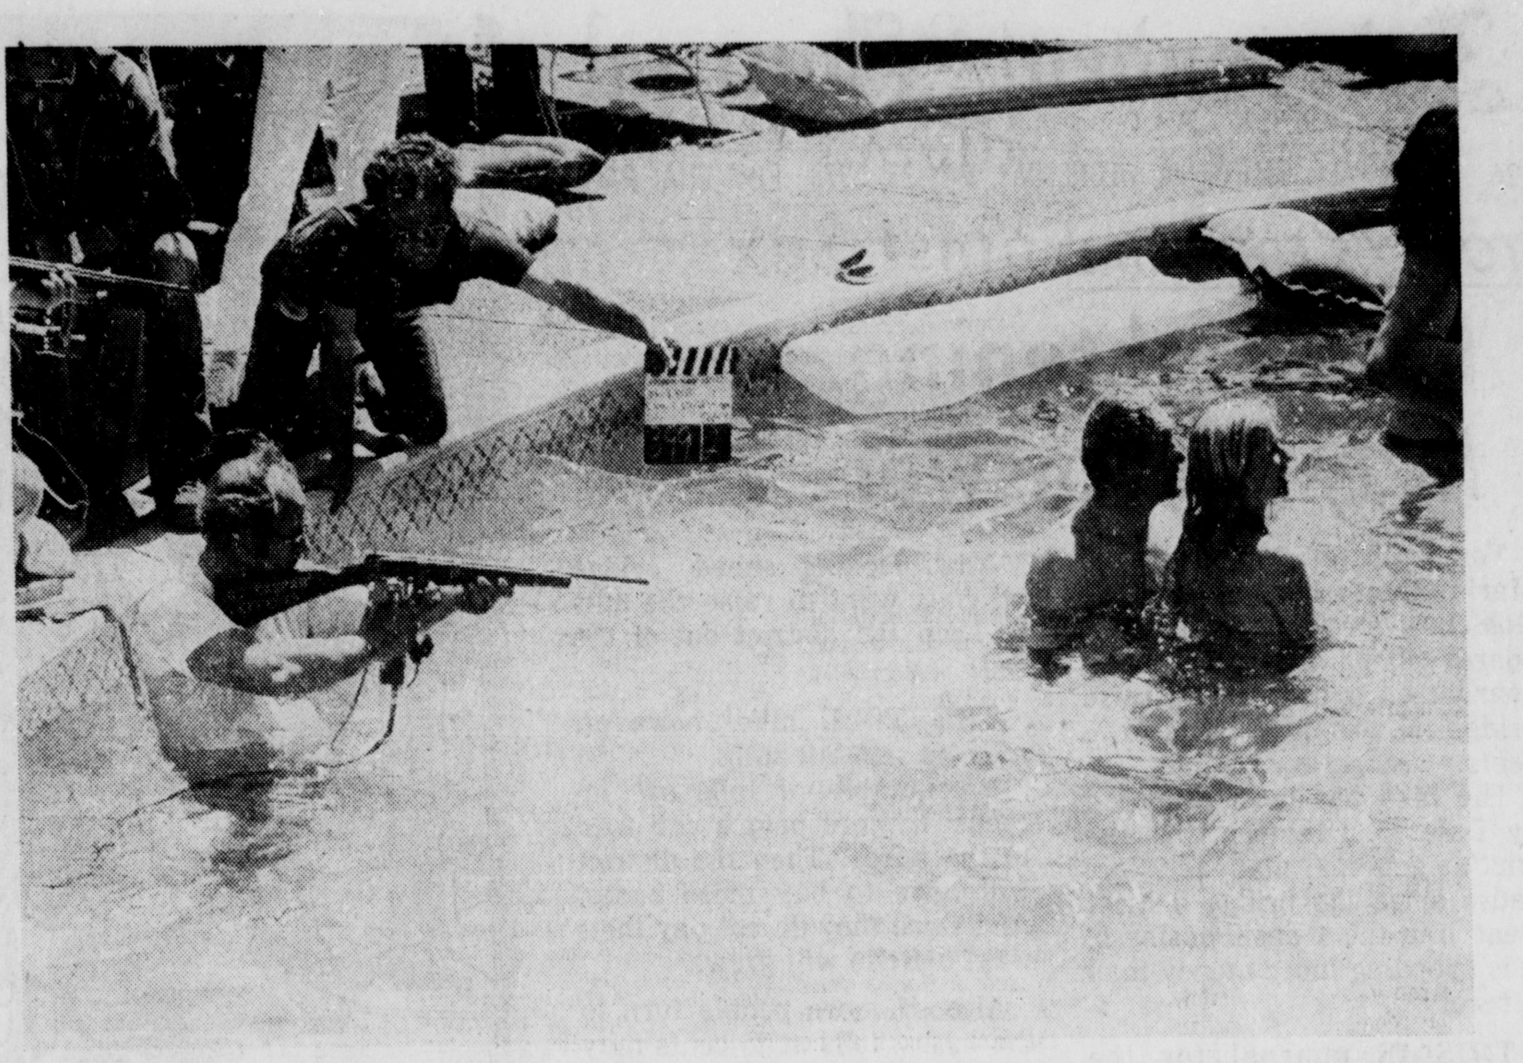
FILM'S IMPACT — Tiburon's Sugar Loaf Drive is crowded with vehicles — to the distress of some neighbors — as filming of a new Clint Eastwood movie, "Magnum Force," continues. The massed equipment even includes a helicopter (on hill, rear), which was used to buzz the hilltop neighborhood.

(Independent-Journal photos by Alfred M. Arn)



SHOOT-'EM-UP — Though some neighbors protest, filming of "Magnum Force" goes on in the pool of a home of 99 Sugar Loaf Drive. This was seconds before actors Fred Schweiller and Suzanne Somers were pelted with a special effects gun that discharges red pellets simulating splattering blood.

Tiburon's View Of A Movie Crew

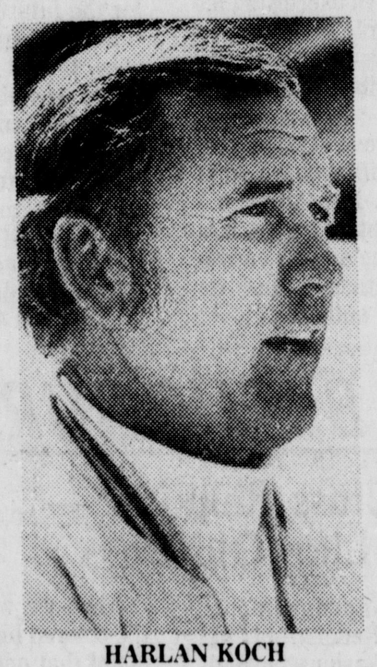
By GEORGE NEVIN

The cast and crew of "Magnum Force" were slated to finish up three days of filming on a spectacular Tiburon hilltop and move on today — leaving a bitter taste in the mouths of some residents.

Other neighbors, though, said the filming of the police thriller is "the most exciting thing that's ever happened up here."

As the huge Warner Brothers production crew pulled out of the Sugar Loaf Drive area — where it's been shooting since Monday — only one thing could be forecast with any certainty — the next film shot in Tiburon will feel the weight of a lot more city control than this one.

Mayor Branwell D. Fanning said other film crews, taking advantage of the city's increasing popularity as backdrops for feature films, television shows and commercials, "never really got in anyone's way. But this time it's been like an army moving in."



HARLAN KOCH
'Like an army'

At present, any movie company can shoot a film in Tiburon by paying a $25 fee for a business license after first informing the police department of its intentions.

Police Chief Maurice D. Lafferty said his department cooperates with film crews who need to block off streets temporarily, and the crews may but are not required to hire off-duty officers to help with traffic and crowd control on location.

Harlan Koch, of 89 Sugar Loaf Drive, the most vocal of the critics, asked rhetorically, "How would you like all these cars going up the hill at 7 a.m.?" He waved his hand toward the street, where at the time 29 autos, two buses, an ambulance, and seven trucks were parked. A helicopter, to be used in a scene which calls for it to buzz the neighborhood, sat on a shelf overlooking the house at 99 Sugar Loaf Drive, rented by Warner Brothers for interior and poolside shots.

Koch, who said he used to go on double dates with actor Clint Eastwood, star of "Magnum Force," emphasized he's not as concerned with the present production as future ones that might come into the neighborhood.

"This is not a movie set, it's a residential area. If they want a set, they can go out into the desert and build one," he said.

He added he has no quarrel with the crew of "Magnum Force" but with the City of Tiburon, which should not have allowed the production company to film in a residential neighborhood.

Koch hastened to say how nice the movie people have been. "If I ask them to do something they'll break their backs to do it. They fall over backwards with courtesy," he said.

He said he realizes his complaints make him sound "like a disgruntled bastard," but he's worried about a precedent being set.

Nancy Derryberry, who lives at 84 Sugar Loaf Drive, agreed. "Once is fine. As a one-shot thing it doesn't bother me, but this is a residential neighborhood and we'd like to keep it that way."

Nancy Lever, however, had nothing but praise for the crew and thinks the whole production is "just a riot."

NANCY LEVER
'Just a riot'

"They (the 80-man cast and crew) are all over the place but they couldn't be nicer. We've never had so much excitement here," said Mrs. Lever, who lives at 108 Sugar Loaf Drive.

Mrs. Margaret Schild, of 98 Sugar Loaf Drive, said she sees nothing wrong with the filming operation. The called the company members "very cooperative."

Thomas F. Piskura, location manager for "Magnum Force," said his company goes "out of the way to clean up the area. We go in as friends and leave as friends."

After shooting concludes today, he said, "We'll be cleaning up the property and leaving it just as we found it."

Piskura acknowledged the movie company starts early in the morning and that one truck, a diesel, makes a lot of noise as it labors up the steep street.

But, he said, we went around to every resident on the street and told them ahead of time. No one objected to us."

For a brief time Monday the street was blocked off while a scene was being shot, but other than that "we haven't stopped any traffic here. People are free to come and go as they please."

A barricade at the corner of Sugar Loaf and Heathcliff Drives, however, proclaims, "Local Residents Only."

A Tiburon police officer has been on the location since filming began, said Chief Maurice D. Lafferty. Off-duty officers are used and paid by the movie company. No city expense is involved, he said.

A rumor that actor Eastwood has leased the house for six months and plans more films there just isn't true, said Piskura.

Warner Brothers has leased the house, owned by a Japanese businessman, only through June 1 and plans no other production there, he said.

"Still," he said, taking in the spectacular view, "this is a great area." He said he wouldn't be surprised if other movie companies move into Tiburon.

It's this possibility that worries Koch and Mrs. Derryberry, and Mayor Fanning said the city council soon will examine the question of licensing movie companies, not to generate revenue but to gain some control over them.

"I personally don't go along with this type of infringement on people's privacy in residential neighborhoods," he said.

Burglary Charge Is Denied

A 19-year-old Larkspur resident yesterday pleaded innocent to one count of burglary resulting from an investigation by Larkspur police that turned up approximately $12,000 in stolen property and cleared up most of the city's recent burglaries.

Preliminary hearing for Patrick Alan Douglas was set for June 1. Codefendant Michael McPherson, 19, of Larkspur was told to return to Marin Municipal Court tomorrow to plead.

They were arrested May 14 as they allegedly were burglarizing the home of Sharon D. Anderson, 66 Piedmont Road, Larkspur. Their arrest led to the capture Wednesday of Paul Winkelmann, 21, of Larkspur, who pleaded innocent Monday to six counts of burglary.

Police estimated the youths were involved in 95 per cent of Larkspur's recent burglaries. Stolen stereo equipment, television sets and household goods, sold to homeowners in San Rafael and Larkspur, were recovered.

More loot was found near the mouth of Corte Madera Creek. Dredged from the muddy bottom were jewelry, cameras, radios and other stolen items, police said.

Sidewalk Cafe Wins Approval

The San Anselmo Planning Commission has approved plans for a sidewalk eating area at a cafe to be opened in the downtown area.

The commission also Monday endorsed a beer and wine license for the planned Crossroads Cafe at 726 San Anselmo Avenue, to be operated by Paul C. Rosenthal.

Came From Fable

NEW YORK (AP) — "One good turn deserves another" is a phrase nearly everyone has heard and used. But perhaps you didn't know it came from an Aesop fable entitled "The Dove and The Ant," says the publishers of the World Book Encyclopedia and Childcraft.

San Rafael Board Of Education Gets Salary Increase Requests

The San Rafael Board of Education last night received requests for salary increases from two employee groups but took no action on the proposals.

Local 400 of the Civil Service Association, AFL-CIO, which represents about 50 bus drivers and clerical employees in the district, urged a 10 per cent increase in salaries for 1973-74, uniforms for bus drivers and differential pay for night custodians, according to Supt. John F. Plank.

Plank noted that the San Rafael chapter of the California School Employees Association has already asked for a 5.5 per cent salary boost for about 150 other bus drivers and clerical employees.

The board last night also heard a proposal from the Marin County Substitute Teachers' Association that daily wages be increased from $30 to $34.50 or a 15 per cent hike over current wages, according to Plank.

The board told both employee groups it will consider the proposals and set up negotiating sessions in the next several weeks, Plank said.

In other business, the board accepted a petition signed by 300 students and 175 alumni of San Rafael High School to rename the San Rafael High stadium Paul I. Miller Field, in honor of an athletic coach who is retiring this year after 42 years of service in the San Rafael School System. The board appeared to approve the request but will take final action at 7:30 p.m. June 12, Plank said.

Plank predicted that a ceremony honoring Miller and renaming the stadium will be held in connection with June 15 graduation exercises.

The San Rafael Board of Education Also:

CONTRACTS — Said the board will issue salary contracts to district employees next week. Previously, written contracts had not been issued, Plank said.

HONOR — Commended board president Lawrence I. Kramer Jr., who did not run for reelection, for his board service, and named retiring educator Edwina Codoni as "principal emeritus" of the district.

TEXT — Approved a state textbook list for 1973-74.

PERSONNEL — Reappointed 195 classified and certificated employees for 1973-74.

BIDS — Awarded the following contracts to low bidders: $2,740 to Kunst Brothers for exterior painting at San Rafael High School; $5,700 to Malott Petersen-Grundy for seal coating of the Glenwood, Gallinas and Hartzell school blacktops; $3,000 to Malott Petersen-Grundy for seal coating and blacktop extension work at Santa Venetia School, and $6,700 to Bresnan-Dalecio for seal coating and blacktop extension work at Santa Venetia School.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to 7:30 p.m. June 12 in Santa Venetia School.

Robbery Net Only His Change

A Petaluma resident was robbed at gunpoint today in San Rafael by a man demanding his money and car, but who succeeded in getting only a small amount of change.

Frank Cavanagh, 39, of 126 Kentucky Street, told police he left the Travelers Inn shortly after midnight, to be joined in his car by an uninvited patron of the tavern.

The bandit pulled out a long-barreled pistol and demanded his money and car, according to police.

Cavanagh quickly hid his billfold in the car door and gave the man his pocket change, amounting to $3 or $4, he told police. Cavanagh then bolted from the auto and ultimately located a police patrol car.

BEFORE THE RIDE
- Obtain as many sponsors as possible! Anyone can be a sponsor - friends, fellow students, neighbors, businessmen, clubs, teachers, relatives, etc.
- Have each sponsor PLEDGE a definite amount of money for each mile you ride. Most often sponsors will pledge anywhere between 10c and $1.00 per mile.
- Record all the information on each sponsor on both sponsor sheet A and sponsor sheet B.
- Advise your sponsor of the honorable purpose of your ride. All donations are tax deductible. At times people may wish to make a direct advance amount contribution. Please accept all offers of advance contributions. All checks should be made payable to Hike-Bike for the Retarded.
- Be sure you sign the waiver form. A Parent or Guardian must also sign if you are under 21 years of age.
- Be sure your bicycle is in good operating condition. Bicycles in unsafe operating condition will not be allowed to ride in this event. Please read and follow the safety rules provided.
- Should you have any questions feel free to call your local association.

ON THE DAY OF THE RIDE
- Arrive at any of the checkpoints between 9:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. Remember the rain date is one week later. You must plan to finish your ride by 4:00 p.m.
- Again - Be sure the waiver is signed. Hand in your "Sponsor Sheet A" and waiver. Your bicycle will then be safety checked after which you will be ready to start your ride.
- Please obey all traffic laws.
- Upon reaching each Checkpoint be sure to have your sheet marked by attendant.
- Carefully follow the Map and signs that you will find periodically posted along the route. Should you become lost, tired or have bicycle trouble, look for a National Guard Jeep. Members of the California National Guard will be traveling the full Bike route and will be pleased to assist you.
- Ride as far as you can, but don't ride to the point of exhaustion!

Belt-Tightening May Be Answer

Tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Marin County Civic Center, the Golden Gate Bridge District board will hold its only public hearing on a proposal to raise bridge tolls from 50 cents to 75 cents.

The hike has been proposed by Dale W. Luehring, the district's general manager, because since the bridge district went into the transit business, it is spending more money than it receives.

THIS IS unusual for the bridge district. Over the years, revenue from tolls consistently exceeded bond payments and normal upkeep costs on the bridge. The "kitty" grew and grew. And because there was so much money coming in, bridge district officials became rather free-handed about money going out.

District directors were generous with their own expenses. They were generous with payments to lobbyists, engineers, consultants. There seemed little reason to be tight-fisted.

Bridge tolls were cut because of the ever-growing fund surplus. It cost 50 cents each way to cross the bridge when it opened in the late 1930s. Now it costs only 50 cents for a round trip crossing.

WHEN THE BRIDGE district went into mass transit, it faced a different situation. It was obvious that if bus fares were set low enough to attract riders, there would be a continuing deficit for the transit operation. And if they were not set low enough, the increasing vehicular traffic would require another bridge, more highways, more parking facilities — all sorts of tremendously expensive outlays.

Now, looking ahead, bridge officials want to raise the tolls to keep the district out of the red.

THE TOLL hike, however, may be self-defeating.

Presumably, if tolls are increased, more people will turn to the buses. Then the district will have to buy more buses. And since they do not pay their way, deficits will grow.

Also, if more people turn to the buses, tolls at 75 cents may produce no more total income than the present 50-cent tolls. (We doubt that the raise would reduce passenger car traffic by a third, but it is a possibility.)

Also, those who must drive their own cars to and from San Francisco — and there are many such — will have a further squeeze added to those produced by increasing gasoline prices, increasing parking fees, increasing car insurance, etc.

The bus riders will benefit. But will the district benefit? It is a tough question.

SOMEWHERE a balance point needs to be found which will produce optimum revenue from bus riders and car drivers, with neither required to heavily subsidize the other.

In the meantime, perhaps the bridge board should remind itself that the "good old days" when income easily outstripped outgo are all in the past. Perhaps it should start a little belt-tightening program, avoiding big outlays for such things as a "suicide prevention barrier," more studies, more consultants, etc. Then it might find that no bridge toll increase is needed — or at least not such a big one.

Planting Of The Budget Heralds Reaping Of Taxes

By RUS WALTON

Comes now the planting of the state budget, the annual ritual that heralds a future reaping of the taxpayers.

It's a bumper crop for Babylon. At least $9.4 billion. Maybe even $9.5 billion when all the seeds are sown.

That's a lot of reaping of a lot of taxpayers.

On a cold, dollar basis, the 1973-74 budget will be at least $1.6 billion larger than 1972-73. Up $1.6 billion in a year! That's a jump of 20%. What ever happened to cut-squeeze-and-trim?

It means state government next year will be costing us $4.3 million more a day than it does now. Wow!

EVERY YEAR larger budgets; every year more reaping.

It's not because there are more people to be reaped. Californians can't grow fast enough to keep up with the reaping.

Look at it this way. During the seven years, 1966-73, population increased 10 per cent and personal incomes rose 56 per cent, but both the total and per capita state tax take doubled.

More to the point, the tax take per producer (persons employed in the labor force) increased almost 2.25 times. Now you know why the load feels heavier.

SOME WILL SAY it is not fair to compare the state budget with the family budget. Maybe not, although what happens to the state budget has a direct impact on the family cupboard.

Anyhow, check this:

If you are now earning $15,000 a year, you would have to get a $3,000 raise just to keep your family budget in line with the proposed hike in the state's budget.

Or, compare next year's state expenditures with those of just two years ago: the 1973-74 budget will be 41 per cent larger than the one for 1971-72.

That means your $15,000 budget of 1971 should be $21,150 by July, 1974, just to keep pace with state expenditures.

NEXT YEAR expenses for the Legislature will be $35 million — up $1 million. The governor's office will cost you $2.5 million — up $500,000.

State operations, the dough to fuel Babylon and its machinery, will rise from $2.1 to $2.33 billion — up one-quarter of a billion.

The biggest budget explosion comes in the area of "local assistance" — the money that stems from the grass roots, is put through the Sacramento thresher, and then sent back to the cities and counties.

It will be up $1.28 billion next year, a jump of 27 per cent over this year.

The largest single increase in local assistance will come in education, kindergarten through junior college. That item will swell by $575 million to a total of $2.4 billion.

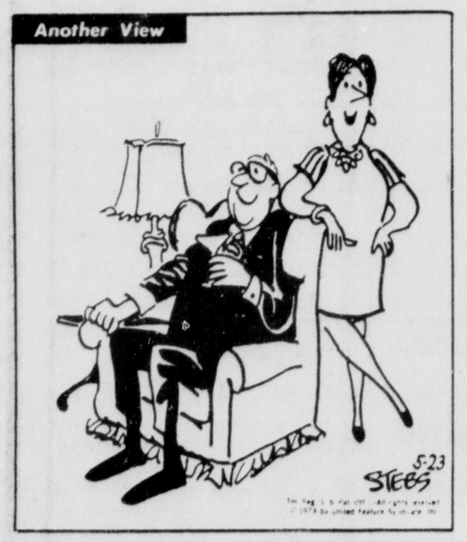
Next comes property tax relief; the state's reimbursement to counties for holding down property taxes. That will increase by $531 million. (So, how come property taxes continue to climb? They have doubled in seven years.)

Health and welfare gets an increase of $247 million for next year. And, there's $226 million extra in the budget for salary increases for state employes and college and university faculties.

IT ALL ADDS up. Brother, does it! $9.1 billion for operations plus $269 million for bonds. A total of $9.4 billion that will probably be closer to $9.5 billion before the legislature gets through.

That is some reaping.

But, relax. That's one of the advantages of withholding your state income taxes each month. It makes the reaping a lot more enjoyable!



"What a glorious day! You discovered a new tax loophole and I found a doctor who makes house calls."

Impressed By Realtor Concern For Environment

We are most pleased and impressed by the statements regarding the goals and obligations of the real estate professional by William Lewis, president of the Marin County Board of Realtors, published in the special Real Estate Section of the May 18 issue of the Independent-Journal.

The recognition, by the real estate profession that Mr. Lewis represents in Marin County, of the importance of good planning and environmental concerns, expresses to the general public that the quality of living in Marin County is of more value to the sincere professional than the immediate pursuit of monetary gain.

Taxpayer Group Endorses Amendment

The United Organizations of Taxpayers Inc. voted on May 15 to endorse the "Tax and Expenditure Limitation" constitutional amendment proposed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Our organization has been in the fight to limit the amount of taxes the state could collect from citizens since 1962. This, because for years elected legislators have refused to meet this responsibility. . .

Our organization is made up of both Democrats and Republicans and is non-political. We have carefully studied and considered the proposed amendment in all of its facets and we have concluded that it is good legislation and would be of great benefit to all the taxpayers in California.

. . .It is high time that the people regained control over their own government and this is the real thrust of the "Tax and Expenditure Limitation Amendment."

McCord's Testimony Scarcely Convincing

After reading some of the glowing accounts of the testimony and demeanor of James McCord on the Boob Toob Show of the Month, i've got a load to get off.

First of all, no panel, committee, court or commission should ever let a witness read a pre-drafted memo in lieu of his oral testimony. . .Imagine a witness reading aloud, under oath, a manuscript of criminal charges against a friend (sic), namely Jack Caulfield, as some rehabilitating evidence of his own integrity! He may or may not have been telling the truth and if this letter hits the fan I may want to eat these words, but in my book this performance belonged in a cheap crime show — not where great issues are at stake. He could have refreshed his memory from notes in any court but to read them aloud precluded any effective cross-examination

Wonder why some senator didn't snatch the notes and then have at old Mac so we could judge his veracity for ourselves? True, Sen. Daniel Inouye (Democrat) made a show of grilling McCord with incredulous intensity. But what he really did was to elevate McCord's stature by twice calling attention to McCord's degrees from two universities and his status as an Air Force colonel, reserve. . .

Also, I don't buy McCord's story of his soul searching and big decision making until he was conviced that the big boys were giving it the eefus. He was an expert bugger —possibly hired for it originally — and he'd been at it a long time during his FBI and CIA career. What was one more bug, anywhere at all to a man who'd spent half his life at it? Especially when he was getting $3,000 per month on top of $20,000 a year. . .

Toll Differential Proposed For Bridge

Since it appears imminent that the toll is to be raised on the Golden Gate Bridge, I would like to propose a simple but radical solution which could be undertaken very quickly. It consists of adopting a differential fare plan which would shift the burden where it properly belongs and obtain rapid response.

The differential fare plans proposed previously have been aimed at creating the four-person car pool or to encourage the commuter to use public transportation. For many people, there are problems with either of these solutions which are unacceptable.

The traffic problem on the bridge at rush hour is created primarily by the single passenger auto. Many of these drivers would consider alternatives but are unable to organize around a four-car pool . . .

My proposal is to increase the toll for single passenger autos to $1 either for the entire day or during rush hours. This would provide a strong incentive for this type of driver to find one other person whose auto and schedule would fit his own.

. . . No special lanes, commute books or stickers would be necessary. A tremendous number of drivers who cannot fit the four-car pool will be eligible. The savings would be sufficient for two such drivers to pay for parking in the financial district.

Out of 100 drivers at rush hour, perhaps 70 are single passengers. The total revenue is $50. It is safe to assume that fifteen of the seventy would get together with another group under this plan. The net would be a decrease of 15 per cent in the amount of traffic and an increase in revenue of 25 per cent.!

A word of caution — this sort of plan does not lend itself to bureaucratic compromises. A one-week trial will not get the job done nor will an increase to 60 cents.

A Pollyanna is a person who announces that he likes canines when he hears a cynic insisting that everything is going to the dogs.

A true cynic doesn't even believe in cynicism.

We need optimists to hope for the best and pessimists to expect the worst. This way nobody is 100 per cent disappointed.

Things are never as bad as the Gloomy Gus tells us or as good as the Cheerful Charlie reports.

Nixon Should Heed Congress To Restore Constitutional Role

WASHINGTON — It will be a grave mistake if President Nixon tries to circumvent the action of Congress to end the bombing in Cambodia and Laos.

I believe the President should accept the decision in good faith and thereby make a crucial contribution — at a time when it will do the presidency the most good — to restoring to Congress the constitutional right it possesses.

Since Congress has the constitutional authority to approve Southeast Asia involvement — as it did — it clearly has the authority to disapprove it.

This is exactly what Congress is now in the process of doing in voting against funds for further U.S. bombing anywhere in Southeast Asia.

I HAPPEN to think it is wise to enable the President to hold in reserve the possibility of using air power to persuade Hanoi to honor its negotiated commitment to a cease-fire in Cambodia. It seems to me unwise for Congress to deny to the President any alternative but words when negotiations falter.

But there is a larger issue, and on the larger issue I side with Congress. More important than the decision itself is the need to return to constitutional government and constitutional procedures in this supreme matter of putting the United States into war and taking it out.

If it be a mistake for Congress to withhold from the President the means he deems necessary to terminate the final stages of the military withdrawal from Southeast Asia, then so be it.

Presidents make their quota of mistakes. When a President in exercising his constitutional right and role makes a bad judgment — as in the Bay of Pigs — then he must take responsibility and the nation must live with it.

The same with Congress. Many, perhaps most, Americans will approve what Congress is trying to do. But the point I want to make is that, right or wrong, it is essential that Congress reclaim its constitutional war-making authority and its constitutional war-ending authority.

THIS IS THE ROAD back to constitutional government which two Presidents unwisely violated in recent times. President Truman violated it when he put the United States into the Korean war without going to Congress for approval. President Kennedy violated it when he transformed a policy of military aid to South Vietnam into a policy of military participation without going to Congress for approval.

Now is the time to repair those mistakes. Now is the time to take the road back to constitutional government. Now is the time when it will serve the presidency and Congress for Mr. Nixon to do his part to traverse that road. This is why I hope he will not resist the will of Congress — however right he believes he is — but will accept it gracefully and in good faith.

IT DESERVES to be pointed out that Mr. Nixon has not violated constitutional procedures in Southeast Asia. He did not put the United States into combat without congressional endorsement. He inherited the war and all its frustrations and divisiveness from his predecessors. And he has steered a steady and determined course out of the war. He has managed a military withdrawal from Vietnam far more expeditiously and honorably than most of his critics ever thought possible.

He can make a strong case that he be given the support and the freedom to do what he believes will bring an end to all U.S. military participation in Southeast Asia in the best way for the nation and for the future peace.

But if Congress wants to decide otherwise, then it seems to me that Mr. Nixon would be well advised not to seek ways to fight the congressional judgment, but rather to accept it in good spirit.

Let constitutional government return at this time and on this issue. Let the majority will of Congress prevail. Having taken its decision, then Congress must take the responsibility.

The 25th Class Reunion — Not At All Like Old Days

DANVILLE, Va. — Announcement: The 25th Anniversary Reunion of the Class of 1948 at George Washington High School will be held this Saturday evening.

I hope I can get back for it, and try to recognize a lot of faces that surely have changed less than my own. Even if I cannot, the announcement has stirred some useful reflections. I got to supposing how the old place would seem to anyone who had been completely out of touch and came back this week-end.

Looked at as a single chapter, I suspect this period in one school's history will do as an example of what has happened in hundreds of schools and towns in this part of the country in that same quarter-century. Looking all the way back, I am sure many of the unpleasant days in between, the confrontations that seemed so important at the time, will smooth out to the scale of minor bumps on a long highway.

But anybody having done an extended Rip Van Winkle will find "the old place" is neither what nor where it used to be.

IN THE LATE '50s, not very long after the Supreme Court decision against school segregation, the city built a new high school, one probably dear to students who have gone there, but which to outsiders looks like any other sprawling brick high school in any other southern town. The new school took the name of George Washington. Across the street was built another new high school, which took the name of John M. Langston.

When we were students, Langston was the colored high school, as we said then. I doubt that one in 10 of the Class of 1948 at GW even knew where Langston was. A few of us ball players used to go over there —across the Southern Railway tracks, to Almagro — on Friday nights to watch the Langston Lions play some other black school we had never heard of. We used to laugh at them.

For years, the new GW and the new Langston existed side by side, still offering separate but ostensibly equal secondary education. There was a racial demonstration downtown in 1963, opposing which the city officials earned some international publicity, but it had nothing directly to do with schools.

It was not until three years ago that the slowly grinding courts and the federal Office of Education brought GW right up against the future.

AT THAT TIME GW became the senior high school. Langston became the junior high school on the south side of the Dan River. The old GW building we attended, set in its grove of oaks on Holbrook Avenue, is now Robert E. Lee Elementary School (and where the old Robert E. Lee we attended earlier sat, there is now the Sears and Roebuck store). As of now, because the neighborhood school concept still applies, Robert E. Lee's pupils are mostly black, but there has been no particular objection to the irony in that.

Their willingness to go to a school named for Lee, with a quotation from Washington over its entrance, illustrates the calm realism with which most of the city acts, now that the future has become the present. Still, if you are concerned with the symbols of things, you may be a little confused, coming back after these years.

J. T. Christopher is no longer principal at GW; he has retired, and Christopher Stadium is the name of the new football field. Lefty Wilson is no longer baseball coach; he has retired, and that is the name of the new baseball field. And when you go out to Christopher Stadium or Wilson Field, there are more contrasts than the soft turf and neat chain-link fences in place of the cinders and falling-down boards we used to ricochet from. The home team no longer wears maroon and gray, and it is no longer the GW Cardinals.

When the student bodies and faculites merged, a joint committee put the question of school colors and team names up to a student vote. Somebody suggested a logical cross between the Langston Lions and GW Cardinals would be Catbirds, but no. By popular decision, they are the G.W. Eagles, and their colors are navy blue and silver.

ON AND OFF the field, the students have gravitated their own ways. Overall, they are about 70 per cent white. But almost the whole basketball varsity is black. Almost all the baseball team and most of the football team are white. After-class clubs and societies are thoroughly integrated, but strictly social events are attended mostly by blacks. Nobody at GW has been stricken color-blind.

Looking back at the class prophecy we filed away 25 years ago, you will find no inkling of all this. But we could not expect to be meeting again in a hotel that did not exist then, either. The wind that spread us has blown others together, here and in Charlotte, Macon, Jackson and elsewhere. And despite so many interim predictions of catastrophe, life proceeds — in pretty good hands.

When Baseball Got In Trouble About Noise And Landscaping

In recent years there have been those who say that baseball is on the way out, that it is too slow and lacking in excitement.

There is no cause for alarm among baseball fans, however, for people have been writing baseball's obituary for years.

It isn't generally known, but the greatest threat to baseball came when Charlie Spikes applied to the Cincinnati City Council in 1896 to allow the Redstockings to play at the city park.

The minutes of that meeting were among the classified documents from the files of Charlie Spikes, recently de-classified by the Baseball Security Council.

ACCORDING TO the minutes, the meeting went like this:

Mayor — "Now gentlemen, we have this application from Mr. Spikes to hold baseball games at the park."

Councilman Zeb — "First, I want to know how many people play this game."

Spikes — "Well, there are nine on a side, and there are two sides, and some substitutes ... Let us say about 25 to 30 players in all."

Councilman Zeb — "You understand, Mr. Spikes, we've had a population boom here and we're trying to cut down on population density. Couldn't you play with less than nine on a team?"

Spikes — "No, sir. We're down to rock bottom now, since the planning commission has already cut out the short fielder."

COUNCILMAN JOHNSON — "Will there be any noise attached to this game? It seems this town is getting noisier and noisier, what with steamboat whistles and all, and I don't thing we can stand much more."

Spikes — "Occasionally a bat hits a ball and makes a whacking sound, and sometimes the crowd cheers."

Councilman Johnson — "Cheers? You means people yell?"

Spikes — "Well, gentlemen, the most noise is usually at the start of the game and we'll be glad to muffle that by playing the "Star-Spangled Banner.' "

Mayor — "A patriotic gesture, Mr. Spikes, but the question still remains: will baseball scare the horses?"

Spikes — "Not unless we use them to make the baseballs ... a little humor there, mayor, heh, heh."

COUNCILMAN ZEB — "Now about your landscaping plans: I notice you have a mound right there in the middle. I think that should be leveled off."

Spikes — "That's the pitcher's mound. We can't change that, but I tell you what, if you let the mound stay, I'll clear away the grass between the bases, sort of make a pathway all the way around."

Mayor — "What about those square bags you show here on your plans at three places? I think they clutter up the field. Can't you get those out of there?"

Spikes — "Let's be reasonable, gentlemen, you can't play baseball without the bases."

Mayor — "Okay, but it seems to me we're making all the concessions here. Can't you make any concessions?"

Spikes — "Now that you mention it, I'll give the city 10 per cent of the hot dog concession. That should run about $2,000 a year."

Mayor — "Did you say $2,000 clear? Permit granted. Play ball!"

Court Rulings Cited In Suit Over Water

A San Rafael development firm has filed an amendment to its suit against the Marin Municipal Water District, citing a state supreme court ruling that all have a right to share in the available water supply even if on a rationed basis.

San Rafael attorney Albert Bianchi, representing the McCarthy Co., said the high court's ruling on Leavitt vs. Lassen Irrigation Co. included the assertion that all have an equal right to share public water.

The McCarthy Co. suit stems from the water district's refusal to grant water connections to a 292-unit apartment project opposite the civic center entrance on North San Pedro Road.

Bianchi said the supreme court ruling cited earlier case law that "all are equally entitled to share in the use of the water who pay, or offer to pay, the legal rate and to abide by the reasonable rules and regulations of the company."

Bianchi said another case cited by the court held that "the right of an individual to a public use of water is in the nature of a public right possessed by reason of his status as a person of the class for whose benefit the water is appropriated or dedicated.

"All who enter the class may demand the use of the water, regardless of whether they have previously enjoyed it or not."

The McCarthy Co. suit, filed April 18, has become the focal point of attention since the water district imposed a temporary moratorium on new hookups after declaring a threatened water shortage.

The suit, slated for trial May 30, maintains that any failure of the water district "to ration or apportion the available water is discriminatory and violative of law. . ."

The Mounties

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police are celebrating their 100th year. No longer do Mounties ride horses or wear scarlet uniforms, except on ceremonial occasions. But they continue to have a reputation for awesome efficiency as Canada's national police. It was an American newspaper, the Fort Benton Record, which in the 19th Century helped coin the phrase (which is not the Mountie slogan) "They always get their man." Commenting on a Mountie capture of an Indian outlaw, what the newspaper actually said was: "They fetch their man every time."

DO YOU KNOW — What is the Mountie slogan?

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Does Text Contravene Board's Own Resolution?

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Did the California State Board of Education contravene its own resolution in adopting "Human Sexuality, a Course for Young Adults" as a seventh and eighth grade sex education text?

In April of last year, the board adopted a resolution regarding family life and sex education, stressing the need for care in selection of teaching materials. In December, it re-adopted the resolution, slightly reworded "to reflect current needs as indicated by the recent investigation into practices and procedures in the area of family life, sex education programs."

"Those "practices and procedures" included use of materials that had not been carefully screened and that were introduced without the knowledge of parents. The new resolution went into details about screening of such materials.

IT BORE ALSO, however, on adoption of state texts in the field.

It began by citing the state constitutional provision for "moral improvement' as a principal purpose of the public schools. It went on to resolve that "the primary responsibility for sex education is that of the home." Then it cited the need for such instruction in the schools, and laid down rules for selection of local committees to screen all materials. And then it resolved:

"Harmful effects of premarital sex, etc., and a code of morals be emphasized with no derogatory instruction relative to religious beliefs and ethics, and to parents' beliefs and teachings. Emphasize family unit — and especially moral values."

HOWEVER, discussing premarital sex, "Human Sexuality" merely lists arguments for and against. On premarital chastity, its strongest expression is: "One can have a healthy attitude toward sex and still prefer to remain chaste until after marriage."

It contains a rather strange kind of "emphasis on the family unit" in a discussion of incest which says:

"Incest is not universally taboo . . . Scientists are presently attempting to determine the real and measurable effects of incest on the modern world, without regard for the biases of ancient and contemporary societies."

In dealing with pornography, obscenity, and homosexuality, "Human Sexuality" discusses existing laws on the subjects, then suggests the laws may be unrealistic and assigns the student to do studies of them. And it says:

"Sexual behavior should not be considered abnormal or perverted if . . . the behavior is not harmful to the partners, it is carried out by adults who consent to it without any sort of force or threat having been used on them, and it takes place out of sight and sound of unwilling observers."

"HUMAN SEXUALITY" even has a good word for commercial sex. It defines "call girl" as "a prostitute who accepts her 'dates' by appointment. She is often highly paid, lives well, and can choose her clients."

Perhaps the revisions ordered by the state board will make "Human Sexuality" conform to the requirement in the December resolution that: "Harmful effects of premarital sex, etc., and a code of morals be emphasized." It would appear that the revisions will have to reorient much of the book.

Special Meeting

The Old Adobe School District board will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at La Tercera School to plan for an evaluation of Supt. Dean D. Magowan and district programs.

Recycling Firm To Be Allowed To Use City Corporation Yard

The San Anselmo City Council last night turned over a portion of the city's corporation yard for temporary use by Survival Inc., Marin's 2-year-old recycling firm.

Councilmen voted unanimously to allow the nonprofit organization to store two trucks plus barrels and bins on about a 4,000-square-foot area in the lower part of the yard until Aug. 1.

John Van Daam, Survival's managing director, told councilman that the recycling firm had used the Newman Center parking lot in Kentfield free of charge for the past two and one half years.

The Newman Center now is closing, Van Daam said, and Survival has been ordered to vacate the property this month.

"Without a corporation yard, we can't exist," the 29-year-old managing director told the council.

"I think this is in the public interest," said Councilman Martin G. Blinder.

"Survival is performing a service to the City of San Anselmo and the county," said Mayor Lewis W. Stewart.

Under terms of the agreement, the organization's two truck drivers are to be bonded and the firm will be allowed to use the yard on weekends, when it normally is closed.

Survival also is to purchase separate locks and keys for yard gates, said Charles R. Leitzell, director of public works.

Van Daam said Survival — bailed out of financial straits by a $25,000 grant from the county board of supervisors last year — expects to have a permanent corporation yard of its own within a few months.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

IMPROVEMENTS — Waived curb, gutter and sidewalk improvements on two parcels of land owned by Jack Barone on Anchor Vista Avenue because the improvements would serve no useful purpose and would destroy the existing character of the area.

PETITION — Continued until June 12 a petition by residents for pedestrian access between 162 and 174 Oak Springs Drive.

BIDS — Agreed to reject unopened a bid for library alterations and to readvertise for bids for the job.

HEARING — Picked the council meeting of June 12 for a public hearing on capital improvements and revenue sharing funds.

SOIL — Appropriated an additional $1,500 to pay Cooper Clark Associates for soil investigations on Scenic Avenue, Oak Springs Drive and Timothy Avenue, bringing the total cost of the project to $10,000.

BATTERIES — Approved the purchase of batteries and cables for a standby generator at Fire Station No. One at a cost of $242.

STREET — Authorized the city engineer to complete plans for overlaying of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from San Francisco Boulevard to San Anselmo Avenue.

OPEN SPACE — Agreed to purchase 55 parcels of land, about a three-acre area, near Bridge Avenue and Luna Lane for $1.50 per acre as open space. The land, formerly the Loma Robles subdivision, is in a slide area, and defaulted to the state through delinquent tax payments.

DISPATCHER — Appointed Laura Adolphson clerk-dispatcher in the police department at a salary of $576 per month.

CLOSED — Set a closed session with the city salary negotiators for 8 p.m. Tuesday.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned until the next regular council meeting at 8 p.m. June 12 in city hall.

Fair Entries Close June 1

Closing date for entries in the arts and crafts department of the Sonoma-Marin Fair is June 1, Beverly Wilson, fair manager, has announced.

A ceramics division has been added to the fair this year, she said, with the competition limited to amateurs.

The art division is limited only to adult residents of Sonoma and Marin Counties, but there is no age limit in the photography division, according to Mrs. Wilson.

There are both professional and amateur classes in the sculpture division, which is for adults only.

Entry forms are available from the fair office.

All arts and crafts entered will be on display at the fair June 20-24 at the fairgrounds in Petaluma.

Is your apartment or house standing vacant — and losing you money?

Have you ever thought about how much money you lose each day or week your apartment stands vacant? Here's a chart to point out the drain on your income:

YOU ARE LOSING

If Your Monthly Rental Price Is:	Every Day	Every Week	Every Two Weeks
$150	$ 5.00	$35.00	$70.00
175	5.83	40.81	81.62
200	6.67	46.69	93.38
225	7.50	52.50	105.00
250	8.33	58.31	116.62
275	9.16	64.12	128.24
300	10.00	70.00	140.00
325	10.83	75.81	151.62
350	11.66	81.62	163.24

(Based on a 30-day month)

Add to this the cost of maintaining a vacant apartment and you have an even larger loss. Doesn't it make sense to: FIRST, run an I-J Classified ad, & SECOND, to take a little time and run a BETTER ad — more benefits, more discription, less abbreviations (82% of readers don't know the meaning of AEK).

SUBJECT also to reservation of mineral rights and rights in fissionable materials as: contained in said deed from United States of America to American Agencies, Inc. dated August 2, 1949 and recorded in Book 631 of Official Records, at page 1, Marin County Records, reference to which last mentioned deed is hereby made for a particular description of such reservation.

SUBJECT TO decree quieting title in Marin County Superior Court, Action No. 54781, entered March 24, 1970, in Book 103 at Page 51 of the Judgment Book of said Court.

SUBJECT TO: Current taxes, covenants, conditions, restrictions, rights, rights of way, and easements of record.

Bids or offers for the property are invited, must be in writing, and may be delivered to the executrix at the office of her attorney, ALBERT G. EVANS, 111 Sutter Street, San Francisco, California 94104, or may be filed at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court at any time after the first publication of the instant notice and before the making of the sale.

Terms and conditions of sale: The executrix will entertain bids involving delayed payments, or cash, or grant an option subject to zoning, provided a deposit is made, and cash shall be paid upon exercise of the option. The maximum option granted shall not exceed 95 days.

Taxes to be prorated as of date of recordation. All costs of title search, escrow, recordation and title insurance to be borne by the purchaser. The property is unimproved.

The undersigned reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to accept a term sale for more money in preference to a cash sale, or a cash sale for less money instead of a term or a conditioned sale if in the best interests of the estate. The sale will include a 2.38% interest not owned by the estate, which will be sold only with the estate's interest.

Hospital Will Admit Psychiatric Patients

Marin General Hospital officials reaffirmed last night their intention to continue accepting psychiatric Medi-Cal patients in the face of funding problems.

The dificulty, . according to Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, county medical officer, is that the county has exceeded a $538,000 budget for serving such patients at both state and federal expense.

But the Marin Hospital District board decided last night to continue serving the patients in a 14-bed unit at the Community Mental Health Center while emergency funding is sought at the state level.

Ray K. Bolinger, Marin General administrator, said the board learned that although the budget had been exceeded countywide by some $109,000, Marin General remained within its allocated level of $340,000.

The situation, meanwhile, is different at Ross General Hospital. Officials there have stopped admitting new patients in the wake of the budget difficulties.

Ross General, together with Marin General and the Marin Child Development Center in Tiburon, are the three facilities affected by the pinch.

The Marin Hospital District board also:

GIFT — Learned that a $90,000 gift to purchase various equipment had come from the San Rafael General Hospital Foundation. The gift was revealed earlier this week.

PURCHASE — Approved purchase of X-ray equipment with $49,000 in donated funds.

ENGINEERS — Having learned of federal Cost of Living Council approval, granted raises of from 14 to 18 cents hourly to 10 Marin General maintenance engineers. Cost to the district will be about $262 per month.

MEETING — Is to meet next on June 26.

Planners Vote Alto Rezoning

The Marin County Planning Commission has approved rezoning a one-acre site at 6 Thomas Drive in Alto to a planned commercial designation for a furniture store.

The Independent-Journal erred yesterday in reporting the commission rejected the rezoning, which was requested by property owner Donald R. Telford.

The commission's vote was 4 to 2 in favor, with commissioners Margaret B. Azevedo and William Long opposed to the rezoning.

Secret Revealed Of City's Bread

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — The secret of San Francisco's sourdough bread has been checked by Oregon State University microbiologists.

They discovered that a bacterium called lactobacillus San Francisco is responsible for the unique taste of the bread, which can be baked only in the Bay Area.

The researchers said a way must now be found to safely distribute the secret ingredient, which is found in the waters of the San Francisco region.

Highway Patrol To Show 'High Profile'

EUREKA (UPI) — The California Highway Patrol plans to be out in triple force this Memorial Day weekend patrolling the 250 mles from Cloverdale to the Oregon line.

Captain William Roberts said yesterday that 30 CHP cars would be on U.S. 101 in hopes that the CHP's "high profile" would help motorists to concentrate on safe driving.

Teachers Pay Hiked 5 Per Cent

The Marin County Board of Education last night approved a 5 per cent across-the-board salary increase for teachers, administrators and classified personnel, reported Robert Spain, assistant superintendent.

Spain said the salary increases will cost the district $135,329.

The board delayed until June 12 action on granting a raise in pay to substitute teachers, requesting more information from staff, Spain said.

The board also hired Stephen Parodi, formerly superintendent of the San Anselmo School District, as curriculum coordinator at a salary of $21,126 per year; rehired Gene Turtle as administrative assistant at his present monthly salary of $1,564, and granted maternity leave to speech therapist Martha Sullivan for the 1973-74 school year.

The board's next meeting will be at 8 p.m. June 12 in the county schools office.

Plea Bargain Rescinded, Trial Set

Three men arrested last year during a $5,000 drug sale have decided to stand trial because a Marin Superior Court judge backed out of a plea bargain made in March.

Jury trial for Robert Bertram Taylor, 24, Jesse Arthur Stefas, 26, both of no known address, and Dennis Arthur Hecht, 27, of Forest Knolls was set Monday for June 18 although Taylor's attorney, Marvin Kahn, told Judge David Menary Jr. he would be in trial in Seattle on that day.

That judge refused to follow sentencing promises he made in March "for the reason that the court was not completely informed at the time of the negotiated plea."

Menary earlier told the Independent-Journal he was not told about 42 pounds of marijuana and pot plants found in the living room and garden of Hecht's home, site of the sale.

Taylor had admitted transporting marijuana; Hecht and Stefas had admitted growing pot.

Arrested with them in the raid last July were Greg Dennis Collin, 26, of Corte Madera and Keith Durwood Perry, 27, of Fairfax, but charges against them were dismissed in January by Judge David R. Baty of Marin Municipal Court. He ruled cocaine found in their car was improperly seized.

The arrest took place after undercover agents arranged to buy half-a-pound of cocaine and a large quality of hashish oil.

Majority Have Had Sex, Drugs At UC Campus

BERKELEY (UPI) — The majority of students at the University of California have indulged in sex, drugs and alcohol, according to a life style survey.

The survey released yesterday by a group of graduate students showed:

Eighty-one per cent had engaged in sexual intercourse, a third approved of group sex, and 14 per cent said a personal homosexual relationship would be okay with them.

Seventy-five per cent use alcohol regularly, while 25 per cent have tried barbituates, amphetamines or LSD at least once, and 1.7 per cent have tried heroin, and 0.3 per cent have used heroin this school year.

The surveyors in the "student life-style research group" said the marijuana and heroin figures seemed to refute physiology professor Hardin Jones' theories on the relationship between the two drugs. Jones has said 10 per cent of Berkeley's students are or will become heroin addicts.

Bottom Struck By Nuclear Submarine

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The nuclear attack submarine USS Sturgeon struck bottom in the Atlantic off the Virgin Islands Monday causing "minor structural damage" the Navy said today.

The Sturgeon, with a crew of 120, was operating in deep water off St. Croix, V.I., when it struck bottom about noon at an undisclosed depth. There zere no injuries and the sub's nuclear power plant was not affected, the Navy said. The six-year-old sub made it into the nearest American port at Frederiksted, St. Croiy, under her own power.

Today is Wednesday, May 23, the 143rd day of 1973 with 222 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Saturn.

Ambrose Burnside, a Union general in the Civil War, was born May 23, 1824.

On this day in history:

In 1701, Captain William Kidd was hanged in London on charges of piracy and murder.

In 1939, the U.S. Navy submarine "Squalus" went down off New Hampshire in 240 feet of water. Thirty-three of the 59 men aboard were rescued with a diving bell.

In 1960, Israeli agents captured Adolf Eichmann in Argentina and spirited him back to Tel Aviv. He was convicted of being a mass killer of Jews during World War II and was hanged.

In 1965, the Organization of American States set up a peace-keeping force in the Dominican Republic to stand between rebel and loyalist units.

A thought for the day: Norwegian poet Henrik Ibsen said, "I hold that man is in the right who is more closely in league with the future."

San Rafael air quality yesterday:

Oxidants, clean air.
Nitrogen dioxide, clean air.
Carbon monoxide, clean air.
Smoke particles, clean air.

Other areas:

San Francisco, clean air.
San Jose, clean air.

Colorless oxidants, brownish nitrogen dioxide and smoke particles aggravate respiratory diseases. Carbon monoxide causes dizziness, headaches and slows reflexes. Smoke particles come largely from industrial sources, the other three come primarily from motor vehicles.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Polyunsaturated Australian Cattle Produce Health Steaks

The incrimination of dietary fats in heart disease may have triggered an interesting study and created a new product, showing again that necessity is the mother of invention. An Australian research team has experimented with polyunsaturated cattle. They did this by a minor chemical modification of the animals' diet. The editor of the New England Journal of Medicine dubs it "health" steak and claims that it is available in ". . . any cut — chateaubriand, tenderloin, or brisket . . ."

Steak prices are high enough, but this form will be exhorbitant, and more so if it is shipped from Australia. And what a commodity to police — 99 per cent of us will not be able to tell the difference. But people who can afford it are willing to pay extra for "health" foods, believing, of course, that these items will prolong life and health.

THE AUSTRALIAN steak offers minimal prophylaxis against hardening of the arteries. Too much cholesterol in the blood is only one of many risk factors in premature coronary heart disease and strokes due to atherosclerosis. Furthermore, the fat in meat is only one source of cholesterol and saturated fatty acids in our own diet. Eggs and dairy products also are implicated. Obesity also plays an important role, possibly, due to overnourishment. Other hazards to the heart include cigarette smoking, high blood pressure, tension, and lack of exercise.

If food companies put out more products that were lower in fats and richer in polyunsaturated (vegetable oils) fatty acids, our younger generation might get a better start in the prevention of arteriosclerosis. On the other hand, very little has been written on the consequences of earing more anticholesterol (polyunsaturated) foods. Furthermore, some controversy still remains about the relationship between coronary heart disease and cholesterol.

WILL LOWERING the level in the blood lessen the chance of developing heart attacks before the age of 60? Will it prevent a recurrence?

Recent animal experiments indicate that saturated fats and cholesterol cause atherosclerosis in monkeys. The situation corrects itself when monkeys are fed meals low in these substances, supplemented with foods high in vegetable oils and other polyunsaturated fats. We do not, however, know if this is applicable to man.

Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to Dr. Van Dellen, c/o the Indenependent-Journal.

SITTER AND COLDS

A reader writes: Can a person be a cold carrier without developing colds? When a certain person (who never is troubled with colds) sits with our children all of them come down with colds.

REPLY

Yes, but it could also be coincidental. How often has the person babysat when the children did not develop colds? But this is also a reasonable assumption because culture studies show that many people harbor strep and other germs that are capable of producing respiratory infections. In this regard the individual does act as a carrier.

WEAK PULSE

S. M. writes: If a person faints, does the pulse rate drop?

REPLY

It becomes weak and thready. In some instances, it disappears entirely. There is nothing that mimics death more than fainting. The onlookers have a few anxious moments but within seconds the color and the pulse return to normal.

Accomplices In Rape Are Named

A 27-year-old Marin City man was promised yesterday he would not go to prison if he pleaded guilty to rape and identified three other men involved in the gang rape of a Sausalito woman and testifies against them.

Judge E. Warren McGuire agreed to give David Barrow a suspended prison sentence and no more than one year in jail and canceled the remainder of his jury trial, which was in its fourth day.

Barrow then told Deputy Dist. Atty. Raymond E. Gilbert the three other men who raped the 19-year-old woman last Dec. 5 are Allan Brooks Jr., Terry Grinner and Oscar Lee Tilles, all of Marin City.

However, Gilbert said, they will not be charged unless Barrow passes a lie detector test.

The woman told sheriff's deputies she was given a ride from Sausalito to Marin City, then raped at least 14 times by six or more men during three early morning hours. She was repeatedly beaten and threatened, deputies said.

Barrows, a maintenance man, told Gilbert only the four of them raped her.

Western Union Given Increase

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The State Public Utiliies Commission ruled yesterday it will cost 33 cents more after June 15 to send a Western Union telegram of 15 words or less between any two points in California.

The increase would raise the cost to $2.63.

The PUC said the increase would provide the company with a rate of return of 8.1 per cent and a gross revenue of $4.04 million.

The commission also said Western Union could start a new overnight service with a $1.30 charge for a telegram of 100 words or less.

The company had asked for a rate of $3 a telegram.

'Ski Mask' Gang Suspects Freed

RENO (UPI) — Police have released two adults arrested with suspected members of San Francisco's "ski mask" gang, responsible for eight robberies that netted $41,000.

Elizabeth Louie, 24, and Charles Soo Lee, 20, were freed. Two juveniles were released as robbery suspects but were held for San Francisco juvenile authorities.

One suspect, Ronald Gong, 16, waived rights to a removal hearing yesterday, clearing the way for his return to the Bay Area.

Police arrested the five during the weekend shortly after they arrived in Reno. Police said they were carrying about $100 in bills identified as loot from a bank holdup.

San Rafael Man Is Treated For Wound

Chester Edward Miller of 220 Canal Street in San Rafael, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a face wound suffered Saturday.

According to police, Miller had shot himself with a 20-gauge shotgun. Police said that on being summoned at 9:20 a.m. to the apartment by Miller's wife, Lorraine, they were told he had been despondent over poor health.

FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

8:13 a.m., Marinwood — Mattress fire at 2405 Las Gallinas Avenue, Edna W. Tucker residence; accidentally ignited by match; no estimate of damage.

2:20 p.m., San Rafael — Grass fire in two by eight-foot area about 300 yards above Devon Drive; may have been caused by children playing with matches; no damage.

3:46 p.m., Novato — Grass fire in 50-square-foot area across from 16 Burningtree Drive; no damage; cause undetermined.

4:43 p.m., Novato — Grass fire off Bugeia Lane in 15 by six-foot area near Marin Memorial Gardens Cemetery; may have been caused by burning object thrown from auto; no damage.

Jeweler Robbed Of $400,000

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Two men in coveralls robbed a downtown jewelry store of an estimated $400,000 in gems Tuesday.

Gunther Zimmerman, 47, said the men were waiting when he showed up to open the store. They produced pistols, made him turn off the burglar alarm and open the safe, he said.

Zimmerman said a prevous robbery attempt was stopped by a specially trained police dog who bit the intruder. However, he discontinued use of the dog when it bit a customer.

Stanford Daily Editor Named

STANFORD (UPI) — James Wascher, 19, a junior majoring in communications, was elected without opposition Tuesday to the editorship of the Stanford Daily, an independent publication which circulates 16,500 issues on campus.

Wascher, a campus correspondent for the New York Times, will assume his post next September.

The daily has a staff of 116. It was formerly published by the Associated Students of Stanford University and became an independent corporation early this year.

Recital Scheduled

A free recital by piano students of St. Anselm's School in San Anselmo will be given at 3 p.m. June 3 in the school gymnasium.

Firemen Get 5 Per Cent Hike In Pay

The Marinwood Community Services District board has granted a 5 per cent salary increase for firemen, with another 2.5 per cent hike to be considered during budget discussion in June.

Board members Monday also granted a 5 per cent salary boost for administration personnel in the park and recreation department and a 10 per cent increase for a park and recreation department maintenance man, according to Genevieve T. Bolding, district manager.

The board received a report on the proposed Luiz and Grady Ranch development, which calls for 734 dwelling units, including single family residences, town houses and garden apartments.

Board members objected to the ratio of 85 per cent multiple and 15 per cent single-family housing, pointing out that it was exactly the reverse of the present ratio in the Lucas Valley-Marinwood area.

The Marinwood Community Services District board also:

SWIM TEAM — Approved hiring Jeff Miller as swimming team instructor at $2.50 an hour and Lisa Benedetti as helper for $2 an hour.

PLANTING — Approved a contract with Lucas Valley Homeowners Association for planting maintenance at $556 per month.

MAINTENANCE — Approved hiring an additional maintenance man from May 22 to Sept. 7 at $2 per hour.

FIRE — Approved a mutual aid agreement with Hamilton Air Force Base for fire protection.

Countdown Resumes For Skylab Mission

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The countdown resumed today for the launch of three astronauts Friday in an effort to repair the hot, power starved Skylab space station and turn it into a liveable home for nine men this year.

The emergency sun shades and debris clearing tools the pilots will carry into space were due here this afternoon to be stowed in the cabin of their Apollo ferry ship-turned-repair truck.

Charles "Pete" Conrad, Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz will inspect the new equipment after their complete final, morning-long pre launch medical examinations.

The countdown toward the 9 a.m. EDT lift onf time Friday started at 5:30 a.m. It was halted eight hours after the unmanned launch of Skylab May 14, when it was clear the eight-room space house could not be orcupied without extraordinary repairs in orbit.

The countdown originally was to begin Tuesday night but launch officials delayed it nine hours to conserve battery power in the 22-story tall Saturn 1B rocket. One of the first operations today was to install the batteries and check the machine's electrical system.

GOVERNOR'S 'RAP' SESSION

Governor Ronald Reagan answers questions of students from Luther Burbank High School yesterday in Sacramento in a televised session that will be available to instructional and public television. Reagan pointed out that environmental protection has grabbed the spotlight so much that we have not built any power plants and thus have let ecologists stand in the way of energy development.

Tax Ceiling Proposal Is Under Fire

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax ceiling initiative would allow "hundreds" of wealthy persons to avoid paying any state income tax, a legislative counsel's opinion shows.

Aides to the governor promptly disputed the interpretation yesterday and minimized the number of persons who might be affected by the alleged loophole.

Reagan has also rebuffed such criticism.

"That's the most farfetched case I've ever heard of to suggest that such a thing could be done," Reagan said early this month, prior to the release of the opinion by Legislative Counsel George H. Murphy.

The purported tax escape clause is contained in complex language in the initiative which eliminates income taxes for a married couple earning less than $8,000 a year.

Democratic Sen. Walter W. Stiern of Bakersfield, chairman of the Revenue and Taxation Committee, sought the opinion about the language from Murphy.

The counsel declared that under the initiative:

"A married couple filing a joint return with an adjusted gross income below $8,000, with items of tax preference in excess of $30,000, would be relieved of any state personal income tax on the tax preference items."

Since the couple would also escape taxes on their adjusted gross income under $8,000, they would end up paying no taxes at all, said an aide to Stiern's committee, Donald V. Collin.

He gave an example of how a married person who had $500,000 in long term capital gains could escape any taxes. He said such a person would normally pay $5,500 in taxes.

Collin said half of the amount would not be included in "regular income" under present law.

"The other $250,000 subject to tax could be further reduced for business losses, depreciation and oil depletion allowances. This could reduce the $250,000 to less than $8,000," Collin said.

"This is not a hypothetical situation. There are hundreds of persons in these situations," he declared.

Collin also stated, "They didn't understand what they were doing when they wrote the initiative."

Charles D. Hobbs, one of the leaders of the task force which developed Regan's tax proposal, said, however, only a "tiny" number of taxpayers might be affected.

Disputing the legal interpretation, Hobbs pointed out Murphy is the lawyer for the legislature, which has generally been opposed to the initiative.

Capitol's West Wing Is Being Evacuated

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The legislature, fearing the historic west wing of the state capitol would tumble down in an earthquake, is moving to vacate all occupants by Sept. 15.

But there is no clear-cut plan for finding new space for all the displaced.

They include Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, treasurer Ivy Baker Priest, Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr., the Capitol Press Corps, State Police and legislative employes. The offices of three lawmakers are tentatively to be moved into the quake-safe capitol annex.

The joint rules committee, which makes housekeeping decisions on behalf of the entire legislature, decided Tuesday to order the Capitol's golden-domed west wing cleared of occupants by Sept. 15.

The action occurred in the wake of separate engineering reports by the state architect and a private firm who had warned the 104-year-old structure could collapse in an earthquake.

A spokesman for the State General Services Department said the agency had not been officially told of the committee's action which occurred at an unannounced meeting. He said his department now will intensify efforts to determine space needs of the displaced and seek to locate rental or leased space elsewhere in Sacramento.

The west wing also houses the chambers of the Assembly and Senate. The committee made no decision on where the floor sessions should be held but noted two large committee rooms in the annex could be converted into temporary chambers.

Another alternative included renting two movie theaters in the downtown area for floor sessions.

Without waiting for a decision on whether to build a new Capitol or reconstruct the existing building, the committee agreed there was an "obligation" to vacate the west wing for three to five years.

Still left undecided is the controversial question of a permanent home for the lawmakers.

Gov. Ronald Reagan and some legislators favor reconstructing the building to make it quake-proof at an estimated cost of $41 million. Critics contend this would not solve the lawmakers' need for more space and would continue to involve costly leasing arrangements.

Others, including Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, advocate construction of a new twin-tower skyscraper Capitol which would be located a block east of Capitol Park.

Correctional Revamping Is Approved

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate Judiciary Committee has approved Gov. Ronald Reagan's plan for a wide-ranging overhaul of California's prison, youth correction and probation system.

The proposal is designed, according to its sponsor, Sen. W. Craig Biddle, R-Riverside, "to get the cops off the treadmill, the incorrigibles off the streets, the judges off the hotseat and our state correctional programs off dead center."

With six Republicans and one Democrat combining for a bare minimum 7-0 vote, the measure (SB391) was sent to the Senate Finance Committee.

It would merge the Department of Corrections and the Youth Authority into a single agency and combine the three state parole boards into one, with responsibility for men, women and juveniles.

The measure also abolishes the state probation subsidy program, which provided counties with funds to keep felons in local facilities or on probation. The new system would provide local aid at a flat rate.

Allen Breed, director of the Youth Authority, told the committee the probation subsidy program was not working to protect society, which was the state's aim.

He declared that one-fourth of the convicted killers in Los Angeles County last year and one-half of the robbers were on probation at the time they committed the crimes.

Meggyesy Talks About 'Integrity Of Athletics'

By LEW CODDINGTON

To an audience which knew him only by his stinging criticisms of sport in America, Dave Meggysey last night brought those criticisms but also an affirmation of "the fundamental integrity of the athletic experience."

Meggysey and Bob Kriegel, co-directors of the Esalen Sports Institute, were the featured speakers at the Marin County Coaches Association's second annual banquet at Marin Country Club in Novato.

Meggysey formerly played linebacker for professional football's St. Louis Cardinals, but quit in disillusionment and anger and wrote a sharply critical book, "Out of Their League," three years ago. His speech last night repeated some of the criticisms, but not before he assured the coaches he was not a foe of athletics.

"You've seen the TV commercials and the pamphlets saying 'Get high on sports, not drugs.' We've all sensed this kind of 'high,' where an athlete gets in touch with himself and suddenly performs far better than he ever has before. I believe in the fundamental integrity of that experience."

Coaches and physical educators occupy low-prestige positions in the academic world, Meggysey said, but because they know that experience, they have more to offer students than do other educators.

"We are a 'head' society, cut off from our bodies," he said. "The coach is in touch with the whole being. The athletic experience incorporates the physical, mental, spiritual and emotional. . .Coaches and physical educators are on the real cutting edge of. . .immense changes."

Instead of relating positively to these concepts, however, many coaches become "ideological traffic cops," absorbing and passing on "a whole rationale of bull---- about what is the function of sports which revolves around 'character building.' "

The coach becomes preoccupied with teaching the athlete "to become a man," or that "athletics is like life," or that winning is the sole valid goal, Meggysey said — therefore alienating many boys and most girls from sports.

Too many coaches believe in Vince Lombardi's dictum that "the mission of football is to teach respect for authority," Meggysey charged. "How many of you (coaches) are willing to democratize athletics?" he asked. "That most fundamental of learning experiences — judgment —is denied to athletes.

"We must ask ourselves," he concluded, "what is the function of sports? And we must cop to that experience."

Kriegel, preceding Meggysey, led his audience through a series of "centering exercises" in which they contemplated their past, present and future circumstances, then stressed the need for coaches to develop innovative techniques to get their teams mentally "into the moment" in a competitive situation.

He also gave a brief history of the Esalen Sports Center, a San Francisco-based organization seeking new techniques in teaching athletics and physical education.

The coaches association presented a plaque to former San Rafael High School football coach Paul Miller for his 41 years of "service to athletics" in Marin. Miller also coached basketball, track, baseball and tennis at the school, beginning in 1932.

Association president Chuck Metz of Terra Linda High School announced that Carl (Red) Brown of Drake would be president for the 1973-74 academic year. Bob Martin of San Marin will be vice president.

Judo Team Short Of Fund-Raising Goal

The 12-man United States judo team might have to become an 11-man team before it leaves for the world championships in Lucerne, Switzerland.

Mel Augustine, president of the Pacific Association section of the Amateur Athletic Union and manager of the U.S. judo team, is still trying to come up with the final $1,500 needed to reach the $16,000 cost of the trip June 4 through 26. If the figure can't be reached, Augustine, juvenile supervisor in the Marin County Probation Department, believes he will have to cut one of the team members.

MEL STARTED A fund drive last week and has about $600 pledged by donors. If you want to help pay for the team's trip, send your tax deductible contributions to U.S. International Judo Team in care of Bank of America, 1201 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, 94901.

But, says Augustine, he's running out of time and must make his decision to cut one of the players by this weekend.

"It's really a shame," said Mel. "The boys are already paying $200 each out of their own pockets for the trip. We're going to be staying in second class hotels to keep the cost down."

The U.S. Olympic Committee has come through with $5,000 and that figure was matched by the U.S. Judo Federation. With the equipment and uniforms Augustine has come up with, more costs were saved, but he's still coming up short.

THE U.S. ATHLETES who compete in international matches often help squash the Ugly American image that floats around the world. "These kids who go to these meets are fantastic ambassadors to this country," said Augustine.

Augustine's problem is the same that all U.S. amateur teams face in most all sports. Iron curtain countries don't have these financial problems because the sports are subsidized by the governments. In the Soviet Union, for instance, members of the sports teams are usually members of the army, but instead of marching off to Siberia, they are given room and board and spending money for doing what they do best whether it be basketball, water polo or judo. When it comes time for the team to visit a foreign country to compete, the costs are paid by the government.

The U.S. teams on the amateur level must come up with the money themselves, and as Augustine is finding out, this is not always an easy matter.

The only Northern Californians on the judo team are Mark McCready of San Francisco and Tom Martin of Stockton, but it would still be great for Marin Countians to know they were a big help in getting the U.S. judo team to Switzerland for the world competition.

THERE IS A SENATE commerce committee hearing on amateur sports under way in Washington and it would be great if some of the problems surrounding amateur sports in this country were resolved. The main problem the committee is tackling is to eliminate competition between various amateur organizations in the U.S., namely the National Collegiate Athletic Association and Amateur Athletic Union (commonly known as NCAA and AAU), two groups which have been at each other's throats the past few years.

The U.S. judo team's lack of money is just one problem involving amateur sports in this country. And believe me, there are more than just one or two.

2 Prep Golf Teams Clinch Title Ties

Terra Linda and San Rafael high schools clinched ties for the Marin County Athletic League golf championship with victories yesterday, but still must look forward with trepidation to tomorrow's season-ending matches.

The Trojans whipped Drake at Marin Country Club, 203-237, behind Rich Purtle's one-under-par 35, and the Bulldogs trounced Tamalpais at Mill Valley, 180-200, as John Fahrner shot a three-under 31.

Marin Catholic's match with San Marin at Indian Valley was postponed until 3 p.m. today due to last night's coaches meeting, San Marin coach Andy Frauenhofer said.

The victories gave San Rafael and Terra Linda 11-2 records, but the Bulldogs must oppose Novato (10-3) at Peacock Gap and the Trojans must meet Redwood (10-3) at Marin, creating the possibility of a four-way tie for the title.

One More Year

DALLAS (UPI) — Dallas Cowboys defensive tackle Bob Lilly has announced he'll play at least one more year of professional football if he and the team can come to terms on a contract.

McKinney Is Star For A's

OAKLAND (UPI) — Rich McKinney, one of the faces in the crowd, comes to the ball park every day resigned to his fate as a bench warmer.

Tuesday night was no different for the Oakland utility man. He reported to the Coliseum on time, took his hitting drill and then threw on the sidelines. A few minutes later he ran into Dick Williams and the A's' skipper told him, "By the way, Rich, you're starting at third tonight."

Williams' idea was to give Sal Bando a breather inasmuch as the A's were playing the Texas Rangers. McKinney, who came to Oakland during the winter in a trade with the New York Yankees, responded by delivering a bases-loaded double for the key runs in a 4-1 victory.

It's hard to hit in a situation such as that," said McKinney. "All I told myself is to stay on top of the ball. I have a tendency to uppercut the ball and since I was getting a chance, I wanted to do my best."

McKinney's hit enabled Ken Holtzman to gain his ninth victory in 11 decisions on a seven-hitter. It was Holtzman's sixth victory in a row and he accomplished it in a quick one hour and 39 minutes. Only Wilbur Wood of the White Sox, with 10, has more victories this season than Holtzman.

The only run Holtzman gave up came as a result of his own error. Three singles filled the bases in the fifth with two out and Dave Nelson then tapped back to the box and Holtzman dropped the ball as a run scored.

Bando didn't have the night off completely. He batted third and was the designated hitter while Deron Johnson, who has been the DH in all 18 previous games he has played for Oakland, started at first.

Tonight in the concluding game of the two-game series, Joe Rudi, in a hitting slump, will rest. Bando may also get another night off.

Vida Blue (3-2) will pitch for the A's, who are three games behind the pace-setting White Sox in the AL West, against Pete Broberg (0-4).

49ers Sign Top Pick To Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers have signed top draft choice Mike Holmes of Texas Southern to a multiyear national football league contract.

Neither the 49ers nor the 180-pound defensive back revealed terms of the pact signed Tuesday but Holmes said "I'm very happy with the terms."

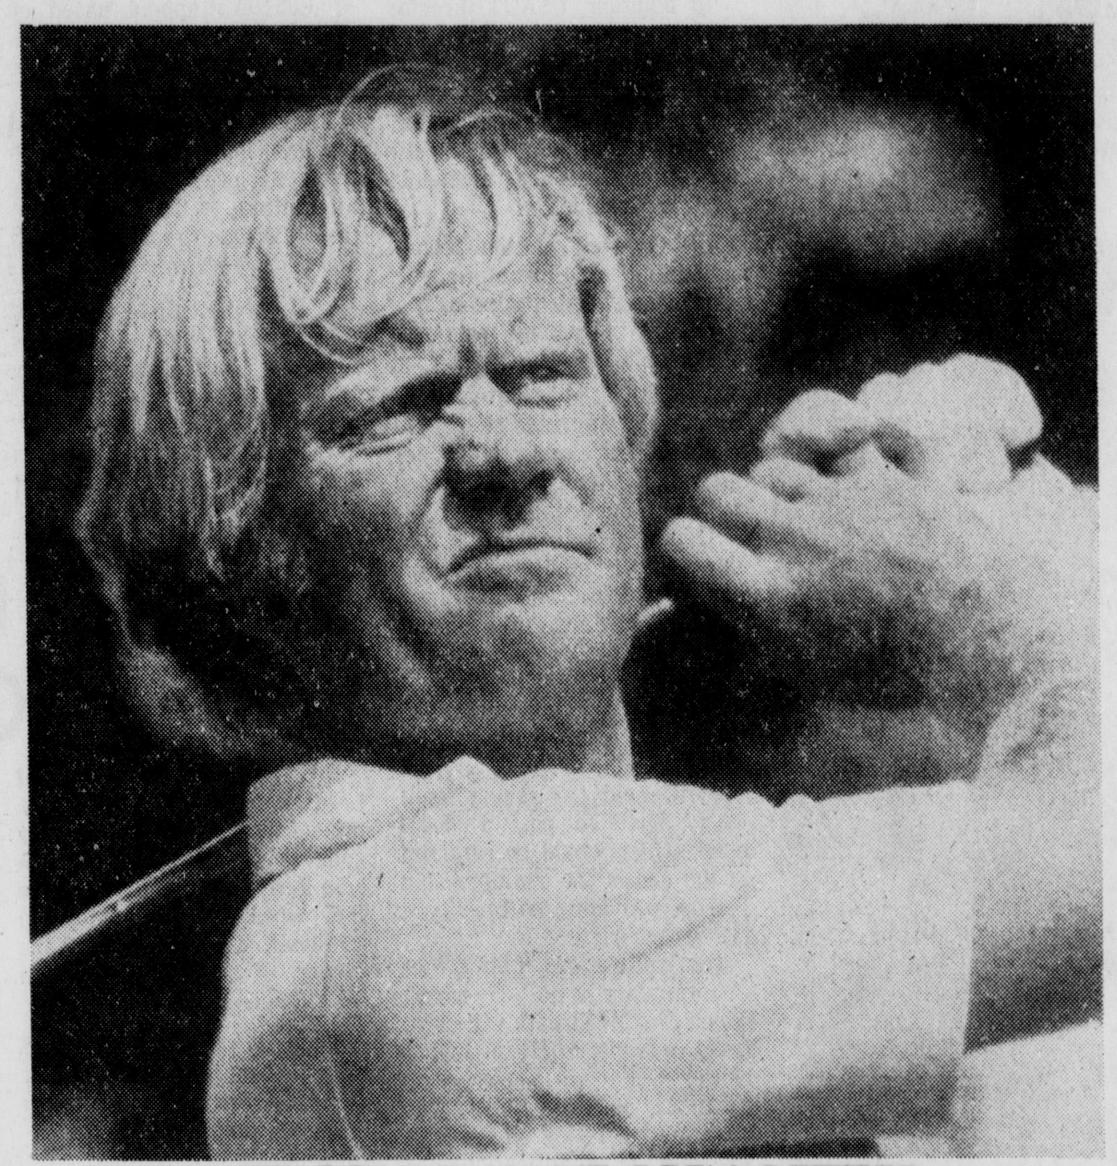
Holmes, who clocked 4.45 seconds for 40 yards, started four years for his school. He played three years as a defensive back, collecting a school record 20 interceptions and was a pass receiver as a soph, turning in 23 receptions.

As a senior, he was a free safety but also called defensive signals for his team.

"I don't care whether I play safety or cornerback," Holmes said, "but I sure hope I play."

Holmes and other rookies are working out this week at the team's Redwood City training camp.

The centers and quarterbacks are also there but this year, offensive linemen are also engaged in the pre-summer workout.



IT COULD HAVE BEEN BETTER

Jack Nicklaus didn't seem too pleased with his tee shot on the 17th hole yesterday during a practice round for the Atlanta Classic. The tournament begins tomorrow and Jack, of course, is among the favorites.

STARTS TOMORROW

It's A Very Strong Field For Champs Tournament

"This is going to be one of the strongest tournaments in history," says Al Endriss, and the thought makes him happy and sad at the same time.

As director of the 10th annual Redwood High Baseball Tournament of Champions, which will run tomorrow through Saturday at Albert Field, Endriss is glad to have a strong eight-team lineup.

As coach of Marin County Athletic League champion Redwood High, Endriss is chagrined to see strong arms and bats opposing his own players.

On the whole, however, he will be glad to take his chances, for he enters with the winningest team in the tournament.

Action begins with four games tomorrow, with the 9 p.m. feature pitting the Giants (22-5) against Rancho Cotate (17-6) of Rohnert Park, Sonoma County League champion, which defeated North Bay League titleholder Napa Saturday, 8-0, to earn a berth.

At 3 p.m., Catholic Athletic League champion Salesian (15-12) of Richmond will face Oakland Athletic League winner Skyline (14-4). At 5 p.m., Alameda County Athletic League king San Leandro (22-5) will meet Mission Valley League titleholder Kennedy (17-4) of Fremont, and at 7 p.m., Diablo Valley Athletic League champ Concord (21-4) will confront Hayward Area Athletic League winner Arroyo (19-6) of San Lorenzo.

Redwood and San Leandro have identical 22-5 records and Concord is 21-4. The only team with more than six losses is Salesian, fourth-place finisher in its league but winner of a loop playoff.

Not surprisingly, San Leandro and Concord boast professional prospects. San Leandro's star is right handed pitcher-outfielder Mike Antone and Concord's is righty flinger Rick Wolf. Another favorite of scouts, according to Endriss, is Arroyo's slugging catcher, Casey Jones.

"Everybody has a wealth of pitching," says Endriss. Pitching depth is vital in the tournament, since an ace who hurls Thursday will not be rested for

GIANTS WIN, 7-3

Bonds Steals The Show

ATLANTA (UPI) — Bobby Bonds was a doubtful starter until just before game time. His left arm was still swollen from the pitch Houston's Jim Ray hit him with the night before.

Manager Charlie Fox waited as long as he could then gave Bonds the go-ahead. And he probably spent the next two hours patting himself on the back.

Bonds was a terror as he led the San Francisco Giants to a 7-3 conquest of the Atlanta Braves Tuesday night and back into sole possession of first place in the National League West.

All the supposedly wounded Bonds did was hit a home run, steal three bases—including his first theft of home as a major leaguer, and score four of the Giants' seven runs. Not bad for a guy who spent hours in his hotel room squeezing a balled-up towel trying to get his arm loose.

"I wasn't sure at all whether I would play, but it finally started loosening up," Bonds said. "The arm's still swollen—I can't touch it—but by using a pad on it, I can absorb some of the pain."

The Braves absorbed some of the pain, too, and were never in the game, thanks to Bonds and high-kicking right-hander Juan Marichal, struggling to regain his winning ways. Marichal was untouchable for three innings and that was enough time for the Giants to rush to a 6-0 lead.

The Braves fans did have one big moment. Hank Aaron poled his 12th home run of the season and 685th of his career, putting him just 29 shy of Babe Ruth's career record.

But the night belonged to Bonds. He opened the game with a walk, was sacrificed to second, stole third and scored on Gary Maddox' single. He led off the third with a double and quickly scored on Tito Fuentes' hit as the Giants went on a four-run outburst that put the game away.

In the fourth, he singled, stole

ACE PITCHER

Frey Repeat All-League

Gene Frey, the right-hander who helped pitch Redwood High School to two consecutive Marin County Athletic League championships, was named to the all-league team for the second consecutive year by the league's coaches yesterday.

Frey heads a 12-man squad which includes three pitchers, the others being Mark Ruggles of the Giants and Ray Stratford of Novato. It's the first time that two pitchers from the same team have been chosen, according to Redwood coach Al Endriss.

The champions also placed catcher Doug Hartman, infielder Gary LaTorre and outfielder Matt Gondak on the first team and three other players on the second team.

Redwood Clinches Prep Tennis Title

To the surprise of absolutely no one, Redwood High School yesterday clinched the 1973 Marin County Athletic League tennis championship with a 7-0 victory over host San Marin.

In other matches, San Rafael edged Tamalpais, 4-3; Terra Linda shaded Drake, 4-3; and Marin Catholic topped Novato, 5-2.

Redwood improved its MCAL record to 13-0 with one match remaining tomorrow, and captured its 78th consecutive triumph in the league. The Giants have not lost in their last 53 matches overall.

So complete is their dominance, in fact, that they have lost only one of the 91 individual singles or doubles matches played this year.

San Rafael (10-3) kept alive its hopes for a second-place tie by getting past Tamalpais. The Bulldogs are chasing Terra Linda (11-2), which must close its season tomorrow against Redwood, while San Rafael finishes with winless Novato.

PREP OF THE WEEK

An Early Golfing Start For Gaddis Of Tamalpais

By LEW CODDINGTON

Steve Gaddis, who has been swinging a golf club since the age of four, is swinging it less these days — maybe three or four times less per round than his opponents.

Last Friday against Marin Catholic High School, Gaddis shot a 29 for nine holes at Mill Valley Golf Club, five strokes under par and a record for a prep golfer.

The round, the pinnacle in a long series of achievements by the Tamalpais High School senior, earned him recognition as the Independent-Journal Prep of the Week.

"I love the competition, the challenge," says Gaddis. "I like proving things to myself. The more difficult a course is, the better. My idea of a good course is Spyglass Hill or Pebble Beach."

Since Gaddis doesn't live in Monterey, he ended up playing at Mill Valley, and knows "every blade of grass" on the course after taking up the game 13 years ago when a lady whose name he doesn't know gave him a club with a cut shaft when he was with his father at a driving range he doesn't remember.

Gaddis' father belongs to the Mill Valley men's club and Steve is president of the junior club, but he's not a one-course golfer. He has been medalist or co-medalist in matches this year at Marin County Club, Indian Valley and Meadow Club.

He had the lowest average in the league against par last year and this, made all-league both years, played twice in the North Coast Section tournament (shooting 151 for 36 holes both times), and has not lost to his opposing No. 1 golfer in 18 matches this year.

Not bad for somebody who didn't have a lesson until this year.

"I learned by watching good golfers, by reading books and magazines, by friends who gave me tips. One friend, Dean Ryder (a star on Tam's champions of the late 1960s) has a putting green, a driving area with a net and a video tape machine at his house, and he helped me a lot."

When he's not playing golf, he's playing something else. He was quarterback on the varsity football team last year, taking over after Tim Nowell was injured and finishing third in the Marin County Athletic League in passing. He played freshman baseball before dropping the sport for golf, and also played three years of basketball at Tam. This hyperactivity was one of the reasons he was chosen to be honored at the KTIM-radio Sportsman's Club Banquet May 10.

Golf remains his first love, however, and he is hoping for a scholarship. He is considering San Jose State and Arizona State, both golf powers, and is exploring Whitman College in Walla Walla, Wash.

"He's an intelligent player," says Wata. "He plays within his limitations and capacity, doesn't try to make foolish shots, plays the percentages, and is a hell of a good team player for this reason."

more than a brief appearance Saturday.

Endriss the coach counts himself among the fortunate group with an ample supply of mound help. He has senior right-hander Gene Frey, senior lefty Mark Ruggles and sophomore righty Ed Andersen, and in addition to their skill, the trio is experienced, having pitched the Giants to the TOC consolation title last year.

The appearance is Redwood's sixth in the 10th annual tourney, and the Giants' second straight. Rancho Cotate is back for the third straight year, while Salesian and Skyline are also repeaters. Salesian was second, Skyline fourth and Rancho last in 1972.

Winners of tomorrow's 3 and 5 p.m. games will meet Friday at 7 p.m., and the losers will meet Friday at 3. Winners of tomorrow's 7 and 9 p.m. games will meet Friday at 9, and losers at 5. Games Saturday are at 1, 3, 5 and 8 p.m.

Tickets cost $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students with identification cards and can be purchased at the gate. They are good for all four games on the day purchased.

All-Star Voting Begins Saturday

NEW YORK (UPI) — Balloting for the 1973 baseball all star squads begins Saturday when millions of ballot cards will be distributed in over 150 major and minor league ballparks in addition to retail stores across the U.S. and Canada which feature the Gillette displays.

The 1973 game will mark the 40th anniversary of the midsummer classic and will be played at Kansas City's New Royals stadium on Tuesday July 24.

Balloting will end Sunday July 8.

Indy Race Team Is Fined

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — A car qualified by Sam Posey and later "bumped" to standby status for next Monday's Indianapolis 500 was kicked out of the race Tuesday by the United States Auto Club on the grounds of misrepresentation.

In addition, USAC's director of competition, Dick King, announced a $1,000 fine against the champ Carr Racing Team of San Juan Capistrano, Calif., and a $250 fine and one-year probation for chief mechanic Jack McCormack.

USAC acted on the recommendation of Harlan Fengler, chief steward at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, who also fined the team $100.

King said the penalties were assessed "for attempting to misrepresent car no. 34 as car no. 31 by transferring serial numbers and decals."

"Evidence is conclusive that the team attempted to pass off car 34, which already had been qualified by Sam Posey, as car no. 31 — a purported new car," King said.

Champ Carr personnel had three days to appeal the USAC ruling.

USAC said the racing team would have to post a $5,000 bond, which would be returned at the end of the championship season, providing no other violations occur.

The ruling did not affect Champ Carr's no. 35 racer, which Jim McElreath will drive in Monday's million-dollar chase.

Car 34, a Norris-Eagle, was qualified by Posey on the first weekend of qualifications. It was bumped from the 33-car starting lineup on the second weekend of time trials and was inserted as the first alternate.

Both Fengler and King said the racing team tried to disguise car 34, making it appear to be no. 31, in an effort to requalify it for the race. Under rules for the Indianapolis race, a car cannot be qualified more than once.

Car 31 reportedly was a backup machine which arrived at the speedway only last week, not in time to prepare it for time trials.

Tom Bigelow's car was elevated to the first standby position, and Jim Hurtubise's racer is now the second alternate.

Rentzel Given Fine, Jail

Combined AP & UPI

LOS ANGELES — Los Angeles Rams football player Lance Rentzel Tuesday was fined $2,000 and sentenced to 90 days in jail as a condition of his three year's probation for possession of marijuana.

However, superior court judge William Caldecott stayed the term pending the outcome of Rentzel's appeal based on defense contentions that the police search resulting in the charges was illegal.

The 29-year-old Rentzel had pleaded guilty to the charge April 24 after unsuccessfully attempting to have the case thrown out on the illegal search and seizure claim.

LOS ANGELES — Carroll Rosenbloom, owner of the Los Angeles Rams, and Tommy Prothro, the coach he fired, announced an out-of-court settlement Tuesday to Prothro's $1.9 million breach of contract suit against Rosenbloom.

The settlement figure was not announced.

Baseball

LOS ANGELES — Former Los Angeles Dodgers pitching star Don Drysdale won $100,000 in the settlement of a breach of contract suit involving a horse-breeding ranch near San Diego, court records disclosed Tuesday.

The settlement was reached Monday during trial of the case before superior court judge Sidney W. Kaufman, who dismissed the jury when the agreement was announced.

ATLANTA — The Atlanta Braves, hoping to boost their record against left-handed pitching, have picked up versatile right-handed hitter Larry Howard from the Houston Astros.

HOUSTON — The Houston Astros found out quickly Tuesday that "life at the top is painful" when two of their key players were sidelined for several days following injuries in this weekend's series with the San Francisco Giants.

Cesar Cedeno, the Astros' slugging centerfielder, will be out for about three days after suffering a pulled rib muscle throwing to the infield and second baseman Tommy Helms sprained his toe stepping on first base during Monday's game and will be out several days.

Hockey

BOSTON — The Boston Bruins, moving swiftly to replace the retired Jacques Plante and shore up their goaltending problems, dealt off center Fred Stanfield Tuesday to the Minnesota North Stars for goalie Gilles Gilbert.

GOLF

PHILADELPHIA — In a classic example of "you help me and I'll help you," Jack Nicklaus agreed Tuesday to play in the IVB golf tournament at Whitemarsh Valley Country Club June 7-10 because he felt the similarities of the Whitemarsh course and nearby Oakmont (site of the U.S. Open) would be to his advantage.

Basketball

BUFFALO — Ernie DiGregorio, the All-American basketball guard from Providence College, could become a millionaire today.

The Buffalo Braves of the National Basketball Association, who figured it would take at least $1 million to lure DiGregorio from the Kentucky Colonels of the American Basketball Association.

Tennis

CHICAGO — The formation of a professional tennis league, World Team Tennis, was announced and George MacCall, nonplaying captain of three U.S. Davis Cup teams, was named commissioner yesterday.

Only One Par Golfer In 'Open' Qualifying

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Brad Lozares, a 26-year-old Saratoga pro who shot 144 was the only golfer to equal par in the 36-hole local qualifier here for the U.S. Open Golf Championship sectional, but 16-year-old Mark Tinder of Monterey had the best 18-hole round.

Tinder bogeyed the first two holes in Tuesday's round and at that point was eight over par on Silverado Country Club's 6,619-yard, par 35-37-72 course.

With 14 places in the June 4 sectional qualifier at Orange, Calif., at stake, Tinder trailed half the field of 83 when he caught fire and birdied five of the last 16 holes.

That gave him a 69 to go with a 78 Monday for 147 and a tie for runnerup with Steve Taylor, 23, Carmichael pro who had 72-75-147.

Lozares' 71 Tuesday, following a 73 Monday, was the only other sub-par round in the two days as tough pin placements and high rough pushed scores upward.

Pros Mike Butler of San Francisco, 76-72-148, and Dave Sheff of Fountain Valley, 75-74-149, were fourth and fifth, and two amateurs, Ward Trask of Pleasant Hill and Michael Stoltz of Sonora were in a four-way tie for sixth, both with 74-75-150. The pro pair at 150 were Len Studinger of San Francisco, who shot 72 Monday to share the lead with Taylor, and Buddy Sullivan, former head pro at Marin Country Club and now of Santa Cruz, 76-74.

Marysville pro Guy Bill and amateurs Armando Claudio of Milpitas and Dean May of Lake Arrowhead tied at 152, and Bill bogeyed the second playoff hole while the others parred to advance to the sectional. Bill became first alternate.

Marin Country Club assistant pro Paul Fakundiny shot 77-81 and failed to qualify, and Marin Country Club teaching pro Bill Henderson missed but his final score was unavailable.

The two teams go at it again tonight with Giant Jim Willoughby (3-3) slated to oppose Ron Reed (2-4).

BOATING

By STAN DAVIES

Some Regulations Getting Tougher

Sixty-seven per cent of all motorboats registered in the United States are Class A craft — under 16 feet in length. This class of boat is also the most frequently involved in accidents.

The other classes of boats are: Class I - 16 feet to 25; Class II - 26 feet to 29; Class III - 40 to 65 feet.

There are new rules in effect regarding safety equipment this summer brought into force by the Federal Boat Safety Act of 1971, and the Coast Guard will be enforcing the rules particularly strictly in connection with the Class A craft.

Most stringent checks will be made in connection with "personal flotation devices" — PFDs. The Coast Guard has dropped expressions such as life-preservers or life-jackets in official terminology. The term PFD includes such things as buoyant cushions, life vests, life jackets and ring buoys.

The Coast Guard safety checks of small craft will include eight significant areas, the most important being the PDF's aboard. Here briefly are the rules governing them:

Buoyand cusions are acceptable PFDs on all boats less than 40 feet in length not carrying passengers for hire. There must be one for each person aboard.

Boats over 40 feet (Class III) must carry full, jacket-type PFD's or ring life-buoys for each person aboard. Buoyant cushions are not acceptable.

Boats under 16 feet must carry at least one throwable PFD — a buoyant cushion or a ring buoy, plus at least one buoyant cushion for each person aboard.

Boats 16 feet and over must carry a wearable PFD — that's the jacket type — for each person aboard, plus one throwable device.

Class A boats are the only boats for which the throwable device is acceptable as one of the required number of PFDs.

Only exception to the rule that all boats carry one throwable device would be if only one person were aboard, or if everyone were wearing a PFD.

Besides life saving equipment, the Coast Guard check includes seven other areas of safety: fire-fighting devices, overloading of the boat, proper navigation lights when the boat is operated between sunset and sunrise, leakage of fuel from the fuel system or engine, accumulation of fuel in the bilges, and the ventilation and backfire control requirements as have been in effect for several years.

The decision on whether a boat should be sent back to dock for a violation of any of the safety points rests entirely with the Coast Guard inspecting officer.

If on-the-scene corrections can be made, if's very likely the boat will be allowed to proceed.

It's going to be a tough year on unsafe boats.

Safety always brings questions, as for example.

Q. Do we need a life preserver for our six-months-old child?

A. The law is clear. It says for each "person" aboard, and surely you consider your baby a person. There is one serious consideration in PFDs for small children. Make sure they FIT, or that they have additional tying tapes so that if there is an emergency the baby won't slip out of the life-jacket.

Q. I've heard some discouraging reports about the efficiency of buoyant cushions. Now I see they are highly regarded by the Coast Guard as PFDs. Do they have merit?

A. In small craft where an emergency arises very quickly, they are extremely useful because they can be grabbed quickly. A cushion can be in your hands a lot faster than a jacket type PFD can be put on. However, in long exposures, cushions will not keep one's head out of water if the wearer passes out from cold — a fairly common possibility in the north.

Q. Is it compulsory for a water skier to wear a life jacket?

A. A few states have made this a law, or have bills being considered. Check your state boating law. In any case, a water skier is regarded as a passenger and there must be a PFD in the boat for the skier being towed.

Phoenix Giants Leading League In Batting

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Jeff Mason of Phoenix is the leader in hitting in latest Pacific Coast League statistics at .373, but runner-up Steve Ontiveros is having the really big year.

Ontiveros, also of Phoenix, is hitting .369 and leads in runs scored with 34, hits with 52, total bases with 91, runs batted in with 33 and triples with 11. His amazing 11 triples in 38 games puts him well ahead of the record pace since Willie Davis set that mark with 26 at Spokane.

The third place hitter is another Phoenix performer, Jake Brown, at .364. In fact the Giants are hitting .313 as a team, yet trail Salt Lake in that department by a point.

Craig Kusick of Tacoma is the top home hitter with 10.

MINORS

Forry's Record Now 5-0

San Rafael's Dewey Forry is gaining a reputation as a workhorse reliever with the Los Angeles Dodgers' Bakersfield farm club in the California League.

The right-handed pitcher acquired two more wins in four games last week as he increased his unbeaten record to 5-0. He sports a sterling 1.00 earned run average in 18 innings toiled in 10 games this season, according to minor league baseball statistics from Player Periscope in Novato.

While Forry was having a good week, other Marin County players were having difficulties.

John Dolinsek of Novato batted .250 for the week and his seven hits included a home run, triple and double as his overall average dipped to .253 for Denver Astros of the American Association.

Tom Thomas of Novato, playing with the Salem, Va. Pirates of the Carolina League had six hits in 25 at bats as his average went to .284. His homer and four runs batted in ran his totals on the season to four and 14.

Cliff Hall of Marin City, with Quincy, Ill., (Cubs) of the Midwest League had three hits in 15 at bats for the week as his average slipped to .250. His 10 hits include a triple and two doubles.

Al Curtiss of Fairfax, had only two for 12 for the week and his batting mark fell to .115 for Burlington, Iowa, of the Midwest League, an A's farm club.

Russ Dillon of Novato, pitcher for Savannah Braves of the Southern League didn't see any action and his record remained at 0 wins, 1 loss and 7.50 earned run average.

Bears Trade Top Punt Returner

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ron Smith, the National Football League's kickoff return leader in 1972, was traded to the San Diego Chargers by the Chicago Bears Tuesday for an undisclosed draft choice next year.

Smith led the league in kickoff returns with 30 for 924 yards and a 30.8 average last season, earning three NFL career records—for most kickoff returns with 220, most kickoff return yards with 5,555, and most combined kickoff and punt returns, 387.

Bears Coach Abe Gibron said he felt Craig Clemons, a rookie last year, or Gary Lyle, recovering from a knee operation, would be able to replace Smith at strong safety while his No. 5 draft choice, Allen Ellis of UCLA, or veteran Bob Jeter also would get a try at the job.

Coaching School

NEW YORK (UPI) — There are 18 former New York Giants football players currently coaching in the National Football League. The list is headed by four head coaches, Tom Landry, Dick Nolan, Harland Svare and Alex Webster.

Borowiak Defeated In French Open

PARIS (UPI) — Jeff Borowiak became the first American casualty in the $150,000 French Open tennis championships Wednesday when he dropped his opening round singles match to French junior champion Jean-Loouis Haillet, 7-6, 7-6.

Borowiak of Berkeley, Calif., fought to 6-6 in both games but each time lost the tie-break 7-4.

Twice the game was halted — once for 10 minutes -while both players argued between themselves and with the umpire about calls.

In other men's first round matches, Rhodesia's Andrew Pattison defeated Briton Graham Stilwell 6-2, 6-1, in 45 minutes and Marcello Lara of Mexico ousted Frenchman Pierre Joly 7-6, 6-1.

Steve Siegel of Teaneck, N.J., lost to 44-year-old Danish pro Torben Ulrich 6-2, 7-6.

Rain began to fall just as Australia's Margaret Court began her quest for a third French title. Mrs. Court, top seeded to meet Florida's Chris Evert in the final, led Pam Peeguarden of Los Angeles 2-1 in the first set when heavy rain stopped all tournament play.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Twitchell Is No Slugger

By Associated Press

"I thought I was a pretty good hitter," Wayne Twitchell of the Philadelphia Phillies said Tuesday night.

The towering right-handed pitcher stepped to the plate four times and struck out four times, repeating his performance of May 16. That equaled the major league mark for most strikeouts by a batter in two consecutive games held by several players, including Dick Allen and Rick Monday.

"I really don't want that record, but I'm willing to strike out 50 times a game if I win," said the 6-foot-6, 25-year-old right-hander, who scattered 11 hits in beating Pittsburgh for the second time in a week, this one by a 7-4 score.

Elsewhere, St. Louis defeated the New York Mets 5-3, Montreal edged the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in 11 innings, San Francisco beat Atlanta 7-3, Cincinnati shaded Houston 6-4 and Los Angeles turned back San Diego.

American League scores: Chicago 6, California 2; Minnesota 8, Kansas City 2; Oakland 4, Texas 1; New York 7, Detroit 2; Milwaukee 4, Boston 2; Cleveland 5, Baltimore 3.

Twitchell may think he's a good hitter but Rick Wise of St. Louis knows he is and he proved it with a two-run double that keyed the Cardinals' five-run seventh inning against the Mets, breaking up a scoreless game.

Ron Fairly greeted relief pitcher Dave La Roche with a run-scoring single in the bottom of the 11th inning, giving Montreal its victory over the Cubs. With one out, Jack Aker was touched for a single by Ron Hunt and then walked Montreal pitcher Mike Marshall. Fairly then singled to left off LaRoche, scoring Hunt.

The Expos scored their first three runs on solo homers off Chicago starter Ferguson Jenkins by Ken Singleton, Bob Bailey and Mike Jorgensen.

Dave Concepcion drove home three runs with a double and single to pace the Reds over the Astros.

Clay Carroll, making his second straight start after three years as strictly a reliever, pitched the first five innings and held Houston to one run and three hits. Bob Gallagher hit a two-run pinch homer for the Astros off Ed Sprague.

Willie Crawford homered and drove in two runs and rookie Dave Lopes improved his league-leading average to .376 with two hits in leading Los Angeles over San Diego. Don Sutton scattered five hits.

Solving Reader's Problem Is Evaluation Of Various Dangers

"Here is a hand," writes a Chicago reader, "that went sour. Was declarer unlucky, or did he back the wrong horse?"

SOUTH LEADS

"South won the spade lead, drew trumps and then led clubs. East got two club tricks and South went down. Would an expert play the hand this way, seeing only his own hand and the dummy?"

An expert declarer would not draw trumps. He would take three top spades, discarding two clubs from the dummy. Then would cash the ace of clubs and the ace of diamonds and give up a club trick.

CROSSRUFF WORKS

From here on, South can ruff three clubs with dummy's high trumps. He gets to his own hand each time by ruffing diamonds.

The only real danger comes when South leads out the high spades. If East ruffs the second or third spade, South is in trouble.

SMALLER DANGER

Mathematically, this danger is far smaller than the danger of a bad club break. To put it very simply, a singleton club with only four clubs out is more likely than a singleton spade with nine spades out. The same applies to any other bad break in spades.

It isn't necessary, however, to work out the exact figures. The spade danger exists only if West has a very long spade suit. West would be likely to try a shutout bid of some kind with such a suit, and the fact that West remained silent should indiacte that the spades will break fairly normally.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:
♠ - 5
♥ - J 10 9 3
♦ - A Q 5 3
♣ - Q 10 5 2.
Who do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds, planning to show the heart support next.

Both the hand and the strength of the hearts are not quite good enough to jump immediately to three hearts. If the hearts were headed by the queen instead of by the jack you would jump to three hearts.

Flood Zone Board Sets Shut Session

The Ross Valley Flood Control Zone advisory board will meet in closed session tomorrow at 8:30 a.m. at Corte Madera Town Hall.

Purpose, said county flood control enginer Charles E. Murphy, is to discuss the zone's attempts to reach agreement with the Town of Ross on who should pay for flood control in the town. The town and the county, engaged in litigation over the problem, have been ordered by the courts to sort things out.

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON B. GREB

Surname Stoppers! Famous folks were born today but do you know their first names?

1. SHAW is 63 today. This band leader's recording of "Begin The Beguine" in 1938 made him a rival of Benny Goodman. Born in New York City, he took up the saxaphone in high school, then switched to the clarinet, forming his own aggregation in 1937. He retired from music in the late 40s. His first name is (A) Irwin, (B) Robert, (C) Arthur.

2. CLOONEY is 45 today. This cutie from Kentucky was a top vocalist in the 1940s and 50s, retiring from stage, screen, radio and television when she married Mel Ferrer. Her big records were "Come On-a My House," "Half as Much," and "Hey, There." She has been featured with Bing Crosby and played opposite him in the film, "White Christmas." Her first name is (A) Clara Belle, (B) Sarah Anne, (C) Rosemary.

3. GLEASON, Hollywood character actor, had the tough-talking accent of a New York gangster. During the 72 years of his life, he played stock vaudeville and comedy on Broadway, made his biggest hit as a fight manager in the film, "Here Comes Mr. Jordan." His first name was (A) Jackie, (B) Ralph, (C) Jimmy.

4. FAIRBANKS gave movies their first handsome, dashing hero. A natural athlete, this young man made a convincing swordsman in "The Mark of Zoro." With his wife Mary Pickford and friend Charles Chaplin, he helped organize United Artists in 1920. His first name was (A) Benjamin, (B) Charles, (C) Douglas.

ANSWERS: 1 - Artie Shaw; 2 - Rosemary Clooney; 3 - Jimmy Gleason; 4 - Douglas Fairbanks.

High Schools Slate Awards Banquet

The 14th annual community achievement awards banquet for Southern Sonoma high school students and their parents will be held at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at Casa Grande High School in Petaluma.

Chairman Herold Mahoney said that awards will be given to top academic students from Petaluma, St. Vincent, Rancho Cotate and Casa Grande high schools.

Put-Call Market Begun Recently

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am interested in knowing more about the new put and call market in Chicago. Would you please discuss this in your column? — H.H.

A. Gladly. Under the sponsorship of the largest commodity market in the world, The Chicago Board of Trade, a new option market began operations recently. Thus far only calls on sixteen Big Board stocks are being traded. Within a year the number should reach 100 and put options should also be included.

In contrast to previous OTC option transactions the new market allows an option buyer to sell his contract prior to exercise data. Furthermore, on the Chicago Board Option Exchange all contracts expire the last business day of January, April, July and October.

Volume on put and call options has traditionally represented about 1 per cent of the daily volume of the underlying securities. In its opening days CBOE trading has averaged about 91,000 shares or 14 per cent of the volume of the securities represented. Institutional activity is thought to account for 50 per cent to 65 per cent of trading to date.

Premiums currently range from a low of 3 per cent on a July Am. Telephone option to 32.5 per cent on a January contract on Northwest Airlines. In the case of Telephone, the buyer has paid $315 for the option to buy 100 shares at $50 before the end of July.

Northwest shares will have to advance 8¼ points or 32.5 per cent before the end of January for an option buyer to break even. Thus the market is indicating its belief that this latter is a strong possibility.

Included among the 600 members of the CBOE are several market makers who — like NYSE specialists — are responsible for providing liquidity by buying and selling for their own accounts. Each stock is handled by one board broker who is responsible for that market.

Customer orders from brokerage firms are filled by one of the several roving floor brokers. While options are still in the high-risk category, an orderly market has now been provided for traders interested in this form of speculation.

Stocks Turned Mixed In Moderate Trading

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks turned mixed today in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Activity slowed from the previous two sessions with investors apparently trying to evaluate President Nixon's latest remarks on Watergate. He conceded there had been a coverup of certain facts "for national security reasons," but said he never intended that cover-up to extend to the Watergate investigation.

In economic developments, indications of a new round of prime lending rate rises by the nation's banks became more pronounced as short-term rates have brought no objections from the Federal Reserve, in line with its recent moved to tighten credit.

Big Board gold mining issues lost ground as the price of gold of foreign bullion markets eased for the second consecutive day.

American South African lost 2, Dome Mines 2⅜, Campbell Red Lake 1⅝.

Glamor issues posted mostly small gains, but Polaroid advanced 3 and ARA Services dropped 1.

Eastman Kodak rose 1⅝, DuPont 1½ among stronger chemicals.

Electronics and computers moved irregularly. Burroughs gained 2¾, IBM 2 and Fairchild Camera 1⅛.

Steels, motors and rails moved indecisively in fractions. Airlines, led by Flying Tiger (ex dividend) up ¾, posted small gains.

Touristry Optimism

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — South Africa should be attracting at least one million tourists a year by the late 1970s, the government reported. There were 459,478 tourists in 1971.

LONGER TOYOTA

Toyota's new "stretched" half-ton pickup truck (right), which will be available at dealers by mid-summer, is a full 16 inches longer than the standard model (left). Also exclusive to the new model are larger six-ply rear tires. Toyota pickups offer an optional automatic transmission-bucket seat combination. Marin Dealers are Dexter Toyota in San Rafael and Novato Toyota.

Beer And Wine To Be Added At McNear Beach Snack Bar

McNear Beach Snack Bar at the county beach in east San Rafael plans to add beer and wine to its current menu of snacks and soft drinks.

Herbert H. Becker of Mill Valley, who opened the snack bar for the 1973 season two weekends ago, said he hopes to get his beer and wine license about the middle of June. He now serves sandwiches, hamburgers, hot dogs, candies and milk shakes.

Becker took over the McNear Beach Snack Bar this year, succeeding International Gourmet, which gave up the concession after operating it last year. "I've invested $5,000 in remodeling and equipping the snack bar at McNear Beach and intend to stay," said Becker.

Snack bar hours will correspond with the swimming pool hours. The McNear Beach pool is now open only on weekends but will open full time beginning June 11 and continue full time to Labor Day weekend, when it goes back to weekends.

Becker and his wife, Ruth, also operate a mobile snack bar at the top of Mount Tamalpais and a gift shop-snack bar at Mount Diablo in Contra Costa County. Becker has been in the food and restaurant management business for almost 20 years.

PARIS COIFFURES is the new name of the former Jaime's Townhouse beauty shop at 844 Third Street in San Rafael.

Andre Paris and his brother Brian Paris bought Jaime's last week from James Plunkett of San Rafael, who is moving to Southern California after operating the shop for three years.

Paris Coiffures provides hair cutting and styling for women.

Andre Paris has operated Jolie Madame beauty shop at Montecito Shopping Center in San Rafael for six years.

RALPH RICHARDSON, service manager at Dexter Toyota Inc., San Rafael, received the "National Toyota Service and Customer Relations Award" for the second year in a row. He won a ring and a plaque last year and a diamond was added this year.

JAMES V. DAVITTE of San Rafael has been appointed vice president of The Bank of California's properties and building division, San Francisco.

Richardson

Davitte

Davitte joined The Bank of California's properties and building division in 1962 as branch premise supervisor. In 1963 he was promoted to assistant cashier and in 1967 to assistant vice president.

MARSHALL INN at the town of Marshall, on the east shore of Tomales Bay, is under negotiation for sale to John and Patricia Vertigan, who have been managing the inn for the past year.

Marshall Hotel Inc., headed by Webster Otis of Ross, has applied for transfer of the liquor, beer and wine licenses to the Vertigans.

The Vertigans have just added a new dining area with seating for about 50 persons. Marshall Inn features sea foods and home-made clam chowders. It is closed on Monday and Tuesday and has live music on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

WARNING TO STUDENTS — The Better Business Bureau of San Francisco reports it has been besieged with inquiries about Odyssey Enterprises of Castroville, which offers summer jobs to students as "tour assistants" to Europe, Grand Canyon and Hawaii.

Applicants receive notification of tentative acceptance and then are directed to "Phase II" for final approval. This "rush application" requires a $2 fee. "There is no indication of how many tour assistants will be hired or if those not hired will be refunded the $2 fee," says BBB. "We urge caution in dealing with the firm. San Francisco BBB, in cooperation with regulatory agencies, is continuing its investigation into the matter."

CHINESE COOKING classes will be held at Moon's Tea Garden in Mill Valley beginning next month.

Jew Moon, who operates the Chinese restaurant at The Port, 393 Miller Avenue, will conduct weekly classes Monday mornings at 10:30. He will demonstrate the fundamentals of Chinese cooking and share the secrets of various provincial styles. Students will prepare and consume their own lunch.

MARIN MOTORSPORT INC. at 1101 Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael will build a new 6,000-square-foot industrial warehouse building next to the existing building by mid-July.

Merle (Sandy) Greenblat of San Rafael, owner of Marin Motorsport said the new building will be a one-story structure of wood-frame and stucco. He plans to lease the building for some kind of automotive or related use.

Marin Motorsports Inc. handles six different lines of foreign motorcycles.

FLORENCE NICHOLS of Florence Nichols Antiques shop at 7 Mary Street in San Rafael is back from a buying trip to the Orient, where she toured Tokyo, Bangkok, Manila, Hong Kong and points in between.

Varner/Ward will lease you a '73 Monte Carlo S Coupe for $96.07 mo. or $88.42 mo. or $76.69 mo.
(or whatever monthly payment best fits your budget).
How does Varner/Ward do it? We have over 9,000 cars on lease. We are one of the largest independent automobile leasing companies in the West. We use our strong purchasing power and large line of bank credit to write a lease you can comfortably afford. We structure the length and monthly terms to fit your budget on any make, any model, equipped the way you want it!
We feel there is no one best way to lease a car to everybody. There is, however, one way that's best for you. You can make large monthly payments, or medium-sized, or small. If you have GOOD CREDIT, the monthly payments you make with a Varner/Ward lease are pretty much up to you.
Examples:
1973 Monte Carlo S Coupe (See prices above.) 350 Cu. In. Engine. Air Conditioning. Automatic Transmission. Power Steering. Power Brakes. Radio. Tinted Glass. Opera Window. Radial Ply Whitewall Tires.
1973 Buick Century Luxus Colonnade Hardtop Coupe Air Conditioning. Automatic Transmission. Power Steering. Power Brakes. Radio. Tinted Glass. Opera Window. Whitewall Tires. $94.50/mo. or $85.50/mo. or $74.86/mo.
1973 Ford LTD Brougham 2-Dr. Hardtop 400 Cu. In. Engine. Cruisomatic. Air Conditioning. Power Steering. Power Disc Brakes. Radio. Body Mouldings. Brougham Interior. $98.67/mo. or $89.70/mo. or $77.89/mo.
Plus use tax and license.
No down payment. No deposit.
Varner/Ward Leasing
We're not out to sell you anything.

Nixon Admits He Placed Limit On Watergate Probe

'National Security Operations' Given As Reason For Covering Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon disclosed for the first time Tuesday he had ordered his two top aides, H. R. Haldeman and John D. Erlichman, to limit the Watergate investigation.

He said he did it to protect highly sensitive "national security operations" being conducted by the CIA and the White House and not to impede bringing wrong-doers to justice.

But he conceded that some of his aides probably went beyond his directives and attempted to hide illegal activities which they and others had undertaken in his behalf.

Nixon also revealed that he was so concerned about leaks of sensitive government secrets and domestic violence in 1970 that he approved a plan allowing federal agents to break and enter premises but withdrew the plan because of objections from then FBI director J. Edgar Hoover.

The disclosures came in an 8-page statement in which Nixon admitted — also for the first time — that other "unethical as well as illegal activities" were committed by his supporters during the 1972 campaign.

He firmly denied any personal wrong-doing beyond a failure to be more vigilant in preventing them.

"None of these took place with my specific approval or knowledge," he said. "To the extent that I may in any way have contributed to the climate in which they took place, I did not intend to."

He said he had no prior knowledge of the Watergate break-in, did not participate in and was not aware of the cover-up attempt and did not authorize executive clemency or payments to any of the Watergate burglars to hush them up.

"I considered it my responsibility to see that the Watergate case did not impinge adversely upon the national security area," he said.

"With hindsight, it is apparent that I should have given more heed to the warning signals I received along the way about a Watergate cover-up and less to the reassurances."

He confirmed in perhaps one of his most damaging admissions that one early warning had come from L. Patrick Gray III, then acting director of the FBI. Gray, he said, had told him as early as last July 6 — three weeks after the break-in and four months before the election — that some ranking Nixon aides may have been involved in the cover-up.

"I told him to press ahead with his investigation," Nixon said, but did not explain why he apparently ignored this warning when he told newsmen six weeks later—on Aug. 27—that nobody then on his White House staff was involved.

The statement was the most comprehensive presentation yet of how the President personally became aware of the scope of Watergate. It came as more details were unfolding daily in the televised Senate investigations into the matter.

He made these points:

—The truth about the Watergate affair should be brought out in an orderly fashion and he was lifting executive privilege to allow his aides to testify freely in the case.

—He was so concerned about the leaks of national security information in the Pentagon Papers that he set up a special White House unit headed by Egil Krogh and directed it to find out all it could about Dan-

GOING TO GRADUATION

With graduation time upon them, David Walters and his date, Cindy Criminger, both of whom attend Buford High School in Lancaster, S.C., didn't want to be late today for the graduation ceremonies so they hopped onto David's motorcycle and, with gowns flying in the wind, headed for school. Kissinger Prepares For Return To U.S.

PARIS (UPI) — Vietnam negotiators Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho completed a week's talks on cease-fire violations today and Kissinger prepared to leave immediately for the United States.

No agreement was announced immediately by the two sides and Tho, the Hanoi negotiator, said he would stay in Paris.

Caulfield Believed Nixon Knew Of Clemency Offers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former White House aide John L. Caulfield testified today that he reluctantly carried offers of executive clemency to Watergate conspirator James W. McCord Jr. and he believed that President Nixon probabey knew about it.

"I believed I was doing something for the President of the United States," Caulfield said in 79 minutes of nationally televised testimony on his second day before the Senate Watergate investigating committee.

"In my mind, I felt the President probably did know about it," he added, saying he knew he was acting illegally in conveying the offers.

Caulfield, 44, a former award-winning New York policeman, testified in serious, somber tones of deep inner conflict over discussing executive clemency with McCord, allegedly on orders of White House Counsel John W. Dean III.

Caulfield said he felt it was a "great honor" to have served on the President's staff and that he was "loyal, very loyal" to Nixon.

Nixon Tuesday reiterated his claim that he never made any offers of executive clemency to the Watergate defendants or authorized anyone else to make them.

Caulfield said that he tried to avoid the Dean assignment "but I was not successful."

"There was a definite conflict, you're absolutely right," Caulfield told Sen. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., R-Conn. "I knew the offer of executive clemency was wrong, I know. But the loyalty to the President overrode those considerations."

JOHN J. CAULFIELD
Knew it was wrong

ANTHONY ULASEWICZ
Offer of Clemency

Caulfield testified thaton the afternoon of the Watergate break-in, he got a call from a Secret Service agent who told him that McCord had been arrested and was using a false name. He said the agent asked whether he should call John D. Ehrlichman, one of Nixon's top two aides.

"After I recovered from the shock, I said you go ahead and try to reach him and I will too," Caulfield testified.

When he reached Ehrlichman at home, Caulfield said he told him, "John, it sounds like a disaster."

Caulfield said Ehrlichman asked, "What's this all about?"

"I haven't the foggiest," Caulfield replied.

"I think there was a long silence," Caulfield said, adding that he said to Ehrlichman, "My God, I can't believe it."

Caulfield testified that Ehrlichman said to him "I think I had better place a call to John Mitchell." Caulfield said he replied, "I think that would be appropriate."

Mitchell, the former attorney general was Nixon's campaign manager at the time. He resigned two weeks later.

Caulfield said he had come from "a very humble background" —he grew up in the Bronx and was a New York City cop —and that he felt "great honor" in serving on the President's staff.

He said his loyalty to Nixon overrode his knowledge that in offering McCord executive clemency, he could be charged with obstructing justice.

In the lightest moment so far in the four days of hearings, another former White House aide, Anthony T. Ulasewicz, testified that if he had tried to bug the Democratic national headquarters, "I wouldn't have walked in with an army."

McCord was the electronics expert on a team of five men who were arrested inside the Democratic offices at the Watergate complex early June 17, 1972. The scandal that grew from that incident has shaken the Nixon administration.

"If it is a question of obtaining information from a Democratic party or Republican or anybody else, the easiest way is to write a postal card and ask them to mail you all their leaflets," Ulasewicz said.

"They'll put you on (the mailing list) and, brother, you'll have everything," he added.

Ulasewicz was called to testify as the man who established communication between McCord and Caulfield.

Ulasewicz had worked for Caulfield on the White House staff before going on the payroll of Herbert W. Kalmbach, Nixon's personal lawyer.

Probe By Grand Jury Requested In Novato

Investigation Asked Into Police Chief's Quitting

By FRANK FARRARA

The Novato City Council, although convinced of no wrongdoing, last night requested the Marin County Grand Jury to investigate the circumstances surrounding the resignation of Police Chief Allen V. Klemme, (Other Novato City Council stories, page 13.)

Mayor Fred F. Ruegg said the council was asking for the investigation because allegations and insinuations in the press concerning Chief Klemme, the police department, City Mgr. Charles A. Brown and city council members have been "upsetting" to Novato residents and have the effect of undermining confidence in city government.

The councilmen said they were sending the matter to the grand jury to demonstrate their conviction that there was no wrongdoing.

They asked that the grand jury make public its findings and pledged cooperation, saying they will instruct all city employees to cooperate with the grand jury and "submit to it whatever material it considers pertinent."

After a 70-minute closed session in Brown's office, the council opened its regular session with two statements, each calling for a grand jury investigation, statements Ruegg said were "hammered out" in the closed session.

The majority statement, signed by Ruegg, George C. Quesada and Dorothy P. Young, differed only in manner of presentation from the minority report signed by David Price Jones and F. Wayne Sartain.

The majority report, more colorfully worded, said "there is no Watergate in the city of Novato. The treatment of the Klemme episode in the Novato Advance, particularly at this time when governmental credibility is in doubt nationwide, has caused a number of citizens grave concern about the local situation. The Novato City Council would like to set the record straight."

"There is no scandal. No wrongdoing is being covered up. No scoundrels are being protected. No one's silence has been bought."

The majority report said police officers made accusations concerning Chief Klemme's activities and performance to Brown last November, but he (Brown) didn't resolve the question until February.

"This delay was questionable judgment on the city manager's part, which he admits," the report said.

Brown, according to the majority statement, concluded:

That Chief Klemme no longer commanded the confidence of his men or his superior;

That the accusations didn't constitute any violation of law which would warrant criminal prosecution and neither required or justified summary, immediate dismissal;

That the chief should be al-

AGAINST NOVATO CHIEF

Police Group Asks That Charges Be Made Public

The Novato Police Association has asked that the police charges against retiring Chief Allen V. Klemme be made public, charges it believes have been mislabeled by City Mgr. Charles A. Brown.

The association's attorney, J. D. (Pat) Burdick, asking in a letter that the Novato City Council make public "written statements of fact" provided by police officers, wrote: "If the city council does not wish to make the written statements public, I then request at a minimum, that the officers be authorized to make the statements public, without fear of reprisal upon any trumped-up charge of having violated departmental or city regulations regarding grievance procedure or violating the chain of command."

When Chief Klemme announced his resignation April 26, he and Brown issued statements declaring differences between them and saying it was "mutually decided" that the chief resign. Neither mentioned charges against the chief.

Brown, at last night's council meeting said "at no time have I intended, as Mr. Burdick suggests, to 'reflect unfairly upon the integrity, the judgment and fitness for office of the members of the Novato police department.' "

"If anything I have said has given this impression, I am sincerely sorry," Brown said. "I will publicly repeat my statement that we should continually strive to achieve closer communication so as to avoid such misunderstandings."

Brown said he didn't receive the association's letter, addressed to the council until 3 p.m., yesterday. It wasn't on the council's agenda last night.

Brown said, "A great deal of friction has been created since the start of this matter which can be traced to misstatements or misquotes by the press."

Burdick wrote that last November some members of the police department gave Brown information about the operation of the department and activities of Chief Klemme which they believed deserved an immediate investigation.

(To date, acting on Burdick's advise, the police officers haven't disclosed the nature of the charges.)

When the report was made to Brown in November, according to Burdick, Brown "represented to members of the police department who made the reports," that if the matters were corroborated, the "chief should be immediately discharged."

As months passed, Brown failed to act or indicate his intended action, Burdick wrote, and on March 21 "Brown finally advised counsel and the association Chief Klemme would be terminated as of June 1, 1973."

Despite these reassurances, Burdick said, Brown was quoted in newspapers as saying that rumors of major personnel changes in the department were unfounded.

(On April 5 Brown told the Independent-Journal that rumors of the imminent resignation of Chief Klemme were false and speculated they may have arisen from Brown's having been asked to intervene in an internal dispute.)

Burdick said because the newspaper stories failed to disclose the true situation, officers felt they "unfairly reflected on the department and its personnel."

At a meeting with police department personnel April 10, Brown said he had evidence that "some of the facts that the members had brought to his attention concerning Chief Klemme were fabrications, that others were gross exaggerations and that the charges made were for the most part, trivial and inconsequential," Burdick said.

At a closed meeting with the Novato City Council April 26, Burdick said he offered to produce all the officers, who supplied "facts" to Brown, to testify under oath and be cross-examined, but the offer was declined by the council and by Brown.

It was agreed that if Brown

British Sex Scandal Probe Is Called For

LONDON (UPI) — Lord Lambton, a government minister who resigned Tuesday night in a new British government sex and security scandal, said today he had a "casual acquaintance" with a call girl and a couple of her friends but denied there had been a security risk or blackmail.

Lord Lambton, 50, quit abruptly Tuesday night "for personal and health reasons" as Parliament undersecretary for the Royal Air Force.

Government sources said Prime Minister Edward Heath ordered an exhaustive probe and no Watergate-style cover up or whitewash.

A spokesman for Scotland Yard said the matter is being reported to Director of Public Prosecutions Sir Norman Skel' horne for possible action.

Heath will make a statement to Parliament tomorrow on the affair, government officials said. They said there would be no official comment until then.

Labor opposition members ot Parliament bombarded the government with demands for an explanation of the allegations first published by the West German magazine Stern.

"This is the sordid story," Lambton said today in a formal statement issued by an aide in his Berwick-on-Tweed constituency. "All that happened is that some sneak pimp has seen an opportunity of making money by the sale of the story and secret photographs to papers at home and abroad."

"I behaved with credulous stupidity," Lord Lambton added. "I must repeat that there has been no high life vice ring, no security leak, no blackmail and, as far as I know, no politician of any party is remotely connected with these events."

Dollar Up On Market In Europe

LONDON (UPI) — The dollar gained ground in early trading in Europe today in response to President Nixon's reaffirmation that he will remain in office. But dealers said the demand for gold increased, reflecting distrust in Nixon's ability to govern effectively.

The dollar registered gains on foreign currency markets in London, Frankfurt and Zurich.

In London, the dollar opened at $2.56 to the pound, up from yesterdays closing rate of $2.5615.

On the Frankfurt exchange, the dollar opened at 2.7430 marks but by mid-morning had moved up to 2.7500 marks.

In Zurich the dollar opened between 3.1025 and 3.1075 Swiss francs against Tuesday's closing range of 3.0990 and 3.1040 francs.

The price of gold was pegged at $111 an ounce in the first of twice-daily price settings on the London gold market, up 25 cents from yesterdays closing of $110.75.

Vesco Case Said A Real Shocker

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (UPI) — A business associate of financier Robert Vesco said today that disclosure of all details in a case that led to the resignation of G. Bradford Cook as chairman of the Security and Exchange Commission (SEC) "will startle the world" and destroy investor confidence in U.S. securities around the world.

Cook resigned last Wednesday in the wake of allegations that he deleted all references to a secret $200,000 contribution to President Nixon's reelection campaign from an SEC complaint against Vesco.

Norman P. LeBlanc, a Canadian citizen once identified by the SEC as an officer in several subsidiaries of the huge Investors Overseas Services, Ltd., (IOS) mutual fund complex founded by Bernard Cornfeld, also referred in his statement today to an SEC suit filed last Nov. 27 against himself, Vesco and 39 other persons and companies.

"The full disclosure of the circumstances that forced the resignation of G. Bradford Cook will startle the world in what will be known as the biggest scandal that ever rocked a U.S. government agency and will destroy investor confidence in U.S. securities throughout the world," LeBlanc said.

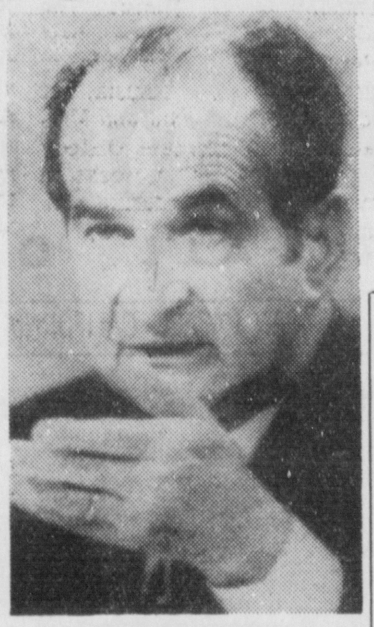
LeBlanc's statement named recently dismissed presidential counsel John Dean III, William Casey, and several members of the EC including G. Bradford Cook, Irving Pollack, Stanley Sporkin and "perhaps other officials of the SEC unknown to me."

Casey preceded Cook as chairman of the SEC. Pollack has been a member of the SEC since 1946 but Sporkin was not immediately identified.

The SEC suit filed last November accused Vesco and 40 other individuals and companies associated with him of draining more than $224 million in assets from four mutual funds holding American securities.

In another development, a spokesman for Vesco, Raul Espinosa, said the onetime New Jersey executive would return to New York to stand trial on another related case only if assured of a fair trial.

That case involves two former Nixon cabinet officers.



JOSE FIGUERES
Denies wrongdoing

Former Attorney General John N. Mitchell, former Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans, Vesco and another man were indicted in New York last week on charges stemming from the secret $200,000 contribution Vesco made towards the Nixon campaign.
gn.

President Jose Figueres told nationwide radio and television audiences late Tuesday that he was innocent of any wrongdoing in his relationship with Vesco.

Figueres made the speech after allegations Vesco-owned companies placed more than $300,000 in Figueres' bank account in New York.

During an hour-long speech, Figueres accounted for funds totaling $436,000 that moved through a New York bank account in his name, but he said the money was meant for causes as varied as a national symphony orchestra and a factory to build pre-fabricated houses.

Of the $436,000, he said "some of this money" came from the same bank Vesco uses in the Bahamas, but he indicated this was a coincidence.

His speech followed a report by the Wall Street Journal that $325,000 was transferred into Figueres' account in New York.

The speech also came after demands by Costa Rican politicians that Figueres strip Vesco of his new Costa Rican citizenship and bar him from the country.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

House Reluctance

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House members appeared reluctant today to join the Senate in overriding President Nixon's veto of a measure that would subject the administration's two top budget makers to Senate confirmation.

The House leadership was undecided whether to bring the veto to the floor for a vote today, delay it until tomorrow or possibly even wait until after the brief Memorial Day recess.

The Senate voted 62-22 yesterday to override the veto of a bill which would require the current director and deputy director of the Office of Management and Budget to receive Senate confirmation.

Trucks Destroyed

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — U.S. jet fighters today bombed and destroyed two Communist trucks while flying in support of beleaguered Cambodian ground troops on Route 5, field reports said.

The reports said at least two Cambodian troops were killed and seven wounded in an attack by rebel forces in the area 35 miles north of Phnom Penh, where the government soldiers are inching forward in an attempt to clear the highway.

Possible SEC Post

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Brian R. Van Camp, California corporations commissioner, says he is being considered by the White House as a contender for chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Van Camp, 32, said yesterday he had discussed the position with a spokesman of the White House Office of Management and Budget and would be interviewed in California next week.

"I'll be in Washington in the middle of June and they expressed desire to see me at that time too," said Van Camp, a Republican who was appointed to his present post by Gov. Ronald Reagan in August, 1972.

Foreign Aid Battle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The annual foreign aid battle in Congress is under way with a 43 per cent slash of military assistance by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The committee junked a $1.3 billion administration bill for arms to foreign countries yesterday and substituted its own product, a $740 million remnant that relieves the Pentagon of jurisdiction over aid to Indochina.

The bill continues an attitude of Congressional defiance towards administration foreign policy proposals, particularly those associated with Indochina.

Belfast Violence

BELFAST (UPI) — Mobs angered by the death of a Roman Catholic man who was injured in Londonderry rioting last week, battled British troops in Catholic areas of the city early today. No casualties were reported.

Thomas Friel, 21, injured in clashes with troops who fired rubber bullets at rioters last Thursday night, was the 802nd person to die in almost four years of violence among Northern Ireland's minority Catholics, majority Protestants and British forces.

Violations Low

SAIGON (UPI) — The Saigon command reported a new low in Communist cease-fire violations today, 58 over the past 24 hours, but said it was too early to call the drop significant.

It was the lowest number of Communist attacks alleged by Saigon in any 24-hour period since the Jan. 28 cease-fire.

Despite the record low, however, a command spokesman said fierce fighting at dawn today near Kien Thien, 125 miles southwest of Saigon, left 27 Communists and three government militiamen dead. He said another 12 Communists and one militiaman died late yesterday in fighting as close as eight miles from downtown Saigon.

Rogers' Efforts

BRASILIA, Brazil (UPI) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers made an effort yesterday to ease what aides called Latin American concern that the United States may downgrade foreign commitments in favor of a new isolationism.

"There is no such thing as isolationism anymore," Rogers told officials during his 28-hour visit to Brazil, the sixth stop on an eight-nation tour that ends next Monday.

"What happens in one part of the world has its effects on others," he added. "That's why we feel that there is no such thing as isolationism anymore."

Finnish Strike

HELSINKI (UPI) — The hotline linking Washington and Moscow and nearly all international communications between Finland and the outside world were cut today by a strike of Finnish telephone workers.

A telephone company spokesman said the only international lines available were two lines to Moscow.

At the beginning of the strike, now entering its third week, telephone workers said they would maintain the security conference international lines.

The service of all international news agencies to and from Finland was also cut, the spokesman said.

Smell Is Tipoff To Stolen Truck

ISABELLA, Pa. (UPI) — State police found a stolen garbage truck Tuesday parked along a rural road near this southwestern Pennsylvania village after passing motorists complained about a foul odor.

The $6,000 truck, owned by Robert Donan, of nearby Rice Landing, was stolen early Monday with a full load of garbage.

Will Retire

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Jules C. Stein, 77, an opthalmologist who founded Music Corporation of America in 1924 to handle bookings for musicians, announced yesterday he will retire next month as chairman of the board of the firm. MCA, which has grown to one of the giants of the movie and television industry, is the parent firm of Universal Pictures.

Innocent Plea Is Made To Theft

An 18-year-old musician, charged with stealing musical instruments from Terra Linda High School, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court.

Following the plea Monday by Kenneth Richard Garcia of Walnut Creek, Judge Gary W. Thomas set a preliminary hearing for May 31.

Garcia turned himself in to San Rafael police March 10 after officers had notified a family he was visiting that they wanted to question him.

On March 8, cymbals valued at $250, a drum stand, drum sticks and a French horn case were taken from the school's music room, police said.

However, a grand theft charge was not filed against Garcia until three weeks later when he was sent a letter to appear in court.

Marinwood Area To Be Patrolled

The Marinwood area will be patrolled until July 4 for illegal fireworks, Fire Chief Gaylord E. Bonfield said today.

"Either possession or shooting of fireworks is illegal in Marin County," the chief said.

All seven community firemen are special deputy sheriffs with authority to cite anyone with fireworks, he said. Juveniles cited must appear before juvenile authorities with their parents, the chief said.

Library Display

Fairfax artists Barbara and Joel House will display eight wash drawings and five abstracts at the Marin Civic Center Library until June 2.

Trip To Tunisia Out For Daughter

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Superior Court Judge Jack Swink ruled Monday that actress Dyan Cannon may not take her daughter by Cary Grant to Tunisia.

Miss Cannon was awarded custody of the child, Jennifer, 7, after her divorce from Grant five years ago, but needs the court's permission to take her out of the state.

She wanted Jennifer to accompany her to Tunisia. The judge said it was in the "best interests" of the girl not to allow her to go to Tunisia, but did not explain. Grant and Miss Cannon will alternate custody of the girl every 2-4 weeks in several countries during the summer.

Monthly Disease Totals Reported

With 80 cases reported, streptococcus infection was the most prevalent communicable disease last week in Marin County, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

There also were 33 cases of gonorrhea, four of syphilis and three of infectious hepatitis reported, she said.

Tourists Provide Music For Cave

LEASBURG, Mo. (AP) — The stereo system at Onondaga Cave on U.S. 66 here, has the latest songs on it from the new film musical, "Tom Sawyer." The reason is that the musical shot several scenes at the cave.

Tourists are given the words from the song so they can sing as they tour the cave.

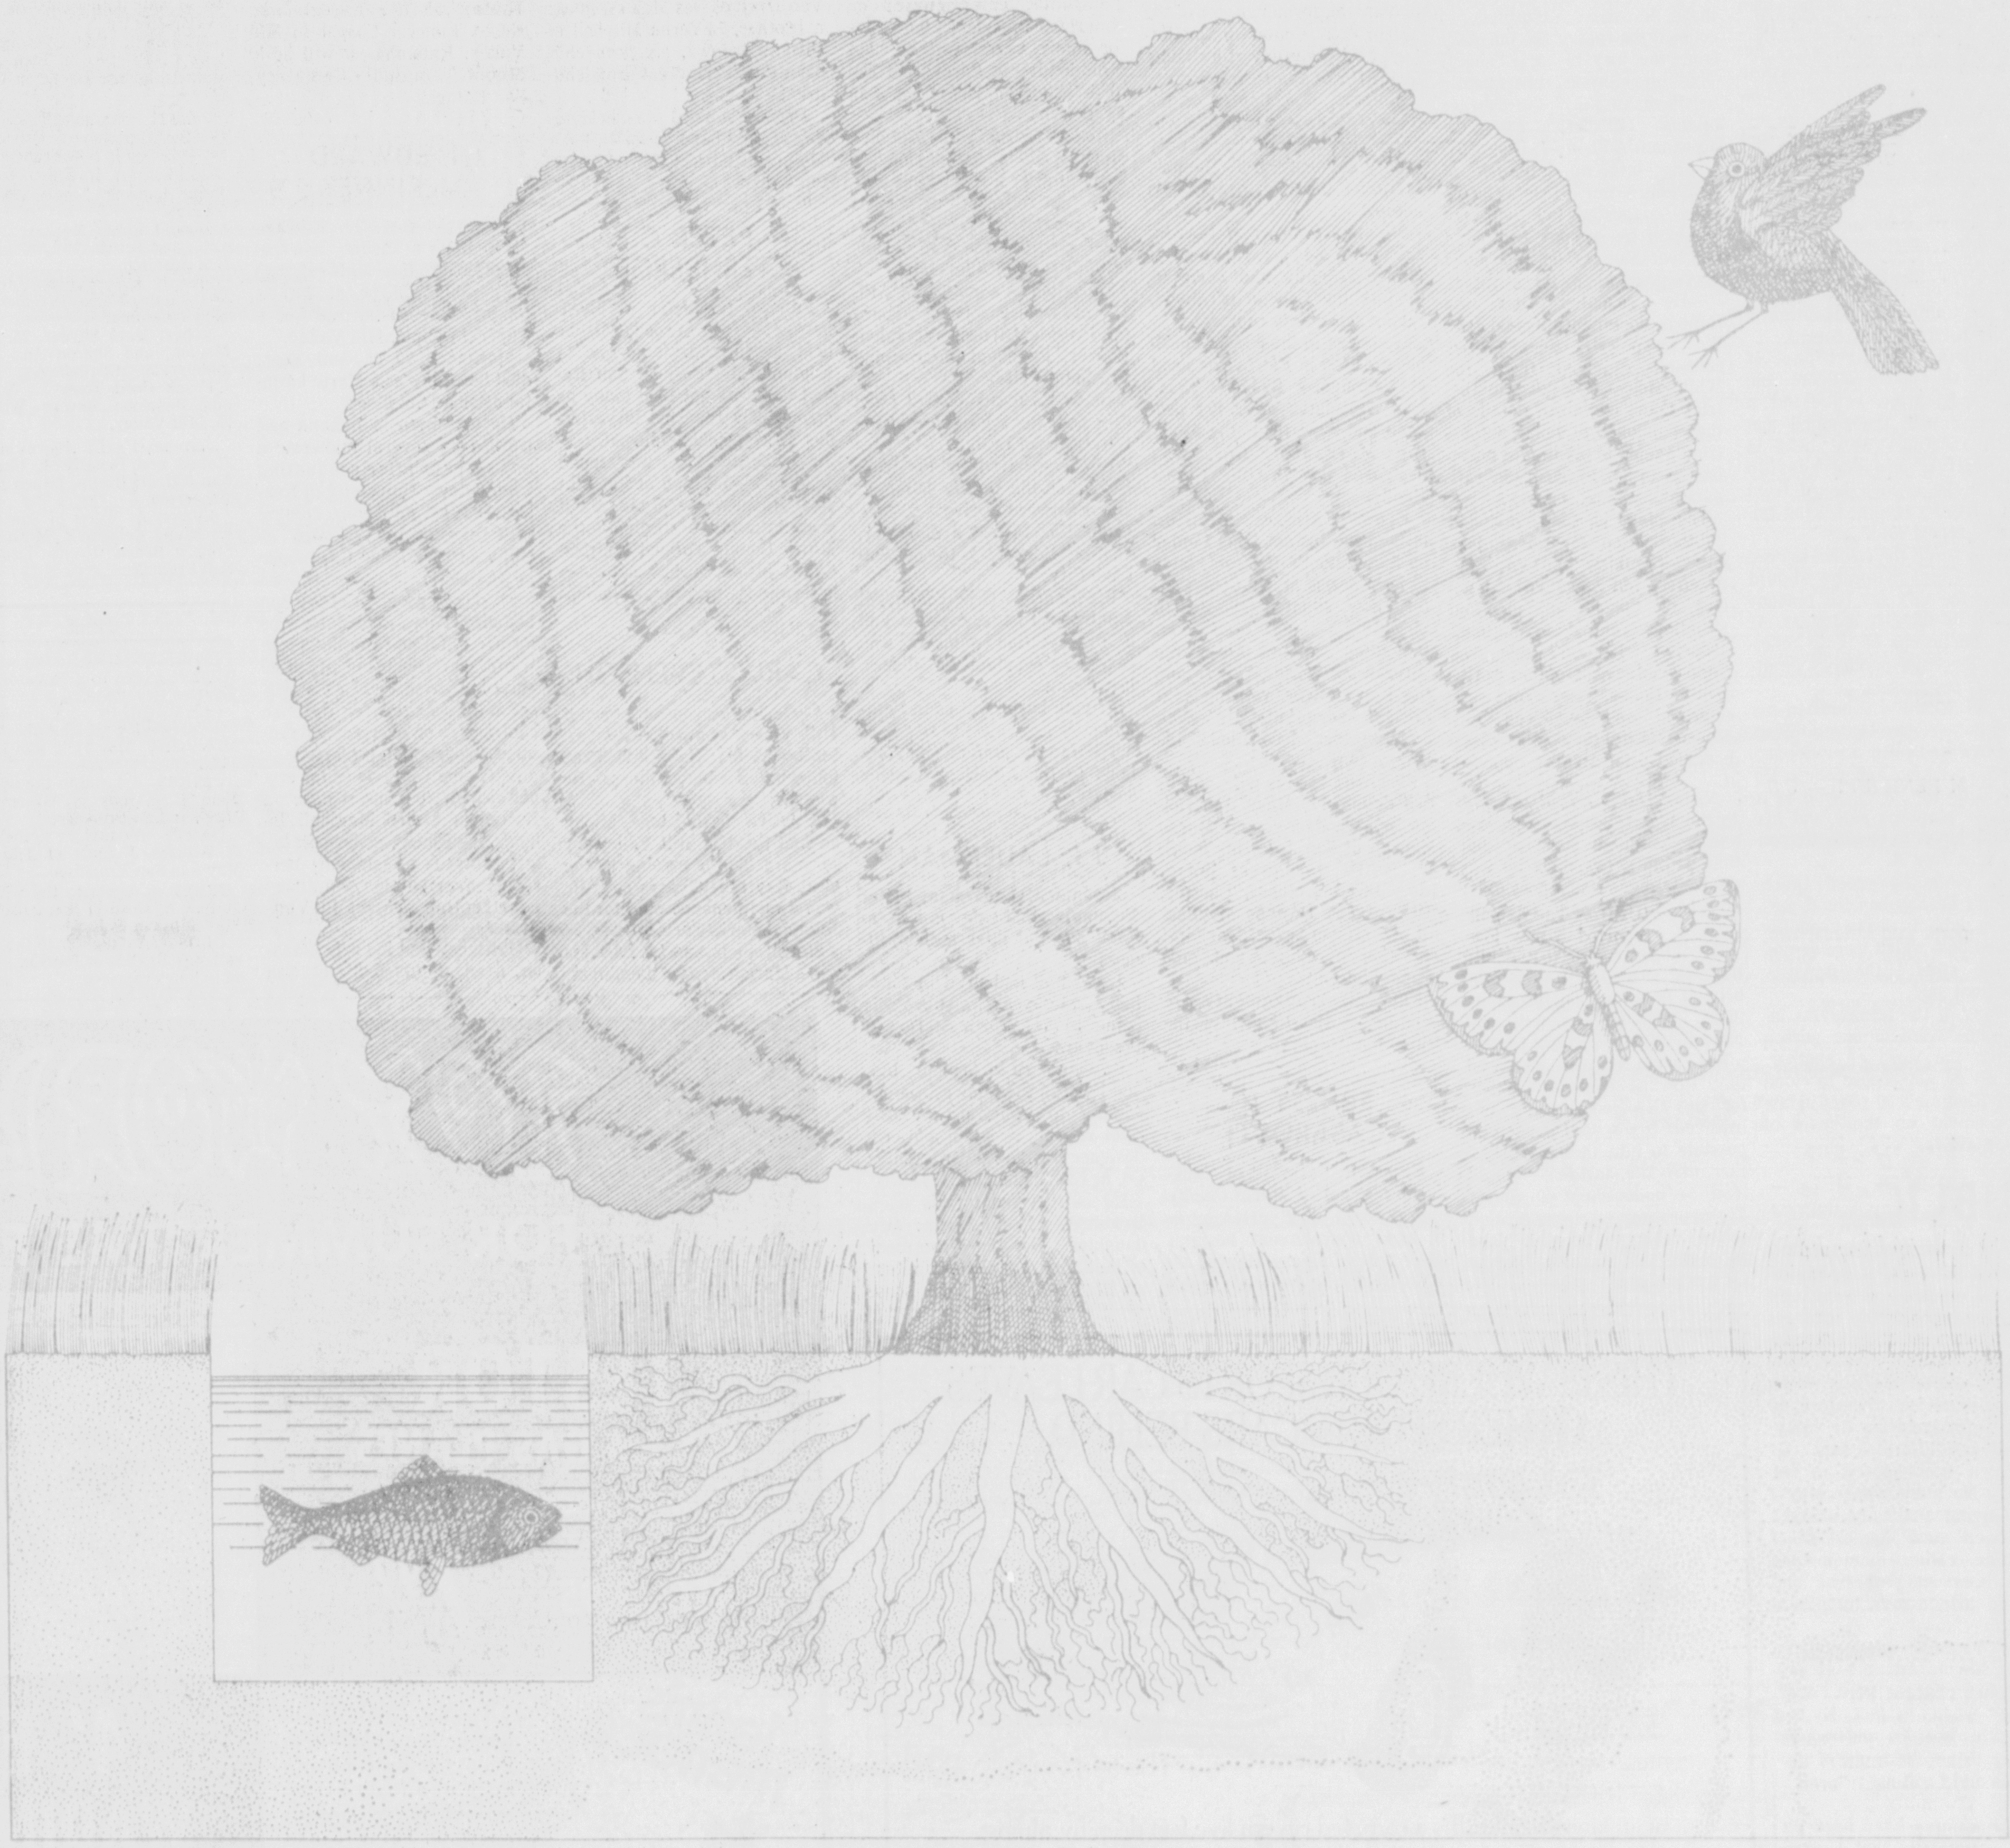
Base Exchange Has Gas Cutback

The base exchange service station at Hamilton Air Force Base has announced a cutback in the quantity of gasoline it receives from its supplier.

The station has been limited to as much gasoline as it used last year on a monthly consumption basis but usage this year has been about 60 per cent higher than last year.

When a monthly supply runs out the pumps will be closed until the next month's supply is delivered, exchange officials reported.

Ecology Education Day May 26



A day to learn about your environment. Presented by the Northgate Mall in association with Survival Inc. Saturday May 26 from 10:00 AM to 6:00 PM at the Northgate Mall in Terra Linda.

What is ecology? It's the study of organisms and their environment. What is education? A process of learning. Ecology Education Day is an opportunity to learn how best to live within our environment. There are over 200 ecology organizations in the Bay Area deeply involved in preserving and protecting our environment. Come to Ecology Education Day and meet many of these experts. Talk with them. See their accomplishments, methods and dilemmas. Find out what they know and what you should know. From recycling to legislative action, from saving trees to battling smog, there is much to be learned.

Come. Bring your family and friends. Learn what is being done to save your environment and what you can do to help. Learning is a good feeling.

lowed to resign and be given a reasonable opportunity before termination to relocate, and

That unless Chief Klemme requested otherwise (which he hasn't), the public and private interest involved would be served best "by not publicly airing the charges."

The report said, "the Brown Act itself, so stoutly advocated by the press when alleged 'secret meetings' are held, expressly recognizes a public employee's right to a private hearing on charges against him."

Councilmen said they concurred with Brown's conclusions and the majority report said "it is most unfortunate that the matter has been blown up enormously out of proportion.

"Perhaps the situation is partly the fault of poor press relations by the city administration and the easiest political solution for the council at this point might be to simply open the entire file. We still feel, however, that this would accomplish no legitimate purpose and might make a bad situation worse."

The minority statement said the matter was first brought to the attention of the city council in mid-March "at this time the manager had requested the resignation of Chief Klemme." (Brown told the Independent-Journal, on April 5 that rumors of the imminent resignation of Chief Klemme were false.)

"During the first part of April, the police officers and Chief Klemme requested a meeting with the council and such meetings were held in executive (closed) session where the council heard from all parties concerned," the minority report said.

As a result the council agreed "that Chief Klemme should leave the city for the reasons stated by the city manager. At the conclusions of these meetings, the chief publicly submitted his resignation."

Chief Klemme submitted his resignation May 1 citing differences with Brown over department operation and policy. He is still on the city payroll as a disaster planning aide and his resignation is to be effective on or before July 31.

The council agreed there wouldn't be any beneficial purpose in publicly airing "specific accusations, which were denied by the chief," the minority statement said.

"Many of the accusations involve the word of one person against the word of another, and we do not choose to cloud Chief Klemme's 20 years in law enforcement on the basis of such matters."

believed there were any improprieties or falsehoods by officers, he should file charges within two weeks, Burdick said.

Brown didn't make any charges within the two weeks and "it is obvious, therefore, no such improprieties or falsehoods exist," Burdick said.

Brown was quoted in the weekly Novato Advance May 2 as denying that any charges had been made against Chief Klemme, calling them instead grievances and concerns and saying allegations by police were overblown.

Brown said he was misquoted in the Novato Advance as saying police charges were "overblown" when, in fact, he had said "the charges and rumors appear to be blown out of proportion and I will not respond to them."

"The officers have been advised specifically that I consider their views to have been honestly stated and that they were seriously evaulated."

Brown said "a great deal of the anger created within the police ranks" has stemmed from misquotes and said he has made "efforts to rectify this sad turn of events with the officers."

Burdick said that "if neither the newspapers nor Brown will retract, the council should call a meeting at which officers can "repeat the charges" regarding Chief Klemme.

Rites Set For Dead Brothers

Funeral for Nathan Whitney Kenny, 15, and Matthew Brett Kenny, 8, Cotati brothers killed Sunday in a train-truck crash near Petaluma, will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Sorensen Funeral Home in Petaluma.

The boys were passengers in a truck driven by their father, Gerald F. Kenny, 39, which hit a 90-car train. The elder Kenny was reported in critical condition today at Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital with head injuries.

A third passenger, Daryl A. North, 16, of Petaluma, who also suffered a head injury, was reported in slightly improved condition at the same hospital, where he was described as in poor condition.

Nathan Kenny was born in Lancaster and lived there and in Santa Maria until the family moved to Cotati four years ago. He was a sophomore at Rancho Cotate High School and was a member of the Cotate Rifle Club.

Matthew Kenny was born in Santa Maria. He was a third grader at Cotati Elementary School.

The boys are survived by their parents; three sisters, Melody, Faith and Ralonda Kenny, all of the family home at 8537 Old Redwood Highway; their paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Kenny, and their maternal grandmother, Mrs. Gerald Langworthy, all of Clio, Mich.

iel Ellsberg's motives and associates.

—He denied published reports that he had attempted to conceal the fact of the burglary from the jury trying Ellsberg. This information subsequently led to dismissal of the charges against Ellsberg and co-defendant Anthony J. Russo.

—He had no intention of resigning from office as some have suggested. "I will not abandon my responsibilities. I will continue to do the job I was elected to do."

—He revealed that the famous documents which John W. Dean III, his former counsel, removed from the White House and gave to District Court contained details of the abandoned 1970 plan authorizing agents to break into premises in national security investigations.

The plan, he said, included "authorization for surreptious entry—breaking and entering, in effect—on specified categories of targets in specified situations related to national security." He said this was "approved as an option." The White House later said the approval was by Nixon. But Nixon said the plan was canceled after Hoover opposed it.

Nixon said his first reaction to the Watergate burglary was one of "complete surprise" but that within a few days he was advised "there was a possibility of CIA involvement in some way."

He did not say who told him this and two of his aides who briefed newsmen on the statement, Leonard Garment and Fred Buzhardt, declined to say.

But when it was disclosed that Howard Hunt and other former CIA employes were involved, Nixon said it seemed possible to him that investigation into the incident "could lead to uncovering of covert CIA operations totally unrelated to the Watergate break-in" and he instructed his aides not to let this happen.

LAWRENCE A. MOULTON

Lawrence A. Moulton of Santa Venetia, former owner of the Marin Copy Center in San Rafael, died yesterday at his home at 157 North San Pedro Road.

Moulton, 53, collapsed on the floor of a sewing room and was pronounced dead by deputy county coroner Bill J. Thomas. Cause of death is pending an autopsy.

Moulton, a native of Kerwin, Kan., and a 14-year resident of Marin, recently had been attending the College of Marin, taking real estate courses.

He began in the copying business in 1966 in Fairfax as head of Community Business Services Associates after his grocery and wine firm, the Moulton Mercantile Co., was destroyed by fire in Forest Knolls.

From Fairfax, Moulton opened the Instant Copy Center on San Rafael's B Street, later to become the Marin Copy Center, now situated on Fourth Street.

Moulton was an Air Force veteran of World War II and the Korean War, retiring as a master sergeant. He won, among other decorations, the Bronze Star.

Survivors are his wife, Mary; two daughters, Mary Ann Holley of Woodacre and Margo Morgan of San Jose; his mother, Hattie Jordan of Boise, Ida.; three brothers, Chester, Richard and Dwayne Moulton, all of Boise; a sister, Margaret Sherman of Boise, and nine grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

ERNEST P. CASAROTTI

Ernest P. Casarotti of Novato, a resident of Marin County for 30 years, died yesterday in a local convalescent hospital after a brief illness. He was 68.

Casarotti, a retired truck driver, once worked for Northwestern Pacific Railroad and Lucky Lager Brewing Co. in San Rafael.

A native of Petaluma, he was a graduate of Petaluma High School.

He was a member of Sea Point Parlor No. 158 of Native Sons of the Golden West in Sausalito, United Order of Druids No. 113 in Novato, Tamalpais Post of Veterans of Foreign Wars No. 72 in San Rafael and a retired member of the Teamsters Union.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by two sisters, Evelyn Goddard of Bolinas and Irene Nacebo of Santa Rosa, and a brother, Walter Casarotti of Petaluma.

Funeral will be at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Chapel of Marin in Novato. The family requests memorial contributions be made to the American Cancer Society.

JOY L. ROGERS

Funeral for Joy L. Rogers, of Petaluma, chief purser on American President Lines ships for many years, will be at 1 p.m. Friday at Carew and English Funeral Home in San Francisco.

Rogers, who was 53, died Monday in a San Francisco hospital after a short illness.

He had retired from the sea in January after serving as chief purser on the final voyage of the President Cleveland.

He sailed as a purser for APL 27 years, also serving aboard the President Wilson, President Hoover, President Monroe and President Polk.

He was a native of Salt Lake City and was a graduate of the University of Utah.

He is survived by his wife, Helen, of the family home at 313 Eastwood Drive; a son, Brent Rogers and a daughter, Sharon Hoenes, both of Salt Lake City.

His funeral will be conducted jointly by a catholic priest and a Presbyterian minister who served as chaplains on Rogers' last voyage.

Private burial will be in Petaluma.

The family prefers contributions to the American Cancer Society.

J.J. LAUERMAN

Jerome J. Lauerman, 84, of Petaluma, died today in a Petaluma hospital after a short illness.

Lauerman had lived in Petaluma one year, making his home at 717 North McDowell Boulevard.

He was born in Armour, Ind. and lived in the Midwest before coming to California in 1954 after retiring as a tool and crib designer for the Edwards Valve Co. in East Chicago.

He is survived by his wife, Barbara, of Petaluma; two daughters, Dorothy Warnimont of Petaluma and Gertrude Last of Highland, La.; four sons, Eugene Lauerman of Phoenix, Ariz., Lawernce Lauerman of Petaluma, Walter Lauerman of Lansing, Ill. and Charles Lauerman of Hammond, Ill., 26 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

He was a member of the Knights of Columbus.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. Friday at St. James Church in Petaluma. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Parent Funeral Chapel. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

GAIL OPINHAM

Gail Opinham, 68, of Petaluma, died yesterday in a Petaluma hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Opinham was born in Oklahoma and reared there and in Iowa. Before moving to Petaluma two years ago she lived in Eureka many years.

Her home was 717 North McDowell Boulevard.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Delores Hamilton of Petaluma, Mrs. Leon McCartney and Vickie Opinham, both of Colorado, and Mrs. Velma Van Dyck of Des Moines, Iowa; a brother, LaVerne Mitchell of Ottumwa, Iowa, six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Private funeral was held today at the Chapel of Santa Rosa Memorial Park, followed by entombment.

PETER C. STERNBERGER

Funeral for Peter C. Sternberger of Marinwood will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael and was not held today as erroneously reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Sternberger, 38, was found dead in his bathtub at home at 2066 Huckleberry Road about noon Saturday, according to the Marin County coroner's office. Cause of death has not been determined, pending an autopsy.

CARL STEVENSON

Carl V. Stevenson, former Mill Valley resident, died yesterday at his El Cerrito home following a sudden illness. He was 67.

A native of Gladstone, Mich., he had lived in Mill Valley for 20 years before moving to the East Bay seven years ago. He was a maintenance man for the National Parks Service.

Stevenson is survived by his wife, Margaret; two daughters, Patricia Crain of El Cerrito and Patricia Stanton of Boston; a brother, Stanley Stevenson of Minnesota, and four grandchildren.

Funeral will be held at 11:30 a.m. Friday at the Ellis-Olson Mortuary, Albany. Inurnment will be private.

VIRGIL JONES

Virgil R. Jones, long-time Marin resident, died yesterday at his Mill Valley home after a long illness. He was 73.

A native of Ohio, he had lived in California and Marin County since 1940, residing at 250 LaVerne Avenue. He was a self-employed carpenter for 35 years.

He was a member of several Mill Valley Masonic organizations, including Lodge 356, Free and Accepted Masons, Chapter 108, Royal Arch Masons and Chapter 219, Order of the Eastern Star and a member of the Carpenters Union, Local 1149 of Oakland.

Jones is survived by his wife, Belle.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. Friday at the Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapel in Mill Valley. Entombment will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

H. EDWARD McKINNEY

Funeral for H. Edward McKinney, a former newspaperman in the Midwest and California, will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapel, Mill Valley.

McKinney, 70, of Santa Rosa, died Saturday at a Marin hospital after a long illness.

He was born in Indiana and worked on several midwestern newspapers after graduating from Ottowa University in Kansas. His last job before coming to California in 1934 was as editor of the Dodge City Globe in Kansas.

He served as editor of the San Leandro News and later the former Petaluma Herald before World War II, during which he travelled extensively as a personnel manager for defense contractors on overseas government construction projects.

After five years as editor of a newspaper at a naval base on Kwajelein in the Marshall Islands, McKinney undertook his last overseas assignment: personnel manager for a military construction project in Vietnam.

McKinney and his wife, Joanna, lived at 1023 E Street, San Rafael, from 1942 to 1971, when they moved to Santa Rosa. During that time he often helped his wife in the operation of an employment agency she ran at Fifth and E Streets.

McKinney was a founder and first president of the Marin Chapter of The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, and made many appearances in the bay area as a member of the Marin Chorus and as bass singer with several quartets. He also belonged to the San Francisco Press Club and sang with the Chord Reporters, the club's quartet.

He is survived by his wife, Joanna, two daughters, Betty Jo Marker of El Sobrante and Patricia Ann Law of Novato, and six grandchildren.

The family asks that any memorial gifts go to the Marin Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

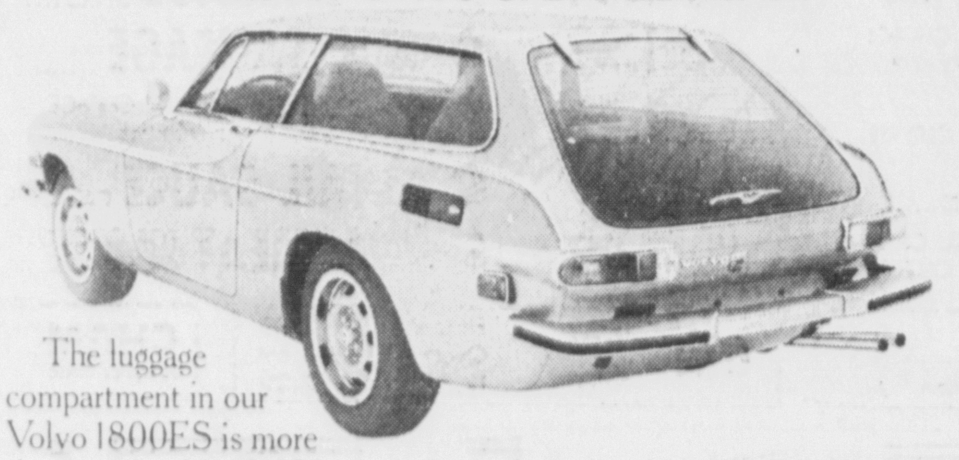
THIS IS WHERE OUR SPORTS CAR LEAVES OTHER SPORTS CARS BEHIND.



The luggage compartment in our Volvo 1800ES is more than an afterthought. It's a carpeted cavern five feet deep by almost four feet wide by twenty-two inches high.

Up front, a two-liter engine with computer-controlled fuel injection makes the 1800ES go. Four-wheel power-assisted disc brakes make it stop. And bucket seats that Car and Driver has called "the most hospitable in the business" make it most comfortable.

You may wonder how Volvo got all this into a sports car. Come in and see it.

Early Meet Notices Are Asked

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation requiring state agencies to give two weeks notice for all meetings has been introduced by Sen. Anthony Beilenson, D-Los Angeles.

Present law requires both state and local agencies to give only 24 hours notice of meetings, and then only for other than regular meetings.

A spokesman for the senator said there was no intention to extend the measure to local government.

He said the proposal originated with Ellen Stern Harris of Los Angeles, a columnist with the Los Angeles Times and vice chariman of the California Coastal Zone Conservation Commission.

The bill, SB 1173, would allow meetings on shorter notice to discuss unforseen emergency conditions such as a natural disaster.

Tidelands Protection Proposed

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Bills to protect property rights in tidelands and recreational or retirement developments have been introduced by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael.

The first, SB 1257, would prohibit the state or any of its political subdivisions from taking possession of privately owned tidelands without compensating the owners for improvements they had made on the tidelands. The bill would not require reimbursement for public use of tidelands for fishing and navigation, but would for such projects as road widening.

The need for the bill was unclear since the state Department of Public Works already has acknowledged existing law requires compensation in such cases.

The second bill, SB 1381, was designed to protect persons who buy property in recreational or retirement developments — on the promise by the developer that he will build public facilities. The measure would give the owner, agent or subdivider of the development four years to complete the number of units, utilities, roads and recreational facilities specified in the final subdivision map.

Failure to meet the deadline would result in forfeiture of the developer's equity in the remaining unsold property to the property owners. The equity would be used to finance completion of the project or any portion deemed necessary by the property owners.

TNT Is Found In County Car

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — San Mateo County employes for the past six weeks have been using a county car with one pound of TNT under the front seat.

Sheriff's deputies said the explosive was found Monday by a motor pool mechanic. They said there was no detonator attached to the TNT and it could not have exploded.

The TNT apparently had been left in the car by a crime laboratory technician and Army official who had transported explosives in the car six weeks ago.

Bill Would Allow Boost In Transit District Tax

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Marin County Transit District's maximum property tax rate of five cents per $100 assessed valuation could be increased with voter approval under a bill introduced by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

The measure was asked by district directors because it is spending more than the $370,000 the nickel tax brought in this fiscal year. Local bus service will have to be cut if voters do not authorize an increase in the rate, according to the district board.

The amount of the increase has not been set. The Bagley bill, AB 111, could not become law before next January, thus the tax election probably would not be held until next year's June primary.

Population Is Up

BEIRA, Mozambique (AP) — Official statistics indicate that Mozambique's population should reach 10 million by 1980 compared with 8.2 million in 1970.

Hints To Avoid Kidnaping Given

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — Police launched a national anti-kidnaping campaign today by sending a list of "handy hints against kidnapings" to such possible targets as diplomats, politicians, millionaires and other prominent persons.

The campaign, apparently triggered by a wave of kidnapings blamed on leftist guerrillas, was initiated by Col. Carlos Guzman Benitez, chief of the special investigations police.

Some of his listed hints:

—Always let your family know where your are, even if this is inconvenient for you.

—Instruct your family and servants to tell no one about your daily routine. —Don't follow routines. Change the route home from the office every once in a while. Try not to go alone. Try to be accompanied by one or more persons.

WISE OLD OWLS

These owls certainly are wise as they have taken up residence at the home of Joseph Hoort in Grand Rapids, Mich., following the introduction of a bill in the state legislature which allows falconers to take hawks and owls. These owls live in the family's yard, window sills and trees despite opposition from the family dog. The state Audubon Society announced opposition to the bill yesterday.

Battle Rages In Capitol On Medical Information

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SACRAMENTO — Legislation to halt allegedly widespread trafficking in confidential medical records was pinned down yesterday by crossfire between lobbyists for the insurance industry and medical profession.

Insurers opposed the measure, SB 447 by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, claiming it would protect fraudulent insurance claims from detection and thus hike premiums.

Supporting it were spokesmen for the California Medical Association, who argued it is needed to protect the confidential relationship between doctor and patient.

Each side has been lobbying the Senate Judiciary Committee, which postponed a vote to next Tuesday because several members expected to support the bill were at the funeral of Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, D-Oakland.

Both sides are among the most potent lobbies in the capitol.

The disputed bill is aimed at the allegedly common practice by insurance companies of sharing medical records with an endless commercial chain of outside organizations, including credit groups and employers.

The release of confidential medical information is triggered when applicants for life or health insurance, or persons filing claims for personal injury, sign waivers authorizing their doctors to release their records. The waivers are so broadly worded that they amount to a lifelong release of such information to virtually anyone with access to the data bank.

Behr's bill would restrict the release of such information for a specific use, and apply only to information available before the release is signed. The organization given a waiver would be barred from sharing the information with anyone else.

Lewis Keller, lobbyist for the Association of California Life Insurance Companies, said the medical data is needed to check applicants who may suffer "a bad memory" about prior injuries or illnesses for which they may seek payment after they are insured. Without such data, he said, insurers will have to "substantially increase" medical examinations of applicants.

Pointing to the Nixon administration's theft of records from the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, Keller said the bill would do nothing to improve the security of doctors' offices. A Behr aide noted that a doctor's office is not a repository for records on 12 million people.

Committee members pressed Behr unsuccessfully for evidence of misuse of the medical data. He promised to supply the evidence before next week's vote.

Planning Commission Postpones Smith Brothers Ranch Plan

Use permit action for a $40 million development on Smith Brothers Ranch was postponed to June 26 by the San Rafael Planning Commission, on a 4-1 vote last night.

Only Commissioner Albert J. Boro sided with City Planner Director Herbert H. Hotchner who recommended the use permit be denied outright until after the city's new general plan is ready.

Albert Bianchi, attorney for the developers, Smith Gonzales and Associates, asked the delay so his clients can present their plans to the city's general plan consultants, planning committees and neighboring homeowners. The property falls under the city's development moratorium rules.

Hotchner objected that "it is completely inappropriate at this time for our consultants or staff to give any opinion back" about the plans for residential and commercial development of the 189-acre parcel east of Highway 101 overlooking the Las Gallinas Valley. The planning director charged that any time spent on the ranch development would "water down" time and effort that should be spent completing the general plan.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

CHURCH — Approved a use permit under moratorium rules for the Marin Covenant Church to build a church and office building on a corner of the Smith Brothers Ranch adjoining Highway 101 on the hillside near the drive-in movie entrance. Hotchner opposed the permit for the same reasons as the larger project.

HOLIDAY MAGIC — Approved six lots for the firm's Bay Park industrial tract at 529 Jacoby Street.

YACHT CLUB — Approved splitting a 1.31-acre parcel on San Pedro Road into two parcels for the Marin Yacht Club and approved plans for a swimming pool.

POSTPONED — To June 1, a three-lot subdivision of the Charles Grande property on Windsor Avenue, due to the applicant's illness.

LUTHERANS — Approved a two-lot subdivision of the Faith Lutheran Church property at 515 Northgate Drive, with the existing church on one and an administrative-professional office building planned for the second.

CABINET SHOP — In answer to neighborhood requests, postponed to June 12, action on Al Lamperti's permit request to build a cabinet shop at 625 Lindaro Street, site of the former ferrocrete boat yard.

RECYCLING — Granted Ernest Ongaro permission to operate a paper recycling depot and environmental design and engineering firm at 502 Irwin Street.

GRADING — Approved request of Paul and Eleanor Sade's request to remove an additional 25,000 cubic yards of fill from the hilltop at 101 Cresta Drive, the site of a prior grading operation.

APARTMENTS — Under moratorium procedure, approved the Tamalpais Land and Development Co. request for a project on three parcels in the 100 block of Ross Street but did not decide the number of units. The applicant plans 24 units.

ADJOURNED — To 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday for a session on the general plan's progress and philosophical direction. Commissioners indicated objections to proposals for a development review board and other features. Commissioner Alan M. Kay, who was absent last night, sent other commissioners a letter strongly criticizing Hotchner's report to the city council Monday.

Board To Name Advisory Group

The Dixie School District board will appoint a citizens advisory committee on school finances when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the district office.

The board canceled its regular meeting scheduled today after several board members said they had other commitments.

The board also will consider a wage proposal by the Dixie Elementary School Administrators Association.

LOSER IS WINNER — Sherry Nix, 21, was defeated last August in the Miss California beauty contest but that didn't end her pageant career. She later competed in the Miss Arizona contest, won the event and went on to place third in the Miss USA event last weekend, finishing ahead of Carol Herrema of Artesia who defeated her in the California contest. Bolinas School Board Offers Salary Raise

Trustees of the Bolinas-Stinson School District last night offered the district's 10 teachers a 4 per cent across-the-board salary increase for the 1973-74 school year, less than half the hike the certificated employees had requested.

The teachers, who are seeking 10 per cent raises, did not respond to the offer at last night's session but are expected to make their views known at a special meeting at a time to be announced, according to Supt. Lester M. Horning.

The 4 per cent increase will cost the district about $3,700, he said, while the original request would have cost approximately $9,000.

Teacher's aides in the district are now paid $3 an hour and the board also agreed to set up a salary scale for them. Under the plan, first year aides would receive $3, second year aides $3.50 and aides with two or more years experience would be paid $4.

The aides will respond to the proposal at the special session.

The Bolinas-Stinson School District Board also:

SUMMER SCHOOL — Authorized the superintendent to explore the possibility of establishing a summer school in the district.

COMMITTEE — Agreed to name two parents to a screening committee to choose a successor to Horning who will not be returning next year. Other members will be the present board, newly-elected trustees, two teachers and two teacher aides.

GROWTH — Passed a resolution supporting the Bolinas planning group's proposal that growth in the Bolinas area should be limited to 1 per cent a year.

Increase Noted

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The United Steelworkers announced today that about 34,000 aluminum workers will receive a nine-cent-per-hour cost of living pay increase effective June 1 from five major aluminum producers.

Accident Injures Man Critically

A Golden Gate Bridge employee was critically injured yesterday when struck by a car on Highway 101 while setting out traffic cones, the California Highway Patrol has reported.

Officers also reported an accident in which a Colorado man was hospitalized.

Earl H. Scheurman, 25, of Sonoma, was reported in serious condition today in the intensive care unit of Marin General Hospital with a broken left wrist and possible head injuries.

The highway patrol said he was attempting to retrieve a lane marker cone which had fallen off a bridge district truck on southbound Highway 101 near Marin City at 2:45 p.m. when he was hit by a car.

The driver of the car, Dr. Donald L. Wilson, 35, of San Francisco, said he saw Scheurman dart in front of his auto and couldn't avoid hitting him.

In the other mishap, Brian G. Carroll, 21, of Colorado Springs, was reported in fair condition today at the hospital with possible internal injuries and bruises.

Officers said his car was northbound on Shoreline Highway south of Stinson Beach at 7:40 p.m. yesterday when it left the road on a curve, ejecting him.

Review Of Report Is Postponed

The Fairfax Design Review board last night postponed action on an environmental impact report on the controversial Canon Village and Tennis Club after asking for more information on the matter.

At issue are 127 two-story units proposed for 88 acres off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Glen Drive by developers Robert D. Marshall and Denkmann and Co.

The report by Applied Science and Resource Planning Inc. of Sacramento finds the development will have a number of adverse effects on the environment but claims the proposal is "potentially far less harmful to existing flora and fauna than a conventional single family residential subdivision."

The board last night, after taking its second look at the impact report, requested that the Sacramento firm provide additional information on the impact of traffic generated by the development, the effect construction might have on a nearby creek and the impact on the local sewage system, according to board secretary Ernestine Healy.

Board members also want a detailed description of trees to be cut in connection with development plans, she said.

The report states the proposal will require development of 15 acres of the vast site, including seven acres covered with "impervious surfaces," and may add to a flood problem along nearby Olema Drive due to runoff.

The development will "significantly alter" existing soil and geologic conditions, adversely affect some animal life, require removal of 40 trees, pump about 300 new residents into the area and generate about 860 traffic trips per day, according to the report.

The board will again consider the report at 8 p.m. June 14 in the Fairfax Womens Club.

Open Class Program Expanded

The Lagunitas School District board has decided to extend the district's open classroom program to seventh graders.

Supt. Harry F. Roche said the multigrade program, which employs team teaching techniques, will be available to seventh graders next year, as well as kindergarten through sixth grade classes currently enrolled in the program.

The board Monday made the move after parents said the open classroom program provides a more flexible learning environment for some children, he said.

In other business, the board adopted a school calendar stretching from Sept. 11 to June 14 and accepted the resignation of teacher Richard Plant.

A salary proposal by the district's nonteaching employees for a 7.5 per cent pay raise will be considered when the board next meets at 7:30 p.m. June 4 in San Geronimo Valley School, he said.

Change In Sausalito Board Makeup Eyed

The Sausalito City Council debated last night whether to set new criteria for planning commission candidates and whether to change the makeup of the city's Community Appearances Advisory Board.

The council directed staff to study a suggestion that a planning commissioner must be a Sausalito resident for three years or more and must be a property owner.

Council members also said they were interested in replacing the planning commission representative on the appearances board with a landscape architect. One member of the board, which reviews plans for single-family homes and other minor building projects, is already required to be an architect.

Councilman Stephen A. Fraser said he favors removing the planning commissioner to encourage more citizen involvement on city commissions. "The logic always was, before we had the number of staff that we have now, that we had to have someone to convey to CAAB what happened on the planning commission," he said.

He suggested that, if a planning commissioner is retained on CAAB, the position be rotated among all planning commissioners.

Mayor Robin Sweeny and Councilman Sally Stanford agreed with changing the board's makeup. "People get too much power in their hands, and they get drunk with it," said Miss Stanford.

At first councilman Evert H. Heynneman insisted that the planning commission be represented on the appearances board but later said he would accept the change in the board if the planning commissioner were replaced with a landscape architect.

Mayor Sweeny suggested that since the council was considering a change in the appearances board it should hold off appointing anyone new to the expired planning commission seat on the board.

She said the present planning commission representative to the board, Violeta Autumn, is willing to stay pending the change.

But a motion from Councilman Heynneman to reappoint her failed 3-2, with only Mayor Sweeny joining in support of Mrs. Autumn, who has vigorously opposed massive developments while serving as a planning commissioner.

Instead, on a motion by Fraser, the council voted 3-1, with Mayor Sweeny abstaining, to appoint Planning Commissioner Frank M. Bowen. Mayor Sweeny and Heynneman, who voted "no," said they were not opposed to Bowen but opposed appointing someone new to the board while the council is considering changing its composition.

The council also reappointed unanimously Robert L. Nissen to his seat on the planning commission. Commissioner Dorothy Gibson was also reappointed by a 3-2 vote, with Fraser and Stanford voting against her.

The council reappointed unanimously to two other vacant advisory board seats Marshall Roath and Charles Merrill.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

TREES — Reintroduced for first reading an ordinance which would require residents to get special permits from a tree committee when they wish to cut down or alter trees over 15 feet tall. The ordinances would also allow residents to get the city to order removal of trees which block views.

FENCE — Granted an appeal of C. David Robinson of a decision of the appearances board. The council decided to allow Robinson to build a fence encroaching on city property surrounding his yard at 54 Spencer Avenue.

CLOSED SESSION — Held a closed meeting to discuss hiring a new building inspector and a replacement for a clerical employee who is retiring.

MEETINGS — Set June 5 as the date of its next regular meeting and set May 29, June 7, 11 and 14 as dates for budget hearings.

TOWN MEETING — Noted that the Sausalito Citizens Council will hold a town meeting to answer questions on the city's June bond election on May 30 at Central School.

SCHOONMAKER — Decided to hold a special meeting to hear an appeal of a planning commission rejection of rezoning that would permit a massive waterfront development on the Schoonmaker Marinship property. The meeting was tentatively set for June 13 at 7:30 p.m. at Central School, pending approval of the applicants.

Reader's Digest Prices To Drop

CHAPPAQUA, N.Y. (UPI) — The publishers of Reader's Digest announced yesterday that beginning with the magazine's July issue newstand prices will be lowered from 60 cents to 50 cents.

The announcement made no mention of subscription rates.

In a statement, the magazine said the price drop "follows the steady growth in newsstand sales and reaffirms the Digest's traditional policy of providing its readers with the best in reading value."

Larkspur Councilmen Begin Eyeing Budget

By DAVID DIETZ

Amid a clouded revenue picture, the Larkspur City Council began the annual job last night of trying to make its budget match its pocketbook.

Before that started, however, the audience watched some minor fireworks triggered by Councilman Neil R. Brixon, who sharply criticized city staff for failing to provide several residents with copies of the proposed 1973-74 budget — the subject at hand.

Although a Greenbrae resident, Eugene Perrigo, told the council he and others had been promised advance copies of the spending program, nothing was sent. He said he learned of the opening budget round only on reading last night's issue of the Independent-Journal.

Brixon, whose criticism of city staff has increased in frequency and intensity in recent months, accused the administration of being "derelict in their duties again." He suggested postponing the meeting, but none of his colleagues supported him.

And Councilman Joan Sestak noted that "no one held my hand" when she was a citizen interested in city government, adding that each year she went to city hall to obtain budget material in advance.

That matter aside, the council took its first official look at City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst's proposed $1.5 million spending program, up $57,158 from the current budget. Another such session is set for 7:30 p.m. today.

At the suggestion of Mayor Alfred J. Malvino, the council neither increased nor reduced budget amounts it reviewed last night, preferring to wait until the full spending program has been reviewed. Too, Malvino wished no commitments made on any capital outlay items, in part because of tax rate limitations and other revenue uncertainties.

(Under the state's new tax law, cities are limited to their 1972-73 tax rates — in Larkspur's case, $1.98 per $100 of assessed valuation. Amendments liberalizing the law are pending in Sacramento, however.)

The council opened its review with consideration of a $148,304 budget for parks, up from $111,166; a $116,109 library budget, up from $54,204, and a recreation spending program of $8,300, down from $13,500 this year because of an interdepartmental salary shift.

The parks budget includes $118,500 in capital outlay, largest items of which are $45,000 for buying a lot on the Greenbrae side of Corte Madera Creek for a bridge to Piper Park under construction and $30,000 for Piper Park irrigation work.

The council, appearing eager to acquire the Greenbrae lot, designated a committee of Brixon and Mrs. Sestak to approach Schultz interests, lot owners, about obtaining title. The $45,000 would be a carryover from this year's budget.

As for the irrigation work, Brixon said he wanted assurances the job could be done in the coming fiscal year before he would endorse the expense.

Most controversial of the planned library expenses was an increase from $12,000 to $20,000 for book and magazine purchases, Brixon again expressing reservations. He noted book circulation has steadily risen without such sharp increases for book-buying.

Library officials also asked for $50,000 in capital outlay to continue setting aside money for purchase of land for a new library. That would bring the fund to $64,000, about half of what is thought will be needed.

The council voiced no opposition to the appropriation.

Dead Woman Was Wife Of Dentist

A middle-aged woman found floating dead May 14 in Richardson Bay was identified today as the 46-year-old wife of a San Mateo dentist.

Coroner's investigator Keith C. Craig said he learned the identity of Harryette Green Rucker by fingerprints matched against records in Sacramento. The woman, a counselor at Serramonte High School in Pacifica had submitted fingerprints with a teacher's application in 1968.

Craig discounted any link between Mrs. Rucker and a drifting dinghy which washed ashore in Belvedere the day before her body was found under a deck at 67 West Shore Road.

He said Mrs. Rucker apparently jumped from the Golden Gate Bridge and was carried to Belvedere by tides. Her car was found at the vista point at the Marin end of the Golden Gate Bridge by the highway patrol Friday, Craig said.

Raymond Rucker, her husband, filed a missing persons report at 8:20 a.m. May 15. Although she left home on May 13, he waited to report her disappearance because he thought she had gone to their Carmel home, Craig said.

Mrs. Rucker was depressed when she left home, Craig said.

Use Of Flags Said Obsolete

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The National Weather Service at Cleveland says the small craft warning flag won't be flying this summer at local marinas and yacht clubs.

Forecaster Bill Kennedy said the use of flags at marinas has become obsolete. Instead, the Weather Service is encouraging boaters to buy VHF radio receivers which give continuous weather forecasts or listen to radio stations which provide such services.

Under the old system, the marinas were under contract to the weather service.

"Many times we would call up and it might be a bartender or somebody sitting at the bar, and he would forget to put the flag up," said Kennedy. "Or we'd call a few hours later and say, 'pull it down,' and the flag might be up three or four days before anyone took it down.

"The service was very undependable," Kennedy added. He said Coast Guard stations will be the only places where boaters can see the small craft warning flying.

Change In Studies Is Course's Theme

A one-week evening study course to prepare high school students for the change to college will be given June 18 through 21 at Olney Hall, College of Marin, sponsored by the Young Men's Christian Association of Marin.

The course, developed by Prof. Robert F. Schwarz of Purdue University, is aimed at preparing students for the difference in living and studying at college compared to high school.

Tam High Mothers Raise Complaint

By PATRICIA PERRY

Worried Tamalpais High School mothers complained last night that the Mill Valley high school is being run by an "instructional policy board" that hasn't been elected and is not accountable to taxpayers.

Led by Patricia Thomson of Mill Valley, the mothers asked the Tamalpais High School District Board if it was their policy to let the group set policy for the school. They got no immediate answer from the three trustees present, who explained they'd never attended a meeting of the group.

The mothers painted a picture of committees, subcommittees and "spinoff" committees continually meeting and accomplishing nothing.

Ruby S. Eatherton said the instructional policy board intends to include two parent members but there would be no way these volunteer members could be held accountable to the public.

Mrs. Thomson said on the first day of this semester at Tamalpais High there was only one counsellor present. "With 150 kids looking for help. . . where's the administration?" she asked.

Similarly, said Mrs. Thomson, at a special career guidance conference only seven students showed up to meet six public officials from all over Marin. All the Tam High students had been given a half day's holiday.

Elaine Jessup claimed cutting at Tam High is the worst it's ever been and many parents are considering transferring their children.

"The whole problem stems from lack of leadership," said Mrs. Jessup, "yet we're spending more for administration than either Redwood or Drake. Much of the administration is being done by this instructional policy board and it's taking the best teachers out of the classroom. They're frustrated by too many responsibilities and students are suffering."

Other mothers claimed that the controversial board's meetings are "unbelievable" and "frightening" with "nothing ever happening."

Trustees Jerrold M. Ladar, Bette Wallace and Frank L. Miller appeared stunned by the vehemence of the mothers' attacks on Tam High's administration. The school's educational leader, Lawrence Sheppard, was in the audience but wasn't asked to comment.

Mrs. Wallace said she was concerned but that it was impossible to respond fairly until staff had investigated the parents' complaints. Ladar said it would be helpful for trustees to attend a meeting of the instructional policy board but pointed out that all the trustees work full time.

No action was taken on the complaints but trustees indicated they'd bring the subject up again, not saying when.

Candidate Night

A candidates night for Petaluma Board of Education hopefuls will be sponsored by the Casa Grande Booster Club at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday in the multiuse room of Casa Grande School.

Sex Education Is Cure To Disease

NEWARK, Ohio (UPI) — The president of the American Medical Association said last night sex education is one way to combat venereal disease which has reached "epidemic' proportions.

"Sex education should be taught in schools as early as the sixth grade," Dr. Charles Hoffman said at a news conference prior to a speaking engagement.

Hoffman said the increased use of oral contraceptives is one reason for the "VD epidemic."

Tam Board Won't Pay For Workshop Costs

The Tamalpais High School District Board last night decided to play it safe and not pay $50 for newly elected trustee Lotte Schiller to attend a University of California workshop taught by fellow trustee Frank L. Miller.

A minor snag — the fact that Mrs. Schiller had already attended the workshop, held May 11 at Berkeley — appeared not to worry the three-member board present last night.

Supt. Robert D. Torrey explained that Miller was convinced there was no conflict of interest in his teaching the course on school board effectiveness and the district spending funds for Mrs. Schiller's attendance.

However Trustee Jerrold M. Ladar, an attorney, said he thought the payment wasn't authorized by law and the board shouldn't approve her attendance.

Mrs. Schiller hasn't yet taken her board seat, and board president Robert W. Corlett was absent. Ladar Miller and Bette Wallace voted to defer approval of Mrs. Schiller's attendance at the conference, and deleted a payment of $50 to cover it from the district's warrants.

The workshop, sponsored by the university's education extension division was led by Miller, and Marion S. Vittiow, training director for Kramer, Miller and Associates. Miller is a partner in the firm with former San Rafael School board member Lawrence Karmer.

Tamalpais High School District Board Also:

DRAKE ENGLISH — Gave first hearing to a revised English program at Drake for next school year presented by department head Kate Blickhahn and Albert Lavin; Ladar said the description read like an alternative program, but decided after hearing it explained that it does propose to teach fundamental skills; Miss Blickhahn described language skills as "reading, writing, speaking, listening and thinking,"; Miller said the Drake English department seems "light years ahead" of parents who graduated from high school in the 1940s, and making them understand the difference might be difficult.

CLASSIFIED — Was told that district classified employees have requested a 7.5 per cent cost of living increase, a 10 per cent differential for shifts starting after noon, and more custodians at Tam High.

NEW COURSES — Gave first hearing to nine new courses proposed for Tam High in the fall: advanced math seminar; Canada, past and present; The Native American, interrelated studies, fine arts in French, The Greater Bay Area, gospel singing, culture and civilization of the French speaking people, culture and civilization of Hispanic man.

TAHITI — Gave first hearing to a proposal by Robert Mautner, foreign language instructional coordinator that students he takes on a private trip to Tahiti this summer be granted credit for foreign language study; Miller warned it should be considered an experiment, since 20 teachers might come up with similar proposals next year.

STAFFING — Heard a report from Torrey that a freeze on hiring new teachers has cut the district's overstaffing problem. Drake is under the limit by 3.8 teachers, Redwood by 4.2 and Tam High is over by two-tenths of a teacher; he has authorized hiring a Swahili teacher and a choral music teacher, both for Tam, said Torrey, to replace teachers on leaves of absence.

SEX EDUCATION — Learned from Edward J. Neumeier, administrative assistant, that the district's sex education committee proposes a two week workshop for teachers who will teach the subject, and pilot courses in each school will start in the second semester next school year, monitored by a citizens' advisory committee.

REDWOOD COURSES — Delayed adopting 11 new courses of study for Redwood, given a first hearing May 7, because trustee Ladar was absent then, and the remaining trustees, Mrs. Wallace and Miller, didn't make a quorum.

CLAIM — Routinely rejected a claim by Kenneth Frank for injuries suffered when he fell from the hood of a car in the Redwood parking lot Jan. 30.

PERSONNEL — Accepted the resignation of C. Arthur Wigell, music teacher at Redwood, who has been 28 years with the district; granted leaves of absence for the 1973-74 school year to John Christen, Drake math teacher, and Roger Griffith, Tam High on location teacher; and approved paying $3,893 for staff development workshops to math and social studies teachers.

MEETING — Adjourned at midnight to its next regular meeting, June 4, at 8 p.m. at the Redwood faculty lounge.

Cards Mailed On Assessments

Sonoma County Assessor Ernest L. Comalli said his office will start mailing assessment notification cards today to all property owners in the county.

Previously, cards went only to those owners whose values had changed, but this year they will go to all real property owners, he said.

The assessment notice cards will not show exemptions for which property owners have applied, Comalli said, because it was not possible to process these this early in the year.

Valuation problems may be discussed with the assessor's staff at the Sonoma County Administration Center in Santa Rosa.

Agnew's Son, Bride Are Honeymooning

ATHENS (UPI) — James "Randy" Agnew, son of the vice president, arrived Monday for a honeymoon with his bride of two weeks, Connie. She quickly surprised workers at the Athens Hilton hotel by talking to them in Greek.

"She could not say many things, but all she said was well accented and sweetly pronounced," said a receptionist.

Innocent Plea Is Given To Counts

A 20-year-old Novato man, arrested after he threw a beer can from his car, pleaded innocent yesterday to a felony charge of having a billy club and a misdemeanor charge of having a pipe for smoking marijuana.

Preliminary hearing for Douglas James Schuler was set for June 5 in Marin Municipal Court.

Schuler was arrested Saturday at Skyview Terrace and Lucas Park Street in San Rafael after police said they saw a beer can thrown from his car.

A search revealed the club and the pipe, police said.

Novato Will Seek Grant For Hamilton Base Study

The Novato City Council last night authorized applying for a $20,000 federal grant for a land use planning study of Hamilton Air Force Base and created a seven-member Hamilton land use study committee.

The city's application will be sent to the economic development administration, a member of the president's Interagency Economic Adjustment Committee, City Mgr. Charles A. Brown reported.

The city will have to contribute $5,000 worth of "in kind" services, Brown said.

Councilman George C. Quesada said the city also should notify Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, that the community would like to see Hamilton continue as a military base, without the noise of jets.

Appointed to the Hamilton study committee were Joyce Applen, representing the North Marin Federation of Homeowners; Ralph M. Wanderer, Novato Chamber of Commerce; Joseph A. Forest, North Marin unit of the Marin Conservation League; Ralph R. Patterson, Marin Country Club and Domingo Canyon Homeowners associations; and Susan Stompe, John G. Stuber and Guthrie R. Greene, members at large.

The council also received a recommendation from the city's human needs advisory committee that there be an unspecified percentage of low, moderate and elderly housing when units are declared surplus."

BART Faces Engineers' Suit

OAKLAND (UPI) — Three engineers yesterday filed suits totaling $1.35 million against the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, alleging they were fired for contending the system's automatic train controls would prove unreliable.

Max Blankenzee, Robert Bruder and Holger Hjortsvang also protested BART's absence of a proper appeals procedure for employees facing dismissal. All claimed their work had been satisfactory and had been substantiated by outside engineers.

The engineers were fired in March 1972, about six months before operating difficulties were noticed in the $42 million automatic control system of the subway in the East Bay.

O'Brien said studies made by the three engineers formed the basis of a document relating to BART's inadequacies prepared by the California Society of Professional Engineers.

Talk Scheduled On Motivation

Hugh M. Turner of Novato, a communications consultant, will talk about success motivation in business at the Novato Library at 8 p.m. today.

Turner is former manager of radio station KTIM in San Rafael.

SOLDIER'S MISFORTUNE

A West German honor guard soldier fainted yesterday while on duty at the Bonn airport, where West German leaders bid farewell to Soviet Communist Party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and party (background) following the Russian leader's five-day peace and trade mission to Bonn.

Stop Sign Voted For Site Of Child's Death

The Novato City Council last night authorized a stop sign on San Marin Drive at San Andreas Drive, where an 11-year-old girl was killed by a car May 8. (Other Novato City Council stories, page 1.)

The driver, Joseph Charles Lucken Jr., 41, of 1721 Weaverly Drive, Petaluma, told police he didn't see the girl, Michelle Kuhn, because the sun was blinding his vision, which also was hindered by shrubbery in a turning bay to the right.

Public Works Director Clifford E. Temps reported that the landscaping "which may or may not have been a factor" in the fatal accident has been removed.

The council also approved stop signs on Santa Maria Drive at Conchita Drive and at Plata Court, Blanca Drive, El Dorado Court, Amber Court and Conchita Drive approaches to San Marin Drive at the request of the Highland-Oaks Improvement Association.

The Novato City Council Also:

ARTS COMMISSION — Introduced an ordinance to establish a seven-member arts commission, designated the first postmaster's house as the city art gallery and accepted an offer from the Novato Civic Foundation to restore the house.

ROAD WORK — Awarded Ghilotti Bros. Inc. of San Rafael, low bidder, a contract to improve Center Road between Lu Sutton School and Wilson Road at a cost of $143,025, and Andre Landscaping Contractors, low bidder, a contract for landscaping along Novato Boulevard, west of San Miguel Way, at a cost of $8,350, with the city's share of expenses at $745 and the county paying the remainder.

NEW BRIDGE — Approved an agreement with the Marin County Flood Control District to share costs of a new bridge on Tamalpais Avenue at Warner Creek on a 50-50 basis.

FUNDS REQUESTS — Agreed to consider during budget discussion allocating up to $2,000 to the Novato Prehistory Museum and $1,000 for Survival Inc., which handles recycling operations.

PARADE PERMIT — Granted IDESI, a Portuguese society, a permit for a parade in downtown Novato June 3.

FLOOD PLAIN — Approved extending the building moratorium in the Nave Gardens flood area 90 days beyond the June 6 expiration date.

TACO BELL — Denied by a 3-2 vote, with Fred F. Ruegg and Dorothy P. Young dissenting, an appeal by Ben Ostlined of a planning commission ruling prohibiting mission-style architecture for a proposed Taco Bell restaurant on Machin Avenue, opposite the Novato Community House. Councilmen said such architecture would be permitted only if compatible with the design of Novato Square, a modification of the commission rule.

SENIOR PLANNER — Approved recruiting for a senior planner, with the ability to serve as a zoning administrator.

SOLID WASTE — Accepted a report from the solid waste committee and authorized a questionnaire survey of Novato merchants handling returnable and nonreturnable bottles by the committee.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Mundhir Eljumaily from the plan review committee, who said he has been ill for the past five weeks.

WESTERN WEEKEND — Approved closing of city streets, use of the Scottsdale area for the celebration and waiving of fees for the Western Weekend Country Fair June 14-17 and approved parade June 16.

REZONING — Introduced ordinances rezoning eight acres on the east side of Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, north of Los Robles Mobile Homepark, from planned residential to planned industrial as requested by Ronald Antonioli Inc. and two acres between the Northwestern Railroad Co. tracks and the Highway 101 bypass near Orange Avenue from residential to commercial as requested by Alfred Bellucci and Frank DeMello.

CLOSED SESSION — Went into a closed session to consider appointments to the plan review committee and environmental quality control committee and adjourned until 8 p.m. today at the Novato Community House to review the Novato general plan.

County May Pay For Part Of Rapozo Ranch

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors has indicated it may be willing to pick up one-fourth of the cost of purchasing the Rapozo ranch east of Rohnert Park for a park.

The supervisors Monday passed a resolution saying they would be willing to pay part of the cost of acquisition, estimated at $165,000, if a federal grant for 50 per cent of the cost can be obtained.

The county would then pay 25 per cent and the City of Rohnert Park the remaining 25 per cent, according to the proposal.

The 110-acre ranch in the foothills has been described as an ideal site for an open space preserve and would be the only such major park in the southern part of Sonoma County.

Leary Practices Flower Power

FOLSOM, Calif. (UPI) — Timothy Leary tended a different grass and practiced a new flower power today.

Leary, 52, once the guru of the marijuana and LSD set, was assigned to care for the lawn inside the main gates of Folsom Prison yesterday. He will also be responsible for petunias, sweetpeas and marigolds, a prison spokesman said.

Leary is serving time at Folsom on marijuana and escape convictions.

DIFFERENCE

The Quality And Trim As Well!

USDA CHOICE

USDA CHOICE GRADE Is 1 Big Difference!

This grade is awarded by U.S. Department of Agriculture experts only to meat that delivers tender, juicy, flavorful cuts.

At Safeway, every steak, every roast of beef is of USDA Choice grade. In order to feature lower prices, some stores mix the USDA Choice and lower grades. Some coin fancy sounding names for the lower grades they sell, at Safeway you will find nothing but USDA Choice grade beef cuts.

County Will Refrain From Hamilton Study

Despite a warning that Hamilton Air Force Base may become "another blighted area like Marinship" Marin County Supervisors voted 4-1 yesterday to let Novato undertake studies of the base's future, without county intervention for the moment.

Supervisor Robert A. Roumiguiere was the lone vote agreeing with warnings by citizens Jeffory S. Morshead of Ross and Betty Machado of Novato that the base's future affects all Marin citizens even of the land is within Novato city limits.

The Novato City Council last night (see story, page 13), decided to apply for federal funds to study alternative uses of the existing buildings on the base, when the Air Force closes it next year.

Morshead and Mrs. Machado argued that the county should make the study, or face all loss of control over the base's future.

The Marin County Planning Commission on Monday recommended that any federal study funds be combined with county allocations for the county economics and implementation study now being made as part of the countywide general plan — but the supervisors were cool to this, also.

"I think this is a storm in a teapot," Supervisor Michael Wornum said. Other board members agreed that any Novato plans eventually would have to dovetail with the countywide plan.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

INTERNS — Approved a proposal to hire up to 20 teen-agers for the summer as "interns" in social services, district attorney, planning, public works and other offices, and allocated $6,930 for the program. It will be in addition to the continuing county summer work program for teen-agers from moderate-income and low-income families.

CORTE MADERA — Instructed the county counsel to meet with Corte Madera Town Counsel Albert Bianchi this week on negotiations for the county to regain part of the tax revenue that could be frozen by the town's redevelopment project.

MID-MANAGEMENT — Approved a memorandum of agreement with the Marin County Employees Association, promising the mid-management unit that it will continue as a separate bargaining unit, and agreeing to an average 5 per cent raise for its members, subject to budget approval, for 1973-74.

HUMAN RIGHTS — Accepted and tabled until budget hearings, the Marin Grand Jury report on the Human Rights Department. Ernest J. Gray, chairman of the human rights commission, has called a commission meeting for 8 p.m. today to draft a reply to the jury report.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of John S. Leipsic from the Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission and called for candidates to volunteer for the seat.

HOUSING AUTHORITY — Decided not to act on requests that the Marin County Housing Authority board be expanded from five to seven members.

CLOSED SESSION — Met with county counsel and staff for 45 minutes to instruct him on salary negotiations, and on matters of litigation.

CONTRACT — Awarded a $51,133 contract for widening the road and installing a bicycle path on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Lagunitas at "Dead Man's Curve," to Bresnan-Dalecio, Inc. of San Rafael, low among three bidders. The bid was about 18 per cent over estimates, but takes into account a predicted 25 per cent increase in asphalt prices this summer, Public Works Director Ray W. Foreaker Jr. explained.

AUDITORIUM — Rejected the lone bid for building catwalks above the stage in the Veterans Memorial Building, as 30 per cent over estimate, ordered plans redrawn and set a new bid opening for June 11. The $29,310 bid was 30 per cent over estimates.

PLANTS — Rejected a $6,300 claim filed by Ronald R. Dressler of 604 Douglas Drive, Mill Valley, for the county's removal of 63 tam junipers suspected of being infected with juniper rust. Many residents have complained of the removal policy.

CLAIM — Rejected a $100,000 claim filed by the parents of 5-year-old Serena Coffey, who was attacked in February by a pack of dogs in Larkspur. Also named were Madrone Canyon residents Henry T. Taylor, Allen Crane, Allen Lissauer, J.O. Malone and Muriel Smith, all dog owners. The claim alleges the county, City of Larkspur, humane society and dog owners failed to control the animals that attacked young Serena.

ZONING — Approved, with no opposition, flood plain zoning for vacant lands around Bel Marin Keys to the mouth of Novato Creek. The zoning permits development but controls its location.

APPEAL — Rejected the appeal of Tiburon architect Tak Enamoto that plans for a 12-unit single family residential development on Strawberry Cove in Strawberry not require an environmental impact report.

LAND DIVISION — Upheld the appeal of Ann Spake of Tamalpais Valley that a land division of a five-acre parcel on Dawn Lane owned by Robert Clark require an environmental impact report.

HORSES — Rejected the appeal of Edward Goliti Jr., owner of Redwood Stables on Vineyard Road, near Novato, that he not be required to prepare an environmental impact report in order to enlarge his stables by 12 stalls and a covered training arena.

AGREEMENT — Approved a new one-year joint powers agreement with the City of San Rafael for membership in the City-County Planning Council of Marin. San Rafael said it will work to restructure the agency.

Keel Is Laid For 89,700 Ton Ship

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The National Steel and Shipbuilding Co. yesterday laid the keel of an 89,700 ton tanker, which will be the biggest ship ever built on the Pacific Coast.

The ship, to be 894 feet long and 106 feet wide, is being built for the Aeron Shipping Co. of New York, the company said.

County Eyes Grant For Drug Plan

Marin County Supervisors unanimously voted yesterday to seek a $151,475 federal grant for a major new program to rehabilitate arrested narcotics offenders.

The action followed an invitation May 3 by a federal drug abuse official, Richard W. Jacobsen Jr., to apply for "all you can justify ... no strings attached."

The county seeks $151,475 for the first year of a program aimed at helping about 250 drug offenders out of the "street crime—arrest—street crime" vicious circle, according to the bulky application form.

The data presented said 55 per cent of Marin County Jail inmates when interviewed reported heroin addiction problems; 27 per cent cited alcohol problems.

The application said that 4,000 to 5,000 of the average 8,900 persons booked into the jail each year may be eligible for the project, which is labelled the "Marin County Treatment Alternate to Street Crime."

Nonaddicted persons, suspects in crimes of violence and persons selling opiates would be ineligible for the program.

A new screening program would be set up to select between 195 and 250 arrested persons during the first year, working with the courts either to divert them from prosecution to rehabilitation, or to try rehabilitation in lieu of punishment.

The application proposes that 50 addicts be placed in therapeutic, dope-free communities such as Center Point; 85 could receive outpatient service at the Marin Community Mental Health Center, Marin Open House or other facilities, and about 80 may receive methadone through Marin Open House and similar institutions. About 40 addicts may drop out of the program during the first year, county workers predicted.

The application said it is impossible to predict how much the program can cut the recidivism rate — the percentage of those who get into trouble with the law again for the same crime or related offenses.

Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, head of the county's health services superagency, would be in overall charge of the experiment. More than half the requested grant, $74,885, is sought for salaries ranging up to $18,000 for a director.

The application notes that Marin Open House already is receiving a total of $388,000 for its dope war programs from other sources — including county tax funds.

Arnold M. Baptiste, chairman of the supervisors, said the plans have approval from the county's judges, district attorney and law enforcement officials.

Crackdown Ordered On Peddlers

Marin County supervisors ordered a crackdown yesterday on street peddlers and roadside produce vendors who are operating without license or health inspection.

The board's unanimous action came at the request of Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr, who said local merchants in his Second District have complained of paying health inspection and business license fees only to see business cut by street peddlers.

An existing county ordinance makes it illegal to hawk or peddle merchandise on county roads, parks, sidewalks or other public places without a license.

Besides directing county health officials to crackdown on inspections and licenses, the board ordered the public works department to enforce encroachment restrictions along county roads.

PORK WITH Waldorf Rice is a pocketbook conscious main dish for the family supper table.

WITH RAISIN WHEAT BREAD

Pork Meal Easy On Budget

An easy pork meal that is budget-concerned is suggested in this Pork with Waldorf Rice, by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. home economist Peggy Hopkins of San Rafael.

With it is a recipe for Raisin Whole Wheat Bread for the bakers to try.

For family meals, shoulder cuts of pork sometimes are a better bargain than more expensive center cut chops. The meat is tender, juicy and flavorful and it combines well with such extenders as vegetables, rice and pasta to make tasty budget-stretching meals.

Sometimes buying a whole fresh pork shoulder butt (5 to 7 pounds) is more economical. Some markets will slice it into steaks; or perhaps cut it into a one-meal roast and a few steaks, leaving the boneless pieces for chop suey or other meat-stretching dishes.

We used shoulder steaks (one steak made two servings) for this recipe, Pork with Waldorf Rice.

PORK WITH WALDORF RICE

4 ¾-inch thick slices fresh pork (chops, steaks or boneless cuts, 4 ounces each)
Salt and pepper
2 teaspoons instant chicken bouillon or 2 chicken bouillon cubes
2 cups hot water
½ teaspoon ground ginger
⅛ teaspoon tabasco sauce
¾ cup rice
1½ cups chopped cooking apple
1 cup diced celery
¼ cup minced onion

In non-stick skillet, slowly brown pork on either side; season with salt and pepper. Remove to plate. Meanwhile dissolve bouillon in hot water; add ginger, ½ teaspoon salt and tabasco, mixing well. Sprinkle rice in bottom of skillet; combine apple, celery and onion; sprinkle over rice. Place browned pork on top. Stir bouillon and pour over all. Cover and cook about 30 minutes, or until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. If desired, this dish can be made in a casserole, browning the chops first, and baked, covered, in a 350 degree oven for 45 minutes. Garnish with orange sections, just before serving. Makes four servings, approximately 38c per serving (cost will be more if center cut chops are used); 411 calories per serving and 19 grams protein per serving.

RAISIN WHOLE WHEAT BREAD

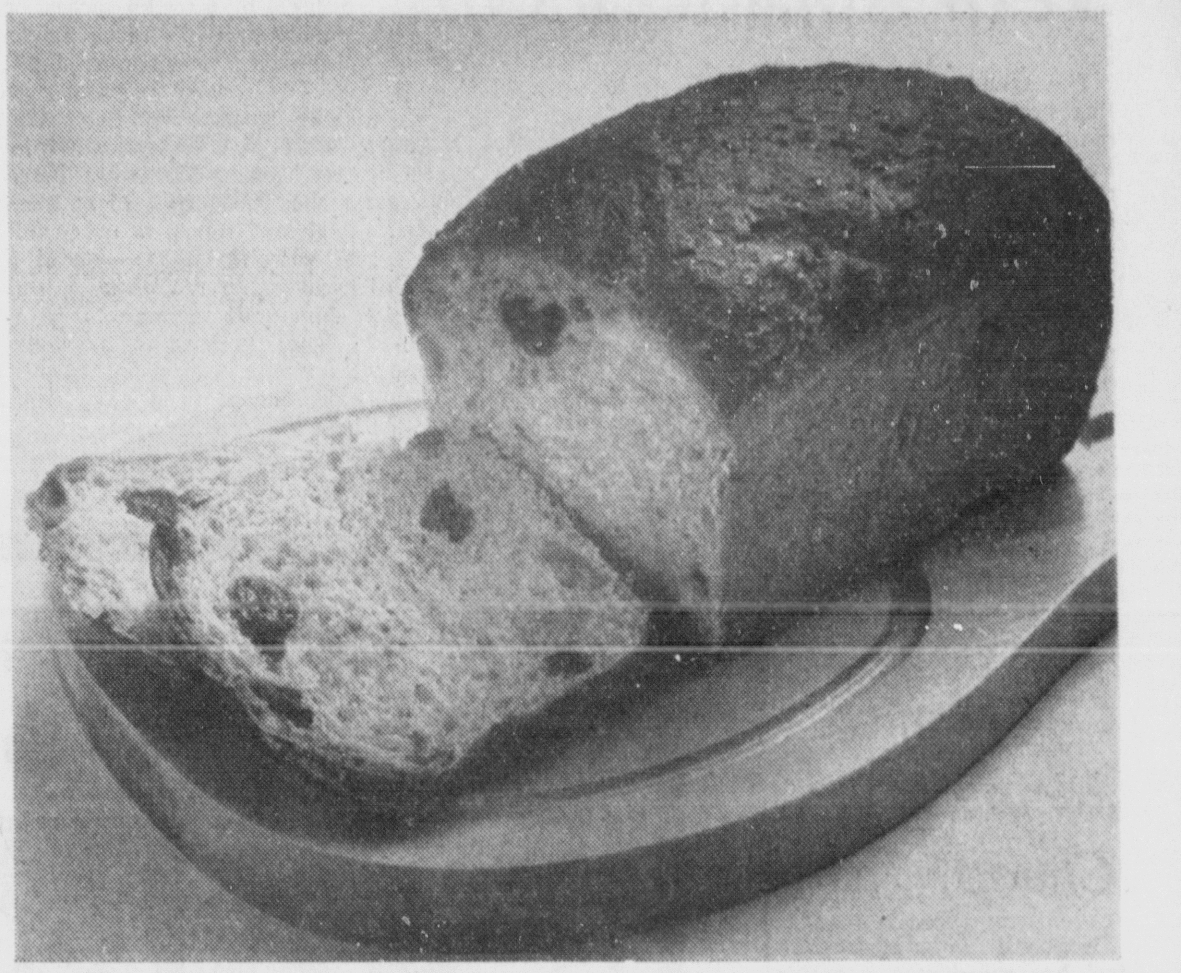
1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup golden raisins
3 packages active dry yeast
4 cups warm water
3 eggs
½ cup shortening, melted
¾ cup honey
1½ cups cracked wheat
7 cups unsifted whole wheat flour
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ cup wheat germ
1 cup non-fat dry milk
5 teaspoons salt
¾ cup sunflower seeds, untoasted
1 tablespoon cold water

Cover raisins with hot water and let stand until cool; drain. Spread out on paper toweling and blot to remove excess moisture; set aside. Dissolve yeast in warm water in 4-quart bowl. Beat two whole eggs and one yolk (reserve one egg white for glazing top of bread); stir into yeast along with melted shortening and honey, mixing well. Stir in cracked wheat; let stand while measuring ingredients.

Combine whole wheat and all-purpose flours with wheat germ, dry milk and salt, mixing well. Stir dry ingredients into yeast mixture and blend thoroughly until dough is stiff and leaves sides of bowl. Stir in raisins and sunflower seeds. Spoon half of dough onto well-floured board and knead until smooth, using extra flour if necessary. Place in well-greased glass or crockery bowl, turning once to bring greased side up. Repeat with remaining dough and place in second 4-quart bowl. Cover and let rise in warm, draft-free spot for about 2½ hours, or until double in bulk. (Press two fingers in center of dough.

(It will leave indentation when dough is doubled.) Punch down; shape into loaves and place in well-greased bread pans. Combine reserved egg white and water; brush over top of loaves. Cover with damp cloth and let rise until double in bulk, about 1 hour.

Bake in preheated 375 degree oven for 30 to 50 minutes, depending upon size of pan. Makes 4 large 9x5x3-inch loaves — bake 45 to 50 minutes; 8 7½x3½x2-inch loaves — bake 35 to 40 minutes; 12 individual 5½x3x2-inch loaves — bake 30 to 35 minutes. When done, run spatula around edges and turn out on rack to cool.



BREAD BAKING enthusiasts will enjoy making the raisin whole wheat loaf for the family meals.

Beef Knowledge Best Budget Helper

If you're concerned about extending your beef dollar, one of the best ways to do it is by learning more about beef. Knowing your way around the meat counter is the key to buying beef on a budget. Knowledge of the wide variety of beef cuts available and the appropriate cooking methods for each is essential to any money-saving plan, according to Reba Staggs, National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Familiarity with a large number of cuts and how to cook them allows for flexibility in market shopping. Then when you recognize a good buy, a quick shift can be made in menu plans for a saving.

PREPARATION KNOW-HOW makes for increased eating satisfaction and cuts waste that can accompany poor choice of cooking method, cooking at too high a temperature or overcooking. Roasting, broiling, panbroiling, panfrying, braising, and cooking in liquid are all acceptable cooking methods for beef, but not all are good choices for every cut.

In general, tender cuts from the rib or loin sections are cooked by the dry heat methods. When low to moderate temperatures are used and overcooking is avoided, success is sure. The ease of these methods contributes to the popularity of rib roasts and sirloin steaks. However, since the loin and rib sections provide less than 28 per cent of the beef cuts marketed, it should be no surprise that they do cost more.

THE REMAINING 72 plus per cent of the beef in the display case is less tender to varying degrees. These cuts also, however, can provide enticing entrees, and usually more economical ones. These sections provide the ground beef that is the backbone of many a budget meal.

It is with the round, chuck, shank, brisket, short plate and flank that cooking know-how counts even more. Every one of the cuts from these less tender sections can be made tender and delicious when matched with the proper cooking method. This usually means braising or cooking in liquid. Some also can be satisfactorily roasted, broiled, panbroiled or panfried under certain circumstances.

ROASTS SUCH as sirloin tip and rump, that are less tender than rib roasts, are at their best when roasted only to rare or medium and carved in thin slices.

Marinades can be used to help tenderize steaks such as round and blade for broiling. For example, a top round steak, cut 1½ to 2 inches thick, provides a delicious meal when scored on both sides, marinated 6 hours or overnight, broiled to rare or medium and carved diagonally in thin slices.

When selecting blade steaks to broil, choose steaks cut only ½ to ¾ inch thick and marinate before broiling. Marinades provide for interesting flavor variation as well as tenderizing.

'Try It, You'll Like It' Cookbook Will Be On Sale At Israeli Fair

The cookbook "Try It, You'll Like It" will be for sale at the Marin Israeli Fair, May 27 and 28. The book was compiled by members of the Sisterhood of Congregation Rodef Sholom in San Rafael.

Members of the committee who collected the more than 400 recipes are Mmes. Leon Fish, Nelson Harris Jr., Mervyn Shenson, Marshall Geiger, Maurice Koch, Philip Carr, Myron Hersko and Myron Kaplan.

CHOPPED LIVER

1 lb. chicken livers
4-6 hard-boiled eggs
2 onions, minced
Chicken fat or margarine
Salt and pepper

Saute onions in small amount of chicken fat or margarine until golden brown. Add livers and saute until tender. Chop together with hard-boiled eggs until finely minced. Add salt and pepper to taste along with enough extra melted chicken fat or margarine to hold together. — Janet Kaplan

SCHMALTZ

(Rendered chicken fat)

Wash and drain chicken fat. Cut into medium chunks and put in cold frying pan. Cook over medium heat until fat cooks out. Keeps well in refrigerator for weeks or may be frozen. Use for frying in place of butter or margarine. Strain to remove crackings. — Joan Hersko

GEFILTE FISH

1 lb. butter fish
1 lb. flounder
1 lb. red snapper
1 medium onion
1 carrot
½ cup cooking oil
½ cup matzo meal
3 eggs

Chop fish; grate in onion and carrot. Add matzo meal, oil, and salt and pepper to taste. With wet hands, form into patties (or balls, whichever). In half of a four quart pot of salted boiling water, drop fish carefully. Cover and simmer for about 1½ hours. Wait until fish cools before removing from pot. Chill and serve with horseradish. Great appetizer.

CHEESE BLINTZES

Batter:

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 tsp. salt
4 eggs, well beaten
1 cup milk or 1 cup water

Filling:

1½ lb. dry cottage cheese
1 or 2 egg yolks, beaten
1 Tbsp. melted butter or margarine
Salt, sugar, and cinnamon to taste

Sift flour and salt. Mix eggs with liquid. Stir in flour. Mix until smooth (wire whisk is very effective) to form thin batter. Pour onto a hot, lightly greased six inch skillet enough batter to form very thin pancake, tilting the pan from side to side so that batter spreads easily. Cook over low heat on one side only until the top of pancake is dry and blistered. Turn out on clean cloth, cooked side up. Allow to cool. Repeat until all batter is used.

Filling: Mix cheese with egg yolks and butter and with salt, sugar, and cinnamon to taste. Place a tablespoon of mixture in center of each pancake. Fold edges over to form envelope. Blintzes may be prepared and filled in advance, wrapped well and frozen until ready to use.

To cook: Do not thaw. Deep fry in preheated oil in skillet; turn until browned on both sides. Blintzes may be kept hot in preheated 300 degree oven.

MINI MATZO BALL SOUP

7 cups water
2 stalks celery (with tops)
1 large carrot, grated
3 sprigs parsley
1 parsnip
1 large onion
1 cup water
1 cup milk
salt and pepper

In one cup of water, place diced celery, cut-up onion, diced parsnip, and three sprigs parsley. Mix coarsely in blender. Add to the seven cups of water and bring to gentle boil. Cover and cook for ½ hour. Drop mini matzo balls into soup and cook for another ½ hour. Add milk, salt, and pepper. Cook uncovered for 15 minutes. (Add grated carrot when cooking coarse blend mixture.)

Mini Matzo Balls

2 Tbsp. softened butter or oil
2 slightly beaten eggs
½ cup matzo meal
1 tsp. salt
2 Tbsp. water

Mix butter or oil together with eggs. Add matzo meal and salt. Blend well by hand. Add water. Cover bowl and put in refrigerator for at least ½ hour. If too sticky to handle, add another tablespoon of matzo meal. — Eve Jacobs.

A Hearty Dish Is Vegetarian

Here is a hearty main dish that is vegetarian.

CHEESE, BROCCOLI AND RICE CASSEROLE

1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped broccoli
1 cup minced onion
1 tablespoon butter
1 jar (8 ounces) pasteurized process cheese spread, at room temperature
1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup, undiluted
½ teaspoon dry mustard
3 cups cooked rice
4 hard-cooked eggs, quartered
1 can (3 ounces) French fried onion rings

Cook broccoli according to package directions; drain. Cook onions in butter until softened but not brown; stir in cheese spread, then gradually the soup; stir in mustard and rice; fold in eggs. Turn into a buttered shallow 2-quart baking dish. Sprinkle with onion rings. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until hot through — about 20 minutes.

Pork Carries Thiamin Plus

Serve a pork roast, chops or any other pork cuts and you're supplying your family the best natural source of thiamin. This important member of the B-complex family of vitamins has several vital functions in the body.

Thiamin helps prevent nervousness and irritability, as well as abnormal fatigue.

With a sufficient supply of thiamin, there are seldom problems with appetite. This fact is especially important for growing children and teen-agers.

Tuna Salad Stretches Food Funds

Food prices being what they are, it's smart to s-t-r-e-t-c-h. Example: Stretch one can of tuna into a main dish for four to six people with "Tuna, Apple and Iceberg Salad."

The tuna is tossed with western iceberg lettuce chunks, diced apple and chopped celery in a sour cream dressing made interesting with capers and onions, then sprinkled with grated Cheddar cheese for this stretch-worthy salad.

With just a bit of imagination you have turned the classic "Waldorf Salad" into a thrifty full-meal salad.

TUNA, APPLE AND ICEBERG SALAD

1 small head western iceberg lettuce
1 large apple
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup dairy sour cream
4 teaspoons vinegar
1 teaspoon seasoned salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup chopped green onion
1 tablespoon capers
1 (6½ ounce)can chunk-style tuna, drained
½ cup coarsely grated Cheddar cheese

Core, rinse and thoroughly drain lettuce; refrigerate in disposable plastic bag or plastic "crisp-it." At serving time, cut lettuce crosswise into inch-thick slices, then into bite-size chunks to measure 1 quart. Pare, core and dice apple; chop celery. Blend sour cream with vinegar, salt, pepper, onion and capers. Combine all ingredients except cheese and toss lightly, but well. Spoon into individual serving bowls and sprinkle with cheese.

Makes four to six servings.

Top Banana

Higher in potassium than any other popular, readily available fresh fruit, bananas contain iron, Vitamins A, C, B1, B2, B6 and niacin. They're low in sodium, 99.8 per cent fat-free and have no cholesterol.

Chicken Is Good Veal Replacement

The trend to use chicken thighs instead of veal in the famous Italian dish called Veal Parmesan is a great idea Chicken is so much less expensive than veal. It's delicious served with noodles — because it has lots of sauce — and a green salad.

CHICKEN PARMESAN

6 broiler-fryer chicken thighs, boned and skinned
1 egg
¼ cup water
1 cup (about) fine dry bread crumbs
¼ cup olive or other salad oil
3 cans (each 8 ounces) tomato sauce
½ teaspoon dried crushed basil
½ teaspoon dried crushed oregano
¼ teaspoon dried crushed thyme
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
4 ounces mozzarella cheese, cut into 6 slices

Flatten chicken thighs by pounding between two pieces of wax paper.

Beat egg with water in a shallow dish. Dip thighs in egg mixture and then coat with bread crumbs

In a large skillet heat oil; add thighs and brown on both sides.

Mix tomato sauce, basil, oregano and thyme. Spread a thin layer of sauce on bottom of a 1½-quart glass oblong baking dish (10 by 6 by 1¾ inches) or similar utensil. Place thighs over sauce, overlapping slightly. Cover with remainder of sauce. Sprinkle with Parmesan.

Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven for 30 minutes. Place a slice of Mozzarella on each thigh and return to oven until Mozzarella melts —about 5 minutes. Serve at once

Makes six servings.

Note: To bone thighs, make lengthwise cut along thinner side. Scrape flesh away from bone and remove bone.

Recipe For Oatmeal Bread Given On Kitchen Time In Marin Show

Breads were the subject of Diane MacMillan's Kitchen Time in Marin radio show on KTIM yesterday, and her special guest was Gertrude Harris.

Today they share a recipe for Oatmeal Bread.

MARJORY ANDERSON'S OATMEAL BREAD
(From Manna Foods of the Frontier)

2 cups uncooked oatmeal
2 tablespoons shortening
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup honey
¼ cup less 1 teaspoon molasses
1 quart boiling water
1 yeast cake
¼ cup lukewarm water
7 cups unbleached flour (approximately)

Put oatmeal, shortening, salt, honey and molasses in a large mixing bowl and pour on the boiling water; set aside to cool to lukewarm. Break up the yeast in lukewarm water and let stand until bubbly. When oatmeal mixture is ready, add the yeast and stir in well. Gradually add enough flour, beating in thoroughly, to make a workable dough.

Move to a floured board and proceed as for all other bread; knead, let rise, punch down and form into loaves. Put into greased pans, let rise once more and bake in a 425 degree oven for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 375 degrees and bake for about 40 minutes more, or until done.

Lemon juice helps prevent pared apples and pears from browning; it does the same job for peeled bananas. Either dip the cut-up fruit in the juice or pour the juice over the fruit.

Old Family Recipe Is Cheap, Tasty

Marion H. Smith of San Rafael has contributed a recipe from her mother's cookbook to help large families provide nourishment to the children in this time of high prices, borrowing on her own experience as a youngster during the depression

"I remembered when we were kids during the depression how my mother managed to serve nourishing and delicious meals, so I looked through her cook book and found one to share I still recall that it looked appetizing, smelled and tasted good, and was most satisfying. . . we kids loved it."

PEANUT BUTTER LOAF

½ cup peanut butter
2 cups coarse bread crumbs
1 pint boiling water
Butter or margarine, size of an egg
1 tsp. sage
1 medium onion
Salt and pepper

Mix all together, binding with one egg, well beaten. Add the peanut butter last. Bake ½ hour and serve with white sauce flavored with peanut butter.

Orange Quality Not Affected

Regreening or russeting alters the appearance of oranges but does not affect quality.

A greenish cast or spots or a tan, brown or blackish mottling or specking sometimes occurs. Russeting often happens on thin-skinned oranges with superior eating quality.

Cookies Done

Bar cookies are done if the top springs back when touched lightly with a finger. They also separate from the sides of the pan when done.

Preheat Oven

Preheat the oven to the correct temperature for at least 10 minutes before you begin baking cookies

Mrs. Arlin Mummert will be installed president of St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild tomorrow at 1 p.m. at a reception and tea in the St. Raphael's School auditorium.

Mothers of students who are graduating will be honored.

Mrs. Juan Ferrer is chairman.

SQUARE DANCERS from Marin are planning to attend the Northern California Square Dancers Association annual Golden State Round Up Friday through Sunday at the Oakland Municipal Auditorium.

VISITORS TO the Marin Designers Showcase have voted for a favorite room among those displayed. Ballots will be tallied Friday evening, and an award in honor of Marin designer, the late Anne McDonald, will be presented to the designer of the room.

The showcase, sponsored by the Volunteer Bureau Auxiliary, is located at 120 Mountain View Avenue in San Rafael.

HOME AND Garden Section of the Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club will have an American home program Friday at noon at the clubhouse in Kentfield.

Hand made articles by club members will be displayed, and Pamela Sandlin will demonstrate Bargello canvas work.

Chairman is Mrs. Robert L. Nickerson, and members of the committee are Mmes. Ivan Van Winkle, George McLaughlin and Wesley D. Smith.

THE BEL Marin Keys Yacht Club will have a three-day Memorial Day cruise to Lost Isle in the Delta off San Joaquin River leaving the Keys at 9 a.m. Saturday and arriving at the Keys at 7 p.m. Monday.

On Sunday a sparerib dinner will be given on the island, and breakfast will be held on Monday before heading to the Keys. The cruise chairman is Robert Buetzow, cruiser fleet captain.

SAN FRANCISCO Yacht Club Women's Auxiliary will hold a playday for members and their guests tomorrow at the yacht club in Belvedere.

A tour of glamorous boats at the guest dock, hostessed by club members modeling casual fashions, is planned at 11:30 a.m.

A "Danish delicatessen" will be served at 1 p.m. on the club house deck followed by a demonstration of waterproof make-up at 2 p.m. and El Toro races at 2:15 p.m.

CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS of America 1707 will sponsor a scholarship luncheon from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Friday at Our Lady of Loretto Hall in Novato.

The funds from the luncheon will be for scholarships open to any eighth grade boy or girl in Novato wishing to attend a Catholic high school. Applications may be obtained at Our Lady of Loretto School and St. Anthony and Our Lady of Loretto rectories.

Chairmen are Mmes. Merlyn Johnson and Rita Davidson, who are also reservations chairmen.

A PLANT sale will be presented by the Novato Hostess Club tomorrow and Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Johnnie Ray, 69 Grande Vista, Novato.

MEMBERS OF Women's American Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training (ORT) will have a truck in Marin County on Friday to pick up used clothing, household items, small appliances and bric-a-brac to be sold for the benefit of the educational fund.

Arrangements to have the truck come to the donors' homes can be made by calling Mrs. Roland I. King of San Rafael.

CENTER ASSOCIATES of the San Francisco Jewish Community Centers is sponsoring a tour of Knapp and Tubbs Furniture Showroom in San Francisco, on Saturday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Chairman is Pat Davis of Mill Valley.

Proceeds will be donated by the Bay Area Jewish Community Centers to provide scholarships for nursery schools, day camps and Camp Towanga.

QUESTION MARKS Square Dance Club of Santa Rosa is having a hoedown Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at the Cotati Women's Club in Cotati.

Caller will be Dave Abbott.

Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. in Mission San Rafael Arcangel in San Rafael. Luncheon will follow at the Holiday Inn in Northgate, San Rafael.

Grand president Claire Skidmore of Larkspur will present the check to the Archbishop.

THE GOLDEN anniversary of Fairfax Parlor 225, Native Daughters of the Golden West, will be celebrated by members at a dinner tomorrow at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax.

Special guest will be grand president Rae L. Rimnger of Sacramento making her official visit to the parlor.

Fairfax Parlor was chartered May 26, 1923, with 21 members, two of whom are still active, Alice Powers and Leona Smith. Mrs. Powers has continued as financial secretary all those years for the parlor. First president was Mrs. Powers' sister, the late Agnes Stewart Lauten.

The dinner at 7 p.m. will be preceded by a social gathering at 6:30 p.m. Mrs. Bernice Treleven is chairman for the evening assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Dal Porto. Claudine Philipps and Ruth Shine are reservations chairmen.

MRS. RICHARD Rider of Mill Valley will be installed president of the Franklin Hospital Women's Auxiliary tomorrow at a luncheon at Trader Vic's restaurant in San Francisco. The luncheon will begin with cocktails at 11:30 a.m.

Chairman is Mrs. Leland Dake of Belvedere.

The auxiliary will present a check for $15,000 toward the hospital's building fund to George Monardo of Mill Valley, president of the Ralph K. Davies Medical Center-Franklin Hospital.

Umbrella Stand

"Three empty, three-pound coffee cans make a fine umbrella stand," reports Redbook magazine's Kay Sullivan in the magazine's June issue. "Remove the bottom from two of the cans and stack them on the third can, securing them with masking tape. Then spray-paint and cover the tape with adhesive backed, decorative braid. Put a few stones in the bottom for stability."

'ECOLOGY IS A COP-OUT'

Lawyer Talks In Mill Valley

By BETTY FROST

"The overemphasis on ecology is a cop-out, obscuring our failure to solve human rights problems. Garbage is uniformly hated," Mrs. Norman A. Strauss said vehemently.

Human rights have been a major concern of Hermina Strauss, an attorney whose career has included activities at the state, national and international levels.

As an official consultant-observer of the International Federation of Women Lawyers to the United Nations, she assisted the U.N. Social commission in 1961, the committee on peaceful uses of outer space in 1964 and did research on the aerospace law in 1966. She was a delegate to the third Conference of World Peace Through Law at Geneva, Switzerland, in 1967.

She shared her observations on "The Successes of the United Nations" in a lecture sponsored by the Mill Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women last night at the Mill Valley Middle School.

A native and long-time resident of Fresno, Mrs. Strauss is married to Norman A. Strauss, a manufacturer's representative. Two years ago the couple moved to the Bay Area. They lived in Tiburon for a year and now reside in Alameda. While living in Tiburon, Mrs. Strauss affiliated with the Mill Valley Branch of the AAUW and continues to act as legislative chairman for the local branch.

LATER THIS year Mrs. Strauss will travel to Penang in Malaysia where she will participate in an international conference on families and family law. Under discussion will be such topics as the plight of families who move from rural areas to an urban center, the needs of unwed mothers and population control. Emphasis will be on women's rights and the rights of children, she indicated.

"WOMEN'S RIGHTS are included in the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights," the pleasant, matronly woman said, "but the United States has never ratified that declaration, even though it is based on our Bill of Rights."

Mrs. Strauss thinks that this country has held off ratification because of our own civil rights problems and that the progress made in the last few years may improve the chance of acceptance.

The administration of juvenile law in this country is another thing that puts the attorney on her soap box.

"Juvenile law has failed the child," she stated. She proposes abandoning the present juvenile courts and replacing them with a "family court", which would be charged with assisting parents, children and the aged.

She regrets the lack of opportunity for qualified women to take a more active role in government at all levels, and observes that other countries are outstripping the U.S. in this regard. She cites Angie Brooks of Liberia, a former president of the general assembly of the United Nations.

The Liberian woman received her law degree from the University of Virginia, Mrs. Strauss recalled, but no American woman of similar qualifications has had such an opportunity.

Mrs. Strauss and Miss Brooks became friends when both attended a session of the International Federation of Women Lawyers, when Miss Brooks was president of that organization.

"OUR APPOINTMENTS are too frequently politically-inspired," Mrs. Strauss remarked. She recalled one American woman representing the United States on a U.N. commission who was "a charming puppet, entirely dependent upon memos handed to her by state department men for her input to the deliberations. Meanwhile, highly qualified wmen from other countries were making independent decisions."

Another cause espoused by the international attorney is the establishment of a Peace College for this nation, to provide training in diplomacy on the same basis that the military and naval academies train military leaders. "Those countries where such academies exist have the smoothest diplomacy," she said.

Mrs. Strauss became interested in international law when she was a law clerk for a Los Angeles firm, which had an international practice.

She was graduated from the University of Southern California and studied law at USC, Pacific Coast University School of Law in Los Angeles and Hastings College of the Law in San Francisco.

She has two children, Louise, 23, and Charles 22. Her son will enter law school this fall. When the children were young she found that she could concentrate on international law, preparing papers, lecturing and going to scheduled conferences without neglecting the family. The cooperation of her family means a gerat deal to her.

SHE PLAYS the violin, is a "rock hound" and is a fan of amateur swimming competition. "What I'm not," she grinned, "is much of a cook."

Highlights of her activities include running for the assembly from District 32, Fresno, in 1970, being a delegate to the White House Regional Conference on Domestic Affairs in 1961 and serving as a member of Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger's non-partisan volunteer advisory committee. In recognition for her community services Mrs. Strauss was named one of the 10 top volunteers of 1970 in Fresno.

In looking ahead she believes that this country still has a mighty role to play in international affairs." I hope that it will not be in use of force in the future, but to bring leadership to the world in education and law."

For herself she says, "As a person whose children are grown, I hope my life span will include more years of learning."

AN ATTORNEY who has spent much of her career in the international field, Hermina Strass is a former Tiburon resident now residing in Alameda. She visited a friend in Larkspur while in Marin for her talk last night on the United Nations, sponsored by the Mill Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women. She is an active member of the branch.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

She Has Almost Everything But Wants Her Ex-Husband

DEAR HELEN:

I was married at 17 to a sweet boy of 19. He soon was trapped by an older woman (24). Her independence, income, sophistication, etc. made a little teen-age bride look like a dope. I went home to mother, and after the divorce he married this husband stealer.

I stayed single for three years and then met a nice man I thoughtI loved. We have two wonderful children now, a nice home, everything anyone would want or dream of, except there's one problem:

I still love my first husband, though I haven't seen him since the divorce, ten years ago. I hear he is free, and I dream of him all the time. You see, I'm the "mature older woman" now, and I could hold him.

Should I stay with my present marriage and be miserable, or out of fairness to my husband and myself, try to get back what I once had? — STILL IN LOVE

P.S. My ex has moved back to town — I'll surely run into him soon.

DEAR S.I.L!:

Your initials might be short for "silly."

It is silly, you know, blotting out a good present with the dream of a romance that died 10 years ago.

Your 29-year-old ex-husband isn't the "sweet boy" you married (if, in fact, that boy was ever really sweet). You might not recognize him physically, and I doubt you'd know him mentally. But you may have to prove this for yourself.

Once you see your ex, perhaps you'll realize how lucky you are that the "older woman" got him — and you could discover something about yourself: cast-offs cling to the past more out of hurt pride than "Undying Love." — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Could a formerly very virile man lose the urge at age 40?

My husband is suddently disinterested. I've begged him to see a doctor but he says he just doesn't care for sex anymore. He seems very tired most of the time.

He says there's no other woman, but his work requires him to stay out many nights, and how do I know exactly where he is? I've had no reason to mistrust him in the past, and I still love him very much. I'm only 35, and not ready for this.

Should I wait and hope, be extra-seductive (and get pushed away), or — cherchez la femme? — C.K.K.

DEAR C.:

Try the first two, laced with great amounts of understanding, and a firm but gentle push toward the medical check-up your husband no doubt needs.

Even if the third is indicated, liberal applications of the others may vanquish the femme. — H.

Service League Names President

Dale Hansen, the newly elected president of the Family Service League of Marin, has been a member for four years, serving as vice president, a volunteer at the Family Service Agency and coordinator of the league's annual fashion show.

"When I looked into volunteer groups I decided to put my efforts into Family Service because it is a service organization, not a social organization, although the social events are fun," she said.

Plans for the club year are a program on June 16 at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley of live entertainment for children during the day and adults in the evening, a stitchery class in the fall, a fashion show and luncheon. The league operates a thrift shop in Mill Valley, offering financial support to the agency.

The new president is a native of San Francisco. She and her husband, Walter, have lived in Mill Valley for 10 years and are parents of Eric, 4 years old. She is a graduate of Miami University in Ohio with a degree in psychology.

Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Hansen worked in office management and on research studies in psychological drugs. She assisted in the testing of librium and tofranil at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Los Angeles.

Her husband is an architect with offices in Tiburon and the family home, which he designed, was featured in Sunset magazine in September of 1972 and February of 1973. Mrs. Hansen assisted in the creation of an unusual concrete and wood design frame for the fireplace.

Flying is Mrs. Hansen's hobby. She completed ground school at the College of Marin, then studied in Santa Rosa, where she obtained a pilot's license three weeks before the birth of her son.

She now has 100 hours of flying time, and said she hopes to make longer trips than her previous ventures to the Nut Tree restaurant in Vacaville, Sea Ranch and Watsonville. Her other interests are sewing, gourment cooking and knitting.

Director of the Family Service Agency's counseling service is Chester F. Villalba. Other officers of the league are Mmes. H. G. Nimick of Tiburon, first vice president; David Blatchford of Mill Valley, second vice president; Reynold Buzzard of San Rafael, corresponding secretary; John Gardiner of Mill Valley, recording secretary, and Greig Gowdy of Mill Valley, treasurer.

Women Collect Coat Hangers So Others Live

TUCSON, Ariz. — If you've ever gotten tangled up with a bunch of wire coat hangers, you'll appreciate the goodness of heart and the supreme patience of two ladies who collect them — that others may live.

The Dorothy Forbes Oxygen Foundation was founded on just those plain clothes hangers. She began collecting them 15 years ago and all her friends help out. Mrs. Forbes sells them to local dry cleaners for $6 per 1,000.

It takes 63,000 to buy one oxygen tank with valves and face mask, but she and helper Mrs. Aubrey Bentley now have 62 of the life-giving breathing devices in circulation among those who could not otherwise afford them.

The foundation provides refills and no charge is made. No salaries are paid.

"It's the breath of life, that's what they give us," declared one recipient. "Our very lives depend on getting that oxygen when we need it."

How One Woman Put Family Together Again

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio — Charlotte Stickley grew up believing that she was the only child of Lawrence and Edith Stickley. Then, after Mrs. Stickley died in 1970, the sky fell in. Mrs. Stickley's sister told Catherine, now married to George Vorhees, that she was an adopted child. The Stickleys had adopted her in 1934 when she was a little over a year old.

Eager to find out about her real family Catherine began a search, starting with her birth record in Jackson, Ohio. There she located a brother and sister in Wellston, Ohio, and another brother in McArthur, Ohio.

Word spread that the long lost sister had been found.

Soon the once Catherine Gilliland will meet all her brothers and sisters in a family reunion. How many? The only child now has 12 brothers and sisters who will gather for the Gilliland get together.

She's Back In School At 83

BIG STONE GAP, Tenn. — A one-time teacher, who says she always "kept within hollering distance of my children and grandchildren in educational matters," now gets the word from them.

At 83, she's back in school to learn some more. At Mountain Empire Community College, Mrs. Minnie Mitchell is taking a full load, including history, folklore and ceramics.

"I don't need the credits — I've got enough to last me for life," she says. "I do it to keep busy."

And as for "hollering," her kids and their kids tell her, "Granny, keep it up."

Jazz Ensemble Does It Right

By SHIRLEY LIPTON

When the drummer yelled "all right" as the Sonoma State College Jazz Ensemble began playing "Don't Get Sassy," everyone packing the college's Warren Auditorium last night sensed that the concert was really going to be all right.

It was not only going to be sassy, but brassy as well; blue and torchy and as various as the music we call jazz.

The first part of the program featured arrangements by students. One of the best was "Oye Come Va" arranged by Frank Digoski. Originally written as a cha cha, Digoski quickened the tempo to a mambo beat, a wild Latin rock.

Also interesting was Dan Chambers' arrangement of Paul Simon's song "So Long, Frank Lloyd Wright." Chambers changed Simon's ballad into a bossa nova, giving it a whole new dimension.

The next number "Jeremiah" was also arranged by Chambers. It began with a froggy "Rivet, Rivet" from one of the musicians, led into "Joy to the World" blown out on five trumpets and climaxed with a drummers' duel between Jackson Padley and Pete Hanford. The audience stamped with the beat and would have danced in the aisles had there been room.

The second and longer part of the program was a tribute to George Gershwin. Sandy Sadler read a script which included material about each selection and information about Gershwin as well.

I found the information about the music instructive and the tidbits about Gershwin tinged with idolatry. I am ready to admit that Gershwin was a great composer, but I do think his brother Ira deserved more than a one-line mention for his contribution to the popularity of Gershwin's songs.

The selections chosen were better than the script. The first group was played by the Original Dixieland Jazz Band, which is part of the ensemble. They played "Liza," "Lady be Good," and "I Got Rhythm," each featuring guest artist Frank Haggerty on banjo.

The "Prelude No. 2 in C Sharp Minor," which was the next piece, presented quite a contrast in mood. Even the modern jazz interpretation did not completely detract from the beauty of the work.

Several popular songs by Gershwin were sung by vocalists Barbara Downey and Bertha Wimms. Miss Downey has a pleasant voice, but not the fire to belt out songs originally written for Ethel Merman.

Miss Wimms is a much better singer. She sounds a little like the great Ella Fitzgerald, with the same easy flow from high notes to very low and back again.

There were three selections from "Porgy and Bess." This was the first time I have heard "Summertime" as a solo for electric guitar and I'm not sure that it is an improvement over a really good soprano.

The best of the "Porgy and Bess" selections was "Bess, You is My Woman Now" sung by Miss Wimms and David Tigner. Tigner is a Sonoma State student with a fine baritone voice and real stage presence. He and Miss Wimms not only produced a beautifully blended sound, they even looked like two people in love.

The finale, naturally enough, was "Rhapsody in Blue." Rob Ramos was the piano soloist and he did a fine job. Unfortunately, we are accustomed to a full orchestra arrangement of this work and I, for one, missed the strings. They balance the strident voices of the brass and help produce a full sound that the jazz ensemble just could not achieve. But it was a grand attempt with some fine moments.

Felony Charge Is Reduced In Case

A felony charge of threatening a Waldo Point man was reduced yesterday against John Larry Lestar, 24, a resident of the houseboat community north of Sausalito.

Deputy Dist. Atty. John D. Posey Jr. said he dropped the charge to assault, a misdemeanor, after learning the victim, Robert W. Kalloch, 45, was carrying a loaded shotgun when the incident happened May 12.

Lestar was arrested the next day. Authorities said the incident stemmed from an order by Kalloch to keep Lestar off the gate 3 property where Lestar's houseboat is moored.

Posey recommended nine days in jail, which Lestar served between his arrest and yesterday but Judge Peter Allen Smith continued sentencing to June 12 to obtain a probation report. Lestar was released until then.

Ban Looms On Sewer Connections

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — San Francisco today faced the threat of a possible ban on new sewer hookups over more than half the city because the major sewage treatment facilities have failed to meet the standards of the Regional Water Quality Control Board.

Fred H. Dierker, executive director of the board, announced Tuesday he will send out notices of cease-and-desist hearings on the Richmond-Sunset plant and the North Point Plant.

Lending institutions previously have cut off financing at the mere mention of such a ban. Dierker's announcement thus could halt pending construction throughout most of San Francisco.

The San Francisco Public Works Department will have a chance at the next board meeting June 26 to answer charges that the two plants have not treated sewage properly.

Dierker also urged the board to consider a ban on all new sewage hookups into the new facilities until the city brings the plants up to the board's standards. This would, in effect, ban all new construction in the areas involved.

Dad Of The Year Nominees Named

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Father's Day Committe has named eight men, including a former prisoner of war, a U.S. senator and a sportscaster, as 1973 Fathers of the Year.

They were Capt. Howard E. Rutledge, a prisoner of war in North Vietnam for seven years; Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill.; sportscaster Howard Cosell; Monte Irvin, a member of the baseball Hall of Fame; Miami Dolphins quarterback Bob Rriese; actor Jack Albertson; singer Julius La Rosa, and television personality Redd Foxx, star of "Sanford and Son."

Choir Performance Quite Impressive

By R. LEE CARLSON

The Oratorio Choir of the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary presented J. S. Bach's "Cantata 78" and Vivaldi's "Gloria" to a near capacity audience last night in Mill Valley.

The choir directed by John P. Johnson is a newly organized group consisting of seminary students and members of the community. The group was supported by Orine Suffern, organist, and members of Terra Linda High School orchestra. The continuo was very ably played by student cellist David Starkweather.

Cantata 78, one of nearly 300, was written about 1740. The opening passacaglia is an excellent example of Bach's contrapuntal art. It is difficult to sing, but in spite of inaccuracies and poetic deficiencies in the English translation, there was last night an intensity of ardor and humility which did, indeed, express the Lord's suffering. The sincerity and seriousness of the performers was impressive.

The high point of the Cantata was the tenor recitative and aria sung by Daniel Parkerson, whose voice marvelously sustained the vocal line. Parkerson's diction was excellent and his phrasing sensitive and absolutely elegant.

Joshua Law's bass voice with a particularly supple liquid quality was even and well placed in the well performed aria and his recitative had an outstanding dramatic air, but the English sometimes seemed to trouble him.

The choir seemed much more at ease with the "Vivaldi Gloria." Of course, the form is much clearer and, as director Johnson explained to the audience, the work is a celebration. The choir reflected that spirit. The second chorus, "And on Earth Be Peace," was fine. The bass and tenor lines were clearly heard, and the overall balance was good. One felt that 40 singers were most earnestly pleading for peace on earth; it was a moving experience.

Soprano Robin Miles and contralto Florence Bierman sang the duet, "We Praise Thee, Lord," with conviction. Their voices were well matched. Miss Miles sang her aria with a well sustained, smooth, pure sound which had a lovely quality of floating, especially in the aria and chorus, "O Thou Our Lord God."

There was a constant rapport between Miss Bierman and the chorus, and she provided a richly textured sound, at the same time achieving an exceedingly tender and gentle "Lamb of God." There was an ease and understanding between her and the choir which was very natural and very beautiful.

The evening was an inspiration. Johnson must be congratulated for bringing together a new group of singers. This choir surely will continue to grow and develop under his guidance.

Condition Is Said Good After Crash

A British Columbia woman was reported in good condition today at Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma with injuries suffered in an accident at 10:45 a.m. yesterday on Highway 101 near the Washington Street overpass.

California Highway Patrol officers said that Myrtle Beagle, 65, of Minister, was a passenger in a camper truck driven by her husband, Mervin, 69.

Beagle pulled out to pass another northbound car, according to officers, not seeing a car alongside his vehicle. When the other driver blew his horn, Beagle pulled back, lost control of the camper and swerved into the median barrier.

Beagle was not injured. His wife suffered broken ribs and multiple scrapes.

Labor Charge Made Against Food Firm

GARDENA, Calif. (UPI) — Ramona's Mexican Food Products Co., founded by U.S. Treasurer Romana Banuelos, was found guilty by the National Labor Relations Board yesterday of unfair labor practices.

The firm is now owned by Mrs. Banuelos' son, Carlos Torres. The NLRB ordered the company to pay back wages to Teamsters Union members who went on strike last year and to halt anti-union practices.

Belvedere Council Rescinds Drain Plan

The Belvedere City Council last night rescinded its earlier approval of a plan to improve drainage in the community park and referred the matter to the parks and recreation commission for study.

Mayor Allan Steinau said the council May 7 accepted a proposal of City Mgr. William L. Cavalli that a landscape contractor, Cagwin and Dorward of San Rafael, install a catch basin and drains to eliminate ponding in the park.

Cagwin and Dorward last spring installed turf in the park but Steinau said part of the job was done improperly, causing water to collect in a portion of the park.

The council, granted the request of George L. McCoy, chairman of the parks and recreation commission, for study of a natural drainage system to be accomplished by regrading and resodding the pond area instead of installing pipes, said Steinau.

He said the council also held a closed session to interview five consultants in a search for a firm to conduct an efficiency study of city offices, but took no action.

Petaluma Man To Face Charges

A 35-year-old Petaluma man was arrested Monday in San Rafael on a Santa Barbara warrant on suspicion of defrauding an innkeeper, vandalism and local traffic warrants.

Frank G. Coccimiglio, of 341 Liberty Street, was released on $5,000 bail to appear June 4 in Marin Municipal Court and later in Santa Barbara.

San Rafael police arrested Coccimiglio at the United Market at 515 Third Street.

Petaluma School Board Accepts Bleacher Offer

The Petaluma Board of Education last night accepted an offer from the city of Rohnert Park to pay for bleachers at Rancho Cotate High School playing field.

Rancho Cotate football games have been played at Petaluma High School in the past because of lack of facilities at the newer school. In the meantime, the city of Rohnert Park has been collecting fees on new houses to pay for a stadium.

City officials now have agreed to spend up to $30,000 for the new bleachers, to be used both for high school and community activities, according to school Supt. Lesly H. Meyer.

At another meeting of the school board yesterday, raises for teachers and counselors ranging from 3.1 per cent to 6.4 per cent were approved, Meyer said.

He did not have an estimate on the cost of the increases, which averaged about 5.5 per cent, he said.

The Petaluma Board of Education also:

Decided that developers should not be charged fees on new residences in Rohnert Park in order to pay for high school facilities. The suggestion had been made by Rohnert Park officials.

Accepted a bid of $7,590 by Hand and Hawkins of Cotati for a sprinkler system at Penngrove School.

Accepted resignations from teachers Antonnette Schroeder of the elementary district and Emma Webber of the high school district.

Granted high school teachers M. Elaine Gillespie and Gloria Morrow leaves of absence for the 1973-74 school year.

Einstein Manuscript Sold For $46,500

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI) — A handwritten manuscript by physicist Albert Einstein describing his theory of relativity was auctioned to a buyer today for $46,500.

The Hauswedell and Nolte Auction House said the 72-page manuscript is the first by Einstein to be offered at an international sale.

Seniors Of Year Are Announced

A former Marin County supervisor and a Fairfax woman with a variety of pursuits were named Marin's Senior Citizens of the Year today at a luncheon at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Winners are William A. Gnoss, 74, of Novato, former chairman of the board of supervisors, and Elenor Jones, also 74, who was the nominee of the American Association of Retired Persons.

Gnoss, nominated for the award by the Novato Senior Citizens Club, also is founder and a former president of the Novato Volunteer Fire Department, a 50-year member and past president of the Marin County Farm Bureau and a 38-year member of the Sonoma-Marin District Fair Board.

Mrs. Jones, with friends and neighbors, helped set up a "telephone pal" system to help seniors in need and has served two terms as president of the Senior Forum. She also has been an instructor in defensive driving and has held several offices during her 10-year membership in the American Association of Retired Persons.

Twenty-two persons were nominated by city councils, civic groups and other organizations for the award, sponsored annually by the Marin Senior Coordinating Council. The winners were selected by a panel of nine judges, largely from the recreational field in the Bay Area.

Officials Wife Seeks Divorce

The wife of county schools official Robert E. Spain has filed in Marin Superior Court to dissolve their 27-year-marriage.

Katherine M. Spain cited irreconcilable differences and asked $850-a-month alimony and $150 a month for the couple's son, Robert II, 17. The petition estimated Spain's salary as assistant superintendent of county schools at $2,000 a month.

The Spains married April 8, 1946, in Kansas, but separated March 23, 1973, according to the petition.

The 44-year-old administrator and his family have been living at 745 Tamarack Drive, San Rafael.

Mill Valley Thief Nets Art, Cash

Art objects and an undetermined amount of cash were stolen Monday night from the Greenwood Tree, a gift shop at 401 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

Police said there was no sign of forced entry and theorized that the thief may have hidden in the store until closing time. The burglary occurred between 5:30 p.m. Monday and 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Officers said a 12 by 6 inch hole was hacked in the shop's bathroom wall, an apparently unsuccessful attempt to enter the Marin Electric and Hardware store next door.

Decision Is Due Soon In Cotati

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — A Sonoma County Superior Court judge has said he will rule soon on a suit aimed at halting the firing of the Cotati City manager by three youthful city council members.

City Mgr. Paul W. Salfen's attorney, Joseph Henderson, argued Monday that an ordinance change proposed by the three which would require only three votes on the council to fire the manager would illegally change his implied contract.

Henderson said that Salfen was hired under an ordinance that required a 4-1 vote for dismissal and that he has a right to expect this condition to continue.

The three young councilmen, facing a recall movement in part over their proposed firing of Salfen, outmaneuvered the two older members by voting to change the ordinance.

City Atty. Jay Cantor, part of the youthful regime, said in court that the three have a legal right to change the ordinances.

Judge Lincoln F. Mahan did not set a date for his decision on the suit which was brought by Alfred Falleti, former city councilman ousted last year when the three younger members were elected.

Housing Group Receives Grant

The Ecumenical Association for Housing in Marin has received a fifth and final annual grant of $15,000 from the San Francisco Foundation, association President Elizabeth Moody announced.

The grant will provide about one-third of the association's 1973-74 budget, Mrs. Moody said. Other funds will be sought from individuals, businesses and the county of Marin.

A drive for sustaining sponsors who will give $1,000 or $500 is under way, according to Joseph Martino, funding chairman.

The association works toward providing housing for persons of low income in Marin.

Three Events Set At College

Three evenings of informal dance theater have been scheduled for tomorrow, Friday and Saturday at Sonoma State College.

Performances entitled "Dances For You" will be directed by Lynda Knapp featuring her students in the expressive arts department.

One of the dances will feature a collage of radio commercials and sound effects from the 1930s, she said.

All performances will be at 8:30 p.m. in room 1 of the physical education building.

Board Awards Line Contract

The Ross Valley Sanitary District board Monday night awarded a $621,814 contract to Healy Tibbits Construction Company of San Francisco to construct the new sewer trunkline from Ross to San Anselmo Avenue in San Anselmo.

The San Francisco firm was the low bidder out of seven opened at the board's meeting last week.

Board president Eugene Ostaggi said construction is expected to begin in late June.

Petaluma Is Moving Against Sex Films

The city council of Petaluma, where the widely banned and highly X-rated "Deep Throat" has been running in a downtown movie theater for some 24 weeks, has decided to move against such sexy films.

First, the council introduced an ordinance Monday night that would ban movies which contain "explicit sexual material" at outdoor and drive-in theaters because "a lot of people see them that don't want to," according to City Clerk Lillian Nommsen.

People living nearby or driving past such theaters often view films they have no intention of seeing, the council decided.

As for "Deep Throat," showing at an indoor theater, the council instructed Police Chief Larry D. Higgins to move against the film as soon as he receives legal instructions on what action to take.

Petaluma officials have asked advice from the Sonoma County District Attorney's Office as to what course they can take to drive "Deep Throat" from the town, usually more noted for its bucolic quality than sexy entertainment.

Mrs. Nommsen said a couple of people Monday night spoke against dirty movies but no one in the audience supported them.

The Petaluma City Council also:

APPROVAL — Granted Donald Waite site design approval for an office building at 421 Petaluma Boulevard North, overturning a planning commission denial.

REZONING — Introduced an ordinance to permit Lieb and Quaresema's request to rezone to highway commercial use from limited industrial a block bounded by East D, Lakeville, Erwin and Jefferson streets.

INTERSECTION — Accepted a bid from Ghilotti Brothers for $161,000 for intersection improvements including traffic signals at Baywood Drive extension.

BIDS — Put over to June 28 the advertising of bids for water polution control facilities.

Lot Split Is Denied In Tiburon

The Tiburon Board of Adjustments has agreed with complaining neighbors and denied a lot split which would have created two substandard lots in the Hillhaven subdivision at 14 Saint Bernard Lane.

Development Administrator Phil V. Scott said six neighbors spoke against the plan Monday night and two letters opposing it were received.

Philip Watson had applied to split a lot containing 36,663 square feet on a 40 to 50-degree slope into two parcels, although the zoning ordinance requires lots with greater than a 35 per cent slope to be no smaller than one acre or 43,560 square feet.

Scott said the board did grant Watson a variance to allow a parking ramp to encroach on the required 15-foot frontyard setback.

Planners Vote Open Space Plan

The Novato Planning Commission approved in principle last night an open space plan for Mount Burdell prepared by the Mount Burdell Open Space Committee.

Planning Director Brian W. Mattson said a final policy statement on Mount Burdell will be drafted and presented at a later commission meeting and eventually to the city council.

The plan calls for about 2,200 acres of open space on the upper slopes of the mountain, with intent to have the land acquired under the countywide open space plan.

'Swim-A-Thon' Set For Date In June

A "swim-a-thon" to raise money for disaster relief will be held June 2 from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. at four Marin County swimming pools, according to Nancy Hayden of the Marin Chapter of the American Red Cross.

A story in the Independent-Journal Monday mistakenly said the event would be held this Saturday.

Wood Sculptures

Wood sculptures by P. Nelson Crutchfield of Mill Valley will be on display at the Mill Valley Public Library from June 1 to 30.

June Trial Set On Felony Count

Edgar Jack Storey, 56, of San Francisco, will be tried in Marin Superior Court the week of June 18 on a felony charge of shooting at an inhabited dwelling in a dispute over ownership of a dog.

He pleaded innocent to the charge in an appearance before Judge David Menary Jr.

Storey was arrested by Corte Madera police April 7 for allegedly firing shots into the front door of the Alex Sill home at 11 Birch Court. An original charge of assault with a deadly weapon was amended at the time of his preliminary hearing two weeks ago.

Storey is in the Marin County Jail in lieu of posting $10,000 bail.

Exchange Program Supported

The Mill Valley School District board has reaffirmed its support of an exchange program to bring 40 students from the Sausalito School to Mill Valley this fall if financial arrangements can be made.

The big question, reported secretary Patsy White, is which district will get the state funds for the children. A committee representing both districts is considering that question. question.

Mrs. White said Mill Valley may hire two teachers from the Sausalito School District if they meet Mill Valley's qualifications, but that matter, too, must be worked out by the committee.

Also Monday night, the board voted to switch insurance policies and will save $7,000 next year in premium charges as a result of the action, Mrs. White said.

In other business, trustees approved a one-year leave of absence for science teacher Carol Arntz and accepted the resignation of Alice Westbrook, Alto-Edna Maguire school teacher.

Mrs. White said the board went into closed session to discuss negotiations with employee groups.

Campus Housing To Be Available

Housing on the Sonoma State College campus will be available for the first time this year to summer students, according to Carroll Mjelde, dean of instructional services and continuing education.

Campus residence halls, which opened last year, will be open to individuals, families and groups, Mjelde said. The college will also assist those interested in finding off-campus housing through use of bulletin boards.

In addition, a recreation vehicle-trailer park on East Cotati Avenue in Rohnert Park is available for students who want to camp out while going to school.

Further information can be obtained from the director of housing at the college.

College Board Sets Meeting

The Marin Community College District board will meet at 7:15 p.m. today in room 160 of the College of Marin office center to award a contract for fencing the Indian Valley Colleges construction site.

District publicist Earlene Jones said the board also will adopt a resolution in support of Senate Bill 6 and Assembly Bill 46, which increase state support to community colleges.

The actions will be followed by a workshop session on administrative salary proposals, said Mrs. Jones, and on a preliminary budget for fiscal 1973-74.

FILM'S IMPACT — Tiburon's Sugar Loaf Drive is crowded with vehicles — to the distress of some neighbors — as filming of a new Clint Eastwood movie, "Magnum Force," continues. The massed equipment even includes a helicopter (on hill, rear), which was used to buzz the hilltop neighborhood.

SHOOT-'EM-UP — Though some neighbors protest, filming of "Magnum Force" goes on in the pool of a home of 99 Sugar Loaf Drive. This was seconds before actors Fred Schweiller and Suzanne Somers were pelted with a special effects gun that discharges red pellets simulating splattering blood.

Tiburon's View Of A Movie Crew

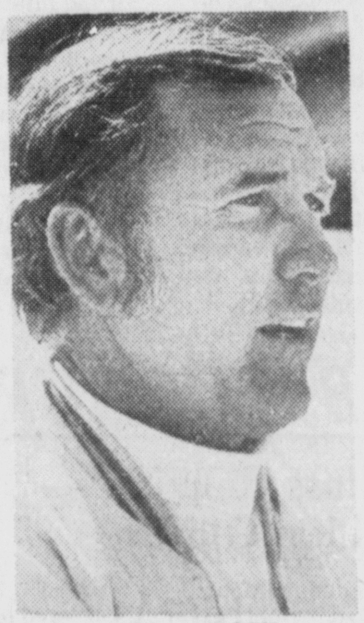
By GEORGE NEVIN

The cast and crew of "Magnum Force" were slated to finish up three days of filming on a spectacular Tiburon hilltop and move on today — leaving a bitter taste in the mouths of some residents.

Other neighbors, though, said the filming of the police thriller is "the most exciting thing that's ever happened up here."

As the huge Warner Brothers production crew pulled out of the Sugar Loaf Drive area — where it's been shooting since Monday — only one thing could be forecast with any certainty — the next film shot in Tiburon will feel the weight of a lot more city control than this one.

Mayor Branwell D. Fanning said other film crews, taking advantage of the city's increasing popularity as backdrops for feature films, television shows and commercials, "never really got in anyone's way. But this time it's been like an army moving in."



HARLAN KOCH
'Like an army'

At present, any movie company can shoot a film in Tiburon by paying a $25 fee for a business license after first informing the police department of its intentions.

Police Chief Maurice D. Lafferty said his department cooperates with film crews who need to block off streets temporarily, and the crews may but are not required to hire off-duty officers to help with traffic and crowd control on location.

Harlan Koch, of 89 Sugar Loaf Drive, the most vocal of the critics, asked rhetorically, "How would you like all these cars going up the hill at 7 a.m.?" He waved his hand toward the street, where at the time 29 autos, two buses, an ambulance, and seven trucks were parked. A helicopter, to be used in a scene which calls for it to buzz the neighborhood, sat on a shelf overlooking the house at 99 Sugar Loaf Drive, rented by Warner Brothers for interior and poolside shots.

Koch, who said he used to go on double dates with actor Clint Eastwood, star of "Magnum Force," emphasized he's not as concerned with the present production as future ones that might come into the neighborhood.

"This is not a movie set, it's a residential area. If they want a set, they can go out into the desert and build one," he said.

He added he has no quarrel with the crew of "Magnum Force" but with the City of Tiburon, which should not have allowed the production company to film in a residential neighborhood.

Koch hastened to say how nice the movie people have been. "If I ask them to do something they'll break their backs to do it. They fall over backwards with courtesy," he said.

He said he realizes his complaints make him sound "like a disgruntled bastard," but he's worried about a precedent being set.

Nancy Derryberry, who lives at 84 Sugar Loaf Drive, agreed. "Once is fine. As a one-shot thing it doesn't bother me, but this is a residential neighborhood and we'd like to keep it that way."

Nancy Lever, however, had nothing but praise for the crew and thinks the whole production is "just a riot."

"They (the 80-man cast and crew) are all over the place but they couldn't be nicer. We've never had so much excitement here," said Mrs. Lever, who lives at 108 Sugar Loaf Drive.

NANCY LEVER
'Just a riot'

Mrs. Margaret Schild, of 98 Sugar Loaf Drive, said she sees nothing wrong with the filming operation. The called the company members "very cooperative."

Thomas F. Piskura, location manager for "Magnum Force," said his company goes "out of the way to clean up the area. We go in as friends and leave as friends."

After shooting concludes today, he said, "We'll be cleaning up the property and leaving it just as we found it."

Piskura acknowledged the movie company starts early in the morning and that one truck, a diesel, makes a lot of noise as it labors up the steep street.

But, he said, we went around to every resident on the street and told them ahead of time. No one objected to us."

For a brief time Monday the street was blocked off while a scene was being shot, but other than that "we haven't stopped any traffic here. People are free to come and go as they please."

A barricade at the corner of Sugar Loaf and Heathcliff Drives, however, proclaims, "Local Residents Only."

A Tiburon police officer has been on the location since filming began, said Chief Maurice D. Lafferty. Off-duty officers are used and paid by the movie company. No city expense is involved, he said.

A rumor that actor Eastwood has leased the house for six months and plans more films there just isn't true, said Piskura.

Warner Brothers has leased the house, owned by a Japanese businessman, only through June 1 and plans no other production there, he said.

"Still," he said, taking in the spectacular view, "this is a great area." He said he wouldn't be surprised if other movie companies move into Tiburon.

It's this possibility that worries Koch and Mrs. Derryberry, and Mayor Fanning said the city council soon will examine the question of licensing movie companies, not to generate revenue but to gain some control over them.

"I personally don't go along with this type of infringement on people's privacy in residential neighborhoods," he said.

Burglary Charge Is Denied

A 19-year-old Larkspur resident yesterday pleaded innocent to one count of burglary resulting from an investigation by Larkspur police that turned up approximately $12,000 in stolen property and cleared up most of the city's recent burglaries.

Preliminary hearing for Patrick Alan Douglas was set for June 1. Codefendant Michael McPherson, 19, of Larkspur was told to return to Marin Municipal Court tomorrow to plead.

They were arrested May 14 as they allegedly were burglarizing the home of Sharon D. Anderson, 66 Piedmont Road, Larkspur. Their arrest led to the capture Wednesday of Paul Winkelmann, 21, of Larkspur, who pleaded innocent Monday to six counts of burglary.

Police estimated the youths were involved in 95 per cent of Larkspur's recent burglaries. Stolen stereo equipment, television sets and household goods, sold to homeowners in San Rafael and Larkspur, were recovered.

More loot was found near the mouth of Corte Madera Creek. Dredged from the muddy bottom were jewelry, cameras, radios and other stolen items, police said.

Sidewalk Cafe Wins Approval

The San Anselmo Planning Commission has approved plans for a sidewalk eating area at a cafe to be opened in the downtown area.

The commission also Monday endorsed a beer and wine license for the planned Crossroads Cafe at 726 San Anselmo Avenue, to be operated by Paul C. Rosenthal.

A small roofed deck is planned for outdoor dining.

San Rafael Board Of Education Gets Salary Increase Requests

The San Rafael Board of Education last night received requests for salary increases from two employee groups but took no action on the proposals.

Local 400 of the Civil Service Association, AFL-CIO, which represents about 50 bus drivers and clerical employees in the district, urged a 10 per cent increase in salaries for 1973-74, uniforms for bus drivers and differential pay for night custodians, according to Supt. John F. Plank.

Plank noted that the San Rafael chapter of the California School Employees Association has already asked for a 5.5 per cent salary boost for about 150 other bus drivers and clerical employees.

The board last night also heard a proposal from the Marin County Substitute Teachers' Association that daily wages be increased from $30 to $34.50 or a 15 per cent hike over current wages, according to Plank.

The board told both employee groups it will consider the proposals and set up negotiating sessions in the next several weeks, Plank said.

In other business, the board accepted a petition signed by 300 students and 175 alumni of San Rafael High School to rename the San Rafael High stadium Paul I. Miller Field, in honor of an athletic coach who is retiring this year after 42 years of service in the San Rafael School System. The board appeared to approve the request but will take final action at 7:30 p.m. June 12, Plank said.

Plank predicted that a ceremony honoring Miller and renaming the stadium will be held in connection with June 15 graduation exercises.

The San Rafael Board of Education Also:

CONTRACTS — Said the board will issue salary contracts to district employees next week. Previously, written contracts had not been issued, Plank said.

HONOR — Commended board president Lawrence I. Kramer Jr., who did not run for reelection, for his board service, and named retiring educator Edwina Codoni as "principal emeritus" of the district.

TEXT — Approved a state textbook list for 1973-74.

PERSONNEL — Reappointed 195 classified and certificated employees for 1973-74.

BIDS — Awarded the following contracts to low bidders: $2,740 to Kunst Brothers for exterior painting at San Rafael High School; $5,700 to Malott Petersen-Grundy for seal coating of the Glenwood, Gallinas and Hartzell school blacktops; $3,000 to Malott Petersen-Grundy for seal coating and blacktop extension work at Santa Venetia School, and $6,700 to Bresnan-Dalecio for seal coating and blacktop extension work at Santa Venetia School.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to 7:30 p.m. June 12 in Santa Venetia School.

Robbery Net Only His Change

A Petaluma resident was robbed at gunpoint today in San Rafael by a man demanding his money and car, but who succeeded in getting only a small amount of change.

Frank Cavanagh, 39, of 126 Kentucky Street, told police he left the Travelers Inn shortly after midnight, to be joined in his car by an uninvited patron of the tavern.

The bandit pulled out a long-barreled pistol and demanded his money and car, according to police.

Cavanagh quickly hid his billfold in the car door and gave the man his pocket change, amounting to $3 or $4, he told police. Cavanagh then bolted from the auto and ultimately located a police patrol car.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Belt-Tightening May Be Answer

Tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Marin County Civic Center, the Golden Gate Bridge District board will hold its only public hearing on a proposal to raise bridge tolls from 50 cents to 75 cents.

The hike has been proposed by Dale W. Luehring, the district's general manager, because since the bridge district went into the transit business, it is spending more money than it receives.

THIS IS unusual for the bridge district. Over the years, revenue from tolls consistently exceeded bond payments and normal upkeep costs on the bridge. The "kitty" grew and grew. And because there was so much money coming in, bridge district officials became rather free-handed about money going out.

District directors were generous with their own expenses. They were generous with payments to lobbyists, engineers, consultants. There seemed little reason to be tight-fisted.

Bridge tolls were cut because of the ever-growing fund surplus. It cost 50 cents each way to cross the bridge when it opened in the late 1930s. Now it costs only 50 cents for a round trip crossing.

WHEN THE BRIDGE district went into mass transit, it faced a different situation. It was obvious that if bus fares were set low enough to attract riders, there would be a continuing deficit for the transit operation. And if they were not set low enough, the increasing vehicular traffic would require another bridge, more highways, more parking facilities — all sorts of tremendously expensive outlays.

Now, looking ahead, bridge officials want to raise the tolls to keep the district out of the red.

THE TOLL hike, however, may be self-defeating.

Presumably, if tolls are increased, more people will turn to the buses. Then the district will have to buy more buses. And since they do not pay their way, deficits will grow.

Also, if more people turn to the buses, tolls at 75 cents may produce no more total income than the present 50-cent tolls. (We doubt that the raise would reduce passenger car traffic by a third, but it is a possibility.)

Also, those who must drive their own cars to and from San Francisco — and there are many such — will have a further squeeze added to those produced by increasing gasoline prices, increasing parking fees, increasing car insurance, etc.

The bus riders will benefit. But will the district benefit? It is a tough question.

SOMEWHERE a balance point needs to be found which will produce optimum revenue from bus riders and car drivers, with neither required to heavily subsidize the other.

In the meantime, perhaps the bridge board should remind itself that the "good old days" when income easily outstripped outgo are all in the past. Perhaps it should start a little belt-tightening program, avoiding big outlays for such things as a "suicide prevention barrier," more studies, more consultants, etc. Then it might find that no bridge toll increase is needed — or at least not such a big one.

Planting Of The Budget Heralds Reaping Of Taxes

By RUS WALTON

Comes now the planting of the state budget, the annual ritual that heralds a future reaping of the taxpayers.

It's a bumper crop for Babylon. At least $9.4 billion. Maybe even $9.5 billion when all the seeds are sown.

That's a lot of reaping of a lot of taxpayers.

On a cold, dollar basis, the 1973-74 budget will be at least $1.6 billion larger than 1972-73. Up $1.6 billion in a year! That's a jump of 20%. What ever happened to cut-squeeze-and-trim?

It means state government next year will be costing us $4.3 million more a day than it does now. Wow!

EVERY YEAR larger budgets; every year more reaping.

It's not because there are more people to be reaped. Californians can't grow fast enough to keep up with the reaping.

Look at it this way. During the seven years, 1966-73, population increased 10 per cent and personal incomes rose 56 per cent, but both the total and per capita state tax take doubled.

More to the point, the tax take per producer (persons employed in the labor force) increased almost 2.25 times. Now you know why the load feels heavier.

SOME WILL SAY it is not fair to compare the state budget with the family budget. Maybe not, although what happens to the state budget has a direct impact on the family cupboard.

Anyhow, check this:

If you are now earning $15,000 a year, you would have to get a $3,000 raise just to keep your family budget in line with the proposed hike in the state's budget.

Or, compare next year's state expenditures with those of just two years ago: the 1973-74 budget will be 41 per cent larger than the one for 1971-72.

That means your $15,000 budget of 1971 should be $21,150 by July, 1974, just to keep pace with state expenditures.

NEXT YEAR expenses for the Legislature will be $35 million — up $1 million. The governor's office will cost you $2.5 million — up $500,000.

State operations, the dough to fuel Babylon and its machinery, will rise from $2.1 to $2.33 billion — up one-quarter of a billion.

The biggest budget explosion comes in the area of "local assistance" — the money that stems from the grass roots, is put through the Sacramento thresher, and then sent back to the cities and counties.

It will be up $1.28 billion next year, a jump of 27 per cent over this year.

The largest single increase in local assistance will come in education, kindergarten through junior college. That item will swell by $575 million to a total of $2.4 billion.

Next comes property tax relief; the state's reimbursement to counties for holding down property taxes. That will increase by $531 million. (So, how come property taxes continue to climb? They have doubled in seven years.)

Health and welfare gets an increase of $247 million for next year. And, there's $226 million extra in the budget for salary increases for state employes and college and university faculties.

IT ALL ADDS up. Brother, does it! $9.1 billion for operations plus $269 million for bonds. A total of $9.4 billion that will probably be closer to $9.5 billion before the legislature gets through.

That is some reaping.

But, relax. That's one of the advantages of withholding your state income taxes each month. It makes the reaping a lot more enjoyable!

Impressed By Realtor Concern For Environment

We are most pleased and impressed by the statements regarding the goals and obligations of the real estate professional by William Lewis, president of the Marin County Board of Realtors, published in the special Real Estate Section of the May 18 issue of the Independent-Journal.

The recognition, by the real estate profession that Mr. Lewis represents in Marin County, of the importance of good planning and environmental concerns, expresses to the general public that the quality of living in Marin County is of more value to the sincere professional than the immediate pursuit of monetary gain.

Taxpayer Group Endorses Amendment

The United Organizations of Taxpayers Inc. voted on May 15 to endorse the "Tax and Expenditure Limitation" constitutional amendment proposed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Our organization has been in the fight to limit the amount of taxes the state could collect from citizens since 1962. This, because for years elected legislators have refused to meet this responsibility. . .

Our organization is made up of both Democrats and Republicans and is nonpolitical. We have carefully studied and considered the proposed amendment in all of its facets and we have concluded that it is good legislation and would be of great benefit to all the taxpayers in California.

. . .It is high time that the people regained control over their own government and this is the real thrust of the "Tax and Expenditure Limitation Amendment."

McCord's Testimony Scarcely Convincing

After reading some of the glowing accounts of the testimony and demeanor of James McCord on the Boob Toob Show of the Month, i've got a load to get off.

First of all, no panel, committee, court or commission should ever let a witness read a pre-drafted memo in lieu of his oral testimony. . .Imagine a witness reading aloud, under oath, a manuscript of criminal charges against a friend (sic), namely Jack Caulfield, as some rehabilitating evidence of his own integrity! He may or may not have been telling the truth and if this letter hits the fan I may want to eat these words, but in my book this performance belonged in a cheap crime show — not where great issues are at stake. He could have refreshed his memory from notes in any court but to read them aloud precluded any effective cross-examination

Wonder why some senator didn't snatch the notes and then have at old Mac so we could judge his veracity for ourselves? True, Sen. Daniel Inouye (Democrat) made a show of grilling McCord with incredulous intensity. But what he really did was to elevate McCord's stature by twice calling attention to McCord's degrees from two universities and his status as an Air Force colonel, reserve. . .

Also, I don't buy McCord's story of his soul searching and big decision making until he was conviced that the big boys were giving it the eefus. He was an expert bugger —possibly hired for it originally — and he'd been at it a long time during his FBI and CIA career. What was one more bug, anywhere at all to a man who'd spent half his life at it? Especially when he was getting $3,000 per month on top of $20,000 a year. . .

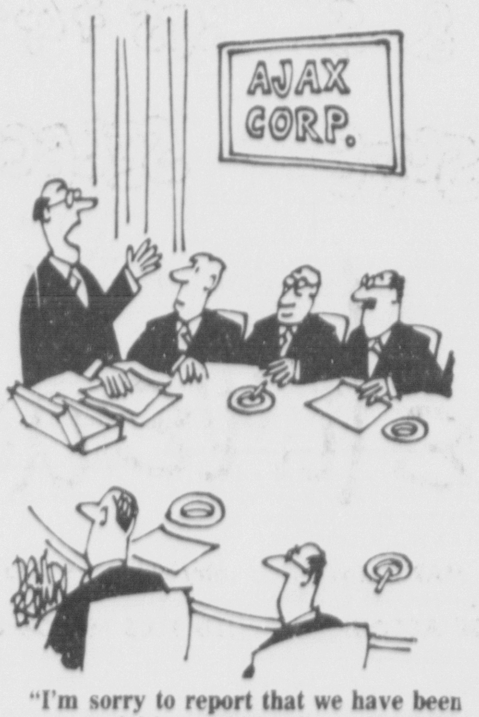
TODAY'S WORLD



"I'm sorry to report that we have been unsuccessful in our bid to have the Mafia take us over."

Toll Differential Proposed For Bridge

Since it appears imminent that the toll is to be raised on the Golden Gate Bridge, I would like to propose a simple but radical solution which could be undertaken very quickly. It consists of adopting a differential fare plan which would shift the burden where it properly belongs and obtain rapid response.

The differential fare plans proposed previously have been aimed at creating the four-person car pool or to encourage the commuter to use public transportation. For many people, there are problems with either of these solutions which are unacceptable.

The traffic problem on the bridge at rush hour is created primarily by the single passenger auto. Many of these drivers would consider alternatives but are unable to organize around a four-car pool . . .

My proposal is to increase the toll for single passenger autos to $1 either for the entire day or during rush hours. This would provide a strong incentive for this type of driver to find one other person whose auto and schedule would fit his own.

. . . No special lanes, commute books or stickers would be necessary. A tremendous number of drivers who cannot fit the four-car pool will be eligible. The savings would be sufficient for two such drivers to pay for parking in the financial district.

Out of 100 drivers at rush hour, perhaps 70 are single passengers. The total revenue is $50. It is safe to assume that fifteen of the seventy would get together with another group under this plan. The net would be a decrease of 15 per cent in the amount of traffic and an increase in revenue of 25 per cent.!

A word of caution — this sort of plan does not lend itself to bureaucratic compromises. A one-week trial will not get the job done nor will an increase to 60 cents.

THE NEEDLE

By HAROLD COFFIN

A Pollyanna is a person who announces that he likes canines when he hears a cynic insisting that everything is going to the dogs.

A true cynic doesn't even believe in cynicism.

We need optimists to hope for the best and pessimists to expect the worst. This way nobody is 100 per cent disappointed.

Things are never as bad as the Gloomy Gus tells us or as good as the Cheerful Charlie reports.

The only one more annoying than a disillusioned Pollyanna is a pleasantly surprised cynic.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Nixon Should Heed Congress To Restore Constitutional Role

WASHINGTON — It will be a grave mistake if President Nixon tries to circumvent the action of Congress to end the bombing in Cambodia and Laos.

I believe the President should accept the decision in good faith and thereby make a crucial contribution — at a time when it will do the presidency the most good — to restoring to Congress the constitutional right it possesses.

Since Congress has the constitutional authority to approve Southeast Asia involvement — as it did — it clearly has the authority to disapprove it.

This is exactly what Congress is now in the process of doing in voting against funds for further U.S. bombing anywhere in Southeast Asia.

I HAPPEN to think it is wise to enable the President to hold in reserve the possibility of using air power to persuade Hanoi to honor its negotiated commitment to a cease-fire in Cambodia. It seems to me unwise for Congress to deny to the President any alternative but words when negotiations falter.

But there is a larger issue, and on the larger issue I side with Congress. More important than the decision itself is the need to return to constitutional government and constitutional procedures in this supreme matter of putting the United States into war and taking it out.

If it be a mistake for Congress to withhold from the President the means he deems necessary to terminate the final stages of the military withdrawal from Southeast Asia, then so be it.

Presidents make their quota of mistakes. When a President in exercising his constitutional right and role makes a bad judgment — as in the Bay of Pigs — then he must take responsibility and the nation must live with it.

The same with Congress. Many, perhaps most, Americans will approve what Congress is trying to do. But the point I want to make is that, right or wrong, it is essential that Congress reclaim its constitutional war-making authority and its constitutional war-ending authority.

THIS IS THE ROAD back to constitutional government which two Presidents unwisely violated in recent times. President Truman violated it when he put the United States into the Korean war without going to Congress for approval. President Kennedy violated it when he transformed a policy of military aid to South Vietnam into a policy of military participation without going to Congress for approval.

Now is the time to repair those mistakes. Now is the time to take the road back to constitutional government. Now is the time when it will serve the presidency and Congress for Mr. Nixon to do his part to traverse that road. This is why I hope he will not resist the will of Congress — however right he believes he is — but will accept it gracefully and in good faith.

IT DESERVES to be pointed out that Mr. Nixon has not violated constitutional procedures in Southeast Asia. He did not put the United States into combat without congressional endorsement. He inherited the war and all its frustrations and divisiveness from his predecessors. And he has steered a steady and determined course out of the war. He has managed a military withdrawal from Vietnam far more expeditiously and honorably than most of his critics ever thought possible.

He can make a strong case that he be given the support and the freedom to do what he believes will bring an end to all U.S. military participation in Southeast Asia in the best way for the nation and for the future peace.

But if Congress wants to decide otherwise, then it seems to me that Mr. Nixon would be well advised not to seek ways to fight the congressional judgment, but rather to accept it in good spirit.

Let constitutional government return at this time and on this issue. Let the majority will of Congress prevail. Having taken its decision, then Congress must take the responsibility.

The 25th Class Reunion — Not At All Like Old Days

DANVILLE, Va. — Announcement: The 25th Anniversary Reunion of the Class of 1948 at George Washington High School will be held this Saturday evening.

I hope I can get back for it, and try to recognize a lot of faces that surely have changed less than my own. Even if I cannot, the announcement has stirred some useful reflections. I got to supposing how the old place would seem to anyone who had been completely out of touch and came back this week-end.

Looked at as a single chapter, I suspect this period in one school's history will do as an example of what has happened in hundreds of schools and towns in this part of the country in that same quarter-century. Looking all the way back, I am sure many of the unpleasant days in between, the confrontations that seemed so important at the time, will smooth out to the scale of minor bumps on a long highway.

But anybody having done an extended Rip Van Winkle will find "the old place" is neither what nor where it used to be.

IN THE LATE '50s, not very long after the Supreme Court decision against school segregation, the city built a new high school, one probably dear to students who have gone there, but which to outsiders looks like any other sprawling brick high school in any other southern town. The new school took the name of George Washington. Across the street was built another new high school, which took the name of John M. Langston.

When we were students, Langston was the colored high school, as we said then. I doubt that one in 10 of the Class of 1948 at GW even knew where Langston was. A few of us ball players used to go over there —across the Southern Railway. tracks, to Almagro — on Friday nights to watch the Langston Lions play some other black school we had never heard of. We used to laugh at them.

For years, the new GW and the new Langston existed side by side, still offering separate but ostensibly equal secondary education. There was a racial demonstration downtown in 1963, opposing which the city officials earned some international publicity, but it had nothing directly to do with schools.

It was not until three years ago that the slowly grinding courts and the federal Office of Education brought GW right up against the future.

AT THAT TIME GW became the senior high school. Langston became the junior high school on the south side of the Dan River. The old GW building we attended, set in its grove of oaks on Holbrook Avenue, is now Robert E. Lee Elementary School (and where the old Robert E. Lee we attended earlier sat, there is now the Sears and Roebuck store). As of now, because the neighborhood school concept still applies, Robert E. Lee's pupils are mostly black, but there has been no particular objection to the irony in that.

Their willingness to go to a school named for Lee, with a quotation from Washington over its entrance, illustrates the calm realism with which most of the city acts, now that the future has become the present. Still, if you are concerned with the symbols of things, you may be a little confused, coming back after these years.

J. T. Christopher is no longer principal at GW; he has retired, and Christopher Stadium is the name of the new football field. Lefty Wilson is no longer baseball coach; he has retired, and that is the name of the new baseball field. And when you go out to Christopher Stadium or Wilson Field, there are more contrasts than the soft turf and neat chain-link fences in place of the cinders and falling-down boards we used to ricochet from. The home team no longer wears maroon and gray, and it is no longer the GW Cardinals.

When the student bodies and faculites merged, a joint committee put the question of school colors and team names up to a student vote. Somebody suggested a logical cross between the Langston Lions and GW Cardinals would be Catbirds, but no. By popular decision, they are the G.W. Eagles, and their colors are navy blue and silver.

ON AND OFF the field, the students have gravitated their own ways. Overall, they are about 70 per cent white. But almost the whole basketball varsity is black. Almost all the baseball team and most of the football team are white. After-class clubs and societies are thoroughly integrated, but strictly social events are attended mostly by blacks. Nobody at GW has been stricken color-blind.

Looking back at the class prophecy we filed away 25 years ago, you will find no inkling of all this. But we could not expect to be meeting again in a hotel that did not exist then, either. The wind that spread us has blown others together, here and in Charlotte, Macon, Jackson and elsewhere. And despite so many interim predictions of catastrophe, life proceeds — in pretty good hands.

When Baseball Got In Trouble About Noise And Landscaping

In recent years there have been those who say that baseball is on the way out, that it is too slow and lacking in excitement.

There is no cause for alarm among baseball fans, however, for people have been writing baseball's obituary for years.

It isn't generally known, but the greatest threat to baseball came when Charlie Spikes applied to the Cincinnati City Council in 1896 to allow the Redstockings to play at the city park.

The minutes of that meeting were among the classified documents from the files of Charlie Spikes, recently de-classified by the Baseball Security Council.

ACCORDING TO the minutes, the meeting went like this:

Mayor — "Now gentlemen, we have this application from Mr. Spikes to hold baseball games at the park."

Councilman Zeb — "First, I want to know how many people play this game."

Spikes — "Well, there are nine on a side, and there are two sides, and some substitutes . . . Let us say about 25 to 30 players in all."

Councilman Zeb — "You understand, Mr. Spikes, we've had a population boom here and we're trying to cut down on population density. Couldn't you play with less than nine on a team?"

Spikes — "No, sir. We're down to rock bottom now, since the planning commission has already cut out the short fielder."

COUNCILMAN JOHNSON — "Will there be any noise attached to this game? It seems this town is getting noisier and noisier, what with steamboat whistles and all, and I don't thing we can stand much more."

Spikes — "Occasionally a bat hits a ball and makes a whacking sound, and sometimes the crowd cheers."

Councilman Johnson — "Cheers? You means people yell?"

Spikes — "Well, gentlemen, the most noise is usually at the start of the game and we'll be glad to muffle that by playing the "Star-Spangled Banner.' "

Mayor — "A patriotic gesture, Mr. Spikes, but the question still remains: will baseball scare the horses?"

Spikes — "Not unless we use them to make the baseballs . . . a little humor there, mayor, heh, heh."

COUNCILMAN ZEB — "Now about your landscaping plans: I notice you have a mound right there in the middle. I think that should be leveled off."

Spikes — "That's the pitcher's mound. We can't change that, but I tell you what, if you let the mound stay, I'll clear away the grass between the bases, sort of make a pathway all the way around."

Mayor — "What about those square bags you show here on your plans at three places? I think they clutter up the field. Can't you get those out of there?"

Spikes — "Let's be reasonable, gentlemen, you can't play baseball without the bases."

Mayor — "Okay, but it seems to me we're making all the concessions here. Can't you make any concessions?"

Spikes — "Now that you mention it, I'll give the city 10 per cent of the hot dog concession. That should run about $2,000 a year."

Mayor — "Did you say $2,000 clear? Permit granted. Play ball!"

Court Rulings Cited In Suit Over Water

A San Rafael development firm has filed an amendment to its suit against the Marin Municipal Water District, citing a state supreme court ruling that all have a right to share in the available water supply even if on a rationed basis.

San Rafael attorney Albert Bianchi, representing the McCarthy Co., said the high court's ruling on Leavitt vs. Lassen Irrigation Co. included the assertion that all have an equal right to share public water.

The McCarthy Co. suit stems from the water district's refusal to grant water connections to a 292-unit apartment project opposite the civic center entrance on North San Pedro Road.

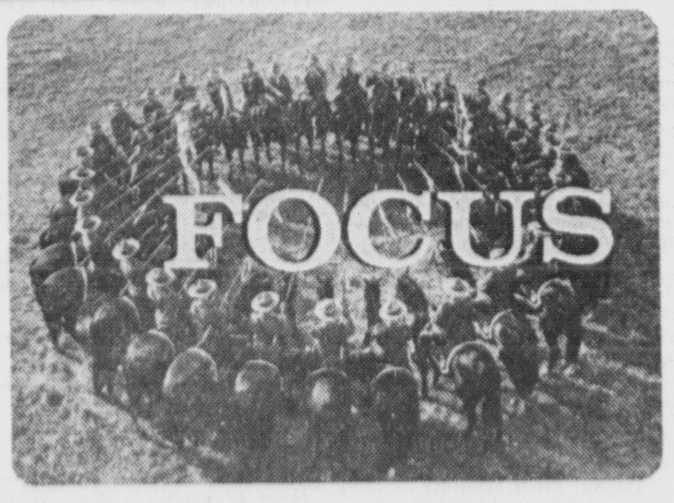
Bianchi said the supreme court ruling cited earlier case law that "all are equally entitled to share in the use of the water who pay, or offer to pay, the legal rate and to abide by the reasonable rules and regulations of the company."

Bianchi said another case cited by the court held that "the right of an individual to a public use of water is in the nature of a public right possessed by reason of his status as a person of the class for whose benefit the water is appropriated or dedicated.

"All who enter the class may demand the use of the water, regardless of whether they have previously enjoyed it or not."

The McCarthy Co. suit, filed April 18, has become the focal point of attention since the water district imposed a temporary moratorium on new hookups after declaring a threatened water shortage.

The suit, slated for trial May 30, maintains that any failure of the water district "to ration or apportion the available water is discriminatory and violative of law. . ."



The Mounties

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police are celebrating their 100th year. No longer do Mounties ride horses or wear scarlet uniforms, except on ceremonial occasions. But they continue to have a reputation for awesome efficiency as Canada's national police. It was an American newspaper, the Fort Benton Record, which in the 19th Century helped coin the phrase (which is not the Mountie slogan) "They always get their man." Commenting on a Mountie capture of an Indian outlaw, what the newspaper actually said was: "They fetch their man every time."

DO YOU KNOW — What is the Mountie slogan?

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Does Text Contravene Board's Own Resolution?

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Did the California State Board of Education contravene its own resolution in adopting "Human Sexuality, a Course for Young Adults" as a seventh and eighth grade sex education text?

In April of last year, the board adopted a resolution regarding family life and sex education, stressing the need for care in selection of teaching materials. In December, it readopted the resolution, slightly reworded "to reflect current needs as indicated by the recent investigation into practices and procedures in the area of family life, sex education programs."

"Those "practices and procedures" included use of materials that had not been carefully screened and that were introduced without the knowledge of parents. The new resolution went into details about screening of such materials.

IT BORE ALSO, however, on adoption of state texts in the field.

It began by citing the state constitutional provision for "moral improvement' as a principal purpose of the public schools. It went on to resolve that "the primary responsibility for sex education is that of the home." Then it cited the need for such instruction in the schools, and laid down rules for selection of local committees to screen all materials. And then it resolved:

"Harmful effects of premarital sex, etc., and a code of morals be emphasized with no derogatory instruction relative to religious beliefs and ethics, and to parents' beliefs and teachings. Emphasize family unit — and especially moral values."

HOWEVER, discussing premarital sex, "Human Sexuality" merely lists arguments for and against. On premarital chastity, its strongest expression is: "One can have a healthy attitude toward sex and still prefer to remain chaste until after marriage."

It contains a rather strange kind of "emphasis on the family unit" in a discussion of incest which says:

"Incest is not universally taboo . . . Scientists are presently attempting to determine the real and measurable effects of incest on the modern world, without regard for the biases of ancient and contemporary societies."

In dealing with pornography, obscenity, and homosexuality, "Human Sexuality" discusses existing laws on the subjects, then suggests the laws may be unrealistic and assigns the student to do studies of them. And it says:

"Sexual behavior should not be considered abnormal or perverted if . . . the behavior is not harmful to the partners, it is carried out by adults who consent to it without any sort of force or threat having been used on them, and it takes place out of sight and sound of unwilling observers."

"HUMAN SEXUALITY" even has a good word for commercial sex. It defines "call girl" as "a prostitute who accepts her 'dates' by appointment. She is often highly paid, lives well, and can choose her clients."

Perhaps the revisions ordered by the state board will make "Human Sexuality" conform to the requirement in the December resolution that: "Harmful effects of premarital sex, etc., and a code of morals be emphasized." It would appear that the revisions will have to reorient much of the book.

Special Meeting

The Old Adobe School District board will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at La Tercera School to plan for an evaluation of Supt. Dean D. Magowan and district programs.

Recycling Firm To Be Allowed To Use City Corporation Yard

The San Anselmo City Council last night turned over a portion of the city's corporation yard for temporary use by Survival Inc., Marin's 2-year-old recycling firm.

Councilmen voted unanimously to allow the nonprofit organization to store two trucks plus barrels and bins on about a 4,000-square-foot area in the lower part of the yard until Aug. 1.

John Van Daam, Survival's managing director, told councilman that the recycling firm had used the Newman Center parking lot in Kentfield free of charge for the past two and one half years.

The Newman Center now is closing, Van Daam said, and Survival has been ordered to vacate the property this month.

"Without a corporation yard, we can't exist," the 29-year-old managing director told the council.

"I think this is in the public interest," said Councilman Martin G. Blinder.

"Survival is performing a service to the City of San Anselmo and the county," said Mayor Lewis W. Stewart.

Under terms of the agreement, the organization's two truck drivers are to be bonded and the firm will be allowed to use the yard on weekends, when it normally is closed.

Survival also is to purchase separate locks and keys for yard gates, said Charles R. Leitzell, director of public works.

Van Daam said Survival — bailed out of financial straits by a $25,000 grant from the county board of supervisors last year — expects to have a permanent corporation yard of its own within a few months.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

IMPROVEMENTS — Waived curb, gutter and sidewalk improvements on two parcels of land owned by Jack Barone on Anchor Vista Avenue because the improvements would serve no useful purpose and would destroy the existing character of the area.

PETITION — Continued until June 12 a petition by residents for pedestrian access between 162 and 174 Oak Springs Drive.

BIDS — Agreed to reject unopened a bid for library alterations and to readvertise for bids for the job.

HEARING — Picked the council meeting of June 12 for a public hearing on capital improvements and revenue sharing funds.

SOIL — Appropriated an additional $1,500 to pay Cooper Clark Associates for soil investigations on Scenic Avenue, Oak Springs Drive and Timothy Avenue, bringing the total cost of the project to $10,000.

BATTERIES — Approved the purchase of batteries and cables for a standby generator at Fire Station No. One at a cost of $242.

STREET — Authorized the city engineer to complete plans for overlaying of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from San Francisco Boulevard to San Anselmo Avenue.

OPEN SPACE — Agreed to purchase 55 parcels of land, about a three-acre area, near Bridge Avenue and Luna Lane for $1.50 per acre as open space. The land, formerly the Loma Robles subdivision, is in a slide area, and defaulted to the state through delinquent tax payments.

DISPATCHER — Appointed Laura Adolphson clerk-dispatcher in the police department at a salary of $576 per month.

CLOSED — Set a closed session with the city salary negotiators for 8 p.m. Tuesday.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned until the next regular council meeting at 8 p.m. June 12 in city hall.

Fair Entries Close June 1

Closing date for entries in the arts and crafts department of the Sonoma-Marin Fair is June 1, Beverly Wilson, fair manager, has announced.

A ceramics division has been added to the fair this year, she said, with the competition limited to amateurs.

The art division is limited only to adult residents of Sonoma and Marin Counties, but there is no age limit in the photography division, according to Mrs. Wilson.

There are both professional and amateur classes in the sculpture division, which is for adults only.

Entry forms are available from the fair office.

All arts and crafts entered will be on display at the fair June 20-24 at the fairgrounds in Petaluma.

Apartments For Rent (Unfurnished)—2720

Is your apartment or house standing vacant —
and losing you money?

Have you ever thought about how much money you lose each day or week your apartment stands vacant? Here's a chart to point out the drain on your income:

YOU ARE LOSING

If Your Monthly Rental Price Is:	Every Day	Every Week	Every Two Weeks
$150	$ 5.00	$35.00	$70.00
175	5.83	40.81	81.62
200	6.67	46.69	93.38
225	7.50	52.50	105.00
250	8.33	58.31	116.62
275	9.16	64.12	128.24
300	10.00	70.00	140.00
325	10.83	75.81	151.62
350	11.66	81.62	163.24

(Based on a 30-day month)

Add to this the cost of maintaining a vacant apartment and you have an even larger loss. Doesn't it make sense to: FIRST, run an I-J Classified ad, & SECOND, to take a little time and run a BETTER ad — more benefits, more discription, less abbreviations (82% of readers don't know the meaning of AEK).

BEGINNING at a point which bears S 39° 29' E 85.566 feet and S 45° 52' 30" W 1359.661 feet, and N 44° 12' 30" W 83.01 feet from the most southerly corner of Tide Lot No. 276, as described in Deed from the Tideland Commissioners, recorded in Liber N of Deeds at Page 9, Marin County Records, and running thence S 45° 47' 30" W 579.683 feet to an iron pipe monument set in the northeasterly line of the County Road, thence along said County Road line, N 39° 30' 30" W 431.411 feet to an iron pipe monument, thence leaving said County Road line N 45° 47' 30" E 539.417 feet, thence S 44° 12' 30" E 489.76 feet to point of beginning.

Containing an area of 6.29 acres, more or less.

Together with an easement for ingress and egress described in Deed recorded March 19, 1970, in Book 2361, at Page 587, official records of Marin County.

SUBJECT TO the following described easement for railroad purposes granted to the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company wherein the same lies within the perimeter of the heretofore described realty, namely:

An easement embracing a 60-foot strip of land for permanent location of the main line railroad tracks of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company, which easement was granted to the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company by the United States of America as represented by the United States Maritime Commission by instrument dated June 14, 1946, and recorded May 22, 1947, at Page 18 of Volume 554 of official records of Marin County, California.

Subject to reservation to the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, and its successors and assigns, as set forth in deed from the United States of America to American Agencies, Inc. by deed dated August 2, 1949 and recorded in Book 631 Official Records, at page 1, Marin County Records, of the following described easements, wherein the same lie within the perimeter of the heretofore described realty; and the right and use of said easements, in common with others, are conveyed to Grantee herein, wherein the same extend beyond the perimeter of the heretofore described realty, namely:

EASEMENT NO. 1 An easement for roadway purposes over a strip of land 20.0 feet in width the center line of which is described as follows:

Beginning at a point which bears S 50° 31' W 310.4 feet, N 44° 03' W 278.09 feet, thence on a curve to the left whose center bears S 45° 57' W and whose radius is 2178.79 feet, distance 83.205 feet, thence S 50° 31' W 28.0 feet from the intersection of the southwesterly line of Humboldt Street with the southeasterly line of Sonoma Street, Official Map of Sausalito Land & Ferry Company, recorded April 26, 1869 on Rack 1, Pull 9, Marin County Records, and running thence S 44° 12' 30" E 600.0 feet, thence continuing along said center line of right of way 40.0 feet in width, S 68° E 25.0 feet, thence S 44° 12' 30" E 810.0 feet, thence continuing on the center line of a right of way 20.0 feet in width 786.68 feet.

EASEMENT No. 2 An easement for roadway purposes over a strip of land 40.0 feet in width lying along and adjacent to the northeasterly side of the following described line:

Beginning at a point lying on the northeasterly line of the County Road which point bears N 39° 29' W 325.011 feet, S 29° 13' 32" W 668.814 feet, S 75° W 115.0 feet, S 45° 54' 30" W 597.685 feet, N 44° 12' 30" W 956.681 feet and S 45° 47' 30" W 479.217 feet to a point on the northeasterly right of way of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company, and thence along the said right of way in a southerly direction a distance of 605.0 feet, thence S 67° 08' W 60.0 feet from the most westerly corner of Tide Lot #275 described in deed from Tideland Commissioners recorded in Liber N of deeds at Page 513, Marin County Records; and the 40.0 right of way lying adjacent to and to the left of a line described as follows: N 67° 08' E 60.0 feet to a point on the northeasterly right of way of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company, and running thence southeasterly along said right of way line to a point where said right of way intersects Parcels #26 and #12 as said parcels are recorded in Vol. 2 of Licensed Survey Map, Page 127, Records, Marin County, California, and running thence along the northwesterly line of Parcel #26 which bears N 45° 54' 30" E a distance of 180 feet.

SUBJECT also to reservation of mineral rights and rights in fissionable materials as: contained in said deed from United States of America to American Agencies, Inc. dated August 2, 1949 and recorded in Book 631 of Official Records, at page 1, Marin County Records, reference to which last mentioned deed is hereby made for a particular description of such reservation.

SUBJECT TO decree quieting title in Marin County Superior Court, Action No. 54781, entered March 24, 1970, in Book 103 at Page 51 of the Judgment Book of said Court.

SUBJECT TO: Current taxes, covenants, conditions, restrictions, rights, rights of way, and easements of record.

Bids or offers for the property are invited, must be in writing, and may be delivered to the executrix at the office of her attorney, ALBERT G. EVANS, 111 Sutter Street, San Francisco, California 94104, or may be filed at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court at any time after the first publication of the instant notice and before the making of the sale.

Terms and conditions of sale: The executrix will entertain bids involving delayed payments, or cash, or grant an option subject to zoning, provided a deposit is made, and cash shall be paid upon exercise of the option. The maximum option granted shall not exceed 95 days.

Taxes to be prorated as of date of recordation. All costs of title search, escrow, recordation and title insurance to be borne by the purchaser. The property is unimproved.

The undersigned reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to accept a term sale for more money in preference to a cash sale, or a cash sale for less money instead of a term or a conditioned sale if in the best interests of the estate. The sale will include a 2.38% interest not owned by the estate, which will be sold only with the estate's interest.

DATED: May 15, 1973.

Hospital Will Admit Psychiatric Patients

Marin General Hospital officials reaffirmed last night their intention to continue accepting psychiatric Medi-Cal patients in the face of funding problems.

The dificulty, . according to Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, county medical officer, is that the county has exceeded a $538,000 budget for serving such patients at both state and federal expense.

But the Marin Hospital District board decided last night to continue serving the patients in a 14-bed unit at the Community Mental Health Center while emergency funding is sought at the state level.

Ray K. Bolinger, Marin General administrator, said the board learned that although the budget had been exceeded countywide by some $109,000, Marin General remained within its allocated level of $340,000.

The situation, meanwhile, is different at Ross General Hospital. Officials there have stopped admitting new patients in the wake of the budget difficulties.

Ross General, together with Marin General and the Marin Child Development Center in Tiburon, are the three facilities affected by the pinch.

The Marin Hospital District board also:

GIFT — Learned that a $90,000 gift to purchase various equipment had come from the San Rafael General Hospital Foundation. The gift was revealed earlier this week.

PURCHASE — Approved purchase of X-ray equipment with $49,000 in donated funds.

ENGINEERS — Having learned of federal Cost of Living Council approval, granted raises of from 14 to 18 cents hourly to 10 Marin General maintenance engineers. Cost to the district will be about $262 per month.

MEETING — Is to meet next on June 26.

Planners Vote Alto Rezoning

The Marin County Planning Commission has approved rezoning a one-acre site at 6 Thomas Drive in Alto to a planned commercial designation for a furniture store.

The Independent-Journal erred yesterday in reporting the commission rejected the rezoning, which was requested by property owner Donald R. Telford.

The commission's vote was 4 to 2 in favor, with commissioners Margaret B. Azevedo and William Long opposed to the rezoning.

Secret Revealed Of City's Bread

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — The secret of San Francisco's sourdough bread has been checked by Oregon State University microbiologists.

They discovered that a bacterium called lactobacillus San Francisco is responsible for the unique taste of the bread, which can be baked only in the Bay Area.

The researchers said a way must now be found to safely distribute the secret ingredient, which is found in the waters of the San Francisco region.

Highway Patrol To Show 'High Profile'

EUREKA (UPI) — The California Highway Patrol plans to be out in triple force this Memorial Day weekend patrolling the 250 mles from Cloverdale to the Oregon line.

Captain William Roberts said yesterday that 30 CHP cars would be on U.S. 101 in hopes that the CHP's "high profile" would help motorists to concentrate on safe driving.

Teachers Pay Hiked 5 Per Cent

The Marin County Board of Education last night approved a 5 per cent across-the-board salary increase for teachers, administrators and classified personnel, reported Robert Spain, assistant superintendent.

Spain said the salary increases will cost the district $135,329.

The board delayed until June 12 action on granting a raise in pay to substitute teachers, requesting more information from staff, Spain said.

The board also hired Stephen Parodi, formerly superintendent of the San Anselmo School District, as curriculum coordinator at a salary of $21,126 per year; rehired Gene Turtle as administrative assistant at his present monthly salary of $1,564, and granted maternity leave to speech therapist Martha Sullivan for the 1973-74 school year.

The board's next meeting will be at 8 p.m. June 12 in the county schools office.

Plea Bargain Rescinded, Trial Set

Three men arrested last year during a $5,000 drug sale have decided to stand trial because a Marin Superior Court judge backed out of a plea bargain made in March.

Jury trial for Robert Bertram Taylor, 24, Jesse Arthur Stefas, 26, both of no known address, and Dennis Arthur Hecht, 27, of Forest Knolls was set Monday for June 18 although Taylor's attorney, Marvin Kahn, told Judge David Menary Jr. he would be in trial in Seattle on that day.

That judge refused to follow sentencing promises he made in March "for the reason that the court was not completely informed at the time of the negotiated plea."

Menary earlier told the Independent-Journal he was not told about 42 pounds of marijuana and pot plants found in the living room and garden of Hecht's home, site of the sale.

Taylor had admitted transporting marijuana; Hecht and Stefas had admitted growing pot.

Arrested with them in the raid last July were Greg Dennis Collin, 26, of Corte Madera and Keith Durwood Perry, 27, of Fairfax, but charges against them were dismissed in January by Judge David R. Baty of Marin Municipal Court. He ruled cocaine found in their car was improperly seized.

The arrest took place after undercover agents arranged to buy half-a-pound of cocaine and a large quality of hashish oil.

Majority Have Had Sex, Drugs At UC Campus

BERKELEY (UPI) — The majority of students at the University of California have indulged in sex, drugs and alcohol, according to a life style survey.

The survey released yesterday by a group of graduate students showed:

Eighty-one per cent had engaged in sexual intercourse, a third approved of group sex, and 14 per cent said a personal homosexual relationship would be okay with them.

Seventy-five per cent use alcohol regularly, while 25 per cent have tried barbituates, amphetamines or LSD at least once, and 1.7 per cent have tried heroin, and 0.3 per cent have used heroin this school year.

The surveyors in the "student life-style research group" said the marijuana and heroin figures seemed to refute physiology professor Hardin Jones' theories on the relationship between the two drugs. Jones has said 10 per cent of Berkeley's students are or will become heroin addicts.

Bottom Struck By Nuclear Submarine

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The nuclear attack submarine USS Sturgeon struck bottom in the Atlantic off the Virgin Islands Monday causing "minor structural damage" the Navy said today.

The Sturgeon, with a crew of 120, was operating in deep water off St. Croix, V.I., when it struck bottom about noon at an undisclosed depth. There zere no injuries and the sub's nuclear power plant was not affected, the Navy said. The six-year-old sub made it into the nearest American port at Frederiksted, St. Croiy, under her own power.

By U.P. International

Today is Wednesday, May 23, the 143rd day of 1973 with 222 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Saturn.

Ambrose Burnside, a Union general in the Civil War, was born May 23, 1824.

On this day in history:

In 1701, Captain William Kidd was hanged in London on charges of piracy and murder.

In 1939, the U.S. Navy submarine "Squalus" went down off New Hampshire in 240 feet of water. Thirty-three of the 59 men aboard were rescued with a diving bell.

In 1960, Israeli agents captured Adolf Eichmann in Argentina and spirited him back to Tel Aviv. He was convicted of being a mass killer of Jews during World War II and was hanged.

In 1965, the Organization of American States set up a peace-keeping force in the Dominican Republic to stand between rebel and loyalist units.

A thought for the day: Norwegian poet Henrik Ibsen said, "I bold that man is in the right who is more closely in league with the future."

San Rafael air quality yesterday:

Oxidants, clean air.
Nitrogen dioxide, clean air.
Carbon monoxide, clean air.
Smoke particles, clean air.

Other areas:

San Francisco, clean air.
San Jose, clean air.

Colorless oxidants, brownish nitrogen dioxide and smoke particles aggravate respiratory diseases.. Carbon monoxide causes dizziness, headaches and slows reflexes. Smoke particles come largely from industrial sources, the other three come primarily from motor vehicles.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Polyunsaturated Australian Cattle Produce Health Steaks

The incrimination of dietary fats in heart disease may have triggered an interesting study and created a new product, showing again that necessity is the mother of invention. An Australian research team has experimented with polyunsaturated cattle. They did this by a minor chemical modification of the animals' diet. The editor of the New England Journal of Medicine dubs it "health" steak and claims that it is available in ". . . any cut — chateaubriand, tenderloin, or brisket . . ."

Steak prices are high enough, but this form will be exhorbitant, and more so if it is shipped from Australia. And what a commodity to police — 99 per cent of us will not be able to tell the difference. But people who can afford it are willing to pay extra for "health" foods, believing, of course, that these items will prolong life and health.

THE AUSTRALIAN steak offers minimal prophylaxis against hardening of the arteries. Too much cholesterol in the blood is only one of many risk factors in premature coronary heart disease and strokes due to atherosclerosis. Furthermore, the fat in meat is only one source of cholesterol and saturated fatty acids in our own diet. Eggs and dairy products also are implicated. Obesity also plays an important role, possibly, due to overnourishment. Other hazards to the heart include cigarette smoking, high blood pressure, tension, and lack of exercise.

If food companies put out more products that were lower in fats and richer in polyunsaturated (vegetable oils) fatty acids, our younger generation might get a better start in the prevention of arteriosclerosis. On the other hand, very little has been written on the consequences of earing more anticholesterol (polyunsaturated) foods. Furthermore, some controversy still remains about the relationship between coronary heart disease and cholesterol.

WILL LOWERING the level in the blood lessen the chance of developing heart attacks before the age of 60? Will it prevent a recurrence?

Recent animal experiments indicate that saturated fats and cholesterol cause atherosclerosis in monkeys. The situation corrects itself when monkeys are fed meals low in these substances, supplemented with foods high in vegetable oils and other polyunsaturated fats. We do not, however, know if this is applicable to man.

Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to Dr. Van Dellen, c/o the Indenependent-Journal.

SITTER AND COLDS

A reader writes: Can a person be a cold carrier without developing colds? When a certain person (who never is troubled with colds) sits with our children all of them come down with colds.

REPLY

Yes, but it could also be coincidental. How often has the person babysat when the children did not develop colds? But this is also a reasonable assumption because culture studies show that many people harbor strep and other germs that are capable of producing respiratory infections. In this regard the individual does act as a carrier.

WEAK PULSE

S. M. writes: If a person faints, does the pulse rate drop?

REPLY

It becomes weak and thready. In some instances, it disappears entirely. There is nothing that mimics death more than fainting. The onlookers have a few anxious moments but within seconds the color and the pulse return to normal.

Accomplices In Rape Are Named

A 27-year-old Marin City man was promised yesterday he would not go to prison if he pleaded guilty to rape and identified three other men involved in the gang rape of a Sausalito woman and testifies against them.

Judge E. Warren McGuire agreed to give David Barrow a suspended prison sentence and no more than one year in jail and canceled the remainder of his jury trial, which was in its fourth day.

Barrow then told Deputy Dist. Atty. Raymond E. Gilbert the three other men who raped the 19-year-old woman last Dec. 5 are Allan Brooks Jr., Terry Grinner and Oscar Lee Tilles, all of Marin City.

However, Gilbert said, they will not be charged unless Barrow passes a lie detector test.

The woman told sheriff's deputies she was given a ride from Sausalito to Marin City, then raped at least 14 times by six or more men during three early morning hours. She was repeatedly beaten and threatened, deputies said.

Barrows, a maintenance man, told Gilbert only the four of them raped her.

Western Union Given Increase

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The State Public Utiliies Commission ruled yesterday it will cost 33 cents more after June 15 to send a Western Union telegram of 15 words or less between any two points in California.

The increase would raise the cost to $2.63.

The PUC said the increase would provide the company with a rate of return of 8.1 per cent and a gross revenue of $4.04 million.

The commission also said Western Union could start a new overnight service with a $1.30 charge for a telegram of 100 words or less.

The company had asked for a rate of $3 a telegram.

'Ski Mask' Gang Suspects Freed

RENO (UPI) — Police have released two adults arrested with suspected members of San Francisco's "ski mask" gang, responsible for eight robberies that netted $41,000.

Elizabeth Louie, 24, and Charles Soo Lee, 20, were freed. Two juveniles were released as robbery suspects but were held for San Francisco juvenile authorities.

Police arrested the five during the weekend shortly after they arrived in Reno. Police said they were carrying about $100 in bills identified as loot from a bank holdup.

San Rafael Man Is Treated For Wound

Chester Edward Miller of 220 Canal Street in San Rafael, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a face wound suffered Saturday.

According to police, Miller had shot himself with a 20-gauge shotgun. Police said that on being summoned at 9:20 a.m. to the apartment by Miller's wife, Lorraine, they were told he had been despondent over poor health.

Jeweler Robbed Of $400,000

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Two men in coveralls robbed a downtown jewelry store of an estimated $400,000 in gems Tuesday.

Gunther Zimmerman, 47, said the men were waiting when he showed up to open the store. They produced pistols, made him turn off the burglar alarm and open the safe, he said.

Zimmerman said a prevous robbery attempt was stopped by a specially trained police dog who bit the intruder. However, he discontinued use of the dog when it bit a customer.

Stanford Daily Editor Named

STANFORD (UPI) — James Wascher, 19, a junior majoring in communications, was elected without opposition Tuesday to the editorship of the Stanford Daily, an independent publication which circulates 16,500 issues on campus.

The daily has a staff of 116. It was formerly published by the Associated Students of Stanford University and became an independent corporation early this year.

Recital Scheduled

A free recital by piano students of St. Anselm's School in San Anselmo will be given at 3 p.m. June 3 in the school gymnasium.

Firemen Get 5 Per Cent Hike In Pay

The Marinwood Community Services District board has granted a 5 per cent salary increase for firemen, with another 2.5 per cent hike to be considered during budget discussion in June.

Board members Monday also granted a 5 per cent salary boost for administration personnel in the park and recreation department and a 10 per cent increase for a park and recreation department maintenance man, according to Genevieve T. Bolding, district manager.

The board received a report on the proposed Luiz and Grady Ranch development, which calls for 734 dwelling units, including single family residences, town houses and garden apartments.

Board members objected to the ratio of 85 per cent multiple and 15 per cent single-family housing, pointing out that it was exactly the reverse of the present ratio in the Lucas Valley-Marinwood area.

The Marinwood Community Services District board also:

SWIM TEAM — Approved hiring Jeff Miller as swimming team instructor at $2.50 an hour and Lisa Benedetti as helper for $2 an hour.

PLANTING — Approved a contract with Lucas Valley Homeowners Association for planting maintenance at $556 per month.

MAINTENANCE — Approved hiring an additional maintenance man from May 22 to Sept. 7 at $2 per hour.

FIRE — Approved a mutual aid agreement with Hamilton Air Force Base for fire protection.

Countdown Resumes For Skylab Mission

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The countdown resumed today for the launch of three astronauts Friday in an effort to repair the hot, power starved Skylab space station and turn it into a liveable home for nine men this year.

The emergency sun shades and debris clearing tools the pilots will carry into space were due here this afternoon to be stowed in the cabin of their Apollo ferry ship-turned-repair truck.

Charles "Pete" Conrad, Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz will inspect the new equipment after their complete final, morning-long pre launch medical examinations.

The countdown toward the 9 a.m. EDT lift onf time Friday started at 5:30 a.m. It was halted eight hours after the unmanned launch of Skylab May 14, when it was clear the eight-room space house could not be orcupied without extraordinary repairs in orbit.

The countdown originally was to begin Tuesday night but launch officials delayed it nine hours to conserve battery power in the 22-story tall Saturn 1B rocket. One of the first operations today was to install the batteries and check the machine's electrical system.

GOVERNOR'S 'RAP' SESSION

Governor Ronald Reagan answers questions of students from Luther Burbank High School yesterday in Sacramento in a televised session that will be available to instructional and public television. Reagan pointed out that environmental protection has grabbed the spotlight so much that we have not built any power plants and thus have let ecologists stand in the way of energy development.

Tax Ceiling Proposal Is Under Fire

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax ceiling initiative would allow "hundreds" of wealthy persons to avoid paying any state income tax, a legislative counsel's opinion shows.

Aides to the governor promptly disputed the interpretation yesterday and minimized the number of persons who might be affected by the alleged loophole.

Reagan has also rebuffed such criticism.

"That's the most farfetched case I've ever heard of to suggest that such a thing could be done," Reagan said early this month, prior to the release of the opinion by Legislative Counsel George H. Murphy.

The purported tax escape clause is contained in complex language in the initiative which eliminates income taxes for a married couple earning less than $8,000 a year.

Democratic Sen. Walter W. Stiern of Bakersfield, chairman of the Revenue and Taxation Committee, sought the opinion about the language from Murphy.

The counsel declared that under the initiative:

"A married couple filing a joint return with an adjusted gross income below $8,000, with items of tax preference in excess of $30,000, would be relieved of any state personal income tax on the tax preference items."

Since the couple would also escape taxes on their adjusted gross income under $8,000, they would end up paying no taxes at all, said an aide to Stiern's committee, Donald V. Collin.

He gave an example of how a married person who had $500,000 in long term capital gains could escape any taxes. He said such a person would normally pay $5,500 in taxes.

Collin said half of the amount would not be included in "regular income" under present law.

"The other $250,000 subject to tax could be further reduced for business losses, depreciation and oil depletion allowances. This could reduce the $250,000 to less than $8,000," Collin said.

"This is not a hypothetical situation. There are hundreds of persons in these situations," he declared.

Collin also stated, "They didn't understand what they were doing when they wrote the initiative."

Charles D. Hobbs, one of the leaders of the task force which developed Regan's tax proposal, said, however, only a "tiny" number of taxpayers might be affected.

Disputing the legal interpretation, Hobbs pointed out Murphy is the lawyer for the legislature, which has generally been opposed to the initiative.

Capitol's West Wing Is Being Evacuated

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The legislature, fearing the historic west wing of the state capitol would tumble down in an earthquake, is moving to vacate all occupants by Sept. 15.

But there is no clear-cut plan for finding new space for all the displaced.

They include Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, treasurer Ivy Baker Priest, Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr., the Capitol Press Corps, State Police and legislative employes. The offices of three lawmakers are tentatively to be moved into the quake-safe capitol annex.

The joint rules committee, which makes housekeeping decisions on behalf of the entire legislature, decided Tuesday to order the Capitol's golden-domed west wing cleared of occupants by Sept. 15.

The action occurred in the wake of separate engineering reports by the state architect and a private firm who had warned the 104-year-old structure could collapse in an earthquake.

A spokesman for the State General Services Department said the agency had not been officially told of the committee's action which occurred at an unannounced meeting. He said his department now will intensify efforts to determine space needs of the displaced and seek to locate rental or leased space elsewhere in Sacramento.

The west wing also houses the chambers of the Assembly and Senate. The committee made no decision on where the floor sessions should be held but noted two large committee rooms in the annex could be converted into temporary chambers.

Another alternative included renting two movie theaters in the downtown area for floor sessions.

Without waiting for a decision on whether to build a new Capitol or reconstruct the existing building, the committee agreed there was an "obligation" to vacate the west wing for three to five years.

Still left undecided is the controversial question of a permanent home for the lawmakers.

Gov. Ronald Reagan and some legislators favor reconstructing the building to make it quake-proof at an estimated cost of $41 million. Critics contend this would not solve the lawmakers' need for more space and would continue to involve costly leasing arrangements.

Others, including Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, advocate construction of a new twin-tower skyscraper Capitol which would be located a block east of Capitol Park.

Correctional Revamping Is Approved

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate Judiciary Committee has approved Gov. Ronald Reagan's plan for a wide-ranging overhaul of California's prison, youth correction and probation system.

The proposal is designed, according to its sponsor, Sen. W. Craig Biddle, R-Riverside, "to get the cops off the treadmill, the incorrigibles off the streets, the judges off the hotseat and our state correctional programs off dead center."

With six Republicans and one Democrat combining for a bare minimum 7-0 vote, the measure (SB391) was sent to the Senate Finance Committee.

It would merge the Department of Corrections and the Youth Authority into a single agency and combine the three state parole boards into one, with responsibility for men, women and juveniles.

The measure also abolishes the state probation subsidy program, which provided counties with funds to keep felons in local facilities or on probation. The new system would provide local aid at a flat rate.

Allen Breed, director of the Youth Authority, told the committee the probation subsidy program was not working to protect society, which was the state's aim.

He declared that one-fourth of the convicted killers in Los Angeles County last year and one-half of the robbers were on probation at the time they committed the crimes.

While the city burns and animals devour people, Robert Taylor makes love to Deborah Kerr.

Meggyesy Talks About 'Integrity Of Athletics'

By LEW CODDINGTON

To an audience which knew him only by his stinging criticisms of sport in America, Dave Meggysey last night brought those criticisms but also an affirmation of "the fundamental integrity of the athletic experience."

Meggysey and Bob Kriegel, co-directors of the Esalen Sports Institute, were the featured speakers at the Marin County Coaches Association's second annual banquet at Marin Country Club in Novato.

Meggysey formerly played linebacker for professional football's St. Louis Cardinals, but quit in disillusionment and anger and wrote a sharply critical book, "Out of Their League," three years ago. His speech last night repeated some of the criticisms, but not before he assured the coaches he was not a foe of athletics.

"You've seen the TV commercials and the pamphlets saying 'Get high on sports, not drugs.' We've all sensed this kind of 'high,' where an athlete gets in touch with himself and suddenly performs far better than he ever has before. I believe in the fundamental integrity of that experience."

Coaches and physical educators occupy low-prestige positions in the academic world, Meggysey said, but because they know that experience, they have more to offer students than do other educators.

"We are a 'head' society, cut off from our bodies," he said. "The coach is in touch with the whole being. The athletic experience incorporates the physical, mental, spiritual and emotional. . .Coaches and physical educators are on the real cutting edge of. . .immense changes."

Instead of relating positively to these concepts, however, many coaches become "ideological traffic cops," absorbing and passing on "a whole rationale of bull---- about what is the function of sports which revolves around 'character building.' "

The coach becomes preoccupied with teaching the athlete "to become a man," or that "athletics is like life," or that winning is the sole valid goal, Meggysey said — therefore alienating many boys and most girls from sports.

Too many coaches believe in Vince Lombardi's dictum that "the mission of football is to teach respect for authority," Meggysey charged. "How many of you (coaches) are willing to democratize athletics?" he asked. "That most fundamental of learning experiences — judgment —is denied to athletes.

"We must ask ourselves," he concluded, "what is the function of sports? And we must cop to that experience."

Kriegel, preceding Meggysey, led his audience through a series of "centering exercises" in which they contemplated their past, present and future circumstances, then stressed the need for coaches to develop innovative techniques to get their teams mentally "into the moment" in a competitive situation.

He also gave a brief history of the Esalen Sports Center, a San Francisco-based organization seeking new techniques in teaching athletics and physical education.

The coaches association presented a plaque to former San Rafael High School football coach Paul Miller for his 41 years of "service to athletics" in Marin. Miller also coached basketball, track, baseball and tennis at the school, beginning in 1932.

Association president Chuck Metz of Terra Linda High School announced that Carl (Red) Brown of Drake would be president for the 1973-74 academic year. Bob Martin of San Marin will be vice president.

Judo Team Short Of Fund-Raising Goal

The 12-man United States judo team might have to become an 11-man team before it leaves for the world championships in Lucerne, Switzerland.

Mel Augustine, president of the Pacific Association section of the Amateur Athletic Union and manager of the U.S. judo team, is still trying to come up with the final $1,500 needed to reach the $16,000 cost of the trip June 4 through 26. If the figure can't be reached, Augustine, juvenile supervisor in the Marin County Probation Department, believes he will have to cut one of the team members.

MEL STARTED A fund drive last week and has about $600 pledged by donors. If you want to help pay for the team's trip, send your tax deductible contributions to U.S. International Judo Team in care of Bank of America, 1201 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, 94901.

But, says Augustine, he's running out of time and must make his decision to cut one of the players by this weekend.

"It's really a shame," said Mel. "The boys are already paying $200 each out of their own pockets for the trip. We're going to be staying in second class hotels to keep the cost down."

The U.S. Olympic Committee has come through with $5,000 and that figure was matched by the U.S. Judo Federation. With the equipment and uniforms Augustine has come up with, more costs were saved, but he's still coming up short.

THE U.S. ATHLETES who compete in international matches often help squash the Ugly American image that floats around the world. "These kids who go to these meets are fantastic ambassadors to this country," said Augustine.

Augustine's problem is the same that all U.S. amateur teams face in most all sports. Iron curtain countries don't have these financial problems because the sports are subsidized by the governments. In the Soviet Union, for instance, members of the sports teams are usually members of the army, but instead of marching off to Siberia, they are given room and board and spending money for doing what they do best whether it be basketball, water polo or judo. When it comes time for the team to visit a foreign country to compete, the costs are paid by the government.

The U.S. teams on the amateur level must come up with the money themselves, and as Augustine is finding out, this is not always an easy matter.

The only Northern Californians on the judo team are Mark McCready of San Francisco and Tom Martin of Stockton, but it would still be great for Marin Countians to know they were a big help in getting the U.S. judo team to Switzerland for the world competition.

THERE IS A SENATE commerce committee hearing on amateur sports under way in Washington and it would be great if some of the problems surrounding amateur sports in this country were resolved. The main problem the committee is tackling is to eliminate competition between various amateur organizations in the U.S., namely the National Collegiate Athletic Association and Amateur Athletic Union (commonly known as NCAA and AAU), two groups which have been at each other's throats the past few years.

The U.S. judo team's lack of money is just one problem involving amateur sports in this country. And believe me, there are more than just one or two.

McKinney Is Star For A's

OAKLAND (UPI) — Rich McKinney, one of the faces in the crowd, comes to the ball park every day resigned to his fate as a bench warmer.

Tuesday night was no different for the Oakland utility man. He reported to the Coliseum on time, took his hitting drill and then threw on the sidelines. A few minutes later he ran into Dick Williams and the A's' skipper told him, "By the way, Rich, you're starting at third tonight."

Williams' idea was to give Sal Bando a breather inasmuch as the A's were playing the Texas Rangers. McKinney, who came to Oakland during the winter in a trade with the New York Yankees, responded by delivering a bases-loaded double for the key runs in a 4-1 victory.

It's hard to hit in a situation such as that," said McKinney. "All I told myself is to stay on top of the ball. I have a tendency to uppercut the ball and since I was getting a chance, I wanted to do my best."

McKinney's hit enabled Ken Holtzman to gain his ninth victory in 11 decisions on a seven-hitter. It was Holtzman's sixth victory in a row and he accomplished it in a quick one hour and 39 minutes. Only Wilbur Wood of the White Sox, with 10, has more victories this season than Holtzman.

The only run Holtzman gave up came as a result of his own error. Three singles filled the bases in the fifth with two out and Dave Nelson then tapped back to the box and Holtzman dropped the ball as a run scored.

Bando didn't have the night off completely. He batted third and was the designated hitter while Deron Johnson, who has been the DH in all 18 previous games he has played for Oakland, started at first.

Tonight in the concluding game of the two-game series, Joe Rudi, in a hitting slump, will rest. Bando may also get another night off.

Vida Blue (3-2) will pitch for the A's, who are three games behind the pace-setting White Sox in the AL West, against Pete Broberg (0-4).

49ers Sign Top Pick To Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers have signed top draft choice Mike Holmes of Texas Southern to a multiyear national football league contract.

Neither the 49ers nor the 180-pound defensive back revealed terms of the pact signed Tuesday but Holmes said "I'm very happy with the terms."

Holmes, who clocked 4.45 seconds for 40 yards, started four years for his school. He played three years as a defensive back, collecting a school record 20 interceptions and was a pass receiver as a soph, turning in 23 receptions.

As a senior, he was a free safety but also called defensive signals for his team.

"I don't care whether I play safety or cornerback," Holmes said, "but I sure hope I play."

Holmes and other rookies are working out this week at the team's Redwood City training camp.

The centers and quarterbacks are also there but this year, offensive linemen are also engaged in the pre-summer workout.

2 Prep Golf Teams Clinch Title Ties

Terra Linda and San Rafael high schools clinched ties for the Marin County Athletic League golf championship with victories yesterday, but still must look forward with trepidation to tomorrow's season-ending matches.

The Trojans whipped Drake at Marin Country Club, 203-237, behind Rich Purtle's one-under-par 35, and the Bulldogs trounced Tamalpais at Mill Valley, 180-200, as John Fahrner shot a three-under 31.

Marin Catholic's match with San Marin at Indian Valley was postponed until 3 p.m. today due to last night's coaches meeting, San Marin coach Andy Frauenhofer said.

The victories gave San Rafael and Terra Linda 11-2 records, but the Bulldogs must oppose Novato (10-3) at Peacock Gap and the Trojans must meet Redwood (10-3) at Marin, creating the possibility of a four-way tie for the title.

One More Year

DALLAS (UPI) — Dallas Cowboys defensive tackle Bob Lilly has announced he'll play at least one more year of professional football if he and the team can come to terms on a contract.

Jack Nicklaus didn't seem too pleased with his tee shot on the 17th hole yesterday during a practice round for the Atlanta Classic. The tournament begins tomorrow and Jack, of course, is among the favorites.

STARTS TOMORROW

It's A Very Strong Field For Champs Tournament

"This is going to be one of the strongest tournaments in history," says Al Endriss, and the thought makes him happy and sad at the same time.

As director of the 10th annual Redwood High Baseball Tournament of Champions, which will run tomorrow through Saturday at Albert Field, Endriss is glad to have a strong eight-team lineup.

As coach of Marin County Athletic League champion Redwood High, Endriss is chagrined to see strong arms and bats opposing his own players.

On the whole, however, he will be glad to take his chances, for he enters with the winningest team in the tournament.

Action begins with four games tomorrow, with the 9 p.m. feature pitting the Giants (22-5) against Rancho Cotate (17-6) of Rohnert Park, Sonoma County League champion, which defeated North Bay League titleholder Napa Saturday, 8-0, to earn a berth.

At 3 p.m., Catholic Athletic League champion Salesian (15-12) of Richmond will face Oakland Athletic League winner Skyline (14-4). At 5 p.m., Alameda County Athletic League king San Leandro (22-5) will meet Mission Valley League titleholder Kennedy (17-4) of Fremont, and at 7 p.m., Diablo Valley Athletic League champ Concord (21-4) will confront Hayward Area Athletic League winner Arroyo (19-6) of San Lorenzo.

Redwood and San Leandro have identical 22-5 records and Concord is 21-4. The only team with more than six losses is Salesian, fourth-place finisher in its league but winner of a loop playoff.

Not surprisingly, San Leandro and Concord boast professional prospects. San Leandro's star is right handed pitcher-outfielder Mike Antone and Concord's is righty flinger Rick Wolf. Another favorite of scouts, according to Endriss, is Arroyo's slugging catcher, Casey Jones.

"Everybody has a wealth of pitching," says Endriss. Pitching depth is vital in the tournament, since an ace who hurls Thursday will not be rested for

GIANTS WIN, 7-3

Bonds Steals The Show

ATLANTA (UPI) — Bobby Bonds was a doubtful starter until just before game time. His left arm was still swollen from the pitch Houston's Jim Ray hit him with the night before.

Manager Charlie Fox waited as long as he could then gave Bonds the go-ahead. And he probably spent the next two hours patting himself on the back.

Bonds was a terror as he led the San Francisco Giants to a 7-3 conquest of the Atlanta Braves Tuesday night and back into sole possession of first place in the National League West.

All the supposedly wounded Bonds did was hit a home run, steal three bases—including his first theft of home as a major leaguer, and score four of the Giants' seven runs. Not bad for a guy who spent hours in his hotel room squeezing a balled-up towel trying to get his arm loose.

"I wasn't sure at all whether I would play, but it finally started loosening up," Bonds said. "The arm's still swollen—I can't touch it—but by using a pad on it, I can absorb some of the pain."

The Braves absorbed some of the pain, too, and were never in the game, thanks to Bonds and high-kicking right-hander Juan Marichal, struggling to regain his winning ways. Marichal was untouchable for three innings and that was enough time for the Giants to rush to a 6-0 lead.

The Braves fans did have one big moment. Hank Aaron poled his 12th home run of the season and 685th of his career, putting him just 29 shy of Babe Ruth's career record.

But the night belonged to Bonds. He opened the game with a walk, was sacrificed to second, stole third and scored on Gary Maddox' single. He led off the third with a double and quickly scored on Tito Fuentes' hit as the Giants went on a four-run outburst that put the game away.

In the fourth, he singled, stole

ACE PITCHER

Frey Repeat All-League

Gene Frey, the right-hander who helped pitch Redwood High School to two consecutive Marin County Athletic League championships, was named to the all-league team for the second consecutive year by the league's coaches yesterday.

Frey heads a 12-man squad which includes three pitchers, the others being Mark Ruggles of the Giants and Ray Stratford of Novato. It's the first time that two pitchers from the same team have been chosen, according to Redwood coach Al Endriss.

The champions also placed catcher Doug Hartman, infielder Gary LaTorre and outfielder Matt Gondak on the first team and three other players on the second team.

Redwood Clinches Prep Tennis Title

To the surprise of absolutely no one, Redwood High School yesterday clinched the 1973 Marin County Athletic League tennis championship with a 7-0 victory over host San Marin.

In other matches, San Rafael edged Tamalpais, 4-3; Terra Linda shaded Drake, 4-3; and Marin Catholic topped Novato, 5-2.

Redwood improved its MCAL record to 13-0 with one match remaining tomorrow, and captured its 78th consecutive triumph in the league. The Giants have not lost in their last 53 matches overall.

So complete is their dominance, in fact, that they have lost only one of the 91 individual singles or doubles matches played this year.

San Rafael (10-3) kept alive its hopes for a second-place tie by getting past Tamalpais. The Bulldogs are chasing Terra Linda (11-2), which must close its season tomorrow against Redwood, while San Rafael finishes with winless Novato.

PREP OF THE WEEK

An Early Golfing Start For Gaddis Of Tamalpais

By LEW CODDINGTON

Steve Gaddis, who has been swinging a golf club since the age of four, is swinging it less these days — maybe three or four times less per round than his opponents.

Last Friday against Marin Catholic High School, Gaddis shot a 29 for nine holes at Mill Valley Golf Club, five strokes under par and a record for a prep golfer.

The round, the pinnacle in a long series of achievements by the Tamalpais High School senior, earned him recognition as the Independent-Journal Prep of the Week.

"I love the competition, the challenge," says Gaddis. "I like proving things to myself. The more difficult a course is, the better. My idea of a good course is Spyglass Hill or Pebble Beach."

Since Gaddis doesn't live in Monterey, he ended up playing at Mill Valley, and knows "every blade of grass" on the course after taking up the game 13 years ago when a lady whose name he doesn't know gave him a club with a cut shaft when he was with his father at a driving range he doesn't remember.

Gaddis' father belongs to the Mill Valley men's club and Steve is president of the junior club, but he's not a one-course golfer. He has been medalist or co-medalist in matches this year at Marin County Club, Indian Valley and Meadow Club.

He had the lowest average in the league against par last year and this, made all-league both years, played twice in the North Coast Section tournament (shooting 151 for 36 holes both times), and has not lost to his opposing No. 1 golfer in 18 matches this year.

Not bad for somebody who didn't have a lesson until this year.

"I learned by watching good golfers, by reading books and magazines, by friends who gave me tips. One friend, Dean Ryder (a star on Tam's champions of the late 1960s) has a putting green, a driving area with a net and a video tape machine at his house, and he helped me a lot."

When he's not playing golf, he's playing something else. He was quarterback on the varsity football team last year, taking over after Tim Nowell was injured and finishing third in the Marin County Athletic League in passing. He played freshman baseball before dropping the sport for golf, and also played three years of basketball at Tam. This hyperactivity was one of the reasons he was chosen to be honored at the KTIM-radio Sportsman's Club Banquet May 10.

Golf remains his first love, however, and he is hoping for a scholarship. He is considering San Jose State and Arizona State, both golf powers, and is exploring Whitman College in Walla Walla, Wash.

"He's an intelligent player," says Wata. "He plays within his limitations and capacity, doesn't try to make foolish shots, plays the percentages, and is a hell of a good team player for this reason."

He has senior right-hander Gene Frey, senior lefty Mark Ruggles and sophomore righty Ed Andersen, and in addition to their skill, the trio is experienced, having pitched the Giants to the TOC consolation title last year.

The appearance is Redwood's sixth in the 10th annual tourney, and the Giants' second straight. Rancho Cotate is back for the third straight year, while Salesian and Skyline are also repeaters. Salesian was second, Skyline fourth and Rancho last in 1972.

Winners of tomorrow's 3 and 5 p.m. games will meet Friday at 7 p.m., and the losers will meet Friday at 3. Winners of tomorrow's 7 and 9 p.m. games will meet Friday at 9, and losers at 5. Games Saturday are at 1, 3, 5 and 8 p.m.

Tickets cost $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students with identification cards and can be purchased at the gate. They are good for all four games on the day purchased.

All-Star Voting Begins Saturday

NEW YORK (UPI) — Balloting for the 1973 baseball all star squads begins Saturday when millions of ballot cards will be distributed in over 150 major and minor league ballparks in addition to retail stores across the U.S. and Canada which feature the Gillette displays.

The 1973 game will mark the 40th anniversary of the midsummer classic and will be played at Kansas City's New Royals stadium on Tuesday July 24.

Balloting will end Sunday July 8.

Indy Race Team Is Fined

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — A car qualified by Sam Posey and later "bumped" to standby status for next Monday's Indianapolis 500 was kicked out of the race Tuesday by the United States Auto Club on the grounds of misrepresentation.

In addition, USAC's director of competition, Dick King, announced a $1,000 fine against the champ Carr Racing Team of San Juan Capistrano, Calif., and a $250 fine and one-year probation for chief mechanic Jack McCormack.

USAC acted on the recommendation of Harlan Fengler, chief steward at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, who also fined the team $100.

King said the penalties were assessed "for attempting to misrepresent car no. 34 as car no. 31 by transferring serial numbers and decals."

"Evidence is conclusive that the team attempted to pass off car 34, which already had been qualified by Sam Posey, as car no. 31 — a purported new car," King said.

Champ Carr personnel had three days to appeal the USAC ruling.

USAC said the racing team would have to post a $5,000 bond, which would be returned at the end of the championship season, providing no other violations occur.

The ruling did not affect Champ Carr's no. 35 racer, which Jim McElreath will drive in Monday's million-dollar chase.

Car 34, a Norris-Eagle, was qualified by Posey on the first weekend of qualifications. It was bumped from the 33-car starting lineup on the second weekend of time trials and was inserted as the first alternate.

Both Fengler and King said the racing team tried to disguise car 34, making it appear to be no. 31, in an effort to requalify it for the race. Under rules for the Indianapolis race, a car cannot be qualified more than once.

Car 31 reportedly was a backup machine which arrived at the speedway only last week, not in time to prepare it for time trials.

Tom Bigelow's car was elevated to the first standby position, and Jim Hurtubise's racer is now the second alternate.

Rentzel Given Fine, Jail

Combined AP & UPI

LOS ANGELES — Los Angeles Rams football player Lance Rentzel Tuesday was fined $2,000 and sentenced to 90 days in jail as a condition of his three year's probation for possession of marijuana.

However, superior court judge William Caldecott stayed the term pending the outcome of Rentzel's appeal based on defense contentions that the police search resulting in the charges was illegal.

The 29-year-old Rentzel had pleaded guilty to the charge April 24 after unsuccessfully attempting to have the case thrown out on the illegal search and seizure claim.

LOS ANGELES — Carroll Rosenbloom, owner of the Los Angeles Rams, and Tommy Prothro, the coach he fired, announced an out-of-court settlement Tuesday to Prothro's $1.9 million breach of contract suit against Rosenbloom.

The settlement figure was not announced.

Baseball

LOS ANGELES — Former Los Angeles Dodgers pitching star Don Drysdale won $100,000 in the settlement of a breach of contract suit involving a horse-breeding ranch near San Diego, court records disclosed Tuesday.

The settlement was reached Monday during trial of the case before superior court judge Sidney W. Kaufman, who dismissed the jury when the agreement was announced.

ATLANTA — The Atlanta Braves, hoping to boost their record against left-handed pitching, have picked up versatile right-handed hitter Larry Howard from the Houston Astros.

HOUSTON — The Houston Astros found out quickly Tuesday that "life at the top is painful" when two of their key players were sidelined for several days following injuries in this weekend's series with the San Francisco Giants.

Cesar Cedeno, the Astros' slugging centerfielder, will be out for about three days after suffering a pulled rib muscle throwing to the infield and second baseman Tommy Helms sprained his toe stepping on first base during Monday's game and will be out several days.

Hockey

BOSTON — The Boston Bruins, moving swiftly to replace the retired Jacques Plante and shore up their goaltending problems, dealt off center Fred Stanfield Tuesday to the Minnesota North Stars for goalie Gilles Gilbert.

GOLF

PHILADELPHIA — In a classic example of "you help me and I'll help you," Jack Nicklaus agreed Tuesday to play in the IVB golf tournament at Whitemarsh Valley Country Club June 7-10 because he felt the similarities of the Whitemarsh course and nearby Oakmont (site of the U.S. Open) would be to his advantage.

Basketball

BUFFALO — Ernie DiGregorio, the All-American basketball guard from Providence College, could become a millionaire today.

The Buffalo Braves of the National Basketball Association, who figured it would take at least $1 million to lure DiGregorio from the Kentucky Colonels of the American Basketball Association.

Tennis

CHICAGO — The formation of a professional tennis league, World Team Tennis, was announced and George MacCall, nonplaying captain of three U.S. Davis Cup teams, was named commissioner yesterday.

Only One Par Golfer In 'Open' Qualifying

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Brad Lozares, a 26-year-old Saratoga pro who shot 144 was the only golfer to equal par in the 36-hole local qualifier here for the U.S. Open Golf Championship sectional, but 16-year-old Mark Tinder of Monterey had the best 18-hole round.

Tinder bogeyed the first two holes in Tuesday's round and at that point was eight over par on Silverado Country Club's 6,619-yard, par 35-37-72 course.

With 14 places in the June 4 sectional qualifier at Orange, Calif., at stake, Tinder trailed half the field of 83 when he caught fire and birdied five of the last 16 holes.

That gave him a 69 to go with a 78 Monday for 147 and a tie for runnerup with Steve Taylor, 23, Carmichael pro who had 72-75-147.

Lozares' 71 Tuesday, following a 73 Monday, was the only other sub-par round in the two days as tough pin placements and high rough pushed scores upward.

Pros Mike Butler of San Francisco, 76-72-148, and Dave Sheff of Fountain Valley, 75-74-149, were fourth and fifth, and two amateurs, Ward Trask of Pleasant Hill and Michael Stoltz of Sonora were in a four-way tie for sixth, both with 74-75-150. The pro pair at 150 were Len Studinger of San Francisco, who shot 72 Monday to share the lead with Taylor, and Buddy Sullivan, former head pro at Marin Country Club and now of Santa Cruz, 76-74.

Marysville pro Guy Bill and amateurs Armando Claudio of Milpitas and Dean May of Lake Arrowhead tied at 152, and Bill bogeyed the second playoff hole while the others parred to advance to the sectional. Bill became first alternate.

Marin Country Club assistant pro Paul Fakundiny shot 77-81 and failed to qualify, and Marin Country Club teaching pro Bill Henderson missed but his final score was unavailable.

The two teams go at it again tonight with Giant Jim Willoughby (3-3) slated to oppose Ron Reed (2-4).

BOATING

By STAN DAVIES

Some Regulations Getting Tougher

Sixty-seven per cent of all motorboats registered in the United States are Class A craft — under 16 feet in length. This class of boat is also the most frequently involved in accidents.

The other classes of boats are: Class I - 16 feet to 25; Class II - 26 feet to 29; Class III - 40 to 65 feet.

There are new rules in effect regarding safety equipment this summer brought into force by the Federal Boat Safety Act of 1971, and the Coast Guard will be enforcing the rules particularly strictly in connection with the Class A craft.

Most stringent checks will be made in connection with "personal flotation devices" — PFDs. The Coast Guard has dropped expressions such as life-preservers or life-jackets in official terminology. The term PFD includes such things as buoyant cushions, life vests, life jackets and ring buoys.

The Coast Guard safety checks of small craft will include eight significant areas, the most important being the PDF's aboard. Here briefly are the rules governing them:

Buoyand cusions are acceptable PFDs on all boats less than 40 feet in length not carrying passengers for hire. There must be one for each person aboard.

Boats over 40 feet (Class III) must carry full, jacket-type PFD's or ring life-buoys for each person aboard. Buoyant cushions are not acceptable.

Boats under 16 feet must carry at least one throwable PFD — a buoyant cushion or a ring buoy, plus at least one buoyant cushion for each person aboard.

Boats 16 feet and over must carry a wearable PFD — that's the jacket type — for each person aboard, plus one throwable device.

Class A boats are the only boats for which the throwable device is acceptable as one of the required number of PFDs.

Only exception to the rule that all boats carry one throwable device would be if only one person were aboard, or if everyone were wearing a PFD.

Besides life saving equipment, the Coast Guard check includes seven other areas of safety: fire-fighting devices, overloading of the boat, proper navigation lights when the boat is operated between sunset and sunrise, leakage of fuel from the fuel system or engine, accumulation of fuel in the bilges, and the ventilation and backfire control requirements as have been in effect for several years.

The decision on whether a boat should be sent back to dock for a violation of any of the safety points rests entirely with the Coast Guard inspecting officer.

If on-the-scene corrections can be made, if's very likely the boat will be allowed to proceed.

It's going to be a tough year on unsafe boats.

Safety always brings questions, as for example.

Q. Do we need a life preserver for our six-months-old child?

A. The law is clear. It says for each "person" aboard, and surely you consider your baby a person. There is one serious consideration in PFDs for small children. Make sure they FIT, or that they have additional tying tapes so that if there is an emergency the baby won't slip out of the life-jacket.

Q. I've heard some discouraging reports about the efficiency of buoyant cushions. Now I see they are highly regarded by the Coast Guard as PFDs. Do they have merit?

A. In small craft where an emergency arises very quickly, they are extremely useful because they can be grabbed quickly. A cushion can be in your hands a lot faster than a jacket type PFD can be put on. However, in long exposures, cushions will not keep one's head out of water if the wearer passes out from cold — a fairly common possibility in the north.

Q. Is it compulsory for a water skier to wear a life jacket?

A. A few states have made this a law, or have bills being considered. Check your state boating law. In any case, a water skier is regarded as a passenger and there must be a PFD in the boat for the skier being towed.

Phoenix Giants Leading League In Batting

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Jeff Mason of Phoenix is the leader in hitting in latest Pacific Coast League statistics at .373, but runner-up Steve Ontiveros is having the really big year.

Ontiveros, also of Phoenix, is hitting .369 and leads in runs scored with 34, hits with 52, total bases with 91, runs batted in with 33 and triples with 11. His amazing 11 triples in 38 games puts him well ahead of the record pace since Willie Davis set that mark with 26 at Spokane.

The third place hitter is another Phoenix performer, Jake Brown, at .364. In fact the Giants are hitting .313 as a team, yet trail Salt Lake in that department by a point.

Craig Kusick of Tacoma is the top home hitter with 10.

Forry's Record Now 5-0

San Rafael's Dewey Forry is gaining a reputation as a workhorse reliever with the Los Angeles Dodgers' Bakersfield farm club in the California League.

The right-handed pitcher acquired two more wins in four games last week as he increased his unbeaten record to 5-0. He sports a sterling 1.00 earned run average in 18 innings toiled in 10 games this season, according to minor league baseball statistics from Player Periscope in Novato.

While Forry was having a good week, other Marin County players were having difficulties.

John Dolinsek of Novato batted .250 for the week and his seven hits included a home run, triple and double as his overall average dipped to .253 for Denver Astros of the American Association.

Tom Thomas of Novato, playing with the Salem, Va. Pirates of the Carolina League had six hits in 25 at bats as his average went to .284. His homer and four runs batted in ran his totals on the season to four and 14.

Cliff Hall of Marin City, with Quincy, Ill., (Cubs) of the Midwest League had three hits in 15 at bats for the week as his average slipped to .250. His 10 hits include a triple and two doubles.

Al Curtiss of Fairfax, had only two for 12 for the week and his batting mark fell to .115 for Burlington, Iowa, of the Midwest League, an A's farm club.

Russ Dillon of Novato, pitcher for Savannah Braves of the Southern League didn't see any action and his record remained at 0 wins, 1 loss and 7.50 earned run average.

Bears Trade Top Punt Returner

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ron Smith, the National Football League's kickoff return leader in 1972, was traded to the San Diego Chargers by the Chicago Bears Tuesday for an undisclosed draft choice next year.

Smith led the league in kickoff returns with 30 for 924 yards and a 30.8 average last season, earning three NFL career records—for most kickoff returns with 220, most kickoff return yards with 5,555, and most combined kickoff and punt returns, 387.

Bears Coach Abe Gibron said he felt Craig Clemons, a rookie last year, or Gary Lyle, recovering from a knee operation, would be able to replace Smith at strong safety while his No. 5 draft choice, Allen Ellis of UCLA, or veteran Bob Jeter also would get a try at the job.

Coaching School

NEW YORK (UPI) — There are 18 former New York Giants football players currently coaching in the National Football League. The list is headed by four head coaches, Tom Landry, Dick Nolan, Harland Svare and Alex Webster.

Borowiak Defeated In French Open

PARIS (UPI) — Jeff Borowiak became the first American casualty in the $150,000 French Open tennis championships Wednesday when he dropped his opening round singles match to French junior champion Jean-Loouis Haillet, 7-6, 7-6.

Borowiak of Berkeley, Calif., fought to 6-6 in both games but each time lost the tie-break 7-4.

Twice the game was halted — once for 10 minutes -while both players argued between themselves and with the umpire about calls.

In other men's first round matches, Rhodesia's Andrew Pattison defeated Briton Graham Stilwell 6-2, 6-1, in 45 minutes and Marcello Lara of Mexico ousted Frenchman Pierre Joly 7-6, 6-1.

Steve Siegel of Teaneck, N.J., lost to 44-year-old Danish pro Torben Ulrich 6-2, 7-6.

Rain began to fall just as Australia's Margaret Court began her quest for a third French title. Mrs. Court, top seeded to meet Florida's Chris Evert in the final, led Pam Peeguarden of Los Angeles 2-1 in the first set when heavy rain stopped all tournament play.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Twitchell Is No Slugger

By Associated Press

"I thought I was a pretty good hitter," Wayne Twitchell of the Philadelphia Phillies said Tuesday night.

The towering right-handed pitcher stepped to the plate four times and struck out four times, repeating his performance of May 16. That equaled the major league mark for most strikeouts by a batter in two consecutive games held by several players, including Dick Allen and Rick Monday.

"I really don't want that record, but I'm willing to strike out 50 times a game if I win," said the 6-foot-6, 25-year-old right-hander, who scattered 11 hits in beating Pittsburgh for the second time in a week, this one by a 7-4 score.

Elsewhere, St. Louis defeated the New York Mets 5-3, Montreal edged the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in 11 innings, San Francisco beat Atlanta 7-3, Cincinnati shaded Houston 6-4 and Los Angeles turned back San Diego.

American League scores: Chicago 6, California 2; Minnesota 8, Kansas City 2; Oakland 4, Texas 1; New York 7, Detroit 2; Milwaukee 4, Boston 2; Cleveland 5, Baltimore 3.

Twitchell may think he's a good hitter but Rick Wise of St. Louis knows he is and he proved it with a two-run double that keyed the Cardinals' five-run seventh inning against the Mets, breaking up a scoreless game.

Ron Fairly greeted relief pitcher Dave La Roche with a run-scoring single in the bottom of the 11th inning, giving Montreal its victory over the Cubs. With one out, Jack Aker was touched for a single by Ron Hunt and then walked Montreal pitcher Mike Marshall. Fairly then singled to left off LaRoche, scoring Hunt.

The Expos scored their first three runs on solo homers off Chicago starter Ferguson Jenkins by Ken Singleton, Bob Bailey and Mike Jorgensen.

Dave Concepcion drove home three runs with a double and single to pace the Reds over the Astros.

Clay Carroll, making his second straight start after three years as strictly a reliever, pitched the first five innings and held Houston to one run and three hits. Bob Gallagher hit a two-run pinch homer for the Astros off Ed Sprague.

Willie Crawford homered and drove in two runs and rookie Dave Lopes improved his league-leading average to .376 with two hits in leading Los Angeles over San Diego. Don Sutton scattered five hits.

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON B. GREB

Surname Stoppers! Famous folks were born today but do you know their first names?

1. SHAW is 63 today. This band leader's recording of "Begin The Beguine" in 1938 made him a rival of Benny Goodman. Born in New York City, he took up the saxaphone in high school, then switched to the clarinet, forming his own aggregation in 1937. He retired from music in the late 40s. His first name is (A) Irwin, (B) Robert, (C) Arthur.

2. CLOONEY is 45 today. This cutie from Kentucky was a top vocalist in the 1940s and 50s, retiring from stage, screen, radio and television when she married Mel Ferrer. Her big records were "Come On-a My House," "Half as Much," and "Hey, There." She has been featured with Bing Crosby and played opposite him in the film, "White Christmas." Her first name is (A) Clara Belle, (B) Sarah Anne, (C) Rosemary.

3. GLEASON, Hollywood character actor, had the tough-talking accent of a New York gangster. During the 72 years of his life, he played stock vaudeville and comedy on Broadway, made his biggest hit as a fight manager in the film, "Here Comes Mr. Jordan." His first name was (A) Jackie, (B) Ralph, (C) Jimmy.

4. FAIRBANKS gave movies their first handsome, dashing hero. A natural athlete, this young man made a convincing swordsman in "The Mark of Zoro." With his wife Mary Pickford and friend Charles Chaplin, he helped organize United Artists in 1920. His first name was (A) Benjamin, (B) Charles, (C) Douglas.

ANSWERS: 1 - Artie Shaw; 2 - Rosemary Clooney; 3 - Jimmy Gleason; 4 - Douglas Fairbanks.

Solving Reader's Problem Is Evaluation Of Various Dangers

"Here is a hand," writes a Chicago reader, "that went sour. Was declarer unlucky, or did he back the wrong horse?"

SOUTH LEADS

"South won the spade lead, drew trumps and then led clubs. East got two club tricks and South went down. Would an expert play the hand this way, seeing only his own hand and the dummy?"

An expert declarer would not draw trumps. He would take three top spades, discarding two clubs from the dummy. Then would cash the ace of clubs and the ace of diamonds and give up a club trick.

CROSSRUFF WORKS

From here on, South can ruff three clubs with dummy's high trumps. He gets to his own hand each time by ruffing diamonds.

The only real danger comes when South leads out the high spades. If East ruffs the second or third spade, South is in trouble.

SMALLER DANGER

Mathematically, this danger is far smaller than the danger of a bad club break. To put it very simply, a singleton club with only four clubs out is more likely than a singleton spade with nine spades out. The same applies to any other bad break in spades.

It isn't necessary, however, to work out the exact figures. The spade danger exists only if West has a very long spade suit. West would be likely to try a shutout bid of some kind with such a suit, and the fact that West remained silent should indiacte that the spades will break fairly normally.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ - 5
♥ - J 10 9 3
♦ - A Q 5 3
♣ - Q 10 5 2.

Who do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds, planning to show the heart support next.

Both the hand and the strength of the hearts are not quite good enough to jump immediately to three hearts. If the hearts were headed by the queen instead of by the jack you would jump to three hearts.

Flood Zone Board Sets Shut Session

The Ross Valley Flood Control Zone advisory board will meet in closed session tomorrow at 8:30 a.m. at Corte Madera Town Hall.

Purpose, said county flood control enginer Charles E. Murphy, is to discuss the zone's attempts to reach agreement with the Town of Ross on who should pay for flood control in the town. The town and the county, engaged in litigation over the problem, have been ordered by the courts to sort things out.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Put-Call Market Begun Recently

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am interested in knowing more about the new put and call market in Chicago. Would you please discuss this in your column? — H.H.

A. Gladly. Under the sponsorship of the largest commodity market in the world, The Chicago Board of Trade, a new option market began operations recently. Thus far only calls on sixteen Big Board stocks are being traded. Within a year the number should reach 100 and put options should also be included.

In contrast to previous OTC option transactions the new market allows an option buyer to sell his contract prior to exercise data. Furthermore, on the Chicago Board Option Exchange all contracts expire the last business day of January, April, July and October.

Volume on put and call options has traditionally represented about 1 per cent of the daily volume of the underlying securities. In its opening days CBOE trading has averaged about 91,000 shares or 14 per cent of the volume of the securities represented. Institutional activity is thought to account for 50 per cent to 65 per cent of trading to date.

Premiums currently range from a low of 3 per cent on a July Am. Telephone option to 32.5 per cent on a January contract on Northwest Airlines. In the case of Telephone, the buyer has paid $315 for the option to buy 100 shares at $50 before the end of July.

Northwest shares will have to advance 8¼ points or 32.5 per cent before the end of January for an option buyer to break even. Thus the market is indicating its belief that this latter is a strong possibility.

Included among the 600 members of the CBOE are several market makers who — like NYSE specialists — are responsible for providing liquidity by buying and selling for their own accounts. Each stock is handled by one board broker who is responsible for that market.

Customer orders from brokerage firms are filled by one of the several roving floor brokers. While options are still in the high-risk category., an orderly market has now been provided for traders interested in this form of speculation.

Stocks Turned Mixed In Moderate Trading

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks turned mixed today in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Activity slowed from the previous two sessions with investors apparently trying to evaluate President Nixon's latest remarks on Watergate. He conceded there had been a coverup of certain facts "for national security reasons," but said he never intended that cover-up to extend to the Watergate investigation.

In economic developments, indications of a new round of prime lending rate rises by the nation's banks became more pronounced as short-term rates have brought no objections from the Federal Reserve, in line with its recent moved to tighten credit.

Big Board gold mining issues lost ground as the price of gold of foreign bullion markets eased for the second consecutive day.

American South African lost 2, Dome Mines 2 ⅜, Campbell Red Lake 1 ⅝.

Glamor issues posted mostly small gains, but Polaroid advanced 3 and ARA Services dropped 1.

Eastman Kodak rose 1 ⅝, DuPont 1 ½ among stronger chemicals.

Electronics and computers moved irregularly. Burroughs gained 2 ¾, IBM 2 and Fairchild Camera 1 ⅛.

Steels, motors and rails moved indecisively in fractions. Airlines, led by Flying Tiger (ex dividend) up ¾, posted small gains.

Touristry Optimism

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — South Africa should be attracting at least one million tourists a year by the late 1970s, the government reported. There were 459,478 tourists in 1971.

A Constant Item

PURCHASE, N.Y. (AP) — Things change during the years but one thing hasn't changed with one national firm here. Pepsi-Cola, marking its 75th anniversary, introduced skywriting in 1935. Since then, more than 7,000 times it has used it across the country.

Beer And Wine To Be Added At McNear Beach Snack Bar

McNear Beach Snack Bar at the county beach in east San Rafael plans to add beer and wine to its current menu of snacks and soft drinks.

Herbert H. Becker of Mill Valley, who opened the snack bar for the 1973 season two weekends ago, said he hopes to get his beer and wine license about the middle of June. He now serves sandwiches, hamburgers, hot dogs, candies and milk shakes.

Becker took over the McNear Beach Snack Bar this year, succeeding International Gourmet, which gave up the concession after operating it last year. "I've invested $5,000 in remodeling and equipping the snack bar at McNear Beach and intend to stay," said Becker.

Snack bar hours will correspond with the swimming pool hours. The McNear Beach pool is now open only on weekends but will open full time beginning June 11 and continue full time to Labor Day weekend, when it goes back to weekends.

Becker and his wife, Ruth, also operate a mobile snack bar at the top of Mount Tamalpais and a gift shop-snack bar at Mount Diablo in Contra Costa County. Becker has been in the food and restaurant management business for almost 20 years.

PARIS COIFFURES is the new name of the former Jaime's Townhouse beauty shop at 844 Third Street in San Rafael.

Andre Paris and his brother Brian Paris bought Jaime's last week from James Plunkett of San Rafael, who is moving to Southern California after operating the shop for three years.

Paris Coiffures provides hair cutting and styling for women.

Andre Paris has operated Jolie Madame beauty shop at Montecito Shopping Center in San Rafael for six years.

RALPH RICHARDSON, service manager at Dexter Toyota Inc., San Rafael, received the "National Toyota Service and Customer Relations Award" for the second year in a row. He won a ring and a plaque last year and a diamond was added this year.

JAMES V. DAVITTE of San Rafael has been appointed vice president of The Bank of California's properties and building division, San Francisco.

Davitte joined The Bank of California's properties and building division in 1962 as branch premise supervisor. In 1963 he was promoted to assistant cashier and in 1967 to assistant vice president.

MARSHALL INN at the town of Marshall, on the east shore of Tomales Bay, is under negotiation for sale to John and Patricia Vertigan, who have been managing the inn for the past year.

Marshall Hotel Inc., headed by Webster Otis of Ross, has applied for transfer of the liquor, beer and wine licenses to the Vertigans.

The Vertigans have just added a new dining area with seating for about 50 persons. Marshall Inn features sea foods and home-made clam chowders. It is closed on Monday and Tuesday and has live music on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

WARNING TO STUDENTS — The Better Business Bureau of San Francisco reports it has been besieged with inquiries about Odyssey Enterprises of Castroville, which offers summer jobs to students as "tour assistants" to Europe, Grand Canyon and Hawaii.

Applicants receive notification of tentative acceptance and then are directed to "Phase II" for final approval. This "rush application" requires a $2 fee. "There is no indication of how many tour assistants will be hired or if those not hired will be refunded the $2 fee," says BBB. "We urge caution in dealing with the firm. San Francisco BBB, in cooperation with regulatory agencies, is continuing its investigation into the matter."

CHINESE COOKING classes will be held at Moon's Tea Garden in Mill Valley beginning next month.

Jew Moon, who operates the Chinese restaurant at The Port, 393 Miller Avenue, will conduct weekly classes Monday mornings at 10:30. He will demonstrate the fundamentals of Chinese cooking and share the secrets of various provincial styles. Students will prepare and consume their own lunch.

MARIN MOTORSPORT INC. at 1101 Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael will build a new 6,000-square-foot industrial warehouse building next to the existing building by mid-July.

Merle (Sandy) Greenblat of San Rafael, owner of Marin Motorsport said the new building will be a one-story structure of wood-frame and stucco. He plans to lease the building for some kind of automotive or related use.

Marin Motorsports Inc. handles six different lines of foreign motorcycles.

FLORENCE NICHOLS of Florence Nichols Antiques shop at 7 Mary Street in San Rafael is back from a buying trip to the Orient, where she toured Tokyo, Bangkok, Manila, Hong Kong and points in between.

LONGER TOYOTA

Toyota's new "stretched" half-ton pickup truck (right), which will be available at dealers by mid-summer, is a full 16 inches longer than the standard model (left). Also exclusive to the new model are larger six-ply rear tires. Toyota pickups offer an optional automatic transmission-bucket seat combination. Marin Dealers are Dexter Toyota in San Rafael and Novato Toyota.

Varner/Ward will lease you a '73 Monte Carlo S Coupe for $96.07 mo. or $88.42 mo. or $76.69 mo.
(or whatever monthly payment best fits your budget).

How does Varner/Ward do it? We have over 9,000 cars on lease. We are one of the largest independent automobile leasing companies in the West. We use our strong purchasing power and large line of bank credit to write a lease you can comfortably afford. We structure the length and monthly terms to fit your budget on any make, any model, equipped the way you want it!

We feel there is no one best way to lease a car to everybody. There is, however, one way that's best for you. You can make large monthly payments, or medium-sized, or small. If you have GOOD CREDIT, the monthly payments you make with a Varner/Ward lease are pretty much up to you.

Examples:
1973 Monte Carlo S Coupe
1973 Buick Century Luxus Colannade Hardtop Coupe
Air Conditioning. Automatic Transmission. Power Steering. Power Brakes. Radio. Tinted Glass. Opera Window. Whitewall Tires. $94.50/mo. or $85.50/mo. or $74.86/mo.
1973 Ford LTD Brougham 2-Dr. Hardtop
400 Cu. In. Engine. Cruisomatic. Air Conditioning. Power Steering. Power Disc Brakes. Radio. Body Mouldings. Brougham Interior. $98.67/mo. or $89.70/mo. or $77.89/mo.
Plus use tax and license.

No down payment. No deposit.
Varner/Ward Leasing
We're not out to sell you anything.
